Buchanan saw the James River creep into town following weekend rains that began Saturday and lasted through that day and night reaching unseen levels in the last 20 years.

Botetourt County Fire & EMS personnel were set to face the challenges of the flooding following a week that saw more snow and ice come to the area. The department's Chief Jason Ferguson recently shared that emergency personnel coordinated with the county's Special Operations Team to ensure there were water rescue personnel on standby if they

Boats were checked and repositioned in stations for more immediate deployment," Ferguson explained. "This event was unique in that the grounds all around the county were saturated from melted snow and ice, as significant additional rains fell. Crews identified areas where water was flowing across roadways from run-off, where there are no creeks or streams, as well as creeks and streams leaving their

The Botetourt County School Board recognized student athletes from Lord Botetourt High School who recently were given All-State honors in different sports. The students recognized at last Thursday's meeting were golfer Alisa Davidova, cross country runner Eric Duncan, volleyball player Skylar Morris, and football players Tristan Overbay and Gavin Walker.

School Board Blue Ridge representative Matt East motioned to have a policy for all state championship-bound teams from Lord Botetourt and James River High Schools to have a proper send off involving the available student body prior to the championship game or encompassing tournament. The board unanimously accepted the policy.

"I'd like to congratulate all of our All-State athletes," East said. "We have tremendous VHSL-sanctioned teams, many of which are preparing to go into district tournaments right now. It is no surprise when an LB

Botetourt emergency resources respond to winter weather

Local emergency workers faced more snowy conditions in Botetourt last week.

Prior to the rainfall, Botetourt County's Department of Fire & EMS faced a challenge last week in the face of heavy snow, ice, and rain. The department took to social media last week sharing that fire and EMS resources from all over Botetourt were busy over the course of last Tuesday. The post explained that, while the initial hours of the morning were calm, the day was certainly busy for career and volunteer personnel responding to meet the needs of the Botetourt community during the weather event.

There was a total of 31 calls for service during the 24-hour period, with 15 being accidents involving motor vehicles (nine of which were on Interstate 81), 13 emergency medical calls, and four other firerelated incidents.

'While the winter weather will slowly dissipate... we will continue to ensure that additional resources are in place to assist with gaining access, as many homes still are not easily accessible due to snow/ice conditions on driveways, the post shared. Additionally county's Emergency Management component dealt with flooding and high winds in various parts the county over the weekend created by the additional rainfall and excessive moisture already on the ground.

Giving Back Society awards grants to service groups

Each year, The Giving Back Society seeks to organizations whose goals align with its mission to provide a wide variety of information, social and supportive services for underserved and underprivileged children, youth and adults. The Giving Back Society, a 501(c)3 charitable organization, holds its most important fundraising event- an annual fashion show and brunch at Hidden Valley Country Club in support of its mission.

Grants totaling $60,000 from the 2024 October fundraising event, which featured emcee Kianna Price-Marshall and ladies' fashions from Ponnie's Boutique, were presented to five organizations. The Intellectual Disabilities Agency and Five Points Music Sanctuary each received $20,000. Friendship House Roanoke and Presbyterian Community Center received $7,500 each, and Lions District 24C Charity received $5,000. Since its inception in 2016, The Giving Back Society has awarded over $260,000 in grants.

Intellectual

Disabilities Agency has been advocating for children and adults with intellectual challenges as well as providing social, recreational, educational transportation services. The activities offer opportunities to increase self-esteem and confidence, exercise, practice social skills and give family respite to family caregivers.

Five Points Music Sanctuary celebrates sound, embraces it and explores it. While their live events and concerts unite audiences from far and wide, they also serve as a platform to promote and support their music therapy, hearing loss advocacy and accessibility Friendship House

Roanoke serves the people of the Roanoke Valley through the ministries of mercy and empowerment in order to alleviate the effects of poverty. They also partner with local churches to provide additional assistance.

Presbyterian Community Center brings together a collation of resources throughout the Roanoke Valley, including churches, caring volunteers, professionals and financial contributions to help needy neighbors through a wide assortment of activities. Established in 1967, Presbyterian Community Center assists families and individuals in the area.

Lions District 24C Charity is partnered with the Listen Up! Hearing Program to support the screening for hearing issues in children, ages 1 to 5.

In addition to the fashion show and brunch, the GBS raised money by working at Belk Charity Days and Party in Elmwood. Montano's International Restaurant, Hollywood's Restaurant and Chris's Coffee & Custard also held fundraising events for the Giving Back Society in support of its mission to assist underprivileged and underserved people in the community.

Update from the House By Del. Terry Austin

2025 Session Update: Week 5 for state income taxes.

To the Constituents of the 37th House District:

The fifth full week of the 2025 General Assembly Session has concluded, and there are still 300 bills outstanding for the House to consider before Session adjourns on Saturday, February 22. This means long days on the floor as legislation is put into conference and differences between House and Senate bills are resolved.

The single largest item left on the docket is work on the budget bill. Though Virginia's current biennial budget continues through June 2026, new revenues are taken into account during odd-numbered years and changes, known as "budget amendments," are offered by legislators for consideration. As one of the six House conferees and only one of two Republicans House appointed by the Speaker, my colleagues and I are responsible for collaborating with our Senate counterparts to create a budget that can be approved by the General Assembly and sent to the governor. It's important to recognize that, with the current majority, the final budget will not fully reflect Republican priorities. However, throughout this process, I will work to ensure the budget reflects a conservative approach to addressing the priorities of our district and region.

Some items likely to appear in the budget are good: tax relief for Virginians, $400 rebate checks for couples filing jointly, and an extension of a higher standard deduction

Republicans hopeful that car tax relief and the elimination of taxes on tips for people in the service industry would remain, but the 51-vote majority did not see additional relief as a priority. Nowhere was the power of 51 was more evident than last Thursday when the House voted on a bill criminalizing fentanyl distribution that leads to the death of a minor. Republicans supported a strong bill that would impose lengthy prison sentences. However, the majority voted to reduce the offense to manslaughter instead of murder. I joined my Republican colleagues in supporting the weakened bill, as it still marks progress, but we will continue advocating for harsher sentencing as this crisis continues to Regarding legislation, I have three bills currently making their through the Senate. My bills to eliminate vehicle registration decals and to increase pupil transportation options were referred to Senate Finance and Appropriations my bill to regulate and prohibit the sale of unsafe and counterfeit lighters is currently awaiting a vote on the Senate floor.

Our Information is already out there

If we really want to keep ourselves and our money - safe from fraud, we must all come to terms with one thing: our personal information is likely already out there. In a time where data breaches are increasingly common, safeguarding yourself from fraud has become more important than ever.

Here are three steps to help protect yourself from the risks associated with data breaches and other identity fraud risks:

1) Place a security freeze on your credit accounts with the three big agencies (Experian, Equifax and Transunion) so no one can open a new credit line in your name.

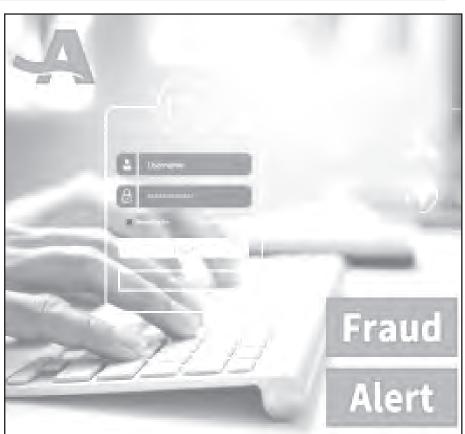

2) Establish online access to your financial accounts and monitor regularly (you can set up text alerts for activity on these accounts as well).

3) Use strong and unique passwords for every online account; consider using a password manager that creates complex passwords and stores them securely. Be a fraud fighter! If you can spot a scam, you can stop a scam.

Report scams to local law enforcement. For help from AARP, call 1-877-908-3360 or visit the AARP Fraud Watch Network at www.aarp.org/fraudwatchnetwork.

banks. Last, but certainly not least, was the almost 22-foot height reached by the James River in Buchanan."

Ferguson noted that the department uses historical flood data and institutional knowledge to know when the waters may exceed 21 feet. The weekend's flooding impacted a "handful" of locations. Despite one car ending up in a closed section of Parkway Drive, the driver was able to self-rescue and call for assistance, Ferguson added.

The Town of Buchanan took to social media on Sunday to share photos taken along Lowe Street where the water had submerged areas of Town Park and Twin River Outfitters. Town Manager Angela Lawrence shared the town's social media Monday, "What a difference a day makes," in response to the flooding that occurred Sunday. As of Monday morning, Lawrence shared that Route 43 was still under some water at that time, but the waters appeared to have gone back down significantly. "A few businesses were affected,"

Lawrence shared when asked about the weekend flooding. "Twin Rivers Outfitters had flooding in both buildings. They are cleaning up and expect everything to be in good condition when they open in April.

"Mrs. B's Restaurant had flooding in their basement," Lawrence added. "I haven't seen it but understand they will open (this week). They have been appreciative of those in the community who helped get things to higher ground. We are still assessing all of the water and sewer facilities but so far it looks good. The water supply was not affected.

Elsewhere, Eagle Rock area had flood waters from Craig Creek first blocking Craig Creek Road at Roaring Run, then at Ball Park Road, Chief Ferguson went on to explain.

"Additionally, Craig Creek was out of its banks along 606 on the Craig County end, cutting off vehicular travel into the Oriskany area," Ferguson said. "Thankfully, there were no emergency responses into that area of the community, otherwise water rescue assets would have been added to the regular fire and EMS resources."

In Blue Ridge, Ferguson noted the notification of the Rainbow Forest Lake reaching a Level 2 dam status. "This is a notification set as part of the NWS coordination for dam safety, whereby once that lake reaches a certain fill level, a Level 2 dam status alerts those in the area on the downside of the dam, that the potential for dam failure is heightened. Our office was made aware of the situation ahead of the alert and emergency management personnel were on site to evaluate the situation and actions taking place." When the waters were at their highest, heavy winds arrived causing "numerous responses" for fallen trees on power lines and lines down across some roadways. The chief explained that "aside from the fire trucks and ambulances seen on the streets in Botetourt daily, there is a large amount of activity behind the scenes, participating in National Weather Service briefings, making county officials and emergency personnel aware of predicted forecasts, public messaging, collaborative staffing increases, equipment and apparatus readiness activities, patrolling of prone areas of flooding, all in addition to responding to routine fire and emergency medical calls for service.

The Virginia Department of Emergency Management has flood preparedness information available at www. vaemergency.gov/threats/floods. Most notably is advising to not walk, swim, or drive through flood waters. Just six inches of moving water can knock a person down, and one foot of moving water can sweep a vehicle away.

"locked in" to state requirements for advertising a hearing.

Critzer also added that adding these two new members on the Planning Commission will expand the number of future commission leaders, expand the resource pool, and help broaden the level of expertise and input. A public hearing was scheduled for last Thursday's meeting regarding text amendments to the town's zoning ordinance. The hearing was tabled due to inclement weather canceling the meeting of the Planning Commission earlier in the week. Town Council is scheduling the public hearing for its March 13

Town Manager Melanie McFadyen highlighted some of the town's recent business that included an update on the town budget process that is "just getting started." There are new town banners that can now be seen around town that Tracy McDonald and Henry Booze provided. Council thanked them for their efforts and discussed the possibility of adding banners along Route 220 as well. The Dodd Building is ready to come down, according to McFadyen. Courthouse construction is now underway and commemorative events are in the works. In particular, a possible commemorative event revolving around the move of the old Breckinridge Law Offices and hotel that was formerly the home of the Botetourt County Museum of History & Culture.

Extended street closures on Roanoke Street from Main to Back Streets are expected but McFadyen didn't have any extended dates to share and said they'll be The town has begun the process of updating the Hazard Mitigation

Plan, which is updated every five years. McFadyen shared that the Roanoke Valley-Alleghany Regional Commission wants more information about the plan. A survey is being developed and will soon be available for residents on the town's website that will take about 15 minutes to complete. Paper surveys will also be available in the Town Office. This plan has to be completed by August, according to McFadyen.

McFadyen suggested to the Roanoke Valley-Alleghany Transportation Planning Organization (RVTPO) include the entire town into the "TPO Study Area" that RVTPO representative Jonathan Stanton made a presentation about the study at council's meeting in September of last year. Mayor Mary Bess Smith said that they will vote on it at council's March meeting.

Last Saturday in Moneta host Staunton River won Region 3D with 283 points, followed by Cave Spring with 203.5. William Byrd was third at 180.5 and Lord Botetourt was fourth among the 13 teams with 157.5.

LB had six wrestlers qualify for the state by finishing in the top four. Botetourt had no one in the championship matches but split six matches in the consolation finals. Taking thirds were Angel Rigney at 157, Preston Carter at 165 and Cooper Roberts at 175. Fourth place finishers were Jacob Spence at 126, Canden Saunders at 138, and Kevin Gergely at 150. Botetourt had four wrestlers who scored team points but failed to advance with fifth place finishes. Those wrestlers were James Dean at 120, Declan Sullivan at 132, Morgan Parr at 144, and Tyler Butler at 285.

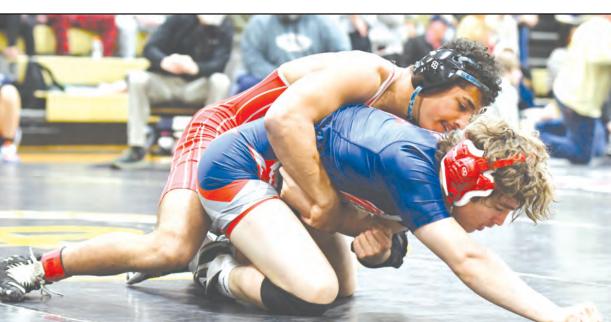

"We wrestled well in the first round but struggled in the semifinals," said coach Paul Craft. "We lost a few guys in the blood round but overall we bounced back and finished strong in our 3rd/4th and 5th/6th place matches. That's just the ebb and flow of a competitive tournament."

River girls open region basketball at home Monday

With a 19-3 overall record the James River girls have earned a home game for their Region 2C basketball opener. The Knights will host an opponent yet to be determined at press time at 7 p.m. Monday in Springwood.

The Knights wrapped up the regular season with an exciting 53-52 win over Floyd County in Springwood on Monday of this week. This was a nailbiter throughout as Floyd led 17-16 after the first quarter but the game was tied at the half, 24-24.

Floyd opened a 40-35 lead heading into the final period and it was neckand-neck down the stretch. River finally went ahead on two free throws, 51-49. Jalen Thompson made two free throws with 16.5 seconds remaining to give the Knights a three-point lead and Samaya Osborne rebounded a missed free throw with 2.2 seconds to go to seal the win. Kelsi Maydian, who recently returned from an injury, scored 15 points to lead the Knights. Caitlin Canada had 14, Thompson had 13 and Audrey Benson had seven. The win was River's fourth in a row and 13th in the past 15 games. That win, along with a 42-37 victory

Last Friday Caitlin Canada scored 23 points in the win over Alleghany to go with 11 rebounds. River outscored the Cougars 39-14 in the second half after trailing 23-13 at intermission.

'We had a slow start to the game but strong offense and defense in the second half turned the game around," said River coach Don Eggleston.

The Class 3 state swim meet has been moved to this Sunday, February 22, at the Christiansburg Aquatic Center. The meet was originally scheduled for Friday but moved to Sunday, along with the Class 4 meet, with an anticipated snowstorm expected to cause travel problems during the week. Lord Botetourt will send a group of swimmers to the meet after competing in the Region 3D meet in Christiansburg last week. The meet was moved back a couple days due to snow. "What a wonderful swim meet," said coach Ashley Safrit. "I know there was chaos getting to this point, but it all worked out in the end. We had some amazing swims and all of the coaches are very proud of these results." The LB girls finished

LB boys end basketball regular season with win over Franklin County

The Lord Botetourt boys basketball team will open Region 3D play with a home game on Friday. The final bracket wasn't set at press time but the likely opponent is Bassett.

Botetourt ended the regular season Monday with an 81-63 win over Franklin County in Rocky Mount. That evened LB's Blue Ridge District record at 5-5 and lifted the Cavaliers to 10-13

"A great way to end the regular season with an extremely balanced performance," said coach Josh Aliveto. "We challenged the players before the game to play with great effort on offense and defense from the tip-off to the end and they did just that. This was a good win to head into the regional tournament.'

Botetourt had five players score in double digits. Blake Lovern led the way with 19, Braydon Whorley chipped in 13, Landon Hayes had 11 and Conner Dowdy had 10. Carson Edwards recorded a double-double with 10 points and 10 rebounds. Brady Kish also had a productive night with nine beat the Cavs, 68-51, on "Senior Night." Seniors points and seven assists.

James River boys basketball season comes to an end

The James River boys saw their basketball season come to an end with a 68-37 loss at Alleghany Monday. The game was moved up two days from Wednesday with an anticipated snowstorm on the horizon. River ended the season with a 7-19 record. The Region 2C tournament opens on Monday of next week but only the top eight teams in the region qualify and the Knights did not make it. Alleghany is a Class 3 team that will be leaving the Three Rivers District next year, so Monday might be the last time River sees the Cougars for some time. Jack Beheler led the Knights with 14 points and Maddox Pichay had eight.

"We were able to limit our turnovers, comparatively speaking, but defensively we couldn't get stops and that put us in a hole," said River coach Ethan Humphries. "We give credit to Alleghany, as they are a talented team."

Last Friday Knights were Glenvar and dropped a 63-35 decision on the Highlanders' "Senior Night." River led 11-10 after the first quarter as the Highlanders started some seniors who usually don't see much floor time, but when the regulars hit the floor Glenvar pulled ahead 28-14 at the half. "Our guys came ready to play and we're proud of how they handled the first quarter," said Humphries. "I thought we lost discipline and fell into their pace in the second quarter with trying to run with them, which isn't our recipe. If we do that for just a few minutes of play it really spirals on us, and next thing you know they put the game away by

Botetourt girls have first round bye in region hoops

With a 20-3 regular season record the Lord Botetourt girls will get a bye when the Region 3D basketball tournament opens Friday. The girls won't play until next Tuesday, February 25, against the winner of a first round game between the eight and nine seeded teams.

Botetourt wrapped up the regular season with two lop-sided wins the past week. Last Friday in Vinton the girls put the hammer down on host William Byrd, 71-16. Madilyn Winterton led the way with 27 points, five assists and seven steals. Maddie Caron had 24 points and seven boards and Maggie Hoover added 10 points and five assists. Botetourt shot 61 percent from the floor for the game and had 21 steals

On Monday it was "Senior Night" in Daleville and the Cavaliers came close to holding visiting Franklin County to single digits in points, winning 62-10. Senior Abby Kingery scored a career-high 22 points on nine-for-nine shooting and had seven rebounds. Senior Winterton had 17 points and six assists and Caron, also a senior, scored 13 points and had eight rebounds.

"It was a great night honoring three wonderful seniors who are leaders in our program," said coach Renee Favaro. "All three are great players, but even better people.

Knights have three region wrestling champions

James River High School put three wrestlers on the top step of the podium last Saturday at the Region 2C wrestling tournament at Liberty High School. The Knights finished fourth out of 10 schools despite having just eight competitors and six of the eight advanced to this Saturday's state tournament at the Salem Civic Center. Glenvar High was the team champion as Three Rivers District teams took three of the top four spots. Chatham was second, followed by 3RD schools Patrick County and James River.

The Knights put three wrestlers in the region championship and all three walked away as champions. At 113 pounds, senior Xaiden Wynn earned his fourth consecutive Region 2C championship and now eyes his third consecutive state championship in Salem Saturday. If Xaiden wins his third state title he would be only the second person to attain such a feat in James River

High School history. At 132 pounds, senior Brayden Forbes earned his third consecutive Region 2C championship. Brayden is already a three-time Class 2 state placer and seeks his fourth state placement to close out his

At 144 pounds, junior Nate Stewart earned his third consecutive Region 2C title. Nate finished second in the state tournament his freshman and sophomore years and eyes another chance at a state title.

Silas Whitson earned his first trip to the state tournament by placing third at 106. At 138, Josiah Merchant earned a third place finish, qualifying him for the state tournament for the second time after missing his sophomore season due to an injury. Finally, at 190, CJ Mullins earned a third place finish to qualify for the state tournament for the first time. wrestler with one year to go.

The VHSL Class 1, 2 and 3 state tournaments will all be held Saturday instead of the usual two-day format. That was changed with a snowstorm anticipated in mid-week, causing travel problems throughout the state. Wrestling begins at 8 a.m. Saturday with medal rounds due to start at 7:15 p.m. Also, James River female wrestler Janiya Falls will compete in the female state
