

Volunteering Is “Key” to Family Fun Hallowe’en

The Lincoln High School Key Club, with the support of Ten House Shinnston Fire Department , held a successful trunk and treat party last week.

The Shinnston News and Harrison County Journal, honors, celebrates, and appreciates Jim Hunt’s 500 columns, each offering healthy helpings of fun and good information. We are proud of his contributions and looking forward to celebrating many, many more.

500 Columns

By Jim Hunt for the News and Journal

Each week, after finishing my column for the Harrison County Journal, I email it to the editor and place the Word document in a folder on my computer named “News & Journal Columns” Over time, the file has grown considerably. A few weeks ago, I decided to count all the columns I’d written over the past ten years, and I was surprised to find the number approaching 500. That’s nearly 300,000 words—enough to fill six average books. The column appears on the front page, accompanied by a small photo of me that hasn’t changed since I began writing.

I still remember the day Kim Gemono, then-owner of the News and Journal, called and asked if I would consider writing for the paper. When I inquired, “How often?” he replied, “As often as you’d like.” I’d been thinking about writing a book, so I figured a column would help me develop the habit. I suggested starting weekly, with the option to scale back if needed. But week after week, I got into the rhythm of writing every Thursday evening, and here I am, ten years later, still at it without missing a beat. Writing the column did indeed help me complete my book, The Amazing Cities: 7 Steps to Creating an Amazing City, and a number of my columns even found their way into its pages. Through this process, I discovered the discipline writing requires and the art behind it. While most of my columns, including this one, are written from the comfort of my La-Z-Boy recliner, I’ve also crafted several on my iPhone while returning

Citizens of the Month

America’s Military Veterans and the Grand Marshals of Shinnston’s Veterans’ Day Parade

The Shinnston News & Harrison County Journal has named America’s Military Veterans and the Grand Marshals of Shinnston’s Veterans’ Day Parade as Citizens of the Month, a recognition sponsored by Dorsey Funeral Home in Shinnston – locally owned and operated.

By Stephen Smoot

“These men have gone and risked their lives for their state and this nation,” said Tom Willis from Shinnston American Legion Post 31. “It’s an honor just to thank them in person for what they do for us.”

The tradition of military service in America dates a century and a half before that of American independence itself. From militia men (and in the case of “Mad” Anne Bailey, women) to men such as George Washington who became enamored with the professional British Army, Americans before independence protected their families, property, and country in that order from several enemies.

In many cases, men signed on to march through hundreds of miles of howling wilderness, guard lonely outposts far from their families and homes, and serve their country. They risked all to protect all that mattered most.

Cain helped keep America’s fighting machines in service in posts around the world.

Times change. Technology advances. The issues and problems that drive nations to violence evolve and change, but never disappear, always growing more dangerous over time.

Commission Approves Support For Hallowe’en, Veterans’ Day, and Christmas Events

By Stephen Smoot

Last week, the Harrison County Commission held their regular proceedings. Commissioner Patsy

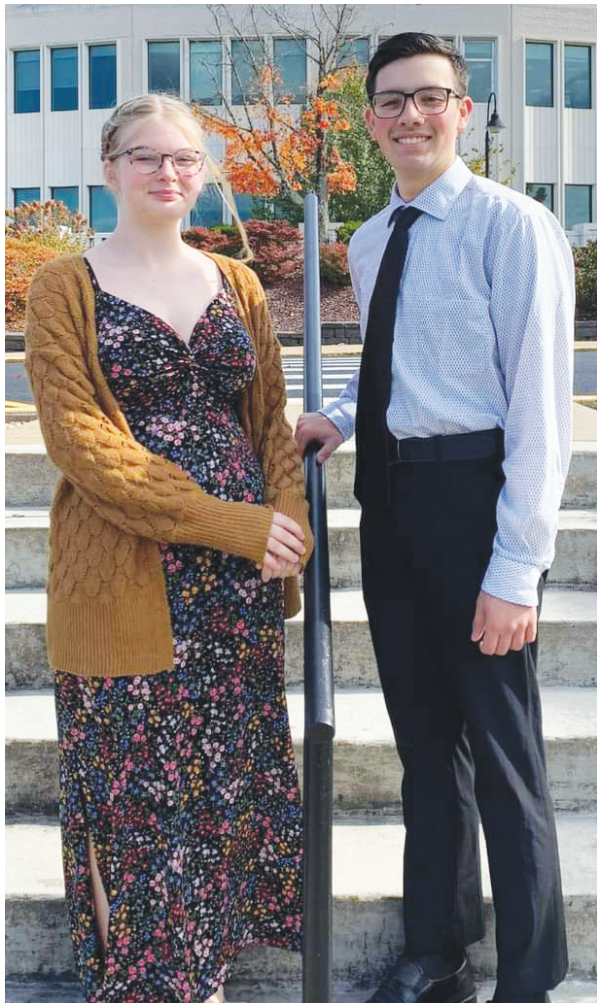

Trecost opened with the invocation, playing that with “Your tenderness, You give us the strength to move forward” and that the faithful are “looking forward to everlasting life with You.”

Shortly after the opening of the meeting, Commissioners heard from three different Harrison County organizations requesting support for their events over the

One Final Friday Night Lights At Liberty High

As the school year rolls on, the list of lasts continues to mount at Liberty High School. Once this school campaign comes to a close, the remaining students that will not graduate will move to a different high school. A good number of them will head to Robert C. Byrd while others will find a new home. This past Friday, the Mountaineers hosted their last home football game at the John Mazzei-James L. Reaser Athletic Complex.

Emotions ran high in Clarksburg before and after the epic battle with rival Lincoln. Before we get into the action on the gridiron, I feel we should take a walk back in time to understand the feelings of the older Mountaineers involved.

The impending school closure hasn't been easy on Liberty alums, however, the new blood doesn't know all that the old-timers had to endure, which in turn made the night so difficult to endure. Liberty High School opened in 1973 and was a consolidation of Bristol High School, Salem High School, and Victory High School.

Back in the 70s, football rivalries wer intense and they carried on into the 80s. I was a 1987 graduate of Washington Irving High School, which consolidated with Roosevelt Wilson High School to form Robert C. Byrd. In those days, football teams would share and share alike with only one field to share as a home field. Hite Field was called home by W. I., R. W., Notre Dame High School, and Liberty High School.

As the alumni grew, the voice for a home field became louder and after a 40 year wait, Liberty was homeless no more. Finally, in 2013 the current sports complex was opened. The Mazzei-reaser Athletic Complex provided a true sense of pride fro not only those at the school at that time, but all that came before that had dreamed of having a place to call home. That is why this hurts so much, because of all of the previous suffering that had to be endured just to get to this point.

Several former players and other distinguished alumni formed a tunnel that the team ran through en route to the field for battle. An emotional halftime involved the alumni as well.

On the field, these teams kept up their end of the bargain with inspired play. Liberty held a 28 to 13 halftime lead. The Cougars utilized some trickeration to claw back into the game early in the third. A reverse led to a Jacob Bart 40 yard touchdown toss to Aiden Rice.

The Mountaineers scored quickly to push their advantage back to a pair of touchdowns, but from there it was all Lincoln. Head Coach Rob Hawkinsmade the move of the night in calling for an onside kick. It led to a 23 yard rushing score for quarterback A. J. Bart. The 22 point third quarter tied it up at 35, erasing the early Mountaineer momentum.

Liberty went to running back Quinten

Hilliard early and often and he responded with an epic effort, scoring three touchdowns in the affair. The multi-talented player garnered a game high 227 rushing yards in 27 attempts.

The final frame belonged to the Cougars as Cade Riley hauled in a 26 yard touchdown reception and Conner Rice rambled 47 yards for the game's final score. Riley finished with eight catches for 136 yards. Aiden Rice caught six passes for 113 yards. Bart was 16 of24 for 216 yards, Rice picked up 142 yards on 14 carries.

The Mountaineers' signal caller Isiah Heplin was three of five for 59 yards and a score. Landon Clevenger picked up 73 yards on 19 attempts, including a two yard scoring run.

Even though Liberty didn't claim a win in their last home game, the hard fought battle epitomizes what the program has stood for since its inception in 1973 and this game has made the alumni a proud group one final time. What more could you ask for from a final Friday night?

That will do it for now! Take care . . . and God Bless!

Athletes of the Week

It's that time once again to acknowledge the efforts of Harrison County's student-athletes. Each week we review the performances of the athletes from the six schools (Bridgeport, Liberty, Lincoln, Notre Dame, Robert C. Byrd, and South Harrison) in our county.

The Shinnston News & Harrison County Journal's Athlete of the Week award is an avenue to promote the youth of our county while bringing attention to their athletic accomplishments.

Harrison County Athlete Spotlight

By Bill Nestor

The Harrison County athletes in the spotlight this week are South Harrison's Jaden Hatfield and Lincoln's Cade Riley.

Hawk running back Jaden Hatfield helped his team to a 51 to 35 win over Tyler Consolidated this past Friday. Hatfield rushed for 306 yards on 35 attempts. He also picked up four rushing touchdowns in the victory.

Cougar tight end Cade Riley caught a game high eight passes for 136 yards in a win over Liberty last Friday Riley also hauled in a 24 yard touchdown reception and converted on five extra point attempts. Congratulations to South Harrison's Jaden Hatfield and Lincoln's Cade Riley for shining bright in the SN and HCJ spotlight

CHARLESTON, W.Va. — Today, U.S. Senator Shelley Moore Capito (R-W.Va.), Ranking Member of the Senate Environment and Public Works (EPW) Committee, and member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, announced $49.7 million for drinking water and wastewater infrastructure upgrades in West Virginia. This funding was made available through this year's Clean Water and Drinking Water State Revolving Funds, made possible by the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act. "A central aspect of the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act is delivering the resources our states need to improve and expand their drinking water and wastewater systems, which was commissioned through diligent efforts at the Environment and Public Works Committee. Through that process, we made certain our states maintained the flexibility they need to address the issues most important to their residents, providing a significant boost to our communities and the services they rely on. I'm pleased to see these resources heading our way to further upgrade our local infrastructure and provide safe, clean water for West Virginians," Ranking Member Capito said.

WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service today reminded disaster-area taxpayers in the state of West Virginia who received disaster extensions to file their 2023 returns that, depending upon their location, their returns are due on Nov. 1, 2024.

Currently:

Taxpayers in parts of West Virginia have until Nov. 1, 2024, to file their 2023 returns.

Eligible taxpayers are individuals and businesses affected by various disasters that occurred during the late spring, summer and early fall of this year. For extension filers, payments on the 2023 tax year returns are not eligible for the additional time because they were originally due last spring before any of these disasters occurred.

The IRS normally provides relief, including postponing various tax filing and payment deadlines, for any area designated by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). As long as their address of record is in a disaster-area locality, individual and business taxpayers automatically get the extra time, without having to ask for it. The current list of eligible localities is always available on the disaster relief page on IRS.gov.

In addition, the IRS will work with any taxpayer who lives outside the disaster area but whose records necessary to meet a deadline occurring during the postponement period are located in the affected area. Taxpayers qualifying for relief who live outside the disaster should contact the IRS at 866-562-5227. This also includes workers who assisted with relief activities who are affiliated with a recognized government or philanthropic organization.

Special relief for terrorist attacks in Israel

Taxpayers who live or have a business in Israel, Gaza or the West Bank, and certain other taxpayers affected by the terrorist attacks in the State of Israel have until Sept. 30, 2025, to file and pay. This includes all 2023 and 2024 returns. Please note payments on the 2023 tax year returns are not eligible for the additional time because they were originally due prior to the terrorist attacks.

The Magic and Traditions of Hallowe'en, Then and Now

As we get ready to bid the month of October farewell, we also get ready to observe Halloween. As I walk through the stores and see all the costumes and how costly they are, my thoughts go back about 75 years to my first Halloween. Any thoughts I have of Halloween go back to my days at East View

Grade. school. About the first of October we would start planning our costumes. We would search through our parents' closets to come up with a special outfit. My memory goes back to several costumes. Once I wore one of my moms dresses and made myself into an old woman, then I did the same with an outfit from my dads closet. Then I remember planning on wearing a bathing suit with a big hat carrying a picnic basket with an umbrella. It got real cold the night before and my mom made me wear a coat and threw a white sheet over me and I went as a ghost. Once I wore all black and was a witch. One of my favorite costumes was a big cardboard box made as a television and I remember winning a prize. Then my sister and I both wore my dad's Marine uniform.

Halloween in our lives consisted of getting dressed for school and then we had a parade of all six grades together. We left the school, paraded down the hill to Guzzis market and then up the other hill and back to the school. There would be several people lined up to watch the parade. There were judges who chose the prettiest, ugliest costumes and they were given some type of prize. Then our home room mothers would have a party for us which generally consisted of cupcakes, juice and candy. Our observance ended with Trick or Treating in our neighborhood. Most of our treats were candy, but a lot of the times we were given apples that our neighbors had collected from their own yards. We might get a candied apple or a little bag of popcorn. As I got older I remember going Trick or Treating in other neighborhoods where they always gave candy bar treats. Some times we were even given a nickel. As the evening ended we hurried home to get out of our costumes and go through our bag of goodies, eating till we were almost sick and putting back some for tomorrow. There were times the week before Halloween that we carved out pumpkins and then maybe we would bob for apples in a tub of water. There

Christian marriage is sacrament of self-giving

From L'Osservatore Romano

On Wednesday morning, 23 October, Pope Francis continued his series of catecheses on the Holy Spirit in the life of the Church, turning to the Sacrament of Marriage. As a sacrament of loving union between a man and a woman, Christian marriage is a reflection of that eternal relationship between the Divine Persons.

The following is a translation of the Holy Father's words which he delivered in Italian in Saint Peter's Square. Dear Brothers and Sisters, Good morning! Last time we explained what we proclaim about the Holy Spirit in the Creed. The reflection of the Church, however, did not stop at that brief profession of faith. It was continued, both in the East and in the West, by the work of the great Fathers and Doctors. Today, in particular, we would like to gather a few crumbs of the doctrine of the Holy Spirit developed in the Latin tradition, to see how it enlightens all of Christian life and the sacrament of marriage in particular. The main architect of this doctrine is Saint Augustine, who developed the doctrine on the Holy Spirit. He sets out from the revelation that "God is love" (1 Jn 4:8). Now love presupposes one who loves, one who is beloved and love itself that unites them. In the Trinity, the Father is the one who loves, the source and origin of everything; the Son is the one who is beloved, and the Holy Spirit is the love that unites them.1 The God of Christians is therefore a "sole" God, but not solitary. His is a unity of communion and love. Along these lines, some have suggested calling the Holy Spirit not the "third-person singular" of the Trinity, but rather the "first-person plural". In other words, he is the we, the divine we of the Father and the Son, the bond of unity among different persons,2 the very principle of the unity of the Church, which is indeed a "sole body" resulting from several persons. As I said, today I would like to reflect with you in particular on what the Holy Spirit has to say about the family. What can the Holy Spirit have to do with marriage, for example? A great deal, perhaps the essential, and I will try to explain why! Christian marriage is the sacrament of self-giving, one for the other, of man and woman. This is how the Creator intended it when he

Students to attend
Hospitality Conference

BRIDGEPORT – Career & Tech Ed students from high schools across Harrison County will be attending the 2nd annual Hospitality Education Event and Competition at Bridgeport Conference Center this coming Wednesday, Oct. 30, 2024, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Students in the Hospitality & Tourism, Baking & Pastry, and Pro Start Culinary programs from high schools across the county will attend the event sponsored by Charlespointe Hospitality, the owner and manager of Bridgeport Conference Center, Mia Margarita’s, and Microtel. Students will tour all of those businesses and hear about a typical day there. They will learn about the history of the development of Charles Pointe, then they will work with the event planning staff at Bridgeport Conference Center, and the chefs in the kitchen to learn from those in the industry.

At the end of the day, students will engage in a fun event planning competition where teams will plan for a specific type of event with a theme, and present their event proposals to judges, for prizes. The goal for the event is to provide work-based learning opportunities and career exploration for our students. Harrison County Schools is continuing the work to build relationships between our schools and local employers for the benefits and relevance it brings to our career training programs, and the valuable career exploration it brings for our students.

Following the event, students closer to graduation will have the opportunity to sign up to participate in job shadowing or internship activities at Bridgeport Conference Center, Mia Margarita’s, or Microtel, the companies owned by Charlespointe Hospitality.

If you have any questions about the event, please contact Dr. Geraldine Beckett, CTE Liaison Specialist, Harrison County Schools, geraldine.beckett@k12.wv.us.

“created man in his own image [...] male and female he created them” (Gen 1:27). The human couple is therefore the first and most elementary realization of the communion of love that is the Trinity.

Married couples, too, should form a first-person plural, a “we”. Stand before each other as an “I” and a “you”, and stand before the rest of the world, including the children, as a “we”. How beautiful it is to hear a mother say to her children: “Your father and I...”, as Mary said to Jesus when they found him teaching the Doctors in the temple at the age of 12, (cf. Lk 2:48), and to hear a father say: “Your mother and I”, as if they were one. How much children need this unity — mother and father together — unity of

as the reciprocal gift of the Father and the Son in the Trinity, the Holy Spirit is also the reason for the joy that reigns between them, and they were not afraid, when speaking about it, to use the image of gestures proper to married life, such as the kiss and the embrace.3

No one says that such unity is an easy task, least of all in today’s world; but this is the truth of things as the Creator designed them, and it is therefore in their nature. Certainly, it may seem easier and quicker to build on sand than on rock; but Jesus tells us what the result is (cf. Mt 7:24-27). In this case, then, we do not even need the parable, because the consequences of marriages built on sand are, unfortunately, there for all to see, and it is mainly the children who pay the price. Children suffer from the separation or the lack of love of the parents! With regard to so many couples, one must repeat what Mary said to Jesus, at Cana in Galilee: “They have no wine” (Jn 2:3). The Holy Spirit is the one who continues to

WVU neurologist addresses updated guidelines

A West Virginia University stroke expert says new guidelines from the American Stroke Association that are designed to reduce the risk of a first stroke for patients provide a more comprehensive approach to early detection and prevention and, because of that, could lead to fewer stroke cases. Dr. Muhammad Alvi is the medical director for the WVU School of Medicine Stroke Program. His work as a board-certified neurologist with the WVU Rockefeller Neuroscience Institute involves leading an interdisciplinary team of specialists. On Oct. 21, the American Stroke Association, a division of the American Heart Association, updated its clinical recommendations. The new guidelines for state healthy lifestyle behaviors, such as good nutrition, smoking cessation and being physically active, along with routine health screenings and managing risk factors for cardiovascular disease and stroke, can help keep people from having initial strokes. Dr. Alvi shared that “As providers, we are able to recommend behavioral and healthy lifestyle changes, including medications for some patients, by reviewing a patient’s physical exam and blood tests. When we address risk factors like high blood pressure, elevated cholesterol and elevated blood sugar, we can increase the likelihood of preventing a first stroke. “Decreasing sedentary lifestyles and increasing physical activity is key to reducing the risk of stroke. Increased physical activity can help regulate blood pressure, cholesterol, inflammatory markers, insulin resistance, endothelial function and weight. “Many adults can decrease their risk of stroke by following a Mediterranean dietary pattern. Mediterranean dietary programs focus on plant-based foods and healthy fats. Vegetables, fruits, whole grains and extra virgin olive oil play key roles in this dietary lifestyle. “Obesity and weight continue to be a factor for many stroke patients, and this new guideline explores using FDA-approved glucagon-like protein-1 (GLP-1) receptor agonist medications, like semaglutide or trizepatide, for patients with this risk factor and Type 2 diabetes.” — Dr. Muhammad Alvi, associate professor, WVU School of Medicine, medical director, WVU Stroke Program, and neurologist, WVU Rockefeller Neuroscience Institute perform, on a spiritual level, the miracle that Jesus worked on that occasion; namely, to change the water of habit into a new joy of being together. It is not a pious illusion: it is what the Holy Spirit has done in so many marriages, when the spouses decided to invoke him. It would not be a bad thing, therefore, if alongside the information of a legal, psychological and moral nature that is given to couples during the preparation for marriage, we were to deepen this “spiritual” preparation, the Holy Spirit who makes unity. An Italian proverb says, “Never place a finger between husband and wife” [never interfere between husband and wife]. There is in fact a “finger” to be placed between husband and wife, the “finger of God”: that is, the Holy Spirit! S P E C I A L GREETINGS I extend a warm welcome to the English-speaking pilgrims and visitors, especially those coming from England, Denmark, Norway, Madagascar, India, Indonesia, Japan, the Philippines, Canada and the United States. Upon all of you, and upon your families, I invoke the joy and peace of our Lord Jesus Christ. God bless you! Lastly, as usual, my thoughts turn to young people, to the sick, to the elderly and to newlyweds.

terrible! War does not forgive. War is a defeat from the beginning. Let us pray to the Lord for peace, may he give peace to all, to all of us. And let us not forget Myanmar; let us not forget Palestine, which is suffering inhumane attacks; let us not forget Israel, and let us not forget all nations at war. There is a figure, brothers and sisters, that should frighten us: the investments that yield the most today are in arms factories. Profiting from death! Let us pray for peace, all together. I offer my blessing to all of you! 1 Cf. St. Augustine, De Trinitate, VIII ,10,14) 2 Cf. H. West Virginia Disability History Essay Contest Announced

2025 WV Disability History Essay Contest, St. Albans, WV – The WV Disability History Essay Contest committee is proud to announce the return of the Disability History Essay Contest in West Virginia. The Disability History Essay Contest coincides with WV Disability History Week, the 3rd week in October, and is open to all WV high school seniors attending public or private schools. This annual contest is designed to reinforce Disability History Week in WV and provide WV high school seniors with an opportunity to share their knowledge of the Disability Rights Movement and what they have learned about disability issues in their community, showcase their writing skills, and perhaps to earn some money!

All WV High Schools will be sent entry forms for the essay contest next week. The entry forms can also be found on our website at www.wvsilc.org. Please share with your Seniors and encourage them to enter. There are six districts with a possible 1st and 2nd place in each district, plus a State winner. In addition to an award certificate, the authors of the winning essays will receive an engraved personalized key chain and a check for the amount of their award as follows:

- State Winner - $3,250
- District 1st Place Winners - $1,750
- District 2nd Place Winners - $1000

The Disability History Essay Contest is a collaborative effort between the West Virginia Division of Rehabilitation Services (WVDRS), West Virginia Statewide Independent Living Council (WVSILC), and State Rehabilitation Council (SRC), with cooperation from the West Virginia Department of Education.

Thank you to the high school principals, teachers and counselors for encouraging their students to participate. Thank you to all of the students who entered in past contests.

For more information on Disability History Week in WV passed by the WV Legislature in 2006, please visit <https://wvsilc.org/legislation>

The winners and their essays will be featured in the Special Edition issue of the IL Edge, WVSILC’s quarterly newsletter. Please visit <https://wvsilc.org/essay-contest> for more information on the WV Disability History Essay Contest.

UHC Topping Off Ceremony at the Future Elkins Corridor Medical Center

Bridgeport, WV— Less than six months since the beginning of construction, WVU Medicine United Hospital Center (UHC) Chief Executive Officer and President, David F. Hess, M.D., along with officials from March-Westin, marked a milestone in the construction phase of the Elkins Corridor Medical Center with the ceremonial “topping off” of the steel structure.

“This project will make us better poised to meet the healthcare needs of the Tygart Valley region by providing expanded access to high quality care,” said Dr. Hess. & UHC’s evolution to become a regional referral center for the central West Virginia market will only be enhanced by this new Elkins location.& On June 6, UHC broke ground on the future state-of-the-art clinic in Randolph County.

When completed later next year, the Elkins Corridor Medical Center will consist of primary and outpatient services for residents of Elkins and surrounding communities.

“This day is a celebration of the hard work and dedication of all who are committed to the completion of this new facility,” said Vice President, Matthew Bourne, at March-Westin Company, Inc. “Now with this last beam in place, I am pleased to announce that we are progressing according to schedule.”

Construction of UHC’s newest clinic will cost more than $37 million, occupy 38,000 square feet, and will be conveniently located off Corridor H on North Randolph Avenue.

This site is a collaborative effort among UHC, March-Westin Company, Inc., Elkins community leadership, and the Thrasher Group, Inc., and will evoke a patient-centered design when its doors open.

Employees, board members, political officials, and the media autographed the beam, which displayed about one hundred names. The Topping Off Ceremony celebrated the final beam being hoisted into the 250 tons of structural steel used in the expansion of the steel skeleton.

Moroccan Orange Cake

A traditional Moroccan cake typically served for tea or breakfast, Meskouta (Moroccan) is made with ingredients you likely have on hand, and it doesn’t require a mixer. Extra-virgin olive oil makes it moist on the inside and golden on the outside.

INGREDIENTS

FOR THE CAKE:

- ½ cup plus 2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil, more for greasing the pan
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 ½ teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon fine salt
- ¾ cup plus 2 tablespoons granulated sugar
- 2 large eggs
- ¾ cup plus 2 tablespoons Greek-style yogurt
- Zest of 2 oranges (about 2 tablespoons)
- ⅓ cup fresh orange juice (from about 1 orange)
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

FOR THE WHIPPED CREAM (OPTIONAL):

- ¾ cup heavy whipping cream
- 1 ½ tablespoons confectioners’ sugar
- Dark chocolate, for shaving with a vegetable peeler

PREPARATION

Heat the oven to 350 degrees. Grease a 8½-by-4½-inch loaf pan with olive oil, and line it with a sheet of parchment paper so that you have extra on the sides. (You’ll use this to lift the loaf out of the pan.)

In a large bowl, whisk together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt until well combined. In another large bowl, whisk together the granulated sugar and eggs until well combined. Add the yogurt, olive oil, orange zest, orange juice and vanilla extract to the sugar and egg mixture, and whisk until well incorporated.

Pour the wet ingredients into the dry ingredients and gently mix using a spatula until you no longer see flecks of flour, making sure not to overmix. (The batter will be slightly lumpy.) Transfer the batter to the prepared pan, and use a spatula to spread into an even layer.

Bake for 40 to 45 minutes, or until a toothpick inserted in the center comes out with some small, moist crumbs. (If the cake needs another minute or two, but is becoming too brown, tent with foil.) Allow to cool completely on a wire rack before using the parchment overhang to remove from the pan.

Make the optional whipped cream: Using a hand mixer or a stand mixer fitted with a whisk attachment, whisk the cream and the confectioners’ sugar for about 2 to 3 minutes on medium-high until medium peaks begin to form. You want a spreading consistency. Cover and keep in the fridge until ready to serve the cake.

To serve, cut the cake in slices, top with whipped cream, if using, and garnish with chocolate shavings, if using. Alternatively, you can also top the whole cake with whipped cream, then slice it. Without the whipped cream, the cake keeps for up to 5 days in an airtight container on the counter.

The cake is excellent on its own, but for something really special, add whipped cream and dark chocolate shavings.

American Legion Welcomes Veterans and Service Providers to Resource Fair

American Legion Post 31, said the fair as well as the class was a great success. The organizers are already planning for the next Veterans Services Fair in about three months. There were approximately 150 attendees. During these fairs a buffet lunch is also served by American Legion Auxiliary. The buffet this time included hamburgers, grilled cheese, various soups and dessert. Two of the Auxiliary Junior members, Kendalyn and Aleena Pierce, assisted fair goers by helping them find seats and carrying plates for older attendees when necessary. Unit 31 members who prepared and served were Marsha Duckworth, Dortha Parsons, Sharon Duckworth, Andrea Skelley, Julia Pierce, Betsy Turner and Margaret Yost.

LHS Students Providing More Than Merely a “Ghost of a Chance” At a Good Time

Lincoln High School’s DECA Club hosted the Shinnston Haunted Trail on Friday, October 18, 2024. More than 400 visitors came through the scare stations along the rail-trail, got a tractor ride into town to enjoy s’mores and hot chocolate. Special thanks to the City of Shinnston, St. Ann’s Catholic Church, First Baptist Church and Jewel City Church for their assistance with this tourism event. To learn more about

America, neither as a set of colonies nor as an independent state, has the need to have men standing guard to protect the people and nation ever slackened. The dangers and challenges always change, but never quite disappear.

On November 11 at 11 AM sharp, Shinnston will watch the commencement of its Veterans’ Day parade. The holiday, which originally celebrated the armistice ending the First World War, now honors all who served honorably as servicemen and women.

The Shinnston Lions Club organizes the parade every year and encourages all to participate, honoring all who served, no matter where or in what capacity. Honoring the service means honoring every role, from infantryman to any positions away from the front lines because all do their part.

Willis noted that “in our past meeting, we recognized Dave Minor and his organization for stepping up.”

The parade will be headed by a set of grand marshals. Some may assume from the first syllable that the term originates in Mars, the Roman God of War. His name also lends itself to the month of March, when campaigns from Greek and Roman times all the way to Operation Desert Storm commenced.

The word “Marshal,” however, came from an old Frankish term “mareschal.” That word originally denoted an officer who tended to the horses of superior officers. The word “constable” meant something similar, but originated in the Latin tongue. “Mareshcals” evolved into “marshals.” Field Marshals held the highest rank in many European empires and kingdoms.

Americans never applied the term to military rank, likely due to associations with dynastic style rule.

That said, the term remains one associated with both honor and leadership, which is why parades use the role to celebrate important contributors to the community.

Jeff Cain will serve as one of the Shinnston Veterans’ Day Parade grand marshals. He earned the rank of sergeant while serving in the United States Army between March of 1977 through 1985. Serving as a wheel and track mechanic, he kept vital machinery running while serving at Fort Knox in Kentucky, Fort Polk in Louisiana, and in deployments to Germany and Japan.

Willis shared that Cain was “hurt a couple of times” in the line of duty, reminding all that service away from the battlefield is no guarantee of safety.

John Howard Kendall was born on Oct 6, 1940 as the German Luftwaffe pounded the cities of Great Britain from the air during World War II. He was the son of William Guy Kendall and Linnie Virginia St. Clair. William, George, Richard, Jack, Darrell, then John were his brothers.

At the age of four, the Shinnston tornado left the family homeless, but they still persevered. Kendall graduated from Shinnston High School in 1958 and joined the United States Army the next year.

At Fort Jackson, Kendall completed his basic training, then went on to Fort Knox to train with armored vehicles, then Fort Campbell for jump school. He transferred to West Germany and experienced the crisis following the building of the Berlin Wall in the early 60s, also serving in units that patrolled the Soviet border.

In April of 1963, Kendall received his discharge after serving for just over three years in the elite 101st Airborne.

History writes about the generals, admirals, field marshals, and others who train, direct, and lead military formations. Without those men repairing the tracks and wheels on the tanks or volunteering to take on dangerous roles in elite divisions such as the 101st Airborne, those in the highest ranks could accomplish absolutely nothing of value.

And that is why Shinnston emphasizes equal honor to all who served honorably.
