911 Center Director Michael Simmons provided members of the public with a demonstration of some of the features of the new equipment the County Commission has funded for the center. The demonstration was held at the Old Courtroom of the Tucker County Courthouse immediately following the recent meeting of the Tucker County Commission. Several members of the public were in attendance for the event. Simmons outlined the County's investment in the 911 Center over the past year. "Over the past year, the County Commission has invested a good sum of money equipment was either not what we needed or was outdated and that stuff just plays such a large role in the efficiency of getting responders where they need to go and them," Simmons said. the main issues that we come across was we had an older CAD system," Simmons to the Com Center because a lot of our us getting the best information, we can to Simmons said that the Computer Aided Dispatching system at the Center was outdated and needed upgrading. "One of said, "that had the ability to see street view pictures of everyone's house in Tucker County. As technology does, it changes."

Simmons said that the initial upgrade to the system lost the picture capability in the system. "So, when it comes time to update to another CAD system, there's pictures that go along with it," Simmons said. "So when these Commissioners got back into the office, they noticed because they were there before, they were asking, 'Where are the pictures at?' Well, they didn't come with this CAD system."

According to Simmons, the old vendor

Blackwater PSD, Region VII Discuss Accounting and Legal Services

By: Lydia Crawley The Parsons Advocate

Blackwater Public Service District members and Region VII Executive Director Shane Whitehair discussed the need to procure Legal and Accounting services for the new PSD at the meeting of the District Board.

Blackwater PSD Board Chairman Alan Tomson said the board needed to move forward with the procurement of services. "What we wanted to do at this meeting, we talked about at the last meeting, was really to move forward trying to fill out the team," Tomson said. "So that we can get the accountant and the legal services that we need."

Whirehair informed the board that his agency is moving forward on proposals and solicitations as well as a Residual Support Plan for the project. "As far as Legal and Accounting, We'll have to send a proposal out, RSP (Residual Support Plan) out and obviously we will make sure that all the solicitations are done."

Whitehair said Region VII is also looking ahead with the project so they can complete anything that might come up in the future. "Kind of looking ahead to make sure our bases are covered...and things like that," Whitehair said. "Because we really don't know what the funding looks like today, so you want to make sure that we don't have to do it again in the future." According to Whitehair, his organization is working on a draft proposal currently but due to the newness of the PSD entity, there are some factors to address in the proposal. "So, we are actually drafting out the proposal now," Whitehair said. "This is a little different now because it is a new PSD and there are a lot of different, you know, quirks with it. So we want to make sure that we're covered before we send it out."

The draft proposal should be ready in a week or so, according to Whitehair. "We should have it ready in the next week or so," Whitehair said.

Tomson said he had attended a PSD training sponsored by the Public Service Commission. "I did attend the PSD training the PSC (Public Service Commission) holds," Tomson said. "And they went over a lot of things with Legal and Accounting. Very, very informative three days."

Tomson said he wished he had an opportunity to attend when he became Mayor of Davis. "I wish I had taken it when I became Mayor," Tomson said. "Because what they were talking about for the PSD is just as relevant for a municipality if you have sewer and water."

According to Tomson, he recommended the PSC extend the training to municipalities, as well. "So, I made that recommendation to the PSC that they really should broaden the audience," Tomson said. "If they can tolerate that."

refused to include picture capability with the system. "So, we started talking with that vendor and it was something that they really weren't willing to do and it didn't really matter about the price," Simmons said. "We offered them money, they weren't able to do it, they weren't willing to do it. It was a pretty shut case."

Due to the vital role the photo capability played in the system, the Commission decided to change vendors, Simmons said. "But it played such a vital role in what we do up there that the Commission opted to change vendors," Simmons said. "We went with Motorola because the product

County Commission Supports Fraternal Order of Police Children's Christmas Party

By: Lydia Crawley The Parsons Advocate

The Tucker County Commission, in a motion made by Commission President Mike Rosenau, approved a financial support of $1,500 to the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 104 in Elkins to assist with the organization's annual children's Christmas party and gifts for underprivileged children. Ron Kilgore represented the organization at the Commission's meeting.

Kilgore said his organization serves several counties throughout the area, including Tucker. "We provide services for Randolph, Barbour, Tucker, Pocahontas, Grant and Pendleton Counties," Kilgore said.

According to Kilgore, the annual event has grown over the years. "We're here today asking for a donation for our Christmas Party," Kilgore said. "Our Christmas Party really has evolved. This is the second year where we are going to have it at the Phil Gainer Center. '

Kilgore said 150 area families were served last year by the program. "Last year was a pretty good success," Kilgore said. "We had roughly a 150 children and their families come.'

The party includes several activities for the children as well as a gift valued at between $90 and $100, Kilgore said. "We have bounce houses, food and every child received a gift between 90 and 100 dollars," Kilgore said.

Twenty-three Tucker County families were served last year, according to Kilgore, as well as the organization's continued support of Tucker County in general. "Out of Tucker County, Ron Kilgore from the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 104 in Elkins addresses Tucker County Commission. the Kilgore and his organization requested donations for their annual Children's Christmas Party. The Commission unanimously approved a donation of $1,500 to support Tucker County children served by the program.

there were 23 kids, plus their families," Kilgore said. "In Tucker County specific, we donated 800 to the Rec League here. They sent us a letter from the Tucker County Community Foundation, which will come out of our general fund, not our Christmas fund. They are asking, they need to raise $5,000, we're giving Tucker County another thousand."

Kilgore said his organization hopes to serve more children this year. "So, I wanted you to know that we put that money back into this county," Kilgore said. "We're hoping to expand past the 150 children this year."

Kilgore outlined how the children are selected. "We do put thought into it," that they offer puts everyone on the team, participating on the same call."

Simmons said that earlier systems kept the call strictly within the Center. "Before the information would come into the Com Center and that's where it stayed," Simmons said. "We could give it verbally, but that's as far as it went."

According to Simmons, outside agencies needed to radio or call in any notations for the call before, but with the new system, each has equal access. "If an officer was on a call and he needed to add some comments to the report, he had to call us or radio us and we would have to enter it in for him," Simmons said. "Now everybody has this CAD system with all the agencies." "

Law Enforcement was used as an example that the agency can enter notations and information on the calls in real time or even initiate a call in the system. "So, like with Law Enforcement, he doesn't even have to be notified of a call," Simmons said. "He's driving down the road, sees a crime taking place, he can create his own call, he can assign himself to it, he can put his own notes in there."

Simmons said that when another agency initiates a call in the system, his Center has instant access to it. "And when he does that, it shows up in our system as if we created it," Simmons said.

Simmons said that other agencies also have the capability to see and respond to a call immediately even if the 911 Center has not been able to assign the case yet. "And it works the other way, as well," Simmons said. "We create a call, but haven't assigned anybody. Somebody in the public needs something and we create the incident, before we assign anybody, if it's a law nature, it will show up for Law Enforcement and he can take the call. He can assign himself to it, he can enter notes."

According to Simmons, the new system also benefits the EMS efforts and can allow the responders to update cases while they are actively engaged on scene. "Same with EMS," Simmons said. "There's been some cases where they've had walk-ins. If we dispatch them to a call and they say, 'We are leaving the station and are in route.' If it's a hectic scene and they don't have time due to the nature to call in and let us know they're there, what they're going to do, they have the ability to do that. They can change their status to on scene, they can make notes of what they're doing, any pertinent information. The same way with Fire Department."

Tucker County Commission President Mike Rosenau said that all law enforcement agencies have laptops in their vehicles to communicate with the 911 Center. "So, Michael, what you're saying is each law enforcement officer now has a laptop in their vehicle that will communicate and talk to the 911 Center and in that CAD it will show up," Rosenau said.

Simmons said each vehicle has a VPN connection that is connected directly to the 911 Center servers. "Yes, sir," Simmons said. "We put in a VPN connection in each vehicle that connects directly to our server at the 911 Center. No matter where they're at, as long as they have wifi, which they all have wifi in their vehicles now, they can log in just like they are a dispatcher at the Com Center and participate in everything."

Simmons also stated that law enforcement can also run

County Commission

Kilgore said. "First, we contact the school. The school councilor provides us with the persons that they know in the community that need the assistance for Christmas. So, we do that throughout all the counties."

routine checks from their own vehicles in the case of emergencies where the Center may not be readily available to run a license check. "And Law Enforcement also has the ability now that they can run license plates and driver's license at traffic stops," Simmons said. "In the event of, say there's a heart attack, a cardiac arrest call comes in and we're giving CPR instructions over the phone until EMS can arrive. If they pull somebody over, they can hear that we are occupied. They can do it themselves. We prefer them not to, it's still our job, but they do have that ability in case of emergency."

Simmons said that Motorola custom built their map based on Assessor data and flyover. "This was a completely new, custom-made map by Motorola," Simmons said. "This was based on our 2018 flyover that the assessor's office did do."

Besides data on residences and towns, the new map also has all the trails in the area plotted as well, according to Simmons. "It was an aerial view of the town with all of the topography and stuff," Simmons said. "Address points, center lines, they have the trails mapped, which comes in handy up in the Dolly Sods area. We have all those trails mapped."

Simmons said the trails will include GPS mile markers on the map come the first of the year. "And at the first of the year, they are going to be GPS mile markers," Simmons said. "So, if a person calls in... we will be able to see that they are three tenths of a mile from this entrance point."

Simmons said when he started at the Center, horseback riders were utilized to search the trails. "I remember back when I first started, they would have people up there on horseback looking for lost hikers, missing people," Simmons said.

Simmons said the system includes pictures of properties that are updated on a regular basis. "In those hyperlinks we have all the assessors street views of pictures...Those are updated every year when they take new pictures," Simmons said. "There are new addresses, those are updated quarterly."

According to Simmons, the new system also has the capability to add warning labels for addresses that will show up for all agencies that can include information on safety, medical or special instructions such as hidden keys or door codes for entry. The system also has the capability to operate other 911 Centers with the same software in case of emergency or disaster in another county, according to Simmons.

Simmons also said the Center has a fully automated switch over system for communications. In case of an outage on the main connection, the system will automatically switch over to the backup system with no interruption in service. "The dispatchers don't even know it's happened," Simmons said.

At the demonstration, Commissioner Rosenau and Simmons discussed hosting a future event at the basement of the 911 Center to fully showcase the system due to a lag that was occurring at the Courthouse due to Simmon's computer operating on a hotspot internet connection and a backdoor into the system. No date has been set for a future demonstration.

News of Record

The following criminal complaint has been filed in the Tucker County Magistrate office:

Juan Carlos Berrios, of Parsons, has been charged with one count of Domestic Assault and one count of Destruction of Property. According to the complaint, on Saturday, Oct. 21 Trooper E.W. Clark responded to an active domestic. Prior to his arrival he was informed that the defendant, Juan Carlos Berrios, had fled the residence. Clark was also informed that the defendant had an active warrant from the state of California with full extradition. Upon arrival Clark searched for the defendant outside the residence. Unable to locate him, Clark enter the residence and spoke to the victim, identified as Dani Ana Mervs. She told Clark that she and the defendant were in an argument and he became irate, allegedly threatening to stab her while reaching into his pocket. She stated she knows the defendant carries pocket knives and she was in fear for her safety

Upon searching the area, Clark discovered the victim's vehicle, described as a 2021 Honda Pilot, displaying California registration had two flat tires on the passenger side of the vehicle. Clark discovered that each damaged tire had a two inch cut in the sidewall. The victim was informed.

FROM THE MOUNTAINS TO THE VALLEYS

Kilgore said his organization works with the child's family to select gifts especially for each child. "And then we contact each individual family," Kilgore said. "What does your child want between 90 and 100 dollars? What are they interested in? And then we coordinate and purchase that."

According to Kilgore, the party will have a longer time frame than they did last year. "Last year it was a four-hour block," Kilgore said. "So, we have to split the counties. Half the counties come in a two-hour and the other counties come in the other two. We have increased that to a six-hour time limit," Kilgore said. "So they will be there, half the counties will be there for three hours and the other half for the other three hours."

Besides gifts and refreshments, the party includes characters such as Santa and the Grinch and activities for the children, as well. "We have Santa Claus, the Grinch, they have a couple of bounce houses, refreshments, they get their gifts," Kilgore said. "It's a pretty good time."

According to Kilgore, the organization spent close to $20,000 on last year's party. "We spent last year on gifts itself; we spent a little over $18,000," Kilgore said. "The whole Christmas was about $19, 500 with the venue, with the addition of the wrapping and all of that."

Kilgore said the organization hopes to raise more money to spend on the party this year. "We're hoping to expand on all of that," Kilgore said. "We do have, last year two counties, of all of our county commissions, donated to us. Randolph, they provided $2,500 last year. Pendleton gave a thousand. We're still waiting for Randolph County this year. Pendleton County gave us another thousand."

Kilgore said he is attempting to meet with other county commissions to solicit donations, as well. "I'm hoping to get time slots to come and speak at the other counties, too," Kilgore said. "To let people know that it really is money coming in and going back out directly into your communities." Christmas. "Our Christmas party, it will be in December," Kilgore said. "It will be before Christmas."

Kilgore also informed the Commission that the money raised will be divided between the counties served, but they are still in need of donations. "We try to split that money up between the counties," Kilgore said. "Right now, I'm transparent, we have about $9,500. So, we're on an upswing. We still have a way to go to get to where we were last year, but hopefully we will get there."

According to Kilgore it takes $100 to served one child. "You could pretty much say a $100 a child," Kilgore said. "So, if it's a $1,000, that's 10 children. We will bring more, but that's about what you're sponsoring. It's a $100 a child. So, I hope you consider."

The Christmas donations have a separate account, according to Kilgore. "The Christmas donation itself is a separate account only for the Christmas," Kilgore said. "So, it does not go into our general fund. It can't be spent on anything other than (that). If a check comes in and it says Christmas donation, it goes into its own account. It is specifically spent on the Christmas party and we welcome it."

Rosenau asked Kilgore if any donation made for the Christmas fund would be used for any other purpose. Kilgore said it would not. "So, if we give a donation, if the donation is for the Christmas fund, it goes directly to the Christmas fund," Rosenau said. "It doesn't do administration; it doesn't do cleaning or anything? It goes directly to the kids."

Kilgore affirmed that all donations designated for the Christmas party are only for the Christmas party. "Yes, sir, that is correct. It is a separate account."

Rosenau made a motion to donate $1,500 to the Christmas Party. "I want to make a motion that we donate, because it goes directly to the kids. $1,500," Rosenau said. The motion was unanimously approved by the Commissioners.

The next meeting of the Tucker County Commission will be held November 15th at 9 a.m. at the Old Courtroom of the Tucker County Courthouse in Parsons.

Of his most beloved traits were his humor and quick wit. and took up farming with his father on the Loughry Farm. During the 1860's Aaron Jr. and his wife Julia built a hand-hewn log home and raised 11 children on the farm. For many generations, the farm produced a variety of fruits and vegetables, livestock and crops. Following the death of Aaron Jr. in 1912, the farm passed to Aaron Jr's son Charles A. Loughry, then to Charles' son, Lewis F. Loughry, then to Lewis' children Don, Roger, and Linda in 2013. Lewis, a beed cattle farmer, purchased adjoining land and increased the size of the Loughry farm from the original 30 acres to the 368 acres it is today.

The farm has seen many changes over the years. When granted in 1847 the farm was located in Randolph County, Va. which became Tucker County, Va. in 1856 and then Tucker County, West Virginia in 1863. It was also ravaged by the Flood of 1985, which washed away the log homestead, a second homestead, two log barns, farm equipment and fencing. However, the Loughry's and the farm persevered.

In 2017, Eldon and Linda (Loughry) Plaugher and their son Tom and his wife Georgette acquired the farm. Tom and Georgette officially named the farm Seven Islands Farm in recognition of its location and all the Loughry's who farmed "down on the river" over the past 176 years. Seven Islands Farm has three high tunnels, two large gardens, a flock of chickens, a Christmas tree patch, 20 acres of hay, 20 acres of pasture and 328 acres of woodland. Income is derived from the sale of hay, bedding plants, cut flowers, Christmas trees and evergreen wreaths for the holidays. You can find Seven Islands Farm on Facebook or call them at 304-621-3515.

TURNER'S TIDBITS

This bucket and contents are familiar to several folks. The Red Cross provided these buckets and contents to help with cleaning up from the horrible flood of November 5, 1985. The Flood upset and ruined many lives. Many merchants in the Parsons Area were just not able to come back after the flood and thus they closed their doors. This bucket contained a bottle of Clorox, Pro-Cleaner, Pro-Disinfectant, Latex gloves, a bristle brush, a sponge, and a Red Cross bag which contained a couple trash bags. I have seen other buckets with similar items but evidently the buckets didn't contain all the same items. Ideas, suggestions, comments or items to share contact Tim Turner (304) 478-3389.

Gas Prices Still Dropping in West Virginia

The average price for gasoline across Northern West Virginia is four cents lower this week at $3.199 per gallon, according to AAA East Central's Gas Price Report.

This week's average prices: Northern $3.199 WV Average Average price during the week of Octo-

$3.233 ber 23, 2023

Average price during the week of October 31, 2022 $3.573

The following is a list of the average prices in several West Virginia locations:

- $3.189 Bridgeport
- $3.231 Clarksburg
- $3.277 Huntington
- $3.254 Martinsburg
- $3.203 Morgantown
- $3.197 Parkersburg
- $3.164 Weirton
- $3.077 Wheeling
- Trend Analysis:

The national average for a gallon of gas dipped by five cents since last week to $3.49. Gas prices continue to trend downward due to lower demand and the cost of oil, which has fallen over the past few days to the low-$80's per barrel. Today's national average of $3.49 is 33 cents less than a month ago and 27 cents less than a year ago.

According to new data from the Energy Information Administration (EIA), gas demand decreased from 8.94 to 8.86 million barrels per day last week. On the other hand, total domestic gasoline stocks increased slightly to 223.5 million barrels. Lower gas demand, alongside declining oil prices, has contributed to pushing pump prices down.

At the close of Wednesday's formal trading session, West Texas Intermediate increased by $1.65 to settle at $85.29. The oil price rose briefly due to concerns that the Israel-Hamas war could escalate soon as Israel prepares for more ground operations. Additionally, the EIA reported that total domestic commercial crude supply increased by 1.4 million barrels to 421.1 million barrels.

Motorists can find current gas prices nationwide, statewide, and countywide at gasprices.aaa.com.

By Teri Cayton The Parsons Advocate

We have experienced so many weather changes this past week, we have had rain that turned to snow, cold weather that turned warm again and I am very confused. I just want it to stay warm but that is not going to happen. Momma Said, "With global warming speeding up I better watch what I wish for because it could very well happen."

We are so lucky to live on a planet where anything can happen as far as the weather is concerned. I have always wondered why we are the only planet that has such capabilities (that we know of). We have explored space as far as we can right now and with the telescopes we have, we still can't find another planet that would sustain life as we know it.

When I was watching Flash Gordon and Lost in Space I never believed I would live long enough to see all that has been accomplished so far. We laughed at The Jetson's when they were making their video calls and their instant food but now we have that. We watch movies now of the habitation of Mars and it won't be long before that happens. I know I won't be one of the ones on any of those space ships because none of them would want to hear me telling them how we did things when I was a kid. Momma Said, "There are two ways of doing things, the way I tell you to do it or doing it wrong." I do believe I could grow a garden on Mars.

Oreo Fluff Recipe

the vanilla pudding mix and milk. Beat with an electric mixer until combined and thick.

2023 Ruth and Arthur Lipscomb Reunion

2023 Annul Ruth and Arthur Lipscomb Family Reunion held August held August 19,2023 at Ferrell Family Campground in Leadmine with a final count of 81 attending. The day started with a circle of hands and a prayer as we remembered Carol Godfrey who passed shortly after last years reunion and Randolph Lipscomb who passed shortly before this year's reunion. This is the first time we have lost two children of Ruth and Arthur between reunions, so it was somewhat a somber one however we made the most of it. After eating and spending time catching up, we gave out the following prizes. The oldest male and female in attendance was Gary Lipscomb (83) and Mary Litman Lipscomb (85) which is also the last remaining 2 children of Ruth and Arthur. Youngest boy and girl were Thaddeus Barnhouse (2 years old) and MaeLynn Muccioli (3 months old). Longest married was Gary and Lynn Lipscomb with 62 years and newest married was Patty and Rob Parker with 3 years. We added a new category this year for the oldest grandson and granddaughter of Ruth and Arthur in attendance and that went to Rusty Collett (age 74) and Sandy Wollschlager (age 77). The 50/50 was won by Fred Jones who quickly turned the money over to his wife Brenda "for safe keeping". Staci Smith made up 3 baskets that were raffled off. A WVA basket won by MeMe Antunez, Wine basket won by Punkin Lipscomb and a Jam basket won by Rob Ridgely. After all the prizes were given out some people went to the Pine Grove cemetery to vote on new trustees for the family cemetery while others went into town to McDonalds to pay tribute to Randolph Lipscomb. Most everyone knows that Randolph and brother Gary spent so much time at McDonalds sitting in the same spot day after day year after year. After Randolph passed, a picture plaque was put up in McDonalds in honor of Randolph provided by Kim Lipscomb Day and now that section is unofficially named the "Lipscomb Table". It was only fitting that as many of us that could go went to McDonalds in honor of Randolph. Afterwards we went over to the local cake walk and surprisingly we had lots of winners with plenty of cakes to take back to camp to share. The evening ended with roasting hot dogs, marshmallows, laughing, singing, and visiting and reminiscing. Once it was dark enough, we wrote on and sent of Chinese luminaries provided by Punkin Lipscomb in honor of those who had passed before us.

Those in attendance were: Gary and Lynn Lipscomb Punkin Lipscomb Mike Lipscomb Jennie Smith PeeWee Niemenski Tehya Smith-Maze Isabella Stock Staci-Smith Allyssa Maize Cindy McCann Linda, Travis & Thaddeus Barnhouse

Lightening Strikes Mountaintop

by Patrick McCann

The Mountaintop Soccer League in Garrett County Maryland has been scattered with young athletes from Tucker County since shortly after the league started. Small numbers of Tucker County players tended to be on the same team for carpooling purposes and familiarity. Soccer's popularity and growth in WV is evident. Both Marshall and WVU held the number 1 and 2 positions at one point this season. Full teams of young Tucker County soccer players, fueled by this growth, are now practicing in Thomas, and travelling to play games in Oakland through Mountaintop.

Lightening, coached by Sarah Cyr and Ryan Hansen and consisting of all Tucker County players, had an undefeated season that landed them in the Mountaintop Under 10 championship where they faced off with fellow undefeated rivals Avalanche. The teams' previous game resulted in a 0-0 tie. "I think the parents are more nervous than the kids, "parent Kurt Litzau stated prior to the kickoff. You could feel the anticipation as the teams were announced. Then the whistle blew.

During the first half of the game, under the lights, the momentum seemed to favor Lightening. Lightening pressured Avalanche offensively, completing precision passes and leaving Avalanche only a few attempted shots. As the clock dwindled, Walker Litzau in the mid field position was able to cross a shot from the right side of the box that was headed just shy of the goal. Quinn Hansen crashed the goal and got a foot on the ball, putting both him and the ball in the goal for a 1-0 lead that was maintained until half.

The offensive momentum seemed to switch in the second half, as often is the case in soccer when teams are down. Avalanche relentlessly pursued the goal, but their efforts kept getting stifled by defenders Nick Crawford and Finn Cyr. Crawford and Cyr seemed to be everywhere. When the Hurricanes had the rare opportunity to score, goalie John Lutz handily stopped their shots. When the final whistle blew there was a sigh of relief followed by cheers from the Tucker County fans. The final score of this nail biter was 1-0. Tucker County's Lightening are the 2023 champions. "We have been emphasizing passing throughout the season and I can honestly say that is one of the things that set us apart at the end of the year," stated coach Ryan Hansen. "It was everything you would want in a championship game, intense from the kickoff to the final whistle." Congrats Lightening!

J. Pifer Indicted by Grand Jury for Assault

Bv: Lvdia Crawlev The Parsons Advocate

Jerry Pifer has been indicted by a Grand Jury on one count of Malicious Assault. Pifer is accused of assault resulting from a September 29th incident at a car wash. Pifer appeared in court without legal representation before Judge Courrier of the 21st Circuit Court of West Virginia at the Tucker County Courthouse in Parsons.

Pifer informed Judge Courrier that he had not retained an attorney at this time, but was attempting to retain one. "haven't spoken to an attorney yet," Pifer said. "I'm awaiting a call."

Judge Courrier read the Indictment to Pifer. Under the Indictment, Pifer is charged with one count of malicious assault and faces a possible 2-10 years.

The Indictment further stated the details of the case as being, "bodily injury with intent" that wounded the victim, "by striking him in the head repeatedly."

FOR LIMITED TIME*

"Do you have any questions about what they are saying you did?" Judge Courrier said. Pifer indicated he did not have any questions on the indictment.

Pifer entered a not guilty plea at the Call Back appearance. A copy of the indictment and discovery was given to Pifer at the court and Pifer was instructed to hand over the envelope to his attorney when one is retained. The court said it would work on getting any defense attorney access to any E-Documents filed before the attorney's retention.

Tucker County Prosecuting Attorney Savannah Hull Wilkins said that bond had been set and posted in the case and that no Criminal Disposition Report was necessary. All bond requirements remained the same, according to Wilkins.

Pifer was instructed to continue to work on getting an attorney. Pifer's next court appearance is scheduled for December 8. "Mr. Pifer, work on getting an attorney. Stay in touch with them and return on December 8," Judge Courrier said.

Pifer is presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

Johnson Sentenced in Sexual Abuse Case

By: Lydia Crawley The Parsons Advocate

Doily Johnson appeared before 21st Circuit Court of West Virginia Judge Courrier to be sentenced following a plea deal. A previous plea deal had fallen through in August in the case. Johnson was represented by Attorney Gentilozzi in the case. Tucker County Prosecuting Attorney Savannah Hull Wilkins represented the State in the matter.

Wilkins requested that Johnson receive 1-5 years in each count with the sentences to run concurrently and consecutive to the charges in Randolph County. "I ask the court to abide by the terms of the plea agreement," Wilkins said. Wilkins also said she had supplied an impact statement.

Wilkins said Johnson had received 20 years supervision in Randolph County and she asked for the max on supervision from the court in the case. "He talks about how many times he had sex with the victim," Wilkins said. "And describes in extensive detail how many times."

Wilkins said Johnson was in possession of child pornography at the time of his arrest as he had pictures on his computer of another underage girlfriend. According to Wilkins, Johnson had admitted to a sixmonth relationship with the girl in which she was only 18 for three weeks during the relationship. "Mr. Johnson preys extensively on children," Wilkins said.

Attorney Gentilozzi said that he had not received evidence of child pornography. "No evidence given to us. It should not even be weighed," Gentilozzi said. Gentilozzi further stated that the charges in Tucker County were pending when his client entered a plea deal in Randolph County. "The Tucker County charges had not been adjudicated at the time," Gentilozzi said.

Gentilozzi also asked the court to abide by the plea agreement terms. "We ask the court to give what the plea agreement outlines," Gentilozzi said.

Judge Courrier ruled that Johnson serve 1-5 consecutive to one another on the charges and the sentences were to run consecutive to the Randolph County case. Johnson was further ordered by Judge Courrier to pay the costs of therapy and counseling of the victim as well as to not have contact with the victim "ongoing in any fashion whatsoever."

Judge Courrier said he took the victim's age in to account as well as the age of the defendant. "He was in a position of trust. He was dating the victim's mother," Judge Courrier said. "That factors in to me as well as that he was taking advantage of someone in his care."

While he had the ability to give 50 years extended supervision in the case, according to Judge Courrier, he sentenced Johnson to 30 years of supervision to be concurrent with Randolph County.

Judge Courrier also informed Johnson of his appeal rights in the case. "You have 30 days to appeal," Judge Courrier said. "It is limited due to the plea agreement, but there are some things that can be appealed." Judge Courrier also said Johnson had 120 days from the day of sentencing to file a motion to modify his sentence.

Upon release, Judge Courrier ordered that Johnson register with the State Police and if he gets or gets rid of any car, cell phone, etc he must notify the State Police as well as report once a year on his birth month.

Confusion Over Hinkle Failure to Appear in Court

by: Lydia Crawley The Parsons Advocate

Crystal Hinkle did not appear in court following an indictment by Grand Jury. Attorney Brent Easton appeared for the defense in place of Hinkle's attorney Morris Davis, who was unable to appear. Judge Courrier of the 21st Circuit Court of West Virginia presided over the proceedings at the Tucker County Courthouse in Parsons.

nah Hull Wilkins said Hinkle was supposed to update her address with the court. Wilkins further attested that Hinkle appeared in Magistrate Court where she was informed of the Grand Jury. "I would argue that the defendant had notice, though it was not formally served," Wilkins said.

According to Wilkins, Preston County had made an attempt to serve the notice to appear, but the house appeared vacant. "The house appeared in severe disrepair and vacant," Wilkins said. Wilkins also said the deputies had spoken to a neighbor who confirmed that Hinkle had not lived at the residence for some time.

Attorney Easton said he did not believe that his client had be properly informed of the appearance. "I don't think being told two weeks ago constitutes being served." Easton also said he felt there was ambiguity surrounding how she was informed. "During Grand Jury they may or may not return an indictment."

Judge Courrier said he would "err on the side of caution." A new appearance date of November 15 was issued. Judge Courrier also ordered that the Defense Attorney relay the notice to Hinkle. Judge Courrier further stated that a nonappearance on November 15 would result in the issuance of an order of appearance.

FEDERAL ENERGY REGULATORY COMMISSION Cabin Run Pumped Storage, LLC Project No. 15318-000 NOTICE OF PRELIMINARY PERMIT APPLICATION ACCEPTED FOR FILING

AND SOLICITING COMMENTS, MOTIONS TO INTERVENE, AND COMPETING APPLICATIONS (November 2, 2023)

On July 12, 2023, Cabin Run Pumped Storage, LLC, filed an application for a preliminary permit, pursuant to section 4(f) of the Federal Power Act (FPA), proposing to study the feasibility of the Cabin Run Pumped Storage Project to be located near the Stony River and unincorporated community of Bismarck in Tucker and Grant Counties, West Virginia. The sole purpose of a preliminary permit, if issued, is to grant the permit holder priority to file a license application during the permit term. A preliminary permit does not authorize the permit holder to perform any land-disturbing activities or otherwise enter upon lands or waters owned by others without the owners' express permission.

The proposed project would consist of the following: (1) a 8,700-foot-long, 80-foot-high rock-fill embankment dike creating an upper reservoir with a 60-acre surface area and a 4,800-acre-foot storage capacity at a normal maximum water surface elevation of 4,030 feet above mean sea level (msl); (2) a 7,200-footlong, 80-foot-high rock-fill embankment dike enclosing a lower reservoir with a 60-acre surface area and a 4,800-acre-foot storage capacity at a normal maximum water surface elevation of 3,530 feet msl; (3) a 400-foot-long, 24-foot-diameter vertical power tunnel/shaft connecting a 4,650-foot-long, 24-foot-diameter horizontal power tunnel to the powerhouse; (4) a 550-foot-long, 120-foot-wide, 100-foot-high powerhouse housing four 57.5-megawatt (MW) reversible Francis pumping-generating units with a total installed capacity of 230 MW; (5) a 4.5-mile-long, 230-kilovolt transmission line from a proposed substation near the powerhouse to an interconnection point; (6) a substation including two 120 megavolt amperes generator step-up units; (7) a 20-foot-long, 20-foot-wide, 15-foot-high concrete pump station on the south bank of the Stony River (upper end of Mount Storm Lake), capable of conveying water at 50 cubic feet per second through a 3,400-foot-long, 2-foot-diamenter steel conduit to the lower reservoir for fill or refill purposes; and (8) appurtenant facilities. The proposed project would have an annual generation of 671,000 megawatt-hours.
