Adult Education to Host Open House at New Location

By: Lydia Crawley The Parsons Advocate

The Tucker County Adult Education Office will be hosting an Open House September 27th from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. at their new offices at 307 First Street in Parsons. Adult Education Instructor Reka Rowan spoke to the Parsons Advocate about the upcoming event and everything the Center has to offer the community.

Rowan said there is a misconception that Adult Education is only for obtaining a GED or completing a High School Equivalency. "West Virginia has just recently moved back to the GED," Rowan said. "But everyone thinks that, that is all Adult Ed can offer and that is so far from

While High School Equivalency is the first thing that most people think of with Adult Education, the Center offers a variety of work based assistance and coursework, as well such as TEAS (Test of Essential Academic Skills) Prep, ACT or SAT, Career Exploration, Computer Essentials, Work Essentials, Money Essentials, Bloodborne Pathogens, Customer Service and West Virginia Welcome. "TEAS is the entrance exam for nursing," Rowan said. "That is huge. That is a big step in the right direction for anyone in the area that is wanting to go into nursing because even to get into LPN school, you have to take the TEAS Test."

Rowan said the Center also teaches job related soft skills such as work ethics. "We have programs that teach soft skills and hard skills," Rowan said. "You hear employers say all the time, 'employees don't have any work ethic, this generation

Commission Opposes Continued Intervention in Radio Quiet Zone

By: Lydia Crawley The Parsons Advocate

The Tucker County Commission signed a resolution September 11th opposing continued intervention in public safety and cellular/wireless communications by the National Radio Quiet Zone. The National Radio Quitet Zone, according to the Green Bank Observatory website encompasses approximately 13,000 square miles near the border of Virginia and West Virginia and was established to "minimize possible harmful interference to the National Radio Astronomy Observatory (NRAO) in Green Bank, WV and the radio receiving facilities for the United States Navy in Sugar Grove, WV."

According to Tucker County Director of Emergency Management and Parsons Fire Department Chief Kevin White, Tucker County falls within the border of the National Radio Quiet Zone. "Tucker County falls under the umbrella of the National Radio Quite Zone, which is the said. White that said most ple feel the NRQZ a f f e c t s cation, Jake (Kopek) and his men, the don't Fire Departments, EMS, they can't do where their job," White said. them much, but it has a large impact on first responders in the area. "Most people say, 'Well what does that do to us?'" White said. "Well, Law Enforcement, 911, Emergency Responders, you're only allowed to put out so much of a signal for the radios." White said that due to the terrain, radio coverage in the area is spotty and can be lost easily. "So in a lot of places around here, you're not going to get great radio coverage anyway," White said. "You go around a turn and your radio goes BONK, you don't have enough signal."

According to White, the mandates surrounding the NRQZ have been in existence since the inception of the Observatory. "The government has mandated this as long as Green Bank has been there, but there has never been any funding to help put up more towers or anything like that to help alleviate the burden on the Counties," White said. "Randolph, Webster, Pendleton, Pocahontas, Tucker, really fall inside that. Pocahontas really sees the hardest hit because its based right in their County."

White said the hope is that the resolutions will allow emergency responders to increase signal strength and place more towers to increase signal coverage during calls and emergencies. "We are asking that these resolutions be signed by the County Commissions in all the Counties that are affected with the hopes that it will give us some leeway with strength of signal, maybe funding for more towers to provide better coverage."

Cellular phone coverage is also affected, White said. According to White, many first responders are relying on cell phones for notifications and calls. "You know, even now, our cell signals are also affected by that," White said. "Our responders depend so much on cell signal for notifications on the system that you all purchased for us several years ago called IAMResponding," White said. "You see a lot of Firemen, they aren't carrying pagers on their sides anymore cause their radio acts as the

The lack of coverage in the County, White said, is attributable to the NRQZ and a 50 watt restriction on the towers on top ___ of the moun-"If we don't have communivice isn't as good,"

White said. "A lot of that is due to the National Radio Quiet Zone and the restrictions that are placed on - I think it is 50 watts is the maximum we can put out off of our towers on the mountaintop."

White said there is also a restriction on the direction that signals can be broadcast due to the Observatory and its location. "Its also directional dependent," White said. "You can't point it at a certain area because it might be pointed towards the Green Bank area."

The restrictions directly affect communication, White said. White equated communication to the linchpin of emergency services. "So all these things affect communication," White said. "Communication, as anyone will tell you, is where it all starts, they're the center. They touch the football every time. If we don't have communication, Jake (Kopek) and his men, the Fire Departments, EMS, they can't do their job."

The resolution was passed by unanimous vote in a motion made by Tucker County Commission President Mike Rosenau.

Community Helps Animal Shelter With Increased Animal Volume

By: Lydia Crawley The Parsons Advocate

The month of August saw a near record number of intakes at the Tucker County Animal Shelter. Shelter Director Stacey Canfield thanked the community and rescue partners for their assistance during the crisis during a recent meeting of the Tucker County Commission September 11th.

According to Candfield between August first and 31st, the Shelter took in 14 cats

"We took 14 cats and 27 dogs."

According to Canfield, the Shelter has relied on fosters to help with the influx of animals. "With only have eight kennels that was a pretty big hit for us," Canfield said. "So we are relying pretty heavily on fosters. Staff is fostering right now, which is a big help."

Canfiled credited the community for its help during the crisis. According to Canfield many of the volunteers and community members that had only heard of the influx of dogs, had reached out to help. "The community has really stepped up," Canfield said. "We've had a lot of people take in dogs that have strictly volunteered before. Some people who didn't even know we existed, when the word got out that we had taken in so many many dogs. Out of the 27, 19 of them were in five days."

One foster had a litter of 12 and an adult pit bull under her roof, according to Can-field, at one time. Tucker County has really Commission President Mike Rosenau sent his thanks to the foster and others for their hard work and dedication. "In less than 30 days, she has moved seven of the puppies," Canfield said. "She's just moving them right along." Another partner, Heart For Animals, also stepped up to take in four cats and five dogs in one day for the shelter, Canfield said. "Because unfortunately, when we got seven dogs in one day after hours,

Increased Volume Adds to Financial Burden at Animal Shelter

By: Lydia Crawley The Parsons Advocate

An unusually high number of intakes at the Tucker County Animal Shelter has led to an increased financial hit to the County, according to Tucker County Animal Shelter Director Stacey Canfield and Tucker County Commission President Mike Rosenau. The revelation came as part of a report given during the September 11th meeting of the Tucker County Commis-

Canfield reported that in the month of August, the Animal shelter had 14 cats and 27 dogs, of which 19 were taken in during a five day period. "We were hit really hard last month," Canfield said. "The numbers that we see last month, we usually see over a three to four month span and it all happened within five days."

Canfield said that the intake numbers were beginning to drop, however. "The numbers are starting to drop," Canfield

Part of the drop in numbers Canfield said was contributed to the end of kitten season. "Kitten season is definitely starting to slow down," Canfield said.

Roseanau said that with such a large influx of animals comes a large influx of costs. "With the influx of animals we had at the Animal Shelter, not only placement, its cost," Rosenau said. "The budget we have currently for the Animal Shelter did

Bennett Pleads Guilty to Endangerment

By: Lydia Crawley The Parsons Advocate

Herbert Bennett has plead guilty to one felony county of wanton endangerment with a firearm. As part of a plea agreement, the remaining four charges were dismissed. The plea was entered in person before Judge Courrier September 10th in District Court.

Tucker County Prosectuing Attorney Savannah Hull Wilkins recommended five years in prison, but would consider alternative sentencing in the case. Wilkins also wanted a stipulation that Bennett continue his mental health treatment and medications, be barred from owning or possessing a firearm and requested a pre-sentencing report.

Bennett appeared in person along side his attorney Phil Isner. Bennett was sworn in during the proceedings and was explained his rights and the judicial process by Judge Courrier, as well as some of the rights he could be expected to give up with a felony conviction, which included firearms possession and ownership. Judge Courrier also explained that there are increased penalties for future offenses with felony conviction. Bennett said he understood.

Wilkins said that on October 19, 2022, a light was shot out outside the Family Dollar in Parsons. When employees investigated, a shotgun shell was found on the ground and saw a blue Jeep Liberty fleeing the scene. The employees were later able to identify the defendant from a lineup due to an altercation earlier in the day at the store.

Law Enforcement found a large amount of firearms and ammunition at the home of Bennett, who at one time had been a licensed firearms dealer, Wilkins said. Wilkins said that confusion about what was happening at the time, from mental health issues, contributed to a situation that required the used of the Special Response Team by Law Enforcement.

Bennett asked about his ankle bracelet during the proceedings and the possibility to be released from home confinement. Wilkins requested he be kept on home confinement while Isner requested he be released from home confinement pending sentencing. Bennett said he has been wearing the monitor for 17 months. "He's been a model citizen since he's got his mental health in check," Isner said.

Judge Courrier accepted the guilty plea to one count of Wanton Endangerment with a Firearm and ordered that the ankle bracelet monitoring continue until the sentencing hearing in October. Judge Courrier said that his decision was based on the fact that the bracelet may remain on following sentencing and that it would be less than a month before Bennett was to be sentenced. Judge Courrier said he would take up the matter of the ankle monitor at the sentencing hearing.

Bennett entered and written and verbal plea in the case. Bennett is scheduled to be sentenced in early October.

Hinkle Sanctioned on Probation Violation

By: Lydia Crawley The Parsons Advocate

Crystal Hinkle appeared in District Court vial MSTeams from the Tygart Valley Regional Jail on a charge of Probation Violation, September 10th before Judge Courrier. Hinkle's attorney Morris Davis appeared in person on her behalf on allegations that she engaged in drug use while on probation.

Attorney Davis said during the hearing that his client admitted to the allegations, but asked that, "Release her so that she can begin to continue to work on those issues," Davis said.

Tucker County Prosecuting Attorney Savannah Hull Wilkins asked the Court that Hinkle be sanctioned and released, but that the terms would necessitate that Hinkle reside in Tucker County with her father. Wilkins also said she would recommend referring to community corrections recommendations.

Judge Courrier found Hinkle guilty on the charge of Probation Violation and sanctioned her with the findings that she be released that day with reinstated probation and ordered to check in with Community Correction Thursday morning. "I will accept the admissions of Miss Hinkle today and find her in violation," Judge Courrier

Pifer Takes Plea Deal

By: Lydia Crawley The Parsons Advocate

Maverick Pifer plead guilty to one misdemeanor charge of unlawful restraint on September 10th. The plea was part of a deal that when entered in court before Judge Courrier, saw all felony charges dismissed in his case. The charge according to Tucker County Prosecuting Attorney Savannah Hull Wilkins stemmed from the defendant not allowing the victim to leave. The plea agreement was in conjunction with a civil case, Wilkins

During the hearing, Wilkins said Pifer originally had two felony charges from a case involving a four year old victim. Wilkins asked for a year in jail served as home confinement and said the plea was in conjunction with a

Wilkins further said that on July 30, 2023, the four year old returned home from a weekend visit with what was described as substantial bruising on the bottom and the mother discovering the injury. Wilkins went on the describe the incidents surrounding the injury, including an incident of strangulation. "He used his hand to smack her on the butt," Wilkins said.

Pifer appeared along side of his attorney Brent Easton. Easton agreed that what Wilkins said was what the allegations of the case outlined. Easton said that the strangulation in the case was denied by his client. "It is what is alleged," Easton said. "Strangulation has been denied."

Easton said that the child was made to return to her room. "The child was returned to her room and made to stay there," Easton said.

Easton asked the Court for a pre-sentence report and the ability to ask for alternative sentencing in the case.

Judge Courrier accepted the plea after explaining to Pifer his rights, as well as the trial and appeals process he was waiving by entering a guilty plea. Pifer was sworn in during the proceedings.

A pre-sentence report has been ordered and sentencing has been scheduled for mid October in the case.

just doesn't have any work ethic.' We literally have a program that they can go through and take that can teach them the things that are considered work ethic."

Rowan also said the Center assists participants with resumes and other work document development. "We can help with resume development, cover letters, thank you letters," Rowan said. "Its all free and available with enrollment."

Rowan said that Adult Education is tuition and fee free to participants. "Adult Ed is 100% free," Rowan said. "Your materials, your coursework, your coaching or training or instruction from me, however you choose to look at it, is 100% free."

However, while the program is free, Rowan said there is an enrollment process that participants must go through and schedule. Rowan also said there was the misconception that someone could simply walk through the door and begin. "There is an enrollment process, though," Rowan Cont. From Front Page 1

Part of the enrollment process includes the Adult Basic Education Level testing. This testing, according to Rowan, is to establish not only a base level knowledge of the participant in order to know how to best serve them, but also to measure how far the participant has progressed in the program. "The testing for Adult Basic Education Level has no bearings on whether you are allowed to do the program or not allowed to do the program," Rowan said. "Its literally to test your level of skill and knowledge so we know where to start working with you at."

we already had four puppies that were definitely needing more attention than unfortunately staff was able to give them at the time," Canfield said. "So at the drop of a hat, within six hours, they took a large number of our dogs out of our kennels to help us out."

Canfield said she is appreciative of the partner rescues the Shelter has. "So we are very appreciative to the partner rescues that we have made," Canfield said. "Marion County has also reached out to us recently just to see what supplies we need. They've heard of the influx of dogs that we've had specifically."

Canfield said the Shelter had no other option then to rely on fosters to care for the new arrivals. "At the shelter, in all reality, we didn't have anywhere safe for them to go, so we really did rely on the community to step in and come

Canfield said the newly arrived animals are being adopted quickly, though. "Considering that we took in 27 dogs last month and we currently only have 25 in the shelter here as of yesterday, we're moving them pretty fast," Canfield said.

Canfield said. "A lot of adoptions have taken place out of state," Canfield said. "We did an adoption event at Tractor Supply in Oakland and we had a lot of people from the Maryland area come in and adopt."

The Tucker County Mountain Lions Varsity played host to the visiting East Hardy Cougars, last Friday night in Parsons for the Battle of the Big Cats, in what was a very physical and hard-fought contest. Tucker would get on the board first after a lengthy drive capped off with a 5-yard touchdown run by Jared Reall. The two-point attempt was unsuccessful, and Tucker was out to an early 6-0 lead. Neither team would score again in the first, however, Reall would score to start the second, this time on a 9-yard touchdown carry with the two-point conversion completed on a pass from QB, Sam Marks, to receiver, Garrett Wilfong, making the score 14-0. Tucker would hold East Hardy on its next possession and take a lengthy drive down the field that would eventually stall on the 1-yard line. A few plays later linebacker, Garrett Wilfong, would take an incredible, high-flying 30-yard interception return for a touchdown pushing TC lead out to 20-0 as the twopoint attempt failed. The Mt. Lions would head to the locker room with the lead at half. Neither team was able to find the endzone in the third quarter and it was not until the final few minutes of the fourth quarter, that East Hardy found the end zone for the first time in the game making the score 20 - 7, which would be the eventual final to the contest. Tucker was led on the night by Jared Reall with 30 carries, 179 yards, and two touchdowns. Tucker was led on defense by linebacker, Marky Philipps, who had eight tackles, two tackles for loss, along with defensive tackle, Josh Crossland, who added five tackles, two tackles for loss, and one sack. With the victory, Tucker improves to 3-0 on the season and will return home Friday night, as the visiting Titans of Gilmer County make the trip to RH Armstrong Memorial Field Class of 1984 Stadium.

Tucker JV Football Shuts Out Tygarts Valley 46-0

By: Adam Freeman

The Tucker High JV football squad took on the visiting bulldogs of Tygarts Valley, last Monday at RH Armstrong Memorial Field Class of 1984 Stadium, in Parsons. Tucker would strike first in the contest on an 8-yard touchdown pass from QB, Luke Barb, to wide receiver, Evan Hexom. The two-point attempt was good by running back Cade Rapp, making the score 8-0. The Mt. Lions would hold the Bulldogs scoreless on their next possession and follow it up with an 11-yard touchdown run by QB, Luke Barb. The two-point attempt was accomplished again by Rapp, making the score 16-0. Tucker would once more score on a 3-yard touchdown run by QB, Mikey Mitchell, and Braxton George would add the two-point conversion making the score 24-0. The defense continued the shutout allowing Mitchell to score again, this time on a 60-yard touchdown pass to running back Braxton George. The conversion was no good and the score was 30-0. Tucker would go on to score an additional touchdown before the half on a 6-yard run by George. The conversion

Tucker would find the end zone one more time in the second half on a 3-yard touchdown run by Ayden Myers, with the conversion no good for a score of 44-0, in favor of the Mt. Lions. TC would end the game on a safety by Gunnar Carroll, for a final score of 46-0 over the Bulldogs.

The young group struggled offensively, managing just one score that came in the second half on a 65-yard touchdown run by Rhys Hovatter, with the conversion by Zane Carr. The Wildcats gave up 38 points in the fight, however, numerous young contributors were able to make an impact on the game and get involved in the action. Tucker Valley fell 38-8 in the JV contest. #### Financial Burden not incorporate into it, when we planned for our budget to go in, all of the added expenses we've had. So, its blown our budget completely out of the water cause of the vetting."

Rosenau said a lot of the cost is not only in food and shelter, but in the care and vet bills associated with the animals. "Its not only the feed and the shelter," Rosenau said. "Its the vet bills."

Canfield outlined the cost the County has for each animal it takes in. "Immediately upon intake, the minimum we put into any animal is $50," Canfield said. "And that's just starting with the basic vaccines. That doesn't include the two week boosters they need until they are 12 weeks. So the second any animal steps foot through the door, we automatically put $50 into them with dewormer, preventatives, parasite treatment and vaccines."

Following the initial care, the animals are taken to the vet for a basic screening, Canfield said. "Then they go to vet for screening," Canfield said. "If they are fixed, they come to us and they are already spayed or neutered, they still have to go to the vet to be medically cleared by the vet. So we're looking at a minimum of an additional $45, just for an exam."

Next, Canfield said, is the spay and neuter costs. "If they are not fixed, the cheapest animal that we send in to be fixed is a two pound kitten and they run us $40, even then," Canfield said. "Anything above $40, you go up to $60, if the cat is six months and older, then you go to $130 to $160 per cat ."

Dogs are more expensive, according to Canfield. "Dogs, the cheapest dog that you'll see go through is about $155," Canfield said. "And that is just for the spay and neuter. That doesn't include the initial $50 when they walk through the door."

According to Canfield, the total cost of each animal runs the County a minimum of $100 to upwards of $550. "In all reality, its a minimum of $100 a cat is what we see and that includes the little two pound kittens," Canfield said. "And anywhere from $150 to $550 a dog."

Canfield said that the Shelter recently had an elderly dog undergo an extensive spay that cost the county over $500. "We just had a dog come through with an extensive spay," Canfield said. "She was really old and we still had to have her spayed per our guidelines, so just her spay itself cost us $532."

The Shelter relies on SNIP West Virginia to assist with spay and neuter costs for cats, according to Canfield. "SNIP West Virginia is really, really, really, really helping us out with the financial side if it because every single cat we take is at lease $130, whether its just feral we're just going to fix and release or its one we are going to adopt out and eventually see an adoption fee back for," Canfield said.

SNIP West Virginia in Morgantown does very low cost spay and neuter for owned animals throughout the state, according to Canfield. "So SNIP West Virginia wanted me to let the public know that they do owned animals, as well," Canfield said. "They do not need to feral cats. Only the feral cats are free. But their numbers are very different compared to the local vets around here just because all they do is spay and neuter."

Canfield said that the Shelter has relied on the Community for donations, as well."We have really relied on the financial side of donations," Canfield said.

Rosenau thanked those who have donated their time, money and resources to the Shelter. "I want to make sure its noted how much I thank the people that donate to our shelter," Rosenau said. "That's the one thing I like about Tucker County, no matter what the need is, we step forward and we help and so the Citizens of Tucker County, this Commission wants to thank."

Tucker County Commissioner Fred Davis also thanked the Shelter and their volunteers for their hard work and dedication. "You guys do remarkable work," Davis said. "Your workers and the people that come up there to help out, tell them from the Commission, that we are very appreciative."

Gov. Justice launches School Safety Task Force to address and mitigate recent threats

CHARLESTON, WV — In response to the recent uptick in school threats across the state, Gov. Jim Justice has directed The West Virginia Department of Homeland Security to establish a comprehensive task force to address and mitigate these concerns.

The newly created School Safety Task Force is actively compiling and analyzing all reported school threats by county, educational institution, and Safe Schools Unit Region to ensure a thorough and coordinated response.

The School Safety Task Force is made up of the following agencies:

- West Virginia Fusion Center
- West Virginia State Police (WVSP)
- West Virginia Safe Schools Unit
- WVSP West Virginia Intelligence Exchange (WVIX)
- Federal Law Enforcement Partners West Virginia Department of Education
- West Virginia Prevention Resource Officer Program

In conjunction with this effort, the task force is reaching out to each county prosecutor to identify all arrests and juvenile petitions related to school threats that have been filed. This data collection is critical to ensuring a swift and transparent legal process is in place for those who threaten the safety of our schools. To enhance real-time communication, a communication connect room is being established to provide a centralized hub for all School Safety Task Force partners. This platform will be activated in the event of a critical incident, ensuring immediate coordination and response across agencies. The task force is also committed to sharing all relevant information with our partners to ensure a unified and effective approach to school safety.

Gov. Justice remains committed to ensuring the safety of students, educators, and communities across West Virginia and will continue to provide resources and support to ensure our schools remain safe havens for learning and growth.

The West Virginia Department of Homeland Security and West Virginia Fusion Center will provide updates as more information becomes available.

Reporting a Threat

The West Virginia Department of Homeland Security reminds all West Virginians to immediately call 911 if there is an immediate danger or law enforcement intervention is necessary.

Additionally, West Virginia has partnered with My Mobile Witness to implement a "see something, send something" reporting system that can be completed on a smartphone or other mobile device. All West Virginians are encouraged to participate in this initiative by downloading the free See, Send application from the App Store or Google Play.

My Mobile Witness is also compatible with webbased reporting and is not strictly for cell phone use. Once the app is downloaded to a device, users will be prompted to enter their first and last name (though any reporting can be done anonymously, if the user prefers), their phone number, and then select a state of residence. Once those fields are entered, the app will be ready to use. The user may submit tips for "Crime/ Suspicious Activity" or "School Threat or Safety Issues," and they may also request help for "Suicide or Addiction."

The Parsons Advocate

A 14 year old is named in the mass shooting in a Georgia school. In the name of God Almighty, what is becoming of the world? I read an article that explained this child had been on the radar of police last year. The father explained that he had guns in the house but the child had no access. So how does a 14 year old get hold of an AK assault rifle? His father bought it for him as a gift. The thought of this sends cold chills up my spine.

Two students and two teachers are killed, nine others hurt, and for what purpose. I can't fathom what is going on in the mind of a 14 year old boy to hatch a plan like this and then follow through with it. He has robbed two families of their children, two families of their loved ones and has ruined his own life, not to mention that of his parents.

We all have problems in our lives but to go this extreme is getting more prevalent in today's society.

Momma words of wisdom

Parents don't know half of what their children are getting into on line or take the time to be interested in what their children are doing day to day. It is hard to connect with children today because we have become a society of hiding behind text messages.

Please take the time to try and connect with your children just ask, "Hey how was your day?" We don't sit down and have meals together anymore or actually do anything together as a family. I miss having an extended family to get together with. Momma Said, "Treasure what you have today because it could all be gone in the blink of an eye."

The Grant County Bank and Highlands Bankshares, Inc. Recognizes Employees for Completing First Year at West Virginia School of Banking

Petersburg, W.Va. [September 11, 2024] — The Grant County Bank and Highlands Bankshares, Inc. are pleased to announce that Shawna Musser, Assistant Vice President, Compliance, Security, and BSA Officer at Grant County Bank, and Sarah Nottingham, Financial Officer for Highlands Bankshares, have successfully completed their first year at the West Virginia School

The program, sponsored by the West Virginia Bankers Association, is a weeklong intensive course designed to enhance leadership and technical skills of emerging banking professionals. Participants receive in-depth training on key topics in banking, economics, and finance.

George Ford, President and CEO of The Grant County Bank, emphasized the importance of these types of educational opportunities for staff development.

"We believe the knowledge gained at the school, combined with the ability to network and collaborate with peers, will enhance Shawna and Sarah's careers and prepare them with the necessary skills to lead the bank in the future," Ford said. "This program strengthens their understanding of various banking topics and deepens their appreciation for how the different areas of the bank are interconnected."

Established in 1944, the West Virginia School of Banking has provided a challenging curriculum to banking professionals across the state. The two-year program offers formal instruction through lectures, case studies, home-study problems, and group discussions administered by faculty with exceptional teaching qualifications and extensive professional experience.

"I've learned how every department plays a vital role in making the bank successful," Musser said. "I'm excited to apply this knowledge and look forward to future years at the West Virginia Banking School."

Nottingham, who transitioned into banking after a successful 20-year career in telecommunications, shared similar sentiments about her experience at the school.

"I'm committed to applying the leadership, analytical, and financial skills I've gained over the years to the banking world," Nottingham said. "The West Virginia Bankers Association offers a variety of courses to assist individuals like myself in developing their professional and technical skills. When the opportunity arose, I didn't hesitate to take it.'

Nottingham also emphasized the value of connecting with like-minded peers in the program. "These relationships will be a great resource for overcoming future challenges," she said.

Musser agreed, adding, "The professional relationships built during banking school will be an invaluable resource as we navigate the complexities of the banking industry."

A grant from the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) funds this program. ### WVDOT among 12 states vying for America's Transportation Award

Awards.

West Virginia was nominated for the innovative Wellsburg Bridge project, one of three WVDOT projects to win regional America's Transportation Awards at the Southeastern Association of State Highway Officials (SASHTO)

Awards at the Southeastern Association of State Highway Officials (SASHTO) Annual Meeting in August. The two additional West Virginia projects receiving that award included the Grant Street Bridge in Bluefield, and the US 340 Safety Stabilization project near Harper's Ferry.

"How many times have I stood out there with Governor Justice and cut a ribbon on a project that has just been decades in the making," said Jimmy Wriston, P.E., West Virginia Secretary of Transportation, on the opening of the Wellsburg Bridge. "It's called leadership, and that's what the Governor has brought to the Department of Transportation. He made us the focus of economic recovery."

The WVDOT's Wellsburg Bridge will compete alongside the other eleven states for both the Grand Prize and the People's Choice Awards, both offering a $10,000 cash award for a charity or transportation-related scholarship of their choice.

West Virginia's Wellsburg Bridge will compete with Arizona, California, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Michigan, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, and Washington state.

"These 12 projects serve as the best of the best transportation projects completed by state DOTs across the country, but they are only a fraction of the incredible work states are doing to better their communities," said AASHTO Executive Director Jim Tymon. "State DOTs today are focused on a wide range of work, including projects that enhance every mode of transportation and increase safety, equity, and quality of life. This list of Top 12 contenders serves as a great example of just how diverse these state DOT projects are."

Construction of the 1,875-foot Wellsburg Bridge began in 2018. Flatiron Construction was awarded a contract for approximately $131 million to build the structure, which connects the communities of Wellsburg, West Virginia, and Brilliant, Ohio.

The main span of the bridge was built on the banks of the Ohio River. On Monday, April 26, 2021, the 4,100-ton main span was hefted onto two sets of barges, floated downstream to the bridge site, and slowly jacked up to rest on its support piers. The operation took more than 13 hours.

An estimated 2,500 people turned out for the official opening of the new bridge on Wednesday, September 20, 2023. Federal, state, and local officials from both Ohio and West Virginia attended the opening ceremony, accompanied by high school bands, confetti, and fireworks.

Building a bridge between the two communities had been in discussion for a century. The bridge will drastically reduce travel time between the two communities, provide a new river crossing for commerce, spur economic development on both sides of the Ohio River, and provide another way across the river if work needs to be done on neighboring spans.

"This is an incredible day for both Wellsburg and Brilliant because we are finally opening a bridge connecting these two communities that is long overdue," Gov. Jim Justice said at the dedication. "This bridge is going to make life better for everyone who travels through West Virginia's Northern Panhandle. This is truly an incredible day, and I'm proud to see another bridge project across the finish line. The bridge might be in the Northern Panhandle, but this is a great day for all of West Virginia."

Contest winners will be announced at the AASHTO Annual Meeting in Philadelphia in October.

Sponsored by AASHTO, AAA, and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the America's Transportation Awards recognizes the positive impacts of state DOT projects on communities across the nation.

Finalists for the America's Transportation Awards are:

- Arizona Department of Transportation: Loop 303 43rd and 51st Avenue Interchange Project
- Avenue Interchange Project
   California Department of Transportation: CA Interstate 10 Santa
- Florida Department of Transportation: Orange Blossom Trail Pedestrian Safety Improvements
- Illinois Department of Transportation: Connecting Illinois via High-Speed Rail
- Michigan Department of Transportation: High Speed Lane Separation on US-31, M-72 in Acme Township
- New Jersey Department of Transportation: I-76/676, Bridges and Pavement, Contract 1
- Ohio Department of Transportation: Downtown Ramp up I-70/71
   Project 3B
   Pennsylvania Department of
- Transportation: I-95/Cottman Avenue Emergency Response
- Tennessee Department of Transportation: Broadway Bridge Replacement
- Washington State Department of Transportation: Winona Trestle Emergency Replacement Project
- West Virginia Department of Transportation: Wellsburg Bridge

With work continuing in all 55 counties across the state, the West Virginia Division of Highways and the West Virginia Department of Transportation remind the public of the importance of keeping everyone safe in work zones by keeping "Heads up; phones down!"
