Appeal Filed for Ridgeline Air Quality Permit

By: Lydia Crawley
The Parsons Advocate

The WV Chapter of the Sierra Club, Tucker United and WV Highlands have jointly filed a Notice of Appeal to the WV Department of Environmental Protection over Fundamental Data LLC's Ridgeline Project Air Quality Permit. A notice of appeal was received by the Air Quality Board on September 12th. An Evidentiary Hearing is scheduled for November 5th.

“We’re taking the next step in this fight because we believe the WV-DEP wrongfully hid critical information about this facility and incorrectly classified the gas- and diesel-fired power plant as a synthetic minor source of emissions instead of a major source,” said Nikki Forrester of the citizens group, Tucker United.

The Notice of Appeal seeks that the Board disprove the issuance the West Virginia Air Pollution Control Act Permit issued August 15th.

One basis for the disapproval is argued in the appeal notice as the lack of transparency shown by the heavy redactions, which makes fact checking and verification difficult.

Another basis listed is, “information and belief, the use of different assumptions or inputs into projected emission calculations would have increased total projected emissions above that which would have allowed the Ridgeline Facility to be permitted as a minor source.” The documents also state that there is belief that no other state has permitted a facility of its kind with as high a heat input as a minor source, synthetic or otherwise, the organizations allege.

“The proposed power plant would be one of the largest in West Virginia, yet WV-DEP wrongly called it a “minor source,” said Jim Kotcon, Chair of the WV Chapter of Sierra Club. “That means it can avoid more stringent rules that would otherwise be required for such a large pollution source. And Canaan Valley is one of the most beautiful, yet most vulnerable, locations in West Virginia. We are concerned that emissions from the power plant would be trapped in the Valley, exacerbating the pollution impact to residents and the environment.”

The documents also state that the project was not required to do any modeling, the organizations allege.

“The West Virginia Highlands Conservancy strongly objects to the issuance of this permit for all the reasons listed here,” said Marilyn Schoenfeld, President of the WV Highlands Conservancy. “We want to preserve the air quality of Tucker County. We believe that this facility does not qualify as a synthetic minor source, and instead needs to be evaluated as a major source facility. This appeal is one of many steps that will be taken to push back on this poorly conceived project that will bring questionable benefits to the residents of the area.”

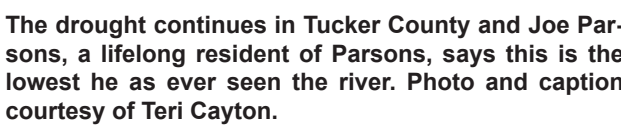

The specific objections stated include that the DEP inappropriately concluded the following: that redacted information was properly withheld as confidential business information and/or trade secrets; information redacted did not fit the definition of “Types and amounts of air pollutants discharged”; violated code in determining that the application was complete and issuing a draft permit and failing to consider fugitive emissions from sources such as delivery trucks when considering the project as a minor source, among others.

The matter is scheduled for an Evidentiary Hearing on November 5th at 8:30 a.m.

“Tucker County residents deserve to know how the pollutants emitted from this massive power plant are going to directly impact our lives and health,” said Forrester of Tucker United. “We deserve to have a facility to be properly classified and subject to the environmental regulations that are designed to keep us safe. We ask that the Air Quality Board live up to its mission of keeping West Virginia’s water, air, land, and people healthy.”

ROAD CLOSURES

County Route 219/7 (Brooklyn Heights Road) and County Route 219/12 (Fork Mountain Road) will have road closures from 6:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. beginning Monday, Sept. 22 through Tuesday, Sept. 30 for paving. Work will begin at milepost 5.97 on Brooklyn Heights Road to milepost 1.08 Fork Mountain Road will be paved from milepost .26 back to the intersection of Brooklyn Heights Road. Emergency vehicles, school buses and USPS vehicles will be accommodated, all other motorists are to expect delays or to seek alternate routes.

Drought Returns to Tucker County

By: Lydia Crawley
The Parsons Advocate

It may seem like a repeat of 2024 all over again, but drought has once again returned to Tucker County. The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) National Integrated Drought Information System (NIDIS) reports that 100% of Tucker County residents are affected by drought at a D2 classification of Severe Drought.

Director of Tucker County Emergency Management Kevin White reports that all water services in the County are stable currently.

"I do know that people with wells and springs are experiencing some issues and some farmers are having a difficult time with water for their livestock," White said.

The NIDIS data shows no change from last week, but a 100% change from last month, according to the site. However, despite the drought conditions, this August was only the 11th driest on record in the past 131 years, NOAA reports.

At its most simplistic, a drought is defined by NOAA as, “a deficiency of precipitation over an extended period of time (usually a season or more), resulting in a water shortage.” However, NOAA outlines five distinct types of droughts: meteorological, when dry weather patterns dominate an area; hydrological, when low water supply becomes evident; agricultural, when crops become affected; socioeconomic, when supply and demand of commodities becomes affected and ecological, when natural ecosystems are affected.

Currently, the the hydrological drought map indicates that most of the center of West Virginia is suffering from much below to low water supply conditions of the current streamflow at the surface water level.

Another indicator of drought conditions in the area comes from NASA Grace. Scientists from NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center generate groundwater and soil moisture drought indicator data each week based on terrestrial water storage observations from GRACE-FO satellite date other observations using a model of land surface water and energy processes. Currently, most of Central West Virginia is in the 30th percentile on the scale. The lower the number, the higher the drought indicator.

There is a chance for rain starting next week, however, it does not appear that it will be of much help in the long run. NOAA reports chances of rain from Monday, mostly in the 40 and 50 percentile range, with scattering chances of higher amounts from a stray Thunderstorm or so throughout the week.

“There is a chance of rain starting tomorrow into next week, but at the moment it doesn't look as if its of much relief,” White said.

Currently, there are no emergency drought declarations for Tucker County.

Bowley Leads Wildcats to 48-12 Win With 5 Touchdowns

By: Adam Freeman
Eighth-grade running back Titus Bowley led the way for the Tucker Valley football team this past Wednesday in Mill Creek. The Wildcats started the game just as they had in their previous two matchups, with a touchdown drive on their opening possession. Bowley scored from 13 yards out, giving the Wildcats an early 6-0 lead.

Tucker's defense held the Bulldogs and quickly got the ball back. Seventh-grade running back Fletcher Hyre broke off a 39-yard run to set up another score by Bowley, this time via a 6 yard tote. Tucker's defense continued to stifle Tygarts Valley, giving the ball back to their potent offense. Once again, Bowley found the end zone, this time plunging it in from the two yard line. Asher Kisamore added the two-point conversion, and Tucker extended their lead to 20-0.

The Wildcats had a quick response. On the very next kickoff, Bowley returned it 57 yards for his fifth touchdown of the first half. Tucker took a 34-6 lead into halftime.

Tucker extended their lead to 40-6 when Asher Kisamore powered his way in for a 23-yard touchdown run. The Wildcats found the end zone one more time before the final whistle, as quarterback Rylan Sexton connected with his big receiver Legend Harper for an 11-yard touchdown, pushing the lead to 48-6.

The Bulldogs managed to score on a long touchdown pass a few plays later, after the game's outcome had already been decided, making the final score 48-12.

Bowley ended the night with 121 rushing yards, four rushing touchdowns, and one kickoff return touchdown. Fletcher Hyre finished with 92 rushing yards. Rylan Sexton added 44 passing yards and one touchdown through the air to Legend Harper, who recorded two catches for 44 yards.

Tucker remains undefeated and improves to 3-0 on the young season. The Wildcats will return home on Thursday, September 25th at 6:00 p.m. as they host the Webster County Highlanders.

Davis-Thomas Bears Compete on Fishers Mountain

By: Adam Freeman
The Davis-Thomas Bears golf team teed off high atop Fishers Mountain in Pendleton County this past week, competing against five other schools in a challenging match filled with scenic views and stiff competition.

Davis-Thomas finished in sixth place overall in the event. Petersburg took home the team victory, followed closely by Pendleton County, Romney, Capon Bridge, and Frankfort rounding out the standings.

Leading the Bears on the scorecard was Jarrett Dearborn, who posted a team-best round of 55. Briar Arbogast followed with a 62, August Boarman shot a 66, Hunter Lipscomb came in with a 67, and Bryson Mihalko rounded out the team's efforts with a 72.

TCHS Golf Takes Win at Home, Davis Earns All-PVC Honors

By: Adam Freeman
The Tucker County High School Mountain Lions golf team had a strong week on the course, highlighted by a dominant team victory at Canaan Valley and a standout individual showing at the Potomac Valley Conference (PVC) tournament.

On Monday, the Mountain Lions hosted an 18-hole match at Canaan Valley Resort Golf Course, welcoming regional opponents East Hardy, Pocahontas County, and Moorefield High School. The team turned in an impressive showing, claiming the overall team victory by a commanding 20-stroke margin over second-place East Hardy.

The win was powered by strong performances across the board, led by Nate Davis, who earned medalist honors with a stellar round of 75. Drew Simmons also had a notable day, finishing in second place individually with a round of 84.

On Tuesday, Tucker County traveled to The Highlands Golf Course at Fisher Mountain in Pendleton County to compete in the PVC Golf Tournament, another challenging 18-hole event.

While the team didn't have its best collective outing, they still managed to secure a respectable 4th-place finish among the conference's top programs.

The highlight of the day came once again from Nate Davis, who shot well enough to place 4th overall individually, earning him All-PVC honors for the second consecutive year. The top six individual finishers in the tournament received the All-Conference recognition.

With just two regular-season matches remaining over the next two weeks, the Mountain Lions are preparing for the Regional Championship, scheduled for October 6th. All upcoming matches, including regionals, will be held at Canaan Valley Resort Golf Course, giving Tucker County the advantage of home course familiarity as they aim for postseason success.

The Mountain Lions are now gearing up for the annual RUN FOR IT race, set for Saturday, September 27th. Community members are invited to support the team by joining the "Tucker Runners" team in the race.

The Parsons Advocate

I am trying really hard to get all my projects for the year done and in the bag. I am procrastinating so badly that it is terrible. That is not like me but the year end is sneaking up on me and I have to kick it in high gear. Momma Said, “Procrastination is a word that means put off what you can do until later and that is just no me.”

I seem to get in one of these funks every year and then something clicks and I put it in another gear and away I go. I just have to start one thing and everything else falls into place. I think my next project will be to build a platform step for one of my outbuildings, then trim some bushes and cut down all my flowers for the end of the year.

I have some scrap wood to throw on the burn pile and then it is the usual, wash dishes, fold clothes, sweep up dog hair and last but not least clean the windows, UGGHHH!!! Momma Said, “I have to clean all the dog nose prints off the windows so I can see out.”

Sounds like a big list and that is not all, I will remember more as I get these done. I do have an outbuilding full of Christmas items that I need to have a big yard sale with. Maybe I will get that one chore done before the weather turns for the worse. Wish me luck!!! If you don't hear from me next week you will know that I dropped dead from all the work.

Yards of the Month - September

The Mountaineer Garden Club recently selected their Yards of the Month for September.

Mr. Kenny Teagarden received recognition for his unique banana trees that he has tended to for many years and one is more than 20 feet in height. Two recommendations he provided for successful growing are to plant your banana trees in full sunlight and in soil that is moist. After the fall frost, he will remove the banana leaves and place the in his flower beds to compost. Around the town of Parsons are many banana trees that he has given to others to start their own.

Mrs. Rita Jones of Crayfish Way received recognition for her beautiful pick and yellow roses along with Black-eyed Susan's and Autumn Fall sedum that grace her home along Smokey Hollow Road. Also a beautiful one- star American flag adorns her front porch.

The Hair Haven, located along Rt. 219, beautifully welcomes customers and visitors alike to the town of Parsons with colorful flower displays of petunias and other greenery in their many window boxes. Also beside their main entrance are large ferns that are quite majestic.

Tucker Valley Middle School Volleyball Battles Kasson and Elkins

By: Adam Freeman

The Tucker Valley Middle School volleyball teams faced tough competition last week, taking on Kasson on Monday and Elkins on Thursday in both home and away matches. The Wildcats showed durable performances across their JV and Varsity squads, with notable efforts in serving, blocking, and teamwork.

The JV Wildcats played a competitive three-set match against Kasson. In the first set, Kosi Slaughbough led the team with strong serving as Tucker Valley secured a 25-21 win. Kasson bounced back in the second set with a 25-17 victory, despite solid play from Kylea Shae Boyles. In the decisive third set, Whitley Fowler stepped up with excellent serves, helping Tucker Valley close out the match with a 25-15 win. Maci Owens made her presence known at the net with several key blocks throughout the match.

In Thursday's home match against Elkins, the JV team again went to three sets. The Wildcats took the first set 25-15 behind consistent serving from Kosi Slaughbough and strong blocking from both Slaughbough and Owens. Elkins edged out a 25-23 win in a tightly contested second set, with MiKenley Williams leading in serves and contributing several good bumps and sets alongside Boyles. The Wildcats dominated the third set 25-8, with Avery Decker serving as the top server and Owens continuing her strong blocking performance.

The Varsity squad faced a tough Kasson team and dropped both sets. Kasson took the first set 25-10, despite solid serving efforts from Mia Lambert. In the second set, Tucker Valley improved their play, with Marlee Evans leading in serves, but ultimately fell 25-18.

Tucker Valley Varsity also came up short in their two-set match against Elkins. The first set ended 25-10 in Elkins' favor, with standout serving from Laila George and Aleena Reed. In the second set, Elkins sealed the win 25-8. Despite the loss, the Wildcats had several spikes from Mia Lambert and Laila George, and strong blocking at the net from Ally Wright and Aleena Reed.

The Wildcats are set to the court again on Monday, September 22 against West Preston.

Davis-Thomas Bears Volleyball Rolls Through Week with Key Wins

By: Adam Freeman

The Davis-Thomas Bears volleyball teams had a busy and exciting week on the court.

On Monday, the Bears traveled to South Preston and came away with dominant wins. Both the JV and varsity squads secured victories in straight sets, setting a positive tone for the week ahead.

Wednesday brought more excitement as Central Preston visited Davis-Thomas. The gym was buzzing with energy as both matches delivered thrilling moments. Once again, the Bears came out on top in both JV and varsity contests, continuing their winning streak.

On Saturday, the varsity team hit the road to compete in the Serve City Classic, hosted by Central Preston. Davis-Thomas started strong, earning a victory over Barrackville in their opening match. However, the competition stiffened, and the Bears dropped their next two games to Mountaineer Middle and East Preston.

The Bears will be back in action this week with two home matches. They will host East Preston on Monday, followed by a match against Tucker Valley on Wednesday.

Parsons VFD Receives Generous Donation to Support Fire Station Operations and Enhance Community Disaster Response

Parsons Volunteer Fire Department is pleased to announce the receipt of a generous donation from Dominion Energy, Tucker Community Foundation, Kingsford Manufacturing and the City of Parsons, which was used to purchase a critical generator for the fire station. This contribution will significantly enhance the operational efficiency, ensuring that they can continue to serve our community effectively during both routine operations and disaster scenarios.

The new generator will provide essential backup power, allowing the fire station to remain operational during power outages caused by natural disasters, such as storms, floods, or wildfires. This will ensure that our firefighters, and emergency response teams can respond to emergencies without interruption, providing faster assistance and support to residents in need.

"We are incredibly grateful for this generous donation," said Kevin White, Fire Chief of Parsons VFD. "In times of disaster, it is essential that we have the resources needed to respond without delay. This generator will not only improve the fire station's ability to operate during power outages but will also increase our ability to provide immediate assistance to those in the community when they need it the most."

The donation was made possible by the continued partnerships between Dominion Energy, Tucker Community Foundation, Kingsford Manufacturing, the City of Parsons and Parsons VFD. Their support demonstrates a shared commitment to public safety and community welfare.

"Supporting our local fire station is one of the best ways we can contribute to the safety and well-being of our community," said Bruce Kolsun, Mayor of Parsons. "We are all proud to help ensure that PVFD has the tools it needs to operate efficiently and respond to emergencies without interruption."

The new generator is fully operational, and the fire station will continue to provide the high level of service the community has come to rely on.

Falcons Too Much for Mt. Lions, Tucker Falls 48-8

By: Adam Freeman

The Tucker County Mt. Lions suffered their first regular season loss since 2022 this past Friday in Frankfort. The Falcons, who won the AA state title last season and completed an undefeated year, have carried that momentum into this fall.

Frankfort outscored the Mt. Lions 14-0 in both the first and second quarters to take a 28-0 lead into halftime. The only score of the third quarter also came from the Falcons, extending their lead to 35-0.

Tucker got on the board in the fourth quarter when quarterback Sam Marks connected with wide receiver Keelyn Eichelberger on a 23-yard touchdown pass. Cayden Arnold added the two-point conversion, cutting the deficit to 35-8.

However, the Falcons answered immediately with a 60-yard kickoff return for a touchdown on the ensuing play, sealing the game at 48-8.

yards and earning 21 first downs. The Mt. Lions had a balanced offensive attack, totaling 95 passing yards and 90 rushing yards. Marks went 7-for-15 for 95 yards, with one touchdown and one interception. Reid Kisamore led the receiving corps with four catches for 59 yards, while Luke Barb carried the ball 11 times for 63 yards.

Tucker will return home and look to get back to their winning ways this Friday, September 26th, at 7:00 p.m. as they host the Webster County Highlanders.

The Train is Running Again at the Parsons Depot!

Mark your calendars and get on board. The Tucker County Historical Society is sponsoring a reception and program to introduce our new Model Train Exhibit which is now up and running at the Depot. The date is Sunday afternoon, September 28, 2025 beginning at 2:00 p.m. at the Parsons Depot.

Plan on spending a pleasant afternoon enjoying the exhibit and listening to some really good music and story telling presented by our own local troubadour, Doug Spears. Doug graciously accepted the Historical Society's invitation to entertain our guests and describes himself as "a veteran performing songwriter with a storyteller's soul". Although Doug is a Floridian, he and his family spend the warmer months on the banks of the Cheat River in Tucker County. He has earned recognition for his songwriting from many sources including the International Acoustic Music Awards. The Savannah Folk Music Society says, "Great songs combined with fine guitar playing and entertaining, informative patter make Doug a sure-fire success with any audience." Doug has consented to include a couple train songs in his presentation and perhaps an audience sing-a-long.

After the performance, plan on staying around to enjoy refreshments and visiting with one another.

The model train set was originally owned by John Bush, owner of Piccolo Paula's. You may have seen it running around the tracks in restaurants John previously owned. Several months ago, John donated the entire set to the Historical Society to be displayed as an attraction at the Depot. Mark Warner reassembled the entire set at the Depot with skill and effort, and even some danger from working atop a very high ladder. The train runs on tracks located overhead and around the perimeter of the room. It passes by a village and over a large railroad bridge. Mark will be on hand to answer questions about what it took to put it up.

The Tucker County Historical Society is pleased to sponsor gatherings such as this one for the public's enjoyment and education. We are open to suggestions from those of you who think you have a good program idea and invite you to bring it to our attention.
