News of Record

The following criminal complaints have been filed in the Tucker County Magistrate office:

- Jason Wayne Crossland, was charged with one count Leaving the Scene of an Accident and one count Failure to Maintain Control. According to the complaint, on Sunday, Dec. 14 Cpl. B.M. Gidley of the Tucker County Sheriff’s Office received a call for service for a hit and run that occurred on WV32 going toward Canaan Valley. The complainant had called 911 to advise he had been hit by another vehicle in the rear end. He advised it was a white Nissan Frontier with a rack of some sort in the bed heading southbound towards Canaan Valley. The vehicle was spotted on a rollback by Animal Control Officer, C. Thompson and information for the owner, Jason Crossland was obtained by Cpl. Summerfield, photos of the vehicle showed front end damage. On Thursday, Dec. 18 Cpl. B.M. Gidley went to the residence to talk to the owner but he was not home. The officer talked with his mother who advised that Crossland had crashed on WV72 not WV32. On Saturday, Dec. 20 Gidley contacted Dave Ketterman in an attempt to get more information and he advised that he had towed the vehicle to an address in Davis. He had picked the vehicle up from the Canaan Valley Maintenance Garage. He advised the parents of the owner contacted him. On Sunday, Dec. 21 Gidley attempted to contact Crossland and left a message. On Monday, Dec. 22 Gidley attempted contact again and got to talk to J. Crossland. He advised Gidley that he had wrecked his truck on WV72 and not WV32 on Saturday, Dec. 13 and had his friend tow him to Canaan Valley Maintenance garage. The officer explained to him that the complainant had described his vehicle and he advised that his vehicle was at the Canaan Valley garage. Gidley then attempted to contact Crossland again with no answer and left a voice mail. Gidley then contacted the Director of Canaan Valley and asked for information about the suspect and he provided the officer with a time card that Crossland had clocked into work at 12:14 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 14. Gidley and Chief Deputy Sigley then went to WV32 to locate any parts of the vehicles involved and located white pieces of bumper located near Lochoa Drive. They were collected for evidence. Officers then went to St. George Medical Clinic in Canaan to look at cameras and the Inn of Canaan. An employee from the clinic contacted Sigley and advised around 11:33 a.m. a vehicle matching the truck was seen on their camera system. On Friday, Dec. 26 Gidley meet with the General Manager of the Inn of Canaan and looked at camera footage, he watched the complainant’s vehicle pass and behind was a white Nissan Frontier with a black rack in the bed. It passed by the Inn at approximately 11:33 a.m. on Sunday, Dec. 14. The Frontier had no apparent damage to the front on the footage. Gidley then looked at a different view and saw the same vehicle in question with no front-end damage. Gidley looked at photos provided by Cpl. Summerfield and the truck in the video footage matched the photos sent to him.
- David Jefferson Boyles, was charged with one count Domestic Assault. The complaint states that on Monday, Dec. 29, Trooper G.P. Hahn was dispatched to 132 Orchard Lane for a call of an active domestic. He was advised that the brother (David Jefferson Boyles, accused) of Hahn arrived on scene and made contact with the complainant who stated that the accused had begun acting aggressive and tearing up the house. He also stated that the accused had struck his father who was no longer on the scene. He went on to say that Boyles was threatening to shoot the members of the household. Hahn was advised that Boyles had knocked holes in the walls and that he had taken a deer head off the wall and threw it against the ground destroying it. Hahn was advised that Boyles had at one point picked up a phone and threw it at his mother. Hahn asked the mother about this to which she stated that her heart rate was up and she didn’t remember what happened. EMS was called to the scene for the mother who was said to have been going into AFIB because of the actions of Boyles. Hahn observed damage to the walls as well as the ceiling and floor from the deer head that was ripped off the wall and smashed. The complainant stated to this officer that the actions of Boyles and verbal threats made her fear for her safety.

- Alexander Harris Keller, of Davis was charged with one count of Petit Larceny. According to the complaint on Friday, Dec. 26 at approximately 9:38 a.m. Sr. Trp. R.S. Musgrave received a call complaint from the General Manager for BFS located in Davis. He wanted to report a shoplifting that happened earlier that morning. On this same date the officer arrived at BFS and spoke with the GM who advised he had security camera footage of Alex Keller stealing merchandise early that morning at approximately 1 a.m. Upon reviewing footage, the officer observed Keller enter the business and proceed to the back of the store. At this time, Keller returns to the front and proceeds to grab a display box and its entirety off the counter, run past all points of sale and exit out the front door. At this time Keller is observed running away from the business carrying the stolen items across the main road (WV32). The officer was able to identify Keller due to multiple Law Enforcement interactions. The GM advised the officer of what was in the box and the quantity of each item. The GM advised the display box was approximately $80 in value. The box was housing 11 large containers of Delta 8 7g (Sativa THC Flower) total value of $582.88, four small containers of Delta 8 3.5g (Sativa THC Flower) total value $66.87. All stolen items including the display box adding up to a total value of $867.75. At this time the officer obtained photos of the same merchandise that was not taken via body cam, along with a copy of the security footage. He also obtained two written statements from the GM and the employee who was working during the theft.
- Alex Harris Keller, was charged with two counts of Obstructing an Officer. The complaint states that on Monday, Dec. 29 Cpl. B.M. Gidley and Chief Deputy Sigley were patrolling the Davis area looking for a subject by the name of Alex Keller who had an active warrant for Petit Larceny. Officers located the subject on Henry Ave in a yard. Gidley got out of his cruiser and advised the subject to come to him. The subject refused commands to stop. Officers then yelled to stop again and he stopped. Officers were talking to the subject when Gidley advised he had warrants and he would be going to the magistrate’s office to take care of them. The subject then handed Gidley a dollar bill and when Gidley went to search the subject and place handcuffs on him, he then proceeded to run from officers. Officers pursued him on foot towards the Billy Motel, Davis Car Wash, into a tree line then behind EMS Station 2. Gidley kept yelling commands to stop multiple times and the subject refused to stop. He then ran down the bike trail on WV32 towards US 48 when a Wildlife officer stopped and pulled his taser out and advised him to stop. The subject then crossed the road on WV32 where he then stopped and surrendered to officers. Gidley advised the subject he was under arrest and he walked him down to EMS Station 2 when Gidley brought the cruiser to him. The subject was then placed into the back and transported to the WVSP detachment in Parsons for processing.

After Nearly 40-Year Hiatus, Tucker County Welcomes Back Wrestling

By: Adam Freeman

It has been nearly 40 years since Tucker County High School outfitted a wrestling team, but that hiatus has come to an end for the 2026 winter sports season. Six student-athletes—Juniper Judy, Mitch Neil, Rachel Hile, Emi Arnold, AJ Maniscarco, and Evan Hexom—all donned the black and gold in a match last week at East Hardy High School.

The team competed in five duals at the Baker Brawl tournament, with Mitch Neil securing a win. Substantial progress was shown by the first-year team across the board. The squad is coached by Leonard Gruppo, who is excited about the startup of the program and hopes this season sparks more interest for next year.

Lady Mt. Lions Stumble Against Wayne, Blow Past East Hardy

By: Adam Freeman

The Tucker County Lady Mt. Lions traveled to Summersville, WV, last week to participate in the Winter Classic and take on the defending AAA state champions from Wayne County. The Pioneers jumped out to a 17-0 lead against the Mt. Lions, who took some time to settle in after the long holiday lay-off. At the end of the first period, Wayne led 24-7, extending that lead to 38-15 going into halftime.

The Lady Mt. Lions found their rhythm in the second half, outscoring Wayne 15-11 in the third quarter and 13-11 in the fourth. However, the deficit was too great to overcome, and Tucker fell 60-43.

The team then traveled to Summersville to take on one of the top-ranked teams in AAA, the North Marion Huskies. Tucker trailed by only two points, 26-24, at the halftime break, but offensive woes in the second half limited the Mt. Lions to just 11 points as they ultimately fell 52-35.

against the Mt. Lions) wrapped up the busy week. The game started in an unusual fashion when a technical foul was assessed to the Mt. Lions for dunking during warmups; this gave Tug Valley a 1-0 lead before a single second had come off the clock.

The contest was a back-and-forth slugfest, with Tug holding a one-point lead (18-17) at the end of the first, a two-point lead (33-31) at the half, and a one-point lead (52-51) at the end of the third. With the Mt. Lions trailing by one heading into the final frame, both teams scored exactly 14 points in the fourth, allowing Tug to maintain their narrow advantage for a 66-65 win. Tucker's "Slinging Sammy" Marks notched five triples in the effort to lead the Mt. Lions.

Five Lighting Principles for Responsible Outdoor Lighting

1 Useful

Use light only if it is needed

All light should have a clear purpose. Consider how the use of light will impact the area, including wildlife and their habitats.

2 Targeted

Direct light so it falls only where it is needed

Use shielding and careful aiming to target the direction of the light beam so that it points downward and does not spill beyond where it is needed.

3 Low Level

Light should be no brighter than necessary

Use the lowest light level required. Be mindful of surface conditions, as some surfaces may reflect more light into the night sky than intended.

4 Controlled

Use light only when it is needed

Use controls such as timers or motion detectors to ensure that light is available when it is needed, dimmed when possible, and turned off when not needed.

5 Warm-colored

Use warmer color lights where possible

Limit the amount of shorter wavelength (blue-violet) light to the least amount needed.

need to be replaced.” Jordan went on to say that the application is quite extensive and lengthy. After application, the Park will have five years to complete replacement of the addition third of the lights in the park to meet the requirement to keep the DarkSky status.

“In order to actually apply for DarkSky status, about two-thirds of the lights in the area have to be compliant and then you can apply for the status,” Jordan said.

Jordan said she was concerned over the possibility of the proposed Ridgeline Power Plant project with its proximity to Blackwater State Park, especially the rumors that it would be used to power a future Data Center site in the area.

“Things like that could threaten our ability to get DarkSky status depending on exactly what kind of lights they use, how many and how they shine,” Jordan said.

Jordan said that to prove true “Dark Sky” status, measurements must be taken that will determine the amount of light pollution in the area. One such test involves counting the number of stars in the Constellation Orion, as well as prove light output. So far, Blackwater Falls qualifies, Jordan said.

“We have to take measurements of how dark it is when we apply and prove all that when we apply,” Jordan said. “So far we’re qualifying, we just have to replace the lights.”

Jordan said that many home and property owners in the surrounding area are already helping by installing outdoor lighting fixtures to be DarkSky compliant. She said that some of the larger barn lights and commercial lights put off the most light pollution.

In 2025, the Foundation reported raising and spending over $14,300 on the purchase and installation of dark sky compliant light fixtures. To date, 107 of the 326 Park’s fixtures are compliant, about one-third.

The goal for 2026, the Foundation said is to raise the money to replace an additional 113 fixtures to bring the total number to the required 217 fixtures or two-thirds needed to apply for DarkSky status.

Additionally, in 2025, the Foundation has been working with Park Management to identify and support priorities for enhancements to the park. A new pickleball net was purchased and gravel for a new shed that was installed at the park’s sled run was furnished. Efforts are also currently underway to raise money for new playground equipment for the park.

The Blackwater Falls State Park Foundation is a 501c3 charitable organization whose mission is to preserve, protect, and enhance the Blackwater Falls State Park by providing leadership in communication, funding, and advocacy.

West Virginia Department of Health Seeking Leadership Team to Implement $199 Million Rural Healthcare Transformation

Charleston, W.Va. – Following Governor Patrick Morrisey’s announcement that West Virginia has secured $199 million for 2026 through the Rural Health Transformation Program (RHTP), the West Virginia Department of Health is launching an expansive hiring effort to recruit experienced leaders to oversee and implement this historic investment in West Virginia’s healthcare infrastructure.

“We are ready to hit the ground running with this program, and to do that, we need to recruit and hire talented, passionate individuals,” said West Virginia Secretary of Health Dr. Arvin Singh. “This is a historic opportunity to build a healthier future for West Virginia, and we encourage the best and brightest to join us in this unprecedented effort.”

“The $199 million investment for 2026 provides a transformative foundation to improve health outcomes, expand access to care, and strengthen families and communities throughout West Virginia,” Governor Morrisey said. “This award positions our state to deliver better care closer to home and build a healthier future for generations to come.”

The RHTP was authorized by President Trump’s One Big Beautiful Bill with the goal of applying states across America with the necessary funding to create innovative, system-wide change to their public health infrastructure. In West Virginia, the program will be tasked with addressing critical healthcare needs and strengthening the state’s rural communities.

West Virginia will use this multi-million-dollar investment to target key areas including:

- Distance between patients and providers
- Lack of access of rural healthcare providers
- Resources to support rural healthcare providers
- Connecting West Virginians to the

- workforce as they become healthier
- Preventing adverse health outcomes through nutrition, exercise, and lifestyle, and
- Developing groundbreaking technology to simultaneously drive better health and economic growth

The $199 million for the first year of the five-year award period is the highest per capita award of any state that West Virginia touches. The initiative is designed to deliver measurable improvements in health outcomes while supporting community stability and economic vitality. Available positions include RHTP director and RHTP deputy director in addition to various managerial roles.

The West Virginia Department of Health (DH) seeks to advance the health and well-being of all West Virginians promoting healthy behaviors, working to mitigate public health crises, and increasing access to health-related resources and information.

Winter Driving Safety Tips for the New Year

By: Lydia Baker-Crawley
The Parsons Advocate

With the hazards of winter mountain driving well in swing for this year’s winter season, there are a few tips that drivers can use this winter behind the wheel and in case of emergencies to help them safely home in inclement weather. The NHTSA reported that in 2023 there were 320 fatal traffic crashes and an estimated 22,293 injury crashes that occurred when there was snow/sleet conditions at the time of the crash. In total police reported 101,390 traffic crashes that year.

ReadyWV recommends that drivers check the following before heading out in bad weather: Make sure all lights are in good working order. Check headlights, brake lights, turn signals, emergency flashers and interior lights and if pulling a trailer, that all trailer lights are operational, as well.

Also check the windshield wipers and wiper fluid level. During a storm, drivers can go through a lot of washer fluid. Be sure to stock the reservoir with “Winter” washer fluid with de-icer before winter weather begins. Check wiper blades and replace if necessary and be sure defrosters are in good working order.

Another recommendation is to check coolant levels and that the coolant meets the manufacturer’s specifications. These specifications can be found in the vehicle’s owner’s manual, online or ask for help at the local parts store. Most are very helpful. Also check the coolant system for any leaks or cracked hoses. If unsure of doing it yourself, take to a local mechanic for a winter checkup and ask them to check for leaks, badly worn hoses, or other needed parts, repairs or replacements.

ReadyWV recommends that all loose snow be removed from vehicles prior to leaving, as flying snow has been known to cause accidents. Items that are suggested to be carried in a vehicle in winter include: a snow shovel, broom or brush and an ice scraper; abrasive material such as sand or kitty litter in case the vehicle is stuck in snow; jumper cables; a flashlight; a warning device such as flares or emergency markers; a first aid kit that includes a tourniquet; blankets; a cell phone and charger; water; food; and any necessary medicines. Be sure to keep vehicles as close to full of fuel as possible at all times.

When traveling, ReadyWV recommends that drivers not only plan their routes thoroughly, but check local weather and traffic reports prior to leaving. If the roads are not in optimal condition, consider postponing non-essential travel until conditions improve.

Should the worst happen and the vehicle should become stopped or stalled in winter weather, ReadyWV recommends that drivers stay focused on themselves, their passengers, vehicle and surroundings. Should an emergency happen, it is recommended that drivers and passengers stay with the vehicle and not overexert themselves. Make sure the vehicle can be seen by passersby. Place bright markers on the antenna or windows and keep interior dome lights on. To avoid carbon monoxide poisoning, ReadyWV recommends that exhaust pipes be checked and kept clear of any snow and that the engine only be ran sporadically and only long enough to stay warm. Never run the vehicle for long periods of time with the windows up or in an enclosed place.

The West Virginia Division of Highways states on its website, “It is the intention of the West Virginia Division of Highways to control snow and ice conditions on all state maintained roadways, so traffic may continue to move as safely as possible with a minimum amount of inconvenience.”

The State uses a three tier system to maintain the more than 35,000 miles of roadways that need clearing during winter weather events to maintain road safety. During an average year, the WVDOH will spend $55 million during the November to March Snow Removal and Ice Control season.

First Priority Routes for road crews are roads of major importance with high traffic volume. These roads are plowed and treated first and receive ongoing maintenance during weather events. Examples of First Priority Routes are all Interstates, major routes and high traffic roadways connecting urban areas.

Second Priority Routes are roads of slightly less importance than First Priority Routes. These roads don’t have quite enough traffic volume to be included as a First Priority Route, such as school bus routes. These routes are covered as conditions permit by the same equipment and personnel assigned to the maintenance of First Priority Routes.

Third Priority Routes are low traffic roads that only receive attention after all Second Priority Routes have been maintained.

During Winter Weather events, the WVDOH use a combination of three products on area roadways. Sodium Chloride, commonly called “road salt” is mixed with rock, cinders or sand and used to melt existing snow and ice on paved surfaces. Salt cannot be used on surface treated, gravel or dirt roads and works best in temperatures over 20 degrees Fahrenheit. Calcium Chloride is a liquid de-icer used in extreme conditions and in low temperatures to melt ice and snow. Brine is a mix of salt and water sprayed on pavements before snow and ice fall to prevent snow and ice from bonding to the roadway surface.

WVDOH recommends that drivers follow the following tips to stay safe on WV roads this winter: Clear snow and ice from all windows and lights; buckle up “it’s the law!”; just drive, avoid distractions behind the wheel; slow down, it takes longer to stop, accelerate and turn on snow covered roads; leave extra space between your vehicle and other vehicles around you; do not use cruise control; don’t crowd the plow, keep back at least 100 feet; have a roadside safety kit on hand and check road conditions before heading out by dialing 5-1-1 from a landline or cell phone or log onto www.wv511.org for traffic information, road conditions and weather information.

AAA: Holidays Bring Lower Gas Prices to West Virginia

The average price for gasoline across Northern West Virginia is a penny cheaper this week at $2.708 per gallon, according to AAA East Central’s Gas Price Report.

Nationwide Trends:
As the holiday season is underway, motorists continue to find lower prices at the pump. Over the past week, the national average for a gallon of unleaded has fallen three cents to $2.82. Gas prices have not been this low since December of 2020. Cheaper crude oil prices and increases in supply are contributing to the decrease in gasoline prices. Overall, 2025 has been a stable year for the national average with few fluctuations and no sharp spikes. Today’s national average is 19 cents less than a month ago and 20 cents less than a year ago.

At the close of Friday’s formal trading session, West Texas Intermediate fell $1.61 to settle at $56.74 a barrel. U.S. crude oil inventories are about 4% below the five-year average for this time of year.

The national average per kilowatt hour of electricity at a public EV charging station stayed the same this past week at 38 cents.

Sunset Berry Farm Announces 2026 Expansion: Growing With the Community Through SEED, Agritourism, and New Experiences in Alderson, WV

Sunset Berry Farm is taking agritourism to a new level in 2026 with a bold, new mission to strengthen families, food security, and community resilience. After years of selling to the community, the farm is shifting toward a new approach:

Sunset Berry Farm is no longer just selling to the community — it is growing with the community.

This transition is a direct response to changing needs across the region, including the soaring cost of living, job loss, rising electric bills, increasing housing instability, homelessness, and more multigenerational families living under one roof. At the same time, grocery prices continue to rise while the quality has declined.

“We’re hearing it and seeing it every day,” said Jennifer Gilkerson, founder of Sunset Berry Farm. “Families are trying to do more with less. They need affordable opportunities to grow food, learn life skills, and create income — while also having access to joyful, outdoor family fun.”

Gilkerson added that many families are also losing gardens year after year due to deer damage, weeds, lack of irrigation, and limited access to equipment and support. “That’s why it’s crucial for farms with the right infrastructure and safeguards to partner with families,” she said. “We want to give our community access to a successful garden system — with the safety nets, tools, and support that increase the odds of success.”

Introducing SEED: Skills for Eating, Earning & Developing community

At the heart of Sunset Berry Farm’s 2026 mission is SEED: Skills for Eating, Earning & Developing community — a community-driven initiative designed to help individuals and families build practical skills that increase food security, reduce costs, and create income opportunities through agriculture and entrepreneurship.

SEED is rooted in hands-on learning, shared resources, and local economic development — helping participants gain the tools needed to thrive in today’s economic reality.

New Programs and Experiences Launching in 2026

1) Sprout Garden Club (Ages 4–15)

A monthly club for children featuring essential life skills through interactive farm learning. Members meet on the first Saturday of every month at 11:00 AM to learn about gardening, feeding chickens, collecting eggs, fishing, entrepreneurship, teamwork, and more, followed by active play in the new Adventure Farm Park.

2) Affordable Community Garden Rental Plots — Grow Extra, Earn Extra

A simplified gardening program designed for ease and accessibility, featuring:

- deer-free fencing
- raised beds
- plastic mulch for weed suppression and water conservation
- automatic irrigation

Participants can grow food for their families and also create income by selling or trading surplus through the on-site marketplace. The program is open to everyone, but folks within up to three hours of Alderson are encouraged to participate. Folks can plant and forget, then harvest and enjoy, since frequent trips to tend garden plots are not required.

3) Appalachian Marketplace (On-site)

A social enterprise designed to bring together gardeners, entrepreneurs, and artisans to barter, trade, and sell products to one another and to the community. The marketplace supports a sustainable local food system and a thriving Appalachian economy built on connection and creativity.

4) Educational Field Trip Opportunities — “Find Leo the Lion” Farm Scavenger Hunt

New interactive educational tours guide students through farm stations that teach where food comes from, including irrigation systems, raised-bed production areas with plastic mulch, deer-exclusion fencing, pollination zones, chicken coops, fishing ponds, and more.

The scavenger hunt also includes an Alderson history lesson tied to the legend of Leo the Lion, with the mission of finding him hiding somewhere on the farm.

5) Adventure Farm Park (Ages 2 to 92)

A family-friendly outdoor destination featuring a miniature zipline, giant bounce pad, working excavators, tractor-pulled rides, racing tracks, a huge Lego tunnel, and more. The park offers affordable recreation for families and opportunities for rest and wellness, including relaxing by the pond and optional chair massages.

Monthly Food Truck Festivals + Cultural Food Experiences

Beginning in April 2026, Sunset Berry Farm will host a Food Truck Festival on the first Saturday of every month (April–October), creating a consistent gathering space for the community.

The farm is actively seeking a diverse lineup of food trucks so guests can experience a variety of food cultures — along with traditional food truck favorites. Local ingredients and Appalachian regional foods will also be featured alongside classic food truck eats.

2026 Festival Highlights Include:

- Food Truck Festival — First Saturday of Every Month (April–October)
- April 4 – Food Truck Festival & Easter Egg Hunt
- May 23 – Alderson Strawberry Festival
- July 4 – Freedom Festival & Food Trucks
- August 1 – Monroe County Peach Festival
- August 22 – West Virginia Watermelon Festival
- September 5 – West Virginia Sunflower Festival
- October 3, 10, 17 & 24 – Food Truck Festivals + Spooky Tractor-Pulled Trail Rides

About Sunset Berry Farm

Sunset Berry Farm is an agritourism destination in Alderson, West Virginia, dedicated to strengthening families, supporting local food systems, and providing fun, affordable outdoor experiences for all ages. In addition to strawberries, the farm grows peaches, watermelons, triple-sweet corn, green beans, pumpkins, and flowers, celebrating the richness of Appalachian agriculture through seasonal harvests and community events.

WVDNR Reports Buck Firearms Season Harvest Numbers Decreased harvest of 33,775 antlered deer reflects impact of abundant mast statewide and EHD in western counties

Charleston, W.Va. — The West Virginia Division of Natural Resources (WVDNR) today announced that hunters harvested 33,775 antlered deer during the state’s two-week buck firearm season, which ran from Nov. 24 to Dec. 7.

According to preliminary data collected through the WVDNR’s electronic game check system, hunters in Greenbrier harvested the most bucks (1,730), followed by Preston (1,349), Randolph (1,198), Hardy (1,165), Pendleton (1,135), Pocahontas (1,089), Monroe (1,057), Grant (1,039), Fayette (991) and Hampshire (923).

The 2025 harvest was 18.5 percent below the 2024 harvest of 41,435 bucks. All WVDNR districts registered a decrease in harvests, with the exception of District 4 which experienced a 7.5 percent increase compared to last year.

This year’s decreased harvest was caused by an increase in hard mast production, which often results in decreased harvests due to the difficulty of tracking and targeting game species spread out over a landscape. Several counties also experienced an outbreak of hemorrhagic disease, which likely impacted hunter success, especially in the western part of the state.

Hunters who harvested a buck during a 2025 deer hunting season are also reminded to submit their photos for a chance to win prizes in the state’s fifth annual Big Buck Photo Contest. To learn more about contest prizes, rules and how to enter, visit WVDnr.gov/photocontest.

Additional Deer Hunting Opportunities

Several deer hunting opportunities remain for 2025. The state’s archery and crossbow season runs through Dec. 31, the traditional Class N/NN antlerless deer season will be open in select areas on public and private land Dec. 11-14 and Dec. 28-31, the muzzleloader deer season will be open Dec. 15-21 and the youth, Class Q and Class XS season for antlerless deer will be open Dec. 26-27 in any county with a firearms deer season.

To learn more, hunters are encouraged to consult the Hunting Regulations Summary, available to download at WVDnr.gov/hunting-regulations.

FIRE

A fire ranged through a house in Hambleton December 29th displacing a family of three.

impacted by the fire down the road and across the street from the structure. However, due to wind direction and a vacant lot directly next door, neighboring structures were spared. White said that no neighbors have reported any damage to his knowledge. “The wind was blowing, what I would call, South in direction and there was a vacant lot there, so that was a large factor,” White said. “That vacant lot kind of acted as a buffer.” There was a home nearby behind the structure fire, however, White said the wind was blowing the fire in the opposite direction which allowed crews to get directly behind to keep the area wetted down to prevent spread of the fire into that area. While efforts to suppress what remained of the fire continued until well into the night, White said there was nothing of the home left to save. According to White, the house had burnt to the ground, which made determining a cause of the blaze nearly impossible to determine. “We spent most of the night, until 2:30 this morning just wetting it down and things like that,” White said. Among those who responded to the fire, according to White were Leading Creek Fire Department, Thomas Fire Department, Davis Fire Department, Tucker County 911, Tucker County Emergency Management, Tucker County EMS, West Virginia State Police, Tucker County Sheriff’s Department, PVFD Ladies Auxiliary. Red Cross have been notified of the family’s need, White said. A GoFundMe has raised over $30,000 of a $40,000 goal from 261 donations for the family of three. The fund was established to help the family rebuild their lives after the fire. The family lost everything, according to the fund. America then and now

Celebrations of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the United States of America will unfold throughout 2026. As millions join in the festivities, it can be fun to compare the nation in its infancy to the one that has since firmly established itself as a global leader. Population · 1780: 2.8 million* · 2025: 342 million *The National Archives note that the first decennial census of the United States was not taken until 1790, so the figure cited for 1780 is a widely accepted estimate of the burgeoning nation's population during the opening years of the American Revolutionary War.  This represents the U.S. Census Bureau population estimate as of late 2025. States According to the National Constitution Center, a series of resolutions passed by the Second Continental Congress in September 1776 officially cited the collective colonies fighting in the American Revolutionary War as the "United States." · 1776: 13 · 2026: 50 Income taxes Debates regarding income taxes may seem like an ever-present component of American life, but colonists did not pay income tax in 1776. Though taxation was undeniably a notable issue throughout colonial America, the Tax Foundation notes the situation was considerably different in 1776 than it is today, when taxes are a highly debated component of American life. In 1776, the British Crown relied on tariffs and excise taxes to fund the American colonies, whereas modern Americans pay federal and, in most states, state income taxes to finance a range of public goods and services. Land mass The Times Atlas of World History indicates that the United States had an area of approximately 800,000 square miles in 1783. The country is considerably larger today, with a rough land mass of just under 3.6 million square miles according to the U.S. Census Bureau. To put that expansion since the nascent days of the nation in perspective, today the combined land mass of the country's two largest states eclipses the land mass of the entire nation in the early 1780s. Alaska (estimated land mass 571,000 square miles) and Texas (262,000), with roughly 833,000 square miles between them, are larger than the total land mass of the United States in 1783. Transportation The Center for the Study of the Presidency and Congress notes that walking was the most common and cheapest mode of transportation in the late eighteenth century. Horses and wagons enabled business and distance travel, but such modes were only available to those who could afford it, greatly limiting who could get around by any means other than their own feet. Getting around in the present day is a little more accessible, and a recent analysis from Hedges & Company found there were 298.7 million registered vehicles in the U.S. in 2025.
