Blenko draws inspiration from GBT

Suzanne Stewart
Staff Writer

Each year, Blenko Glass Company celebrates West Virginia Day with a limited edition piece designed and created by artisans at its headquarters in Milton.

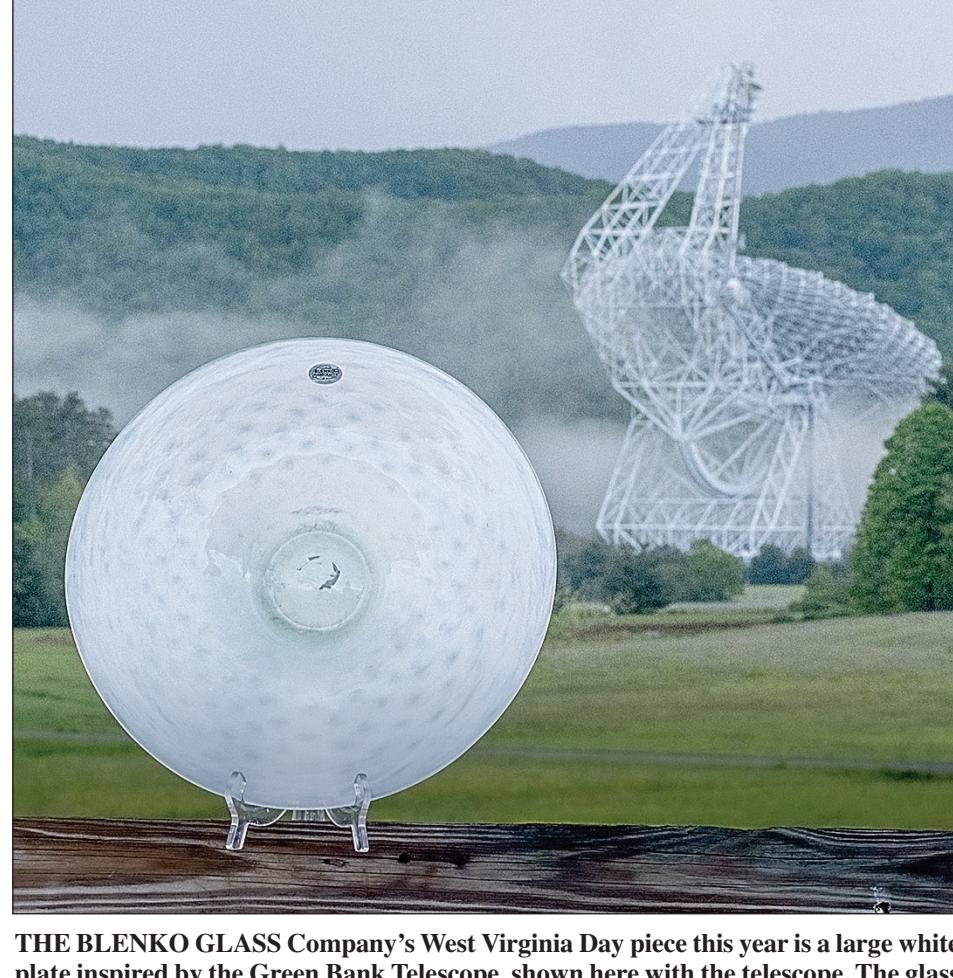

This year, creative director James Arnett drew inspiration from the Green Bank Telescope for the West Virginia Day piece – a large plate.

"We approached West Virginia Day with the theme of the year," Arnett said. "The theme of the year was the year of new space age design, so a lot of the designs we've had for other holidays and other times of the year have been designed to reflect our inspiration from space."

"I kind of set up the theme this year explicitly to land at the Green Bank Telescope," he added.

With just a little more than a year at Blenko, this is the second West Virginia Day piece Arnett has designed.

To accompany the limited edition plate, there are two companion pieces – a tangerine decanter with a vintage flying saucer shape and a turquoise GBT sun catcher. The companion pieces are not limited in number and

Happy Birthday ~ everybody!

Suzanne Stewart
Staff Writer

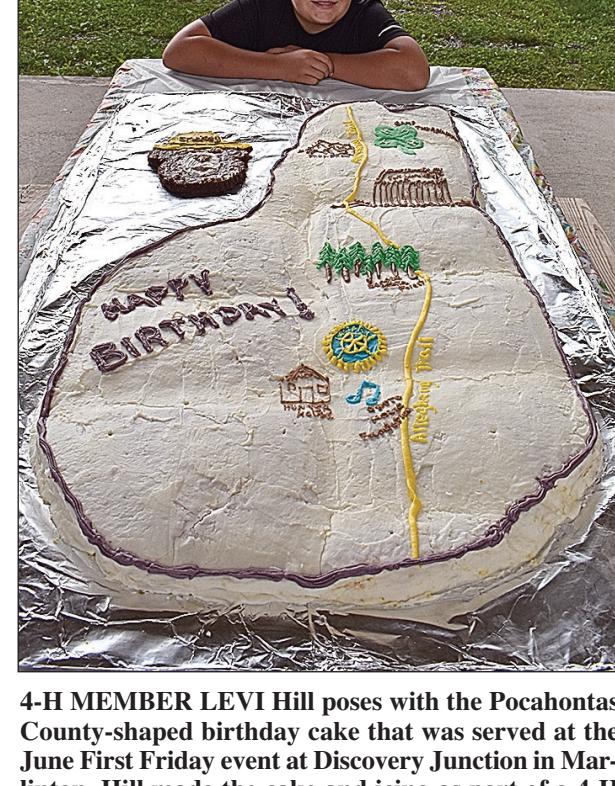

There were no party hats or balloons, but there was a birthday celebration at Discovery Junction in Marlinton for the June First Friday. The theme was Happy Birthday for West Virginia as well as to several places and organizations in Pocahontas County.

Parks and Recreation director Lauren Bennett talked about all the celebrations that will be happening this summer and throughout the rest of the year.

"We realized there are a lot of places in the county and some organizations that have some pretty big birthdays this month, this year," she said.

The Pocahontas County Opera House Foundation is celebrating 25 years of providing performances and a meeting spot at the historical landmark.

Both Snowshoe Mountain Resort and the Allegheny Trail are turning 50 this year. The Allegheny Trail will have a celebration

Walking and reading around town

Suzanne Stewart
Staff Writer

When isolation and distancing were a necessity a few years ago due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Pocahontas County Free Libraries and Visitors Centers found a creative way to safely provide stories to youngsters ~ the StoryWalk.

A children's book was spread through the town of Marlinton, with one page per window of downtown businesses. Much like a scavenger hunt, the pages came with directions to the next one, giving visitors a unique way of enjoying a fun story and visiting businesses, as well.

The book trail was so popular that the libraries have continued to make story trails each summer.

This year, the StoryWalk will follow the theme of each First Friday, and a new book will be in place for a month.

"We decided this year to

Helmick presents alternate plan for the courthouse annex

Tim Walker
AMR Reporter

During the June 4 Pocahontas County Commission meeting, Commission President Walt Helmick admitted that he can't overcome the National Historic Registry listing of the old jail building, so he has been looking over a new location for a courthouse annex. His original plan was to demolish the old jail building which is located immediately behind the courthouse, and build a new courthouse annex on that site. However, his inability to get the old jail removed from its listing on the National Registry of Historic Places has stymied the project. Now, Helmick is determined to move the project forward, albeit at a new location. He called for a special commission meeting to be held Friday, June 7, where he said he'd reveal the location. He said he will also propose purchasing that property, and he said he has the money to purchase it since the commission has saved about $400,000 since he has been its President. He said they did that by eliminating two commission administrative positions. Emergency Management and 911 Director Mike O'Brien expressed his concerns that the bid being advertised for the new 911 Center appears to be for the two EMS ambulance bays that were planned to be added as attachments to the new 911 building, rather than for the 911 building itself, which, in the bid is described as a "option."

Solid Waste Authority gets info on grant possibilities

Tim Walker
AMR Reporter

Region 4 Planning and Development Council Director John Tuggle spoke to members of the Pocahontas County Solid Waste Authority at their May 29 meeting about the possibility of helping them receive financial assistance through grants.

Solid Waste member David McLaughlin began by explaining the financial challenges the authority will be facing in about a year and a half when the county landfill will be filled to capacity and forced to close. He said that even with the county commission purchasing the landfill for the Solid Waste Authority, they will still face extremely high costs to continue to collect and dispose of trash in the county. Those expenses include building and equipping a transfer station at the site; purchasing equipment, especially trucks, to haul the trash to a landfill in another county; paying the tipping fee at the other landfill; and purchasing the fuel for the vehicles. McLaughlin explained that the authority will simply not have enough income or financial sources to do this without outside help from the county commission and/or from grants.

Tuggle explained to the members that, while Region 4 has provided a lot of counties, including Pocahontas County, with assistance obtaining grants, those usually involve water and sewer projects, not solid waste disposal, and he is not familiar with those grants. However, he said Region 4 is willing to help them if any solid waste project grants are found.

Tuggle explained that Region 4 provides assistance in applying for and administering grants, for which they charge a three and a half percent fee which is capped at $175,000. The fee is based on the amount of money awarded in the grant. He said the fee would be taken out of the grant funding. Tuggle said that in most of their grants, the $175,000 cap is not reached, but they just helped Lewisburg receive a $68-million grant for a new water plant which did max out their fee at the $175,000 cap.

Tuggle said Region 4 works closely with the USDA, EPA, ARC and others to search for grant opportunities. They also work with members of the U.S. Congress to obtain Congressionally Approved Directed Spending Opportunities, commonly referred to as "earmarks."

Manchin poses questions to Secretary Yellen

Last Wednesday, U.S. Senator Joe Manchin (I-WV), member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, questioned Janet Yellen, Secretary of the U.S. Department of the Treasury. Manchin questioned Yellen on implementing the Inflation Reduction Act's (IRA) electric vehicle (EV) and hydrogen tax credits according to the law and his bipartisan Back to Work Act.

On implementing the IRA's EV tax credits according to the law:

"My Committee wrote the bill to bring back manufacturing to America so that we would not be dependent on unreliable supply chains, especially those of China, Russia, Iran and North Korea," Manchin said in part. "We know China has dominated the critical minerals industry. But your [the Administration's] permanent rules are cutting the domestic requirements for sourcing and processing in half. It makes no sense, and you're going to get sued by the manufacturers who have invested money and thought they wouldn't be inundated with lower prices and unfair competition, especially from China."

"All of a sudden, there are these conditions to get the credits," Manchin said. "Where did these come from? Who made them up? Every single one of the seven hubs has written to you all. It's not commercially viable what you're trying to do with this implementation of the hydrogen rules. Why are you not writing the rules the way the law intended?"

Circuit Court

The following hearings were recently held in Pocahontas County Circuit Court before the Honorable Judges Robert E. Richardson and Jennifer P. Dent:

The court found probable cause and revoked bond for Taylor Cook, 37, of Marlinton. Cook was indicted by the April Grand Jury on one count, assault; one count, destruction of property; three counts, malicious assault.

According to Magistrate Court records, Cook was arrested on similar charges June 5.

Michelle Stewart, 47, of Hillsboro, tendered a written plea agreement to the court wherein she pleaded guilty to the felony offense of grand larceny. The court accepted the plea and deferred the matter for one year on probation.

A corrected plea agreement was tendered to the court by Skylar Tincher, 25, of Buckeye, wherein he pleaded guilty to the felony offense of wanton endangerment involving the use of a firearm. The matter was referred to the probation department for a presentence investigation. Sentencing is set for August 1.

A status hearing was held in the case the State vs Joseph Lynn Thompson, 32, of Marlinton, wherein the state requested that Thompson remain incarcerated and has filed a motion to revoke his bond. A hearing on the motion is scheduled for June 13. Thompson was indicted by the April Grand Jury on one count, malicious assault.

Library Lines

by Joe Miller,
Director of Development

In a corner of the Maurice M. Pine Free Public Library, in Fair Lawn, New Jersey...the gray carpeting is flecked with sequins."

So begins an article titled "Saying Yes to the Dress—At the Library," published in the May 20 edition of the New Yorker. (Not a New Yorker subscriber? Me, either. I read it for free at the library!)

The program began about a decade ago when librarian Adele Puccio found a wedding dress from a local "free cycling" website. Today, prospective brides can choose from around 50 different wedding dresses—each one donated or rescued from local thrift stores. There's a lot of turnover—Puccio has matched about 60 brides with dresses just this year.

When you think about a library, you probably think: places that lend books—with emphasis in the last word of that phrase. But we think the real value of libraries lies in the lend part, not the books part. Don't get me wrong here. Anyone associated with a library will tell you that we love books! And books continue to be a large part of our mission.

Libraries started as places to lend books because once upon a time, books were really expensive. Literacy exploded—particularly here in the United States, where free public education was the norm in most states by the 1850s. Printing books remained expensive. Libraries stepped in to meet the public's demand for reading material.

TRIVIA — a little something to think about

1. Name either of the two U.S. states where it is illegal to get married on a dare.

2. Johnny Depp notably modeled Jack Sparrow, his memorable character from "Pirates of the Caribbean," after which rock guitarist?

3. Which "Titanic" actor appeared on the children's TV show "Romper Room?"

4. What 1949 science fiction book by author George Orwell describes a dystopian world in the future?

County, we provide access to lots of outdoor equipment. Want to go looking for treasure? (Or, maybe you dropped your wedding ring somewhere at last Saturday's barbecue.) Drop by either the McClintic or Greenbank branch and you can check out a metal detector.

Or maybe you want to watch the stars from one of the three(!) officially recognized Dark Sky Parks in Pocahontas County? You can pick up a stargazing backpack from any of our five library branches. Each backpack contains everything you need to start learning about viewing outer space.

And, as befits a county where internet access is tricky—owing both to the quiet zone needed to protect the important work at the Green Bank Observatory and to the difficulty of stringing wires across a large and rugged landscape—we provide free WiFi (except at the Green Bank branch) and plenty of physical copies of movies and music.

Austin Persinger, director of the Summers County Library, saw things differently. He recognized that many of the county's poorer residents lacked reliable transportation. The town of Hinton—which contains the only grocery store for miles—sits in a valley, while many of the residents live in the surrounding hills, often walking in from as many as six miles away. These residents were taking shopping carts because it was their only way of transporting groceries up the hills to their homes.

So the library purchased several lightweight utility wagons. Residents can check them out, use them to take groceries home, and return them the next time they visit town. They were all checked out within the first month.

Shopping cart theft is down.

Here in Pocahontas

of course, you can still check out books, too!

Our mission is to lend things that help improve the lives of the people of Pocahontas County. We do a lot of lending. But we're always eager to do more. If you have ideas for things you think would be nice to lend out, drop me a line with your suggestion. I'm joe@pocahontaslibrary.org

Or, better still, stop by any of our five branches and talk with your local librarian. You may discover that we already have what you're looking for!

Fort Warwick celebrating 250 years of history

Look at the ground beneath your feet and think about what lies below it. There may be artifacts from centuries ago just waiting to be discovered.

At the farm of Bob and Elaine Sheets in Green

Bank, one particular hay field hid the site of a pre-

Revolutionary War fort – Fort Warwick.

The Sheets will celebrate the 250th anniversary of Fort Warwick on June 22 and 23, with an archeological dig, re-enactors, demonstrations, music and food.

This will sort of be an interesting period that we're going to have an anniversary of, because for this 250th anniversary, all the re-enactors and folks who will be here are loyalists," Bob said. "They are at that point serving King George III, and then two years later, 1776, things change and that points at the historical significance of the political arena that was playing out at that particular time."

The fort was built in 1774 as a militia fort and, by 1776, it became one of the first settlements of the newly freed American colonies.

Bob said they have discovered that several of the people who lived at the fort went through the transition from being loyalists to colonists.

The two-day event will include a glimpse at many aspects of life in the area during the time period. Re-enactors will bring to life the day-to-day life of those who lived at the fort, as well as the Native Americans who interacted with the settlers.

Marlinton Mayor's Corner

By Sam Felton

head was secured.

In 2023, the Town of Marlinton engaged Destination By Design to complete a concept plan for the site. The plan calls for three phases of construction to develop designated parking, signage and specialty features that mountain bike tourists expect of a destination. This signature trailhead will be within easy walking distance of restaurants, bike shops, the town visitor center and other amenities. The trailhead will also contribute to the health and wellness of the greater community, providing safe and improved access to the trail for local youth and residents.

Working in concert with Snowshoe Highlands Area Collaborative (SHARC) and the Mon Forest Towns Partnership (MFTP), the Town selected the site of an existing County-owned parcel on 9th Street, that joined Town property, (A property that had been graciously "donated" to the Town, by Ed and Jonelle Lowe, for the benefit of our community).

Knowing the ARC Grant was to be announced, I asked to be on agenda for the Board of Education meeting. With a plan in place, the concept was presented to the Board October 17, 2022. The plan was accepted, with the condition that students could still park there as before, and the location for the new trail.

Sam

To date, the Town has worked with the Mon Forest Towns Partnership to leverage $130,000 for the project. We expect to complete fundraising for engineering in 2024 and to have shovel-ready documents in hand by December 2024.

A request for Congressionally Directed Spending has been submitted and is the best avenue for building the trailhead, as it will give us the ability to fully fund the project.

Obituaries

Arthur Dameron

Arthur P. Dameron, 79, of Santee, South Carolina, formerly of Yardley and Morrisville, Pennsylvania, peacefully passed away Saturday morning, June 1, 2024.

The beloved husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather succumbed to a brief period of illness.

Born March 28, 1945, in Morrisville, Pennsylvania, he was the fifth of six children of the late Frank and Gladys Dameron.

Art graduated from Morrisville High School and, in 1965, married the love of his life Sandra Tyndale. They had a beautiful life together bearing three children and living their lives surrounded by family and lifelong friends.

He was a lifelong resident and fostered relationships with nearly everyone in the Morrisville area. He could not walk through a hardware store without stopping to talk with at least one friend. His wife, children and grandchildren would stand by for as long as it took for him to speak with people who seemed like strangers but whose lives Art touched in some way. Whether it was his handyman knowledge on a project, opinions on trains and models, or his friendly advice, he shared his passion for these hobbies and his life knowledge with anyone who would listen.

Art and Sandy discovered Cass in the late 1960s that ignited a passion for trains, the mountains and the logging business in the town until 1963. They would camp, and later rented houses for family vacations in the sleepy, tiny town with steam engines running up and down the mountain. He loved it so much that he served as the treasurer for the Mountain State Railroad Logging Association, which assisted with maintaining and developing the Cass Scenic Railroad State Park from its inception until today. In his later years, he also enjoyed volunteering at Howell Farm, helping wherever he was of most use, as well as fostering new friendships and teaching people whatever he could.

He is survived by his wife, Sandra; children, Christine Madzy, of Lawrenceville, New Jersey, Brian Dameron, of Summerton, South Carolina, and April McMahon, and husband, Kirk, of Santee, South Carolina; granddaughters, Emily Lomonaco, and husband, Dean, of Santee, South Carolina, Paige McMahon, of Charleston, South Carolina, Sophia and Charlotte Madzy, of Lawrenceville, New Jersey; grandson, Bryon McMahon of Frackville, Pennsylvania; great-granddaughters, Kasandra and Mackenzie Lomonaco, of Santee, South Carolina; and a multitude of extended family.

There will be a Celebration of Life Sunday, June 30, from 1 to 5 p.m. at Historic Summerseat located at 130 Legion Avenue in Morrisville, Pennsylvania. There will be a family celebration in Cass where he will be cast into the mountains that he so loved.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be sent to Mountain State Railroad and Logging Historical Association, c/o Robert Hoke, Treasurer, 6304 Kaybro Street, Laurel, MD 20707; or Howell Living History Farm, 101 Hunter Road, Titusville, NJ 08560.

Robert Darby

Robert William Darby, of McLaren Vale, South Australia, suddenly passed away

June 8, 2022, in the Flinders Medical Centre, Adelaide, South Australia.

Rob was the loving and dearly loved husband of Mary Margaret Wooddell Darby, formerly of Green Bank, who survives him.

Born April 16, 1934, in South Australia, he was a son of the late Leslie and Ruth Darby.

Robert and his two sisters grew up in a small town along the Murray River, where his parents were involved in the dried fruit industry.

As a teenager, Rob attended Scotch College in Adelaide where he received Cadet training, and further developed his skills in tennis and Australian Rules football.

In his younger adult life he won Best and Fairest awards twice in "Aussie" football and, in time, focused on tennis, serving as Captain of tennis clubs in two areas in which he lived, having often won district championships. He remained an avid sportsman all his life.

Rob had grown up learning the business of grafting, growing and tending grapes at his parents' vineyards, and in time owned his own property near McLaren Vale where he produced choice wine grapes for the local McLaren Vale wine industries. He also had a fair-sized almond orchard, making his workload a busy one.

It was at McLaren Vale where Robert and Mary first met in February 1972, when she was traveling and working throughout Australia with two other young women. They were employed with a team of workers to hand pick grapes on his vineyard.

"Two worlds met," and in time they were dating, and before Mary left Australia to return to the States, they were promised. Mary returned to South Australia to be married to the love of her life on February 24, 1973.

Rob had become a National Serviceman in his early years and continued to be actively associated with the Nashos until recent years. As well as his various sporting clubs, he was also a member of Probus (Rotary); a Business and Community Club; the RSL (Servicemen); and was a Freemason. He continued his love of sport progressively in the areas of tennis, then golf, then lawn bowls for the rest of his life.

With his kind, good-natured ways, Rob was often referred to by his friends as "a true gentleman." He was indeed that, but also generous to those in need; helpful to his neighbors; with a funny sense of humor and forgiving nature.

He and Mary spent 49 and a half wonderful years together, Mary working as a music teacher as Rob continued his business as a vigneron and almond orchardist.

After retirement, they moved to a new home with views toward the sea, and enjoyed 25 years there. Through the years, they travelled throughout Australia and several times abroad: the UK, Canada and several U.S. states. But the most enjoyable trips were to visit Mary's folks in Green Bank and other areas.

Rob's Celebration of Life was held in Adelaide in June 2022, complete with his favorite music, family reflections, smiles, laughter, faith and respect, and attended by close family members, many dear relatives, good friends and associates.

Rob is remembered as a loving husband, brother, uncle, cousin and friend. The special kind of presence he brought to every family or friends' gathering through the years is deeply missed by everyone.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be sent to Mountain State Railroad and Logging Historical Association, c/o Robert Hoke, Treasurer, 6304 Kaybro Street, Laurel, MD 20707; or Howell Living History Farm, 101 Hunter Road, Titusville, NJ 08560.

Brandon Davis

Brandon Scott Davis, of Branchland and Pocahontas County, was born December 9, 1995 and passed away Friday, June 7, 2024, at the age of 28 years, five months and 29 days.

Funeral service will be held Friday, June 14, 2024, at noon, at Koontz Funeral Home in Hamlin with Benjie Dean officiating. Interment will be in Watson Cemetery in Branchland.

The family will receive friends from 11 a.m. until time of service.

Johnny Dean

Johnny Bruce Dean, 72, of Marlinton passed away Tuesday, June 4, 2024, at home.

Born October 1, 1951, at Hillsboro, he was a son of the late Herbert and Mary Elizabeth Brock Dean.

Johnny was the owner of Johnny's Garage and Wrecker Service, the business he established in September 1979.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by sisters, Jerilene Puffenbarger, Wanda Leverage and Shirley Dean; brothers, Leo, Berlin, Ronnie and Larry Dean; and great-grandson, Ledger Dean.

He is survived by his wife, Brenda Sue Roberts Dean; daughters, Tonya Lynn Pollack, Tabatha Dawn Mann (Rick) and Talena Michelle Doss (Mike); sons, Timothy Wayne Dean and Travis Shane Dean; grandchildren, Tristan Evans (Joe), Riley Pollack, Payton Mann, Jordan Workman (Jake), Logan Mann (Makayla), Jensen Dean, Blake Kershner, T. J. Dean, Kylee Dean and Lakyn Dean; great-grandchildren, Aubrey, Sawyer, Rayne, Jonah, Jenna, Lainey and Channing; brothers Albert Dean (Gail), Bobby Dean (Brenda) and Eugene Dean (Robin); and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral service was held Saturday, June 8, 2024, at VanReenen Funeral Home with Pastor Shaun Clark officiating.

Interment was in Emmanuel Cemetery.

Connie Douglas

Connie Jeanne Mullenax Douglas, 75, of Frank, passed from this life Friday, June 7, 2024, at her home, surrounded by her family.

Born Sunday, March 13, 1949, she was a daughter of the late Richard and Crystal Mullenax.

On March 2, 1974, she married Michael Douglas who survives. They had celebrated 50 years of marriage.

Connie was a homemaker and an accomplished poet; having had two books published.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by a grandchild, James Michael Cassell; and brother-in-law, Ray Hess.

She is survived by her three children, James "Richie" Cassell, and companion, Abby, Crissy Lambert, and Traci Beckner, and husband, David Beckner; foster daughter, Ella Woodhouse; brother, Michael Mullenax; sisters, Sonya Hess and Kelly Sager, and husband, Mike; 15 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren; and many nieces and nephews.

A memorial service will be held at Calvary Gospel Church in Durbin Saturday, June 15, 2024, at 2 p.m.

Following his retirement from DuPont, Homer enjoyed his retirement years at his home along the Greenbrier River near Cass and was very active in the Pocahontas County community.

He continued to perform with groups in Pocahontas County and the Greenbrier Valley region, and was a dedicated supporter of Allegheny Echoes Inc., participating in their summer workshops, an annual study and celebration of West Virginia and Appalachian culture and heritage. He also was a familiar voice in the mountains of Pocahontas County, lending his talents to emcee many community events and to support Allegheny Mountain Radio in its broadcast operations as a DJ and a board member.

Homer earned acclaim with his acting debut in the 2013 motion picture "Angels Perch," filmed on location in the Town of Cass, portraying Delbert, the endearing local postman who was also rather popular with the ladies. J.T. Arbogast, the film's writer and star, said of Homer's on-screen performance that he "just about stole the film away from everyone else... he'd never acted a day in his life, but you sure wouldn't have known it by his performance."

Above all else, Homer loved his family and he loved the Lord. His presence will be missed in our lives daily, but the many memories that he created with those he loved and cherished will live on forever. Thankfully, there are many videos online where his music can still be heard and his larger than life personality still shines.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by his brothers, Henry (Mary), Harry, Hansel (Carolyn), Herman and Hershel "Doc" Hunter; and sisters Roberta (Harley) Harbison and Sue Maisom.

Homer is survived by his daughter, Greta McHugh, and her husband, John, of Charleston; the joy of his life, his granddaughters, Brenda Grace, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and Olivia Rose, of Charleston; sisters-in-law, Barbara Hunter, of Millwood, Elsie Hunter, of Vienna, and Kathy Hunter, of Mason; several nieces, nephews and cousins, and countless friends.

Everyone Homer met was a new friend. The family would like to thank all those friends who called, sent cards and traveled from around the country to spend time with him this last year. Your kindness brightened his days and warmed his heart.

A memorial service will be held Saturday, June 22, 2024, at the Pocahontas County Opera House in Marlinton.

Visitation will begin at 5 p.m. with a service at 6 p.m.

Following the service, there will be an informal concert where Homer's friends will share their music and memories.

Ronald Roy

Ronald "Ron" Eldridge Roy, Sr. 78, of Marlinton, passed away Saturday, June 8, 2024, in the loving arms of his son at his home.

Born September 11, 1945, Ron grew up hunting and fishing alongside his father, brothers and the "mountain men" of Woodrow Mountain. At the age of 16, he met his life partner, Mary Lee, and, shortly after graduating high school, they married April 8, 1966. Ron was a 32nd degree Mason. He spent many years as a heavy equipment operator working for Ralph Beckwith, whom he considered a dear friend. Ron was a hard worker and a dedicated husband, father and grandfather.

He deeply believed in the importance of family, as he said "if you have common sense, work hard, and take care of your family, you will be all right."

Ron truly appreciated his simple life with his wife by his side and surrounded by as many friends and family that could fit around the kitchen table every evening.

He was preceded in death by his father, West Virginia Bow Hunters Association Hall of Fame Member Joe J. Roy; his mother, Bonnie Carr Roy; and two brothers, John E. Roy and Joe W. Roy.

Ron is survived and missed by his loving wife of 58 years, Mary Lee Roy; his children, Ron E. Roy Jr. (Georgia Roy), Ronda Rose (Gary Rose), Cindy Rogers (Mike Rogers) and William "Bill" Joseph Roy. He will be forever cherished and missed by his grandchildren, Nicole Rose-Taylor, Jennifer Chaney, Amy Pugh, Katie Arbogast, Amanda Buzzard, Tiffany Rogers-McClure, Kayla Shaw, Kendra Beavers, William Joseph Roy, Jr. and Ryan Roy; and great-grandchildren, nephews, family and friends.

In lieu of flowers, a Celebration of Life will be held Saturday, June 15, 2024, from 2 to 5 p.m. at Marlinton Senior Center.

Homer Hunter

Homer Ray Hunter, 80, of Stony Bottom, peacefully passed away Friday, March 15, 2024, surrounded by his family, following an extended illness.

Born at home May 3, 1943, in Boone County, he was a son of the late Ramie Lawrence Hunter and Zelma Baisden Hunter.

He was a proud graduate of Van High School. He maintained close relationships with those he grew up with, attending many Van High School reunions over the years.

He was a skilled masonry worker and carpenter – a hobby he continued to enjoy through the years helping countless family and friends with various projects. He began a career with E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Company (DuPont) in 1966 at DuPont's Belle plant where he spent more than two decades working alongside many friends.

After leaving the Marine Corps, Homer returned home to West Virginia. He worked in construction and was a skilled masonry worker and carpenter – a hobby he continued to enjoy through the years helping countless family and friends with various projects. He began a career with E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Company (DuPont) in 1966 at DuPont's Belle plant where he spent more than two decades working alongside many friends.

He enjoyed picking with friends at the annual Vandalia Gathering on the State Capitol Grounds each May and hosting post-Vandalia jams at his Charleston-area home for many years. What he loved the most was performing alongside his siblings, The Hunter Family, and singing the songs that the family grew up singing when their father was preaching tent revivals and church services in his native Boone County.

Following his retirement from DuPont, Homer enjoyed his retirement years at his home along the Greenbrier River near Cass and was very active in the Pocahontas County community. # A legacy

A bench in memory of Bobby Dunz was dedicated Saturday, June 9, at Stillwell Park. Dunz was a long-time supporter of Little League. He umpired games, was involved in youth sports and an adult softball league, and was very active in the community.

The following was published in the June 14, 1973 edition of The Pocahontas Times:

THANKS BOBBY

It takes a unique person to be UMPIRE for Little League games. It not only takes a lot of time, but it takes knowledge of and application of all the Rules. It takes courage and endless patience to call at least four games each week and not talk back to the parents and the other spectators, who always seem to be able to call the game better than the UMPIRE.

We, in Marlinton, are fortunate in having Bobby Dunz as our UMPIRE. He does an outstanding job. He not only devotes at least four evenings a week in umpiring the games, he also keeps the field in condition to play. All of our Little Leaguers look up to Bob and respect his calls even though they don't always agree with him. We could not have a successful league without him because I don't think we could ever find anyone to replace him. He doesn't get any compensation for the work and time he devotes to Little League and seldom does he even get a much-deserved word of encouragement or "well done, Bobby" from the spectators.

He volunteers his service without any thought of compensation. If we had more people like him, we certainly would have a better community.

So, we want to THANK YOU, BOBBY, and let you know that you are appreciated by Little League Officers, Managers, Coaches and Players.

single one of the numbered plates and we will put each one of those online for a five-day auction," Arnett said. "We are encouraging our customers to surf through the pictures, find the one that they like in particular and bid on that plate."

The process of making the plates is very uniform, but as it is with all handmade items, the plates will have small variations.

After Arnett settled on the design, the mold was hand carved by mold maker Daniel Chapman. Then the pieces were hand-blown in the hot shop.

"That's the tightrope that we walk," Arnett said of the uniformity. "Everything we make, every single product we make is handmade, and we want to conform, of course, to predictable expectations, but it's always just a little variable. One of the most beautiful things about these plates is every single one of them picks up that white color and that pattern in a slightly different way. Some of them become sort of galaxies and nebulas. Some have clear white lines. Across the board, they're remarkable to look at."

The auction will go live on the Blenko website on June 15 at blenko.com

The companion pieces are available for purchase now online.

Blenko also has an exhibit – Blenko Now – opening this summer at the Birke Art Gallery at Marshall University. It will be open June 21 through August 26 and will feature a selection of contemporary designs from 2020 to present day.

A shooting affair is reported to have occurred last Saturday west of Frost between Enos Sharp and an unknown party, but no injury resulted as the shots and rocks went wild. So much for having a charmed life.

A party of gypsies encamped near C. L. Moore's sugar camp a few days last week, and from their ear marks they are natives of Augusta county; reared near Staunton — Virginians by nature, but gypsies by practice.

Tuesday of last week a surgical operation for bone erysipelas was performed in the case of Miss Rachel Moore, on Brown's mountain, by Dr. Cunningham, assisted by Ligon Marshall and John Yeager, medical students. When last heard from, the patient was doing well.

Sam Collins, who was indicted last term for felony, upon a charge of robbing his father-in-law of $100 while they were sleeping in the same room, was arrested and lodged in jail last week by R. K. Burns and J. F. Hill. They went to his place opposite the Levels and caught sight of him disappearing in the brush on his mule. They then made a feint of leaving and, coming back unexpectedly at noon, took him as he was eating dinner. He has retained T. S. McNeil as counsel, and says he is not guilty.

Last week, R. K. Burns went up on Droop Mountain on the turnpike for a load of slate. While he was loading, one of the horses put his head through the lines and when he started, the teams and wagon went over the bank, turning over a time or two. The wagon was badly Academy, is the president of the bank. He is known as one of the safest and most conservative business men of the county...

The stock is all held by Greenbrier and Pocahontas people, some of the wealthiest men of both counties being identified with the enterprise. The expected railroad development is the cause of the bank being established here, but its continuance does not depend upon a railroad by any means.

Jesse Hill, of Brownsburg, killed a crane that was 5 feet high and 7 feet from tip to tip. It whipped two dogs after it was wounded.

Last week whilst K. D. Swecker was carrying the mail to the railroad men on Greenbrier river, he killed a rattlesnake not quite as large as a horse.

There was a little fight Saturday between the Spaniards and Hungarians in the Hill country near Lewis Carpenter's. So far no one was killed.

The singing at Liberty Sunday was largely attended. There will be an all day sing at the Wanless schoolhouse on Sunday, June 25th, commencing at 10 a. m. Dinner on the ground. All come out and bring your books. Singing at Liberty July 2 at 2 p.m. Singing all day at Oak Grove Sunday, July 9th. Dinner on the ground.

In April 1872, he brought his family to Dunmore, which has been their home for more than 27 years. Colonel and Mrs. Prichard were the parents of seven sons and five daughters. Three have gone before. Robert, Charles, William, Mrs. John Hevener, Frank, Rese, Frederick, Ella and Cornelia are the surviving children.

About four years since, Colonel Prichard united with the Baxter Presbyterian church on profession of his faith in Christ...

Meeting Mrs. Dorise

by Dawn Reed

Some of Jesus' last words were "Go, go, and be."

• "Go and make disciples of all nations..." Matthew 28:19.

• "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to all creation," Mark 16:15.

• "Be my witnesses..." Acts 1:8.

I met an embodiment of those words at Horsecave Baptist Church two weeks ago.

Mrs. Dorise Phillips made her way down the center aisle in turquoise and white. Her white hair was perfectly done. What got my attention was her smile and her necklace. It was big, chunky, and fabulous. She certainly knew how to accessorize. Someone introduced us, including that she had been a missionary years ago. I was immediately smitten.

The service was about to start. I only had a few minutes so quickly asked Mrs. Dorise as many questions as I could.

Now 93, she had served as a missionary with her husband, Marshall, in the 1960s. They spent several years in Nairobi, Kenya. I was thrilled to connect with her. I have been on two mission trips to Nairobi, Kenya, in the last few years with World Hope.

Due to a grave health problem of one of her children back then, the Mission Board insisted that they return to the United States.

As she spoke, I could see her pondering those difficult days. It had been an unexpected turn of events. Even though they had returned to the US, their life of ministry was not over. Mrs. Dorise told me she and her husband served at Cedarmore (Crossings) for years. We both were talking at once. I still had more to ask but church was getting started. I turned around as the service began, still soaking up her words.

My beloved and I were visiting that Sunday. We had come to hear our dear friend and mentor, Dan Garland, who is serving as interim pastor at Horsecave. I cherish each opportunity to hear Bro. Dan preach. From Hebrews 12, he shared good words for grads and the rest of us. (I made notes all over the margins of my Bible.)

After the service, I asked Mrs. Dorise to sign my Bible. She was quite surprised. My beloved and I have a heart for veterans. When we see someone wearing a military hat, we thank them for their service. I felt the same about this lovely missionary from decades ago. "Thank you for your service," I gushed, hugged her tight, and asked to take a selfie.

Ninety-three and a beautiful example of still serving her Lord. Mrs. Doris was an unexpected blessing. I love it when God puts puzzle pieces together.

With a faraway look, she spoke in a soft voice, "I sometimes wonder if our work made a difference." That is probably a common pondering among missionaries when they look back. Results are not always measurable. We are planting, someone else is watering, and God, of course, is giving the increase.

When my beloved and I surrendered to the Lord in 2006, we thought we would be going to feed poor people in Africa. (Wasn't that where all missionaries went?) Instead, God sent us 30 minutes up the road to help feed poor people in Pike County. Now we serve in Floyd County. We are called to be "on mission" wherever we are.

Where is your mission field?

250 years, is Fort Warwick, located in Green Bank. Bob Sheets, who owns the land on which the fort was built, spoke about the upcoming 250th anniversary celebration at the fort.

"Two-hundred, fifty years ago – yes, there were people here and they needed protection, so the colony of Virginia sent twenty-five men from Stauton, Virginia, to the headwaters of Deer Creek and they built a stockade, they built a fort," he said. "We've been doing archeology there for almost twenty years now."

On June 22 and 23, Fort Warwick will have a celebration with six archeologists leading digs on the site, artisans will be on hand to demonstrate crafts and skills from the era, live music will be performed by Juanita Fireball and the Continental Drifters and a fife and drum corps and a pioneer lunch will be served.

The event will culminate with a ceremony performed by the Pocahontas County Veterans Honor Corps at the Warwick Cemetery.

To honor all the birthdays and anniversaries in the county, Bennett asked the crowd to join in singing Happy Birthday led by the guest band for the evening,

It takes a lot of preparation for the StoryWalk and the librarians have to break one of the cardinal rules of books – ripping them apart.

"It's not often that librarians tear apart books," Herold said, laughing. "We order three copies of the book because it takes two copies to make the trail and then we want to have a copy in the li-

After that First Friday, the book was then moved to start at the Greenbrier River Trailhead in Marlinton, down the trail to Main Street, through the businesses of Main Street and onto Second Avenue, ending at Discovery Junction.

The next book was placed last Friday and is a West Virginia book titled "M is for Mountain State."

This year, the other libraries in Pocahontas County are getting involved and will have trails, as well.

"Since we will be doing a different story for each First Friday and there are five of those, the five libraries will have five different stories that can move around the different communities," Herold said.

Energy Express ~ ready for a dynamic summer

Marlinton Elementary School has, once again, opened its doors to WVU Extension Energy Express – AmeriCorps program, a dynamic summer initiative designed to bolster children's reading skills and provide nutritious meals during the summer break.

The site, part of West Virginia University's statewide initiative, is spearheaded by a dedicated team committed to making a positive impact on local students. Leading the charge is Site Supervisor Devan Gum, who brings years of educational experience and a passion for literacy to the program. Working alongside Devan is AmeriCorps member and Community Coordinator Emma Dean, whose role is crucial in fostering connections between the program and the local community. Emma will be instrumental in organizing volunteer efforts and ensuring that the program meets the unique needs of families in the community.

The heart of the program lies with its four enthusiastic AmeriCorps members and mentors: Ethan Armstrong, Macaden Taylor, Amanda Burns and Peyton Friel.

These mentors provide individualized attention and engage students in a variety of enriching activities. Their dedication and energy are essential to the program's success, as they inspire children to explore new ideas and develop a love for learning.

Energy Express at Marlinton Elementary runs for six weeks, offering daily sessions that include reading, writing, drama, art and recreational activities and providing breakfast and lunch, ensuring that students receive the nutrition they need to thrive.

We are currently accepting donations of "found objects," such as toilet paper rolls, cardboard, plastic containers and more.

We are also in search of volunteers willing to read and assist with the program.

tion, call Emma Dean at 304-992-9441. With the combined efforts of the site supervisor, community coordinator and mentors, Energy Express is set to make a meaningful difference in Pocahontas County this summer.

Energy Express would not be possible without the following partners: WVU Extension Service, WVU STEAM, 4-H Youth Development, Volunteer West Virginia, The State's Commission for National and Community Service, WV Department of Education and the Arts, WV Department of Education, the Office of Child Nutrition, AmeriCorps and countless local partners including the Pocahontas County Board of Education and the Family Resource Network.

O'Brien told the commission that the original concept was to build the 911 Center with the EMS bays to be optional additions.

Commissioner John Rebinski said his plan is to build the EMS part first, then with the funds left over and any additional funding, to slowly implement the 911 Center. He assured O'Brien that this is just a "baby step" approach and the 911 Center will definitely eventually be built.

O'Brien remarked that Rebinski's approach might be viewed as a violation of their funding by the Public Service Commission since they put up $300,000 to pay for engineering of the 911 Center.

O'Brien was authorized by the commission to enter into a contract with James Boggs so that Boggs, through his company Geotistics LLC, can continue to assist the 911 Center with 911 addressing. Boggs had worked for the 911 Center in the past as a county mapper for 911 addressing.

The commission approved the contract with the Reclaim Company to demolish the former BOE Office building and also approved the notice to proceed with the project. Reclaim President R. S. Williams said it might take 45 days for them to start but then the project will be completed in 10 to 14 days.

The commission also:

- awarded the only bid received, from Mitchell Chevrolet, for a 2024 Chevrolet Equinox at a cost of $29,595, for the assessor's office.

- discussed, but delayed making a decision until the next regular meeting, on a haymaking contract for the East Fork Property.

- discussed tax problems encountered by the County Senior Citizens regarding employee withholding taxes, which the commission said is intolerable, but they want to discuss it with them at a future meeting.

- approved the assessor's personal property and land books for 2024. This is a routine annual approval.

- approved utility rights-of-way for the new 911 Center with both PMH and Seneca Health Services.

- approved distribution of the $125,581.40 state-awarded EMS Salary Enhancement Funds among the six qualifying ambulance organizations in accordance with the number of calls each handled.

Special Meeting

During the Friday, June 7, Special Commission Meeting, Commission President Walt Helmick led a discussion about the proposed construction of a courthouse annex. He said he has given up on the idea of demolishing the old jail building behind the courthouse and building the new judicial courthouse annex on that site. As Helmick put it:

"After a while, you realize that you can't live long enough to get that place off the National Registry of Historic Places."

Helmick went on to explain that he feels that, years ago, the county commission mistakenly and wrongly included the jail on the registry, so now it is time to move on with a new site for the annex, and let the old jail remain and fall down on its own. He said he and Alan Wright from the assessor's office have found a piece of ground to the left of the courthouse and jail just across Judge Street from the courthouse. The lot contains one run-down old house which will need to be demolished, according to Helmick. He said the property consists of five town lots and it will be an ideal spot to build the badly needed new annex.

Helmick led everyone outside to look at the lot, which is located behind - but does not include - the big white house on the corner of 10th Avenue and Judge Street, just East of the front of the courthouse. There appears to be sufficient room to build a 4,500 to 5,000 square foot annex on it. It also appears to be on somewhat higher ground than the courthouse.

One problem, Helmick explained, is that there is an undeveloped town right-of-way running right through the middle of the lot. Marlinton Mayor Sam Felton said he would speak to the Town Council and propose that they consider abandoning that short, unused right-of-way. Helmick also said he will need to examine the new FEMA Flood Map to ensure the lot is above the flood zone, but believes it is. He said those questions would need to be answered before he proposes the commission vote on the purchase of the lot.

The commission voted to ask the Marlinton Town Council to abandon their right-of-way through the proposed lots.

Helmick said the owner of the lot is asking $87,000 for the lot, and demolishing the old house there might cost another $10,000, so the total cost appears to be less than $100,000 to purchase and prepare the site. Obviously, this does not include the cost of construction and equipping the annex building.

When Helmick asked for public comment, Jay Miller, the Democratic nominee for county commission, spoke out. Miller talked about the attempt by then commissioner Rita Griffith 14 years ago to build a courthouse annex. He said that Martin Saffer and David Fleming, the other commissioners, as well as Dolan Irvine, then the county assessor didn't support the courthouse annex project, and after much debate and controversy, the annex was rejected in favor of making needed repairs and improvements to the courthouse, which included installing the elevator which is still in use.

Miller also pointed out that there are other ways to maximize the use of space and store records in the courthouse, short of building an annex, especially since the population of the county is decreasing. The fireworks began when Miller said "Now, we have a situation where Walt Helmick, with about six months to go in his term, wants to buy a piece of property near the courthouse, that can be used to start work on his dream of a courthouse annex."

That set Helmick off, and he responded angrily, cutting Miller off and accused him of political motives. Helmick told Miller to ask the other two commissioners how they felt.

"Whether they buy it or not, I don't care!" Helmick said angrily. "But I do oppose those kinds of statements made about me after having served 50 years in this county without ever looking at one dime of personal gain for Walt Helmick!"

When Miller tried to respond by talking about the rush Helmick appears to be in to get the annex built, Helmick cut him off, and speaking over Miller said,

"Ask the other two what I asked you to ask, because I am going to adjourn this meeting pretty dang quick!"

Miller did ask the other commissioners, and while Rebinski's answer seemed to justify the project, Commissioner Jamie Walker appeared to have some reservations, but needed more information.

The special meeting was quickly adjourned.

He recommended that the Authority begin by putting out a request for proposal (RFP) for a consultant, an attorney, getting a preliminary engineering report, and establishing a budget.

Tuttle told them they will also need to develop an interim plan to enable them to continue disposing of garbage once the landfill closes because grant funding will not likely be received before the landfill closes down.

Also at the meeting:

- SWA Office Administrator Mary Clendenen delivered a financial report in which she said as of the end of April, their budget is still on track with 83% of the budget year complete. She said they experienced a $38,201 loss in April, which was anticipated.

- They discussed their pending request to the Public Service Commission (PSC) to raise their tipping fee. That approval is still pending, and the PSC is asking for more documentation, so it could take several more months to be approved. However, the PSC has green-lighted their Green Box fee increase.

- They decided to take no action regarding new employees being required to pay a share of their PEIA Medical Insurance, fearing it could make hiring more difficult.

- They agreed to explore using Hydro-Turf at the landfill instead of top soil to cap the cells. Hydro-Turf is a synthetic fill similar to the AstroTurf used on football fields. They said it is cheaper than top soil, it can also eliminate the need for a top liner, and it works better on steep grades.

- Prosecuting Attorney Terri Helmick has notified the SWA she doesn't have time to prepare the deed for the County Commission's purchase of the landfill.

On the bipartisan Back to Work Act:

"I want to talk about bringing federal employees back to work," he said. "Senator Romney and I have introduced a piece of legislation that would require federal employees to be in their office at work at least 60% of the time. At the Bureau of the Fiscal Service in Parkersburg, West Virginia, people only have to be there two days a pay period... It is absolutely ridiculous, and it's destroying our economy."

In May 2024, Manchin and Romney introduced the bipartisan Back to Work Act, which would limit telework to no more than 40% of days within an employee's pay period and require agencies to report to Congress on the productivity of its telework activities.

A status hearing was held in the case of the State vs Michael Beverage, Jr., 37, of Marlinton, wherein defense counsel advised the court that the defendant was in a rehab program and asked for a continuance to allow him to complete the program and consider any negotiations with the State. Beverage was indicted on one count, child neglect creating risk of serious bodily injury, a felony.

Roger W. Teter, Jr., 50, of Dunmore, tendered a written plea agreement to the court in April, at a June 6 hearing, the court adjudged him guilty of the misdemeanor offense of petit larceny. Teter was placed on probation for one year. No restitution; court costs were assessed as judgment.

David Mace, 38, of Marlinton, appeared by video from the Tygart Valley Regional Jail for his plea hearing. Mace entered no contest pleas of guilty to two counts

SALE OF DELINQUENT AND NONENTERED LANDS

Notice is hereby given that the following described tracts or lots of land in the County of POCAHONTAS have been certified by the Auditor of the State of West Virginia to G. Russell Rollyson, Jr., Deputy Commissioner of Delinquent and Nonentered lands of said County, for sale at public auction. The lands will be offered for sale by the undersigned Deputy Commissioner at public auction in the Hallway at Pocahontas County Courthouse on the 3rd of July, 2024 at 2:30 p.m.

Each tract or lot, as described below, will be sold to the highest bidder. The payment for any tract or lot purchased at a sale shall be made by check or money order payable to the sheriff of the county and delivered before the close of business on the day of the sale. If any of said tracts or lots remain unsold after the auction, they will be subject to sale by the Deputy Commissioner without additional advertising or public auction. The deputy commissioner sale may include tracts of lots remaining unsold from a previous auction not required by law to be readvertised and described for this subsequent auction of those same tracts and lots. All sales are subject to the approval of the Auditor of the State of West Virginia.

FIELD NOTES

It was at the end of a tedious day. I was still tied to a post. The office chair was hard. I was in conference with a man from the settlements. The topic under consideration was financial credit. My mind was over the hills and far away. Who should drive by but a pair of fishing ladies in the persons of Mrs. John Sydenstricker and Mrs. Alice Kramer Jackson. They carried as fine a catch of big trout as I have seen this year. Where they took them and by what lure, it was none of my business to know nor inquire. Right or wrong, I have an idea of both where and how. Any way, it is good to see people, especially ladies, come in with such fine catches of trout. What with water and air conditions and crowds of people attending on the streams this season, trout fishing has not been so hot.

In recent months, panthers have been seen on Gladys Fork of Cranberry, on Big Elk River, on Bucks Mountain near Marlinton and on Alleghany Mountain above Frost.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Q. Moore, of Huntersville, a daughter, named Linda Ellen.

THAT DAD OF MINE

He's "slowing" down as some folks say,

With the burden of years from day to day;

His brow bears many a furrowed line;

He's growing old, that Dad of mine.

His shoulders droop and his step is slow

And his hair is white – as white as snow,

But his kind eyes sparkle with friendly light,

And his smile is warm and his heart is right.

He's old! Oh, yes! but only in years.

For his spirit soars as the sunset nears

And blest I've been, and wealth I've had

In knowing a man like my old Dad.

And proud I am to stand by him,

As he stood by me when the day was dim;

I've found him worthy and just as fine,

And a prince of men, that Dad of mine.
