Around Calhoun by Bill Bailey

many folks noticed the information that was placed above the masthead of the Chronicle two weeks ago. It was an attempt to get the point across that vaccines are crucial in our battle with COVID-19.

I will now reiterate, "Odds of Dying: Vaccine - 1 in a million; from COVID-19 - 1 in 55."

While the odds of you, personally, not contracting the virus are in your favor while you are in Calhoun County, and wearing a mask when in close proximity to others (Calhoun still has the lowest number of infections in the state), if by chance you would still happen to get COVID-19 you are in extreme danger of dying or suffering long-term after effects of the virus.

If you receive your vaccination, you have a one in a million chance of dying. Sounds like the same odds of winning the lottery, doesn't it? Improve your odds of living while giving your loved ones better odds too. Get vaccinated!

There comes a time in everyone's life when they must look at both sides of what is happening and decide, for themselves, what is truth and what is lies. That time has passed, and we are now running out of time to make things #### right for everyone. * * * *

There are rumors flying about that Family Resource Network (FRN) is moving. That is not a rumor, it is a fact.

I spoke with Tina Persinger, director, who told me that they are moving to the building on Main St. where John

I am not certain how Oshoway maintained his law practice.

They hope to have the food pantry opened in the new building very soon and, after some remodeling in the basement, will be re-opening their thrift shop.

All of this work, and it is a lot of work, will have FRN back in business in early June, just after the Wood Festival.

Keep reading the Chronicle, as we will be updating this story as it unfolds.

Calhoun County High School's girls basketball team was defeated last Thursday at the tournament in Charleston, ending a season of record proportions.

All I can say is this, "You may have lost the game, but you won over a lot of hearts. We are all so very proud of all of your accomplishments!"

Now, back to reality. With many states opening back up as if this pandemic was over, I ask everyone to watch the evening news or read something reliable somewhere.

This virus is raging in India, Brazil and other places that have not had our access to a vaccine.

Why that should really matter to us is that populations where the virus is replicating, like a fire through broom sage, are places where multitudes of variants will promulgate, and then spread to other countries, like ours.

A vaccine that is effective against COVID-19 may or may not work against new variants coming from countries far away.

It may come to where we stand now, with influenza vaccines for which you get a booster every year.

A banquet was given on Saturday evening in honor of the 127th birthday of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, at the lodge hall in Grantsville. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Rev. H.A. Grandstaff, followed by a delightful dinner that was served by members of the Rebekah lodge.

An interesting talk was given by Hon. S.P. Bell of Spencer on the history of Odd Fellowship. Mr. Bell was a charter member of the Grantsville lodge. District Deputy Grand Master Dr. W.C. Camp of Spencer dismissed the meeting with a prayer.

Following the banquet, the I.O.O.F. re-opened their regular lodge meeting and gave the initiatory degree to the following candidates: Gale Hathaway, Dale Fowler, Billie Roberts, Leonard Tingler, Forest Roberts, and Murl Faulkner, and reinstated Cleo Kingsbury.

Those present at the banquet were: Rev. H.A. Grandstaff, Rev. O.H. Logan, H. Paige Bell, Jr., S.A. Bradfield, H.F. Sawyer, Charles Stout, Mr. and Mrs. Lennie R. Sturm, S.P. Bell, Claud Wease, H.W. Wines, W.H. Cooper, Darrell Hathaway, Ida Morrison, Thursa Harris, Emogene Tingler, Oscar Hathaway,

Last week's column on Presidential Trivia has an interesting side note. I thank Bill Moore for calling it to my attention, with trivia on trivia, so to speak.

Bill wrote:

Dr. Wilson: I always enjoy your articles. I read Linn Fogle and Foster Poling, prominent young the one in the Index-Journal about the swearing in of Calvin Coolidge in the dead of night. A couple of years ago, my daughter and I spent a few hours at the Coolidge home complex in Plymouth Notch, Vt., and highly recommend a visit. It's true that messengers brought word after everyone was in bed, and that his father (a notary public) administered the oath of office to his son in the living room. As I understood our guide, that one didn't count. Only a member of Congress or the Supreme Court is allowed to administer the oath, and he wasn't president until he reached Washington and was sworn in a second time. His father was never told of the matter, and died thinking he had sworn his tinuous mining machine erate spy "Belle" Boyd son into office. That's a trivial bit you may wish to verify

In verifying, here's what Wikipedia had to say:

On Aug. 2, 1923, President Harding died unexpectedly from a heart attack in San Francisco, while on a speaking tour of the western United States. Vice President Coolidge was in Vermont visiting his family home, which had neither electricity, nor a telephone, when he received word by messenger of Harding's death. The new president dressed, said a prayer, and came downstairs to greet reporters who had assembled. His father, a notary public and justice of the peace, administered the oath of office in the family's parlor by the light of a kerosene lamp at 2:47 a.m. on Aug. 3, 1923, and Coolidge then returned to bed as president.

Coolidge returned to Washington the next day, and was sworn in again by Justice Adolph A. Hoehling, Jr., of the District of Columbia, to forestall any questions about the authority of a state official to administer a federal oath. This second oath-taking remained a secret until it was revealed by Harry M. Daugherty in 1932, and confirmed by Hoehling.

So, it is verified. Calvin Coolidge was known as "Silent Cal," because unlike some politicians, he didn't say very much. I particularly like the story told by the writer Dorothy Parker. Seated by President Coolidge at a dinner party, she said to the president that she had a bet with a friend that, during the course of the meal, she could make him say more than five words.

He said only two . . . "You lose."

C.P.S. (Curious Postscript): "George Washington is the only president who didn't blame the previous administration."

Von Yoak has been heard to say, on several occasions, that his mother "wears him out." After all, Fannie is only 85, and at that age, she can outdo and outgo lots of others half her age.

Since May 9 is Mother's Day, we've given a little thought to all kinds of mothers. For example, Sue McCoy's mother, Irene White, is so young and pretty, she's often thought to be Sue's sister.

Geneva Sears even buys a Mother's Day present for her daughter. She says it's for the grandchildren to give to their mother, but knowing Geneva, we rather suspect that it's at least in part because she's happy to be a grandmother.

It takes all kinds. Even way back in the Dark Ages, we had a mother. If parents are the architects Planning of their children (especially mothers), then she must be given credit (or blame) for what we am today. One thing that she taught was independence.

Surely the most important task for parents is that Middle/High School audi- plan. they make themselves obsolete, as parents, by the time torium. their offspring reach adulthood.

It's always sad to see parents who contrive to to make their children dependent upon them, socially, financially, psychologically, any way. Push them out of the nest. "It's your problem," our mother often said, and I'm glad that she forced us to self-discipline early in life, rather than trying to make decisions for us.

Since it's May and flower season, I've got some May tips for you to help you have better flowers.

The secret to compact beautiful mums is to pinch back or trim about half of the plants new growth. Repeat this until the first week of July, and be sure to water and fertilize regularly.

If you have flowers planted near large trees, and they don't seem to get enough water, look for a product called Soil Moist With Water retaining crystals. Just poke holes in the ground around each plant and drop in a few granules--and presto! The plants get a good drink before the tree roots soak up all the water. You can work the granules into the soil whenever you plant June annuals, trees, shrubs or bushes. This product really works.

When your Easter lily is all done blooming, don't throw it out. Let it dry, cut off the old foliage, and plant it in a partly sunny spot in your garden. It will grow and bloom again. Don't forget to water it as it feels dry.

Do you have some begonias that you are tired of digging up every fall? On your next digging expedition, put them in pots. You can stick the pots in the ground or leave them on top of the ground. In the fall, just each month at 6 p.m. before the first frost, take the pots inside. Place them in a cool room over the winter. As spring approaches, and you see signs of life, start to water them. When the danger of frost has passed, you can pot them outside once again. To make your coleus plants bigger and bushier, pinch off the flowers when they start to spoil. If you don't, your plants will grow tall, instead of spreading out. When checking the area where your springblooming bulbs are growing (that would be crocuses, daffodils and tulips), and you find a plant missing, I have a solution. Mark that spot by pressing a small tuna can or cat food can upside down, with the bottom intact, into the spot. This will kill the grass or weeds underneath, and reminds you to fill that space in the fall. If you are gathering seeds to save to grow for the next year, always take them from the largest and healthiest blooms or plants. Leave the flower on the plant until it is completely faded and the seed head is dry. Then, remove the head and place it on a paper towel to really dry. When you are sure that they are completely dry, shake out the seeds and store them in glass containers in a cool, dry place. Don't use plastic containers. Happy Mother's Day!

My Home Among the Hills

Goodbye, April; hello, May!

I must say that I enjoyed flipping the calendar this weekend. May is a crazy, hectic month, but it is also the last full month of school. Summer vacation is just about a month away. This has been a year like no other, and we have definitely earned some time off to relax and rejuvenate. We have five weeks left, and I am determined to finish strong.

This was an exciting week at school. We started off the week by giving the Lady Red Devils a big send off as they headed to Charleston for the state tournament. I was so proud of how the county came out to support the team. Calhoun County may be small, but we have a lot of heart.

busses left for Charleston to cheer on our team, as they played in the first round of the tournament. Those of to watch the game. We thought that we would be able commenced him some fine shirts. I have a number to to watch a live stream, but the powers that be shut us make for him. down before the game began.

There was some quick scrambling to figure out how to view or listen to the game. I was able to subscribe to the official channel that had permission to air the game, and we were watching when the game began.

The Lady Devils played a whale of a game that had my whole classroom screaming and cheering right along with all of the fans actually at the game. When the final whistle blew, this special team had made history once again and was on its way to the semifinal game on Thursday.

After eating lunch and catching my breath, I had another treat in store on Tuesday afternoon. The Glenville College Jazz Band was scheduled to give a performance in the auditorium. It felt so good to sit in the auditorium again. Yes, we were socially distanced and wearing masks, but it still felt like a step back towards normalcy in some form. The jazz band was great, and I enjoyed their show immensely.

I put my Wednesday to good use once again. It is hard to believe that I only have four weeks of lesson plans left to write. That's exciting and alarming at the same time.

May is always a busy month, and I still have a few activities that I want to accomplish before I say goodbye to my current classes. I know that everything will come together in the end, but it is definitely nice to have time to plan each week.

Thursday, our fan busses loaded up once again and headed to Charleston. The game was later in the day this time, so 1st and 2nd block were normal classes. Many of my students were once again at the game, so we reviewed for an upcoming quiz, and then the students worked on a research project that was due soon

At 11:00, I took advantage of my monthly subscription, and put the game on in my classroom. Most of the students and teachers on the top floor joined us to cheer on the Lady Red Devils.

I think everybody in the county was trying to watch the game, because the internet kept buffering. It was frustrating to say the least, but we managed to see most of the game. While we didn't get the win, our girls played their hearts out until the final buzzer. They made us all so proud!

Most of the writing is by Amie Evaline Sexton Silcott, who provides a history of the people and places in and around Calhoun County, Arnoldsburg in particular, during the mid-1800s.)

Does Eliza Brooks<sup>6</sup> & Alva<sup>7</sup> visit you often, & are they friendly? Does Eliza have any beaux? Had you much fruit this fall? & how are you getting along? Will pa teach this winter? And what are you all doing?

It appears to me that I think little or nothing Tuesday morning, bright and early, two fan of your affairs. I wish, Mother, you were here a few weeks. We could all find so much to talk about. Louisa & I have a plenty of work to do. Louisa is us who stayed behind gathered in various classrooms making Perry a very nice satin vest & I have Stay Informed and Be Heard

> How do Almira & Jackson get along, or does Almira think with me that she will be an old maid. I think it probable I shall live single, & not venture my frail bark upon the turbulent sea of matrimony.

> I have not seen George [Silcott] for several weeks. You need not be afraid of my marrying him. I would not begin to have him. You may think I am too particular, but better be so particular as to never marry, than to not marry well. I have not heard from Cal very the rest of my letter until tomorrow. I am writing by candle light.

Friday morning 27

Dear Mother

I am really ashamed of what I wrote last evening, but it was written by a very dim light. We are well but bad colds. How are you all. I hope you are well & happy. I wish I had something to write you which would interest you, but I have not. I do not feel like writing to day. Tell Rosanna<sup>8</sup> I intend writing her soon. I intended to have written her long ago. I wish Harriet & Josephine would write to me.

I may teach this winter. I have not yet concluded. Tom objects to my teaching. Guess I wont ask him. Floyd steps around as large as life, is very independent, & think a great deal of his Anna, as he calls me, since he is weaned. Sis talks almost constantly about you all. Give my love to all, especially Virginia & family. Wish Freeman & Virginia would write to me. Excuse. In haste

Feb. 10, 1858

Thursday noon

My Dear Mother

I have just dismissed my scholars for dinner. When this week is finished I shall have taught three weeks. I did not commence my school as soon as I contemplated. I have a small school now, only twelve or 13. Yet as soon as Mr Stephenson, who teaches below here, has finished his school I shall have more scholars. I do not care about having a very large school.

My health is not very good yet. I have a very pleasant & easy school to teach, & on Saturdays I wish for Monday to come. Even if I did not earn over twenty five dollars that would pay for my clothing next summer. Would pay for all I need to wear on French Creek. But I shall have a larger school in two or three weeks. My school room is very comfortable & Perry will not allow me to walk when it is wet & muddy, although the distance is not only about half as far as from father's to Dr. Brooks. Perry says that I might as well ride every day. Your letter which I received last Sunday, gave me much pleasure, as do all of your letters. I do wish you could write every week. You spoke of George's being so well pleased at what you told him. I suppose the principal occasion of it was that he thought he could teaze me with it. It was almost the first thing he told me on reaching home, & now when I tell him about my going home he will say Oh, he is going up there, that you would be much happier to see him, as you like him best. I dont see why it is, but it is the fact that he cares more about going to F Creek than any other place.

Public participation is an important element in cases before the Public Service Commission.

When one of your utility companies requests a change that will affect your service or what you pay for that service, you have a right to know what is at stake and to voice your opinion to the PSC, and we want to hear from you.

I recommend three actions to keep you informed about PSC cases. The first is to sign up to receive notice when documents are filed in the case.

On the PSC website: www.psc.state.wv.us, click recently. I would not begin to have him. I will defer on Case Subscriptions under the Formal Case Information heading. You will need to create an account that will enable you to track as many cases as you wish.

> Then, log in and follow the prompts to add a subscription. Once you do this, you will receive an email update every time a non-restricted document is filed in that case.

> Secondly, you should file a comment about the case. On the PSC website under the Inside the PSC heading, click on Submit a Comment. On the next screen, select Formal Case and follow the prompts.

> In the Select a High Profile Case field, choose a case from the dropdown menu or enter the case number. Be sure to include the hyphen; for example: 21-0000. Then, type what you want to say regarding the case.

> If you prefer, you may send a letter to the commission, fully expressing your concerns or support for a particular case (be sure to reference the utility company and the case number).

> Send your letter to: Public Service Commission of West Virginia, Office of the Executive Secretary, 201 Brooks St., Charleston, WV 25301.

> Finally, you have the option of watching the hearing. Most hearings before the commission involving large utility companies are livestreamed on our website.

> Under the Inside the PSC heading, click on Commission Webcast, then click View Hearing. Depending on your web browser, you may need to click the link at the bottom of the page that will take you to our YouTube channel. We look forward to hearing from you.

Patient Registration For Medical Cannabis Cards For Those Eligible

Friday was a relatively normal school day. My students took their quiz and submitted their re-search projects. By the time that the last bell rang, I was excited about cheering on another group of our students, who never fail to make us proud.

I attended the spring concert called, "A Year to Remember," and I loved every minute of it. We have some very talented students, who can sing, dance, twirl, play instruments, and put on quite a show.

It was a great way to end the week, and I left the building proud to be a teacher in Calhoun County.

I spent the weekend doing some work around my house and helping my sister organize the parents' garage. Maricia also planted some pretty flowers in flower boxes on both their front and back decks.

On Saturday night, we had our first of many campfires in their backyard. We even saw the first lightning bugs of the summer. May is shaping up to be a busy month, but I can see the light at the end of the tunnel, and it will be here before I know it.

We've Put Our Promises In Writing! "A Promise is a Promise!"

Proverbs 22:6 . . . We believe in it . . .

We promise to provide the best in quality education in a caring, Christian environment at Little Kanawha Valley Christian School, "a promise is a promise." We've even put our promises in writing so that you, our Christian school parents, can know what to expect from your Christian school.

We promise to strive to make the most of every day and to give your student a quality education.

That means we are committed to excellence in our academics and in our life skills program. By God's grace and with His help, you'll receive a maximum effort from our highly qualified and dedicated faculty.

We promise to teach the Bible to your student every day.

God's Word is important to your home and to our Christian school, so you will not find us taking shortcuts in this area. By the way, it isn't enough to just teach the Word of God; you'll find our faculty committed to living it as examples of

We promise to have times of prayer every day.

Prayer doesn't belong in our school just for some pre-determined, scheduled time. Prayer belongs in our school whenever needs arise. This trains our children to look beyond themselves and towards the Source of our (their) faith and strength.

We promise to teach your student Biblical morality every day.

We live in a society where many young people are growing up without any direction as to right and wrong. Our children need to know God's unchanging absolutes that are taught in His Word. If they aren't taught the right way to live, the world will teach them otherwise.

We promise to teach your student the meaning of godly, Christian character. We believe in training students to be responsible, diligent, determined, decisive, loyal, punctual, grateful, truthful, forgiving, patient, serving, and kind. This is teaching that goes into the heart and mind. This is the teaching that leads to our next generation of responsible and giving community members.

We promise to support you as a parent.

The Christian school is to be an extension of the home, and we strive to train your child in the same godly way you would train him if you could be by his side every day. We will not undermine you.

We promise to keep an "open door" to you for better communication. We value our parents' thoughts, concerns, and opinions. You'll find us willing to listen and wanting to help you as you face problems and difficulties. We are here to serve you and your family.

A Promise is a Promise! Check us out at our Facebook page, Little Kanawha Valley Christian School, and at www.lkvchristianschool.com.

Open Enrollment for new students at LKVCS is available now. Curriculum costs are waived if students are enrolled prior to May 24, 2021.

We offer a Christ-centered, highly academic, and life-skill driven education to the children of our school. We surround our children with the teachings from God's Word in grades K4-12th. Children in the K4/K5 program learn their letters, sounds, blends, and numbers, along with cursive handwriting skills. That education builds to a solid foundation as they go through each grade level. Students receive a diploma upon graduation and are eligible for all the scholarships and college acceptances as any other WV graduate. We are here for the families that want a Christ-centered quality education that nurtures not only what is taught within the classroom walls, but the life skills necessary to be responsible community members who will take pride in a job well-done. Our prayer and hope is that if this appears to be the place for your child and your family, you will contact us today with your questions.
