FRN Awarded $250,000 Grant To Fund Family Support Center

by Jamie Mullins, FRN Board Vice President
In late March, Calhoun Family Resource Network director Tina Persinger was made aware of a major grant opportunity that could transform the FRN services provided within the community. The Family Support Center grant, made available through W.Va. DHHR, allows organizations to request up to $250,000 to operate a family support center in their county. Family support centers are direct service-providing organizations that are able to provide resources and assistance, such as food, clothing, utility expenses, cleaning products, job assistance, referrals, trainings, and case management. Breast Cancer Awareness Month Recognized At Co. Courthouse

National Breast Cancer Awareness Month is being recognized at Calhoun County Courthouse with the display of a quilt that was previously juried and hung in the West Virginia Cultural Center in Charleston. The quilt, pieced by Martha Harris and quilted by Shirl Badgett in 2014, is part of a display in the courthouse, along with a corkboard on which people may place a free pink ribbon honoring a loved one who died or survived breast cancer. A plaque with the quilt states, "In loving memory of Lenore Collins (1928-1970). A woman I never met, but through her daughter, Patty Cain, I learned . . . 'To live in hearts we leave behind, is not to die' (--Thomas Campbell). Pieced by Martha J. Harris, and quilted by Shirl Badgett in 2014." People who want to have a loved one honored, but are unable to make it to the courthouse, can call 354-6725 and a ribbon will be filled out with the name and put on the board.

Around Calhoun

by Bill Bailey

We seem to be in the middle of the annual fall avian migration dol-drums. Even with four squirrels and two chipmunks stuffing their little cheeks full of sunflower seeds, as well as a menagerie of birds, we are ending every day with our feeders still about half full of seeds.

Once everything settles down, I figure we will be back to having an empty feeder at the end of the day, but we don't mind.

We love to watch the antics of the critters, as they posture themselves and jockey for position at the feeders, or just hang out and watch for an opening they can exploit.

I guess the fact that Halloween is right around the corner is the reason that we are starting to see more cobwebs in our house. I mean, spiders are not making these things are they?

Jeanne uses the duster on these webs every day and they just keep coming back. Who knew that spiders were so helpful with decorating at least for one holiday? I hope they don't get mad at us for destroying their Halloween decorations, daily.

I hear that some folks have an elf on a shelf that helps with Christmas decorations, or sometimes just causes mischief. What's going to be next, leprechauns for St. Patrick's Day?

A little half-naked flying imp with a bow and arrow helping out with St. Valentine's Day?

I guess I will have to watch and see.

I accidentally stepped on a woolly bear weather prognosticator over the weekend. Of course, it was all black, and we know what that is supposed to mean: winter weather like it used to be--cold, snowy and just plain miserable for all those who would rather be warm and cozy.

I, on the other hand, like my winters to be, well, wintry, with no damaging snow storms or blizzards, just plain old winter.

We have had at least one of our subscribers, who is a snowbird (heads down to Florida to spend the winter), call our office early last week to have their subscription put on hold until spring, and call us back on Monday to say that they were going to remain here for a while, so keep the Chronicle coming locally.

Unfortunately, their winter home was in the path of last week's hurricane Ian.

I am very glad that they were still here in Calhoun County, instead of being in the hurricane's path themselves. Property can be rebuilt or sold, lives cannot.

Without saying anything political, I want to remind everyone that voting is one of the most important things that we do as Americans. Please think very hard before you cast your vote.

Who do you honestly think will be the best person in the post that you are appointing them to, because that person is going to hold that office until the next election, and it matters more what they can do, not what they promise they will do.

FRN Awarded--

(Continued from Page 1) of the available funding, she had just two weeks to complete the grant application; however, she knew this was money that was needed in the county.

Persinger and the board worked through the weekend to prove organizational capacity, gather old needs assessments and current data compiled by WVU Extension, develop a budget, and finalize the grant proposal.

Calhoun was awarded the $250,000 grant.

"This grant is 'program' changing for FRN, and hopefully, life-changing for residents of the Calhoun community," said Persinger, as she celebrated the award.

"We have strived to provide this variety of services (food, clothing, cleaning products, baby items, etc.) in the past, but it was always dependent upon donations and smaller grants. So, the scope was limited.

"This assures fully stocked--the ability to assist with food, utilities, cleaning, hygiene, baby supply, laundry services, and even finding and gaining employment."

While the grant award was officially announced in July, FRN has been renovating its facilities, developing FSC usage guidelines, and learning about case management resources, and awaiting the arrival of funds.

During that time, they refurbished the former Thrift Store area (located in the basement) into a drop-in center, complete with meeting space, kitchen, children's area, and more.

"This grant allows FRN to directly help said Persinger of the opportunities it brings. "We have the ability to do more than put a band-aid on emergency situations.

"We can now, more effectively, help our neighbors create plans to decrease the various economic and emotional stressors in their lives and, ultimately, get to a point of sustainability.

"I love the success stories--watching people go from rock bottom to gainfully employed, in their own apartment, and secure."

While the center is in its early stages, services are now available to any family in Calhoun with youths under the age of 18.

Be on the lookout for more on the opportunities for support this brings to members of the community.

Eighth Grade 16, Seventh Grade 17, Sixth Grade 15, Fifth Grade 16, Fourth Grade 13, Third Grade 11, Second Grade 26, First Grade 27; total 135.

Work is progressing very nicely and the teachers desire the cooperation of all the parents.

The attendance for the first month was very good, averaging about 98 percent. A large number was neither absent nor tardy for the first month.

Alma Ayers made the highest score in the first monthly test--88 percent, while Greta Stalnaker was a close second with 87.67 percent. In the seventh grade, Evangeline Miller had the highest average, with Louise Stump a close second.

The board of education had two sand tables built for the school. They were placed in the first and second grade rooms.

Some repair work is being done about the building at the present time. Some new equipment has been added and we are daily expecting our supplementary readers for the lower grades.

Louise Stump and Mary Harris have been appointed librarians for the seventh and eighth grades.

Trivia facts from across the country:

Only three states in the nation do not require driving tests before an automobile driver's license is issued. They are Kansas, South Dakota and Missouri.

In the 24 years that records of car accidents and fatalities have been kept, about 750,000 Americans have died on the country's streets and highways, over half as many as have been killed in all the wars in which this country has been engaged.

Nearly 30,000 Americans will lose their lives in automobile accidents in 1947.

The experts say that a dollar today is worth about as little as it will be at any time until a war or until an inflation that might follow a deep depression might occur.

Alaskan Red Salmon packers expect to equal their 10-year average pack this year, which is 900,000 cases against 600,000 in 1946.

Career training will be founded by Ford Motor Co. to the outstanding students of the country between the ages of 20 and 29. Selection will be made from 120 colleges beginning this fall. Only those will be selected who can meet high standards of scholarship, enterprise and personality.

One California company is planning on shipping eight car loads of orange juice a week to the East, where it will be delivered each day by Eastern dairies to homes on their milk routes.

According to a recent report by the American Anthracite Institute, a worldwide shortage of fuels will occur this winter.

Canada is making plans to transport some 3,000 persons displaced by the war from Europe each month. Twenty planes will be added to the Trans-Canada Airlines to assist in the job. The movement is being handled by the Canadian Reconstruction Dept. The program will get under way this month. Canadian officials will select desirable men and women and settle them in the wide open spaces of that great country.

Illinois has just finished harvesting one of the largest peach crops in recent years. The crop was estimated at 2,300,000 bushels, worth about six million dollars. Wholesale prices ranged from $2.25 to $2.50 a bushel.

The first major school bus accident in Calhoun County occurred last Friday at 7:55 a.m. on the White Pine road. Fortunately, only the bus was damaged, and the driver and seven students aboard were unhurt, except for some very minor abrasions.

The 54-passenger bus was making the morning trip through White Pine, traveling over the narrow pavement. Met was a Datsun pickup truck, less than a quarter of a mile from Cherry Fork Church. The driver eased the wheels off one side of the road and then attempted to get back on the pavement. The rock and soil on the berm gave way, and the bus overturned, landing about 25 to 30 feet from the highway. Both vehicles were estimated to be going seven or less miles per hour when the mishap occurred.

Property damage to the bus was estimated to be $2,000.

The students were taken to the hospital emergency for examination.

CURIOSITY CORNER

by Dr. Jerry D. Wilson,
Emeritus Professor of Physics,
Lander University

Question: I read that using rockets alone, a spacecraft can only visit as far out as Jupiter, but we have a spacecraft that that can travel to Saturn and beyond. How is this possible? (Asked by a curious space buff.)

Reply: This is a good scientific question, so get your thinking caps on! When it comes to rockets, one of the main considerations is fuel versus payload. The more fuel, the smaller the payload, and vice versa. Using current rocket technology, planetary spacecraft are realistically limited to going as far as Jupiter. The planets beyond could not be reached by a spacecraft of reasonable size without uncontrollable drifting.

After using up fuel, the spacecraft would still be moving, but space is pretty big. The idea is to get there in a reasonable time frame. You couldn't use the rockets to speed things up or to navigate and change course.

Even so, consider a spacecraft on its way to Saturn. An example would be the spacecraft Cassini, which was scheduled to get to Saturn in 2004, almost seven years after its 1997 launch. This was accomplished by using the freebie of gravity in a clever scheme called "gravity assist" (also known as the "flyby" or "sling shot" maneuver). In its spiraling path, the spacecraft flew by Venus twice, Earth once and then on to a Jupiter flyby in 2000.

In coming close to a planet, the gravitational interaction between the spacecraft and the planet increases, and there is an exchange of momentum and energy. Basically, the spacecraft approaches from "behind" the planet and leaves in "front" (relative to the planet's orbital motion). As a result of this interaction, the spacecraft receives a "kick" of energy in the forward direction. You probably know from physics that things are "equal and opposite," and the planet gets an opposite kick. The planet is so much more massive than the spacecraft that the planetary effect is unnoticeable.

This is a bit complicated, but let me try to make it easier to understand using an analogy. Consider a roller derby "sling shot" maneuver. A skater approaches a teammate from behind. They interact (join hands) and the teammate pulls the skater on by, giving them more energy and he moves off faster in the forward direction.

The first swing by was used in 1973, and since then, there have been quite a few in our space program. A good example was the Voyager 2 spacecraft that made a swing by of Jupiter, Saturn and Uranus, while on its way to Neptune. After reaching Neptune, there was another swing by that sent the spacecraft out of the solar system--and, it's still going. Far out!

C.P.S. (Curious Postscript): "Only those who will risk going too far can possibly find out how far one can go." --T.S. Eliot.

My Home Among the Hills

by Melody Walburn

Fall didn't make me wait long this year, and for that I am thankful. The new season rolled in, and Mother Nature, with the help of Hurricane Ian, brought all things autumn. We have had cool, crisp, sunny days, and gray, gloomy ones. The temperatures dropped into the 60s during the day and 40s at night, and even the leaves have begun to change and fall. I flipped the calendar to October on Saturday morning, and it looked and felt like fall, both inside and out.

I was really glad that I had taken the time to move all of my warmer clothes into my bedroom last weekend. I wore sweaters, sweatshirts, jeans, and dress pants all week. I even wore my Ugg boots one day. I haven't needed a coat yet, but those are in the hallway closet when the time comes, along with scarves, hats and gloves.

My air-conditioner units have been turned off for the season, and I am gradually lighting the gas heaters in my home among the hills. I started with the main one in the basement to take the chill off the house, and after a rainy, chilly day lit the one in my upstairs bathroom too.

I had company visiting from Ohio this weekend, so on Friday I lit the fireplace in my living room and the heater in my bedroom. They are all set on low, but they have run quite a bit since I lit them.

Since I was warm and toasty in my house, I thought I better take care of my little feathered friends outside. My dad bought me a 50-lb. bag of sunflower seed, and I filled all of my feeders late last week. It didn't take long for the word to get out that my feeders were full. By Friday morning, the birds were back and quickly emptying all four feeders. I have already filled them again, and they will need my attention after school on Monday.

I had forgotten how calming it is to sit on my couch by the fireplace and just watch the birds come and go. My friend Amy, who was visiting, enjoyed it so much that she decided to buy a bird feeder for her house.

After the busy week I had, I was ready for some peace and quiet. The last week of September was homecoming week. This meant that I had to let go of my normal routine and schedule, and just go with the flow quite a bit. I will readily admit that this is not easy for me, but I tried. All of the special activities culminated on Friday with a pep rally and a parade. I am a senior advisor this year, so I am happy to report that the class of 2023 won the coveted Spirit Stick.

After lunch, we all boarded the buses and headed downtown for the parade. The kids look forward to this event, and everyone participating in the parade did a great job. I got a nice surprise when some of my family showed up in town to join the festivities. My nephew Michael and his girlfriend Sarah came in for the day to visit my parents, and they and my dad walked up to see the parade. They joined me on the courthouse steps to watch everyone go by. When the parade was over, I told them that I would be back soon, and boarded the bus to return to school.

Maricia made lasagna for dinner, and we all met up at my parents' house. I supplied the salad and garlic bread. We spent an enjoyable few hours catching up and meeting Michael's new little beagle Cletus, who is adorable. After we said goodbye to Michael and Sarah, I headed home to do a few more things before Amy arrived at 9:00. I wanted to add a blanket to her bed and make sure that I had everything I would need for breakfast.

We had a great weekend with Amy and her mom Jenn. We spent hours talking, laughing, and catching up on what had been going on in our lives since we had seen each other last. I love friendships where you can pick up right where you left off last. We also had the chance to show off some of the improvements that have happened at our homes and in our town.

We didn't let a little rain stop us. We took them to see the park and the new stargazers' cabin, and then we headed to the Sisters' Mercantile for a little shopping. It was fun to buy Jenn a birthday present, and I got a fall pillow and Thanksgiving sign for my house.

Our friends left early on Sunday, so I gave myself the day to just rest and relax. It was lovely, and now I feel ready to face the week ahead. October is going to be a busy month, but that's okay with me.

Letters to Mary and Other Communications

Michael A. Ayers-- A Calhoun Native In the Civil War

We reformed our line, and rested on our arms during the afternoon, no further demonstrations being made but skirmishing along the whole line, till dark, when our troops were all withdrawn from the field, it being ascertained that the rebels had received heavy reinforcements and were too strong for us, and now commenced a march, such I scarcely ever expect to witness again.

We marched night and day, with the rebel cavalry in our rear fighting us all the time, and for 150 miles we marched thus scarcely resting long enough to cook our scanty meals, which was wholly obtained from the country across the Alleghany mountains. Numbers of men died from starvation and fatigue. John Sigler died at the eastern foot of Otter Mountain. Levi Proudfoot¹ died at Meadow Bluffs.

Oh, this march will cause an untold amount of anguish among friends at home. Those named as killed we could not even render them the poor and humble service of a soldiers grave, being so close to the rebel works we could not get them away. Oh, how it makes my heart ache to think of the poor fellows left there. What will be the feelings of their friends; God only can comfort them.

Dearest Mary: I can scarcely imagine how it is that I am here today, for its more than I ever expected, but I am safe, and untouched, though dangers have been thick on every side; God certainly has been with me, for I know the prayers of many friends have been continually offered for me, and I have never forgotten to daily implore His blessings, and I believe I have been protected by His power.

I hope that we may meet soon, for I will try to get back, if possible. I know you feel very anxious about me, and I would be so glad to meet you once more.

Martin is safe and well, I have not seen Alfred yet.

If I could see you I could tell you a great deal that I have not room to write. My health is good, and I hope you are well.

In hope of seeing you, I remain as ever, your true and affectionate,

Michael

Mollie S.

¹Levi Proudfoot is listed in "Calhoun County In the Civil War" as a Calhoun soldier, born in Barbour Co., died June 25, 1864, at Meadow Bluffs, Nicholas County, of exposure as a 24-year-old Private; joined the Union Army on Dec. 22, 1861.

U.S. Gen'l Hospital
Parkersburg, W.Va.
July 10th., 1864

Dearest Mary:

I again embrace the opportunity of writing you a few lines to inform you of my safe return to this place.

I am somewhat unwell, and last week was quite sick for a day or two, feel weak and weary, and think I shall remain in hospital for a week or two, indeed I am almost wore down. I came here at my own request. Col. Bukey, however desired me to go on with the Regiment, which left some time last night on the train for what point I do not know. Co. C. is however left and will leave this evening.

I saw Alfred this morning, and he told me what you said, about writing, and most gladly do I accept the invitation. I would be pleased to have a letter from you. Probably you have written in answer to my last but, it will go to "Piatt" and then to the Regiment, before it will come to me. But I would much rather see your own self now than to have a letter. I have tried to get my veteran furlough but failed, and now I don't know how I will manage to get the chance to come, for see you I will and must before I go to the Regiment again.

We came by steamboat from "Piatt" to this place, but had to change boats, about four times on account of the low water.

Mother is very unwell, but I hope she will soon recover. Mrs. Simpson is also sick, brother Adolphus has been fortunate enough to get a furlough for fifteen days and will rest very much in that time.

Indeed I have hardly spirit enough in me this evening to write anything of interest, and you must excuse me if my letter does not possess its usual interest.

My kind regards to your mother and Rachel and all the rest of the family. With sentiments of esteem, I am as ever yours most truly,

M.A. Ayers

Taylor Scores 22, Persinger 14 As Calhoun Limits Paden City

by Robert F. Bonar
On a cool, clear night, perfectly suited for football, the Calhoun County High School Red Devils hosted Paden City in the annual homecoming game on Friday.

CCHS made homecoming a truly happy occasion by dominating the Wildcats and handing them a 36-0 defeat. It was Calhoun's first homecoming victory since 2015 against Tygarts Valley.

The Red Devils won the toss and elected to receive. Following a 25-yard kickoff return by Jayton Gibson, Calhoun moved the ball 66 yards to the Paden City three-yard line.

A 12-yard loss on fourth down ended the scoring threat and turned the ball over to the visitors.

Five plays after Paden City took possession, Hunter Thacker picked off a Wildcat pass to reclaim possession at the visitors' 39.

Ian Persinger made the Wildcats pay for their miscue, scoring on a 16-yard touchdown run, just one play after having a touchdown called back for holding. Persinger added the extra points, staking the CCHS to an 8-0 lead.

Calhoun scored again early in the second quarter, with Owen Taylor racing 49 yards down the left sideline to put the home team ahead by 14 points.

Paden City turned the ball over on downs after only four plays, and the Red Devils embarked on a drive that resulted in a third touchdown.

Persinger, Gibson and Taylor chewed up most of the yardage on the drive, which ended with Taylor running the ball over from the one, and adding the two-point conversion. Calhoun took a 22-0 lead into halftime.

Following the second half kickoff, Paden City had a long drive that took them deep into Calhoun territory, but ultimately turned the ball over at the Red Devils' 20.

Three plays later, Persinger raced around the left end and sprinted 61 yards to the endzone for the Red Devils' fourth score. Taylor ran for the extra points and increased the margin to 30-0.

Paden City ran four plays before Zander Quick intercepted a pass and returned it seven yards.

Late in the third period, a minute-long scuffle broke out when both teams piled on the ball carrier, resulting in a long delay while game officials decided to eject five players from the game for participating in the scrum, three for Calhoun and two for Paden City.

Once play resumed, the Red Devils--without either starting running back--drove 50 yards in eight plays to score the final touchdown of the game.

The drive, which began in the third quarter, culminated in the fourth, with Taylor covering the final eight yards.

Paden City had two more tries to get on the scoreboard, but failed. The first possession ended with the Wildcats turning the ball over on downs on the CCHS 13. In the final minutes, Owen Taylor snagged a pass to seal the game for Calhoun.

The Red Devils did an outstanding job on both sides of the ball. Persinger earned his first 100-yard rushing game (194) of the season, and Owen Taylor added 102 yards. Taylor's three touchdowns were a personal single-game high. Gibson carried seven times for 64 yards.

Even better was the performance of the defense. Calhoun did not allow Paden City to complete a single pass, and intercepted three of the eight passes that the Wildcats attempted.

The visitors managed only 125 yards on the ground on 38 attempts.

The outstanding performance gave Calhoun its first shutout since Aug. 28, 2015 (13-0), against Gilmer.

Calhoun was scheduled to host Trinity Christian School (4-1) on Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 6:30 p.m., in a game originally planned for Sept. 23. No change had been announced by presstime.

CASE NO. 22-0793-E-ENEC

MONONGAHELA POWER COMPANY and THE POTOMAC EDISON COMPANY

Petition and General Investigation to determine reasonable rates and charges on and after January 1, 2023

NOTICE OF FILING AND HEARING

On August 25, 2022, Monongahela Power Company and The Potomac Edison Company (collectively, Companies) requested that the Commission initiate its annual review of Expanded Net Energy Costs (ENEC), including a review of actual costs and recoveries for the review period of July 1, 2021 through June 30, 2022, and to establish new rates to go into effect on January 1, 2023. The Companies request that the Commission approve rates that will result in a projected total annual revenue of $183,796,693. This amount consists of a deferred ENEC under-recovery balance of $144,861,585 as of June 30, 2022, and a projected $27,338,472 under-recovery for the 2023 forecasted rate effective period. The proposed increase also includes continued recovery of boiler modernization capital costs for MATS/CSAPR compliance in the amount of an $11,596,636 revenue requirement for 2023. In support of the rate request, the Companies filed direct testimony from five witnesses.

The proposed ENEC rates represent a 12.2% increase in total rates with an impact to the average residential customer using 1,000 kWhs per month being an increase in monthly bills from $115.05 to $126.10 or 9.6%.

This matter is scheduled for an evidentiary hearing on Thursday December 8, 2022. The hearing will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Howard M. THE REAL TRUTH: THE A-TEAM SUPPORTS LOWERING YOUR TAXES

VOTE YES ON AMENDMENT 2

Amendment 2 will amend the state Constitution to give authority to the state legislature to eliminate vehicle personal property taxes paid by state residents each year, as well as equipment and inventory taxes paid by businesses and corporations.

WHY VOTE YES?

1. Personal property taxes on vehicles will be eliminated, saving an average of $300 per household.
2. Equipment and inventory taxes on business and corporations will be eliminated or reduced allowing them revenue to expand and hire more workers and incentivize new businesses to come to our state. West Virginia is one of only nine states that still tax the full assessed value of business equipment and inventories. WE MUST BECOME A BUSINESS-FRIENDLY STATE!
3. The West Virginia state Senate and House of Delegates have already agreed on draft legislation to implement the provisions of Amendment 2. This legislation will replace all tax revenue lost by the counties from the state General Revenue Fund, plus an additional one million dollars to each county. YES, THERE IS A PLAN!
4. West Virginia has been left behind for far too long. It is time we step up and take the necessary actions to make our economy thrive and our citizens prosperous.

Paid for by the Calhoun County Republican Executive Committee, Amanda White, Treasurer.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION OF WEST VIRGINIA
CHARLESTON

CASE NO. 22-0709-G-390P

MOUNTAINEER GAS COMPANY

Surcharge on Infrastructure Improvements.

NOTICE OF FILING AND HEARING

On July 29, 2022, Mountaineer Gas Company (Mountaineer) filed its annual Application for approval of an Infrastructure Replacement and Expansion Program for 2023 (2023 IREP) with revised IREP rates for 2023, pursuant to W. Va. Code § 24-2-1k, which authorizes the Public Service Commission of West Virginia to approve cost recovery of projects to replace, upgrade and expand natural gas utility infrastructure that are deemed to be just and reasonable and in the public interest.

In its Application, Mountaineer forecasts capital investment for calendar year 2023 of $64.2 million as part of its multi-year plan. The 2023 IREP covers several categories of plant asset replacements and improvements, including mains, service lines, measurement and regulator stations, and house regulators. These plant investments are proposed to be made in Mountaineer service territories throughout the State. These investments are identified in the Application, which is on file and available for public inspection at the Commission's offices at 201 Brooks Street, Charleston, West Virginia, and which may be viewed on the Commission's website, www.psc.state.wv.us

Mountaineer proposes to recover costs associated with these investments through an additional increment within the fixed or volumetric base rate component of its rates, depending on the applicable rate schedule under which service is rendered, to be effective on January 1, 2023. Mountaineer projects that if the program and rate increase are approved as requested, the average monthly bill for its various classes of customers will be changed on January 1, 2023 as follows:

TYPE OF CUSTOMER	Mountaineer Gas Company -- Proposed
	$ INCREASE	% INCREASE
Residential	$1.56	2.15%
Commercial	$4.44	1.50%
Large Commercial *	$204.93	0.36%
Industrial *	$302.96	0.68%
Resale	$50.40	1.17%

(*) - Increases for Large Commercial and Industrial customers assume transport customers purchase their natural gas at the same price as the Company's Purchased Gas Adjustment rate.

The increases shown above are compared to the rates currently in place and are based on averages of all customers in the indicated class. Each class may receive an increase greater or less than stated here. Individual customers may receive increases that are greater or less than average. Furthermore, the requested rates and charges are only a proposal and are subject to change (increase or decrease) by the Public Service Commission in its review of this filing. Any increase in rates and charges will not become effective until authorized and approved by the Public Service Commission.

The Commission set a procedural schedule, including a hearing date on the Application, if necessary, that will begin at 9:30 a.m., on November 17, 2022, continuing on November 18, 2022, at 9:30 a.m., if necessary, in the Howard M. Cunningham Hearing Room at the Commission's offices at 201 Brooks Street, Charleston, West Virginia. If no opposition to the Application is received by the Commission within one week of the hearing date, the hearing may be waived and the Commission may issue a final order within 150 days of the Application filing date. The Commission may cancel the hearing for good cause shown. Any interested persons intending to attend the hearing should monitor the Commission web docket.

Anyone desiring to intervene should file a written petition to intervene within 20 days following the date of this publication unless otherwise modified by Commission order. All requests to intervene should briefly state the reason for the request to intervene and comply with the rules on intervention set forth in the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. The Commission will receive public comments until the beginning of the hearing. All written comments and requests to intervene should state the case name and number and be addressed to the Commission Executive Secretary, P.O. Box 812, Charleston, West Virginia, 25323. Public comments may also be filed online at <http://www.psc.state.wv.us/scripts/onlinecomments/default.cfm> by clicking the "Formal Case" link.

Virtual Job Fairs

WorkForce West Virginia has announced a series of Statewide Virtual Job Fairs on the first Wednesday of each month, noon to 3 p.m., from Oct. 5 through June.

“Workforce West Virginia has been conducting virtual job fairs since August 2021,” said Scott Adkins, acting commissioner. “We have seen continued success with this platform and are expanding these efforts to connect West Virginia employers and residents looking to advance or change careers.”

Registration is required for both interested employers and job seekers. The job fair portal features a job seeker training video, list of participating employers, and channels for attendees to register and log in.

Job seekers are encouraged to dress professionally and have a calm, clutter free background, as employers may request to engage in a video interview.

Upon registration, employers will create a “Virtual Booth” to connect with jobseekers. After completion, the booth will be available during subsequent job fairs.

For information about WorkForce and virtual job fairs, visit www.workforcewv.org or workforcewvvirtualjobfairevent@wv.gov.

The underground gas-line storage tanks at the former Stutler store at Annamoriah were recently removed. They both looked to be in good shape.

The famous Creston Halloween party is back this year. This is the event where just anyone can dress up and "be somebody." Those who wish to donate candy and help should contact Linda, Heather or Donna.

Goblins, witches, warlocks, politicians, necromancers, soothsayers, beautiful young princesses, insects, and celebrities will gather at Creston on Oct. 29. One year, the Kardashians showed up (and were they ever trashy), as have presidents and famous folks.

Bill Duskey reported that his first treatment went well.

A number of Creston and Brooksville residents attended the South East Ohio Oil and Gas Association meeting at Marietta.

Baldy Blair, who is president of the W.Va. State Senate, took offense that the governor would dare come out and oppose his constitutional amendment #2 that exempts business "machinery and equipment" from county ad valorem taxes.

This would be a saving of $billions in taxes for the out-of-state boys that fund some elected officials. Of course, the "selling point" is "Oh, you won't have to pay tax on your car!"

The con men do not say that, but we will have to raise the assessments for tax purposes from the present 60% to 100% to make up the difference. In Pleasants County, the big power plant could end up with a tax bill of $0, as it is all equipment.

Baldy had the state put out a slick booklet that, it would seem, is full of errors. For example, in Marshall County, there are at least four fractionation plants, and one, Blue Racer, based on published figures, is worth $6 billion.

The booklet says that the total machinery and equipment value for the county is just over $25 million. Calhoun County is said to have only $67,532 in business equipment, which means that the new compressor station was not counted.

Wirt County was said to have $62,925 in business equipment and inventory, while Wirt County has 10 miles of the new pipeline that cost $10 million/mile.

Baldy's booklet said that Wood County had $7.7 million in machinery and equipment, but duPont's personal property tax bill is $5 million.

These records are all public, and one can look them all up, many of them

Calhoun Banks Joins Anti-Phishing Campaign

America's banks are joining forces in a coordinated, industry-wide campaign to protect consumers during National Cybersecurity Awareness Month.

Calhoun Banks has joined American Bankers Association to promote a campaign educating consumers about the persistent threat of phishing scams.

The FTC estimates that consumers lost $5.8 billion to phishing and other fraud in 2021, an increase of more than 70% compared to 2020.

To combat phishing, the #BanksNeverAskThat campaign uses attention-grabbing humor and other engaging content to empower consumers to identify bogus bank communications that ask for sensitive information, like passwords and social security numbers.

"Phishing attempts are at an all-time high, and scammers are targeting consumers from every direction--by text, phone and email," said Paul Benda, senior vice president, operational risk and cybersecurity, at ABA.

"Education and awareness are key to helping consumers spot a scam, and with help from participating banks like Calhoun Banks, we're able to reach bank customers across the country, so that they can stay one step ahead of the scammers."

Calhoun Banks, along with more than 1,000 banks from across the U.S. and ABA, kicked off this year's updated campaign on Oct. 3 to mark the beginning of National Cybersecurity Awareness Month.

Throughout the month, Calhoun Banks will share eye-catching and engaging short videos and consumer tips on social media and in bank branches designed to highlight common phishing schemes.

Because cybersecurity education and fraud awareness can often be dull and forgettable to many consumers, the campaign is designed to be bright and bold with a bit of comedy.

"Do you prefer boxers or briefs? Do you believe in aliens?!" one of the campaign's animated GIFs asks social media users. Banks would never ask you these questions.

Here's another question that a real bank would never ask: "We've spotted some unusual activity on your account; can you please verify your username and password?"

The campaign's short videos offer similarly ridiculous scenarios, like wallpapering a room with cash, roasting marshmallows over a cash fire, and recycling cash on garbage day.

Consumers are directed to BanksNeverAskThat.com, where they will find an interactive game, videos, phishing red flags, tips, and FAQs.

For information about phishing scams and how to stop fraudsters in their tracks, visit www.BanksNeverAskThat.com.
