A pleasant sound.

It was intermixed with the sounds of people talking, music playing, the engines of rides whirring, cars going past and the smells of food on to cook.

Michael was the son of Jim and the late Colleen Sullivan and brother of Susan Sullivan Gifford.

Michael passed away unexpectedly July 29th, 2023, at the age of 35.

a family affair by donating their time to the Wood Festival Committee and community through countless hours of preparation and commitment to the local event.

The streets of Grantsville are empty now and save for some traffic cones and signs setting along the street nobody would know that a few short hours ago the town was alive and buzzing harking back to the days it was a bustling village.

Now the town is a sleepy village again but there for a short time it had the echoes of yesterday.

County looks over money requests, spending

The Calhoun County Commission met on Monday, June 10th, at 9 a.m. with all three Commissioners present.

Delegations on the agenda began with Maddison Harris of the Mid-Ohio Valley Regional Council. (MOVRC) Harris reported that the Calhoun County Park project was finally ready to go to bid once approved by the Commission to do so. Also discussed by Harris was a request for a FEMA reimbursement in the amount of $5,940.00 for legal work by Palmer and Titus on the deed and closing cost for a flood mitigation project. County Clerk Jean Simers asked about the demolition of county properties and the funding to accomplish that. She was told there was still money to continue that

Next on the agenda to speak was Charles Thomas, but before he spoke, Propst wanted to clarify that the decision to pass a funding request made by Thomas on February 12th, 2024, was outside of the proper procedure of filing the new request forms for funding. A matter that had been rectified by the Upper West Fork Park with the forms being submitted. Thomas then made request for funding, with the proper form in hand, for a new shelter at the Arnoldsburg Community Park. The 60x100 foot shelter will extend over the concrete area behind the building. The structure will provide weather protection for festival and other events with a future stage area constructed as well. The Molasses Festival currently has Tyler Tritt scheduled to sing (Travis Tritt's daughter) as well as Johnny Staats for the 2024 Molasses festival event. The cost of the structure will be $60,000 with an additional $11,000 necessary to upgrade the electric. Helmick said the county has more money in the treasury than ever before and he believed the upgrades to the parks was a good investment. He further stated that the County has $600,000 in the rainy-day fund, made possible by the compressor station fund that now come in.

Shari Johnson, Publisher of the Ridgeview News addressed the Commission about a letter she had written to each Commissioner regarding an alleged denial of mutual aid from the Arnoldsburg Fire Department for Minnie Hamilton Health System. It was reported that Minnie Hamilton had received a letter signed by Joe Tanner that

The Big Eared One had "our" government build a $300 million pier to give aid & succor to Gaza and the aid was all "stolen" by Hamas. Then a big wind came and destroyed the pier, sunk part of it blew part to Israel, etc. Some said that it was to be used to bring Hamas terrorists to the USA. Today's Sunday School lesson was about the prophet Deborah seeing to the defeat of the Canaanites. "And the Lord discomfited Sisera (the general), and all his chariots, and all his host . . . . But Barak [the Hebrew leader] pursued after the chariots . . . And all the host of Sisera fell upon the edge of the sword: and there was not a man left". Sisera had 900 iron chariots [the top of the line battle equipment at the time] but they were down in the river bottom and there was a cloudburst and some were washed away and others got stuck in the mud. As many may remember Sisera hit in a tent & Jael, the owner, drove a tent peg through his temple while he slept. It would not seem wise to work to destroy

Speaking of wars and such NATO has said that we should all invade Russia and the US needs to send troops. A Ukraine group associated with the US State Department made up an enemies list that includes Senators J. D. Vance, Rand Paul, President Trump and Breitbart News. The Bidens, perhaps the Romneys and other "leaders" have prospered in Ukraine. Who cares how many have to die so that they can get richer?

Thanks to Broadway Joe Manchin we now have the Inflation Reduction Act which really is the Green New Deal. The new rules by the EPA are designed to shut down all remaining coal power plants and make sure that no new natural gas power plants are built. Those who are acquainted with such matters have made it clear that, when implemented, there will have to be a rationing of electricity during both hot and cold snaps.

Cunningham Energy LLC has applied to the DEP for a permit to modify & operate a Natural Gas & Oil/Condensate Production Facility near Bomont in Clay County. Public comments will be accepted until July 8 by contacting Roy F. Kees at the DEP.

The price of local Pennsylvania grade crude slipped to $74.53/bbl. With condensate, formerly called Appalachian light sweet, fetching just $56.53/bbl. While Marcellus & Utica light brought $63.53/bbl. The Henry Hub price of natural gas was $2.92/MMBTU. Of course local prices are much, much lower.

In the world of natural gas, exports to Mexico increased while usage for industrial users declined, and 13 bcf [billion cubic feet]/day left as LNG. 26 vessels left during the week May 23 to May 29, 8 from Sabine Pass, 6 from Freeport, 4 from Corpus Christi, 3 each from Calcasieu Pass & Cameron and 2 from Cove Point. It is predicted that, come summer, 44.7 bcf/day of natural gas will be used to generate electricity.

Overcoming my fears

By Gaylen Duskey

As you may have heard I have been named Editor of the Calhoun Chronicle.

I am honored. I am challenged. I am scared to death.

Why I am I scared?

Because I am afraid the job I do won't be good enough.

Why?

Because I have been retired for a few years and my only journalism work has been writing a few columns and covering some Calhoun athletic events.

That's hardly editorship and that makes it scary.

Once upon a time I was an innovator and something of a pioneer in the news business because I had no fear of failure because, frankly I knew my plans and ideas would work. And darned near all the time they did and if they didn't, I didn't mind because what I was doing was in front of strangers.

Now it is in front of friends and family and that's a whole different story because I want so bad to make everybody happy.

And that's scary.

So please forgive me if I falter or fail but I don't plan to do either.

What are some of the tenets I believe and plan to bring to The Chronicle? These are some of them:

All our coverage will be fair and nonbiased. We will strive to see there will be no opinion or bias in any of our news

We will try to get all the local news in print. That means we want your meetings, reports, announcements etc. It may not be news in New York or Charleston, but it is news in Calhoun County.

The only people who can and will speak for the newspaper is the top management at Mountain Media, Inc., and me. Any other opinion will be printed as a letter to the editor or an Op-Ed and only the opinion of the writer.

We want to be inclusive so if you have an idea about what we should cover or a story you should write let us know. If we can we just may give it a try.

Oh, yes, we love sports so if it bounces, rolls, or gets hit with a stick we want to tell the story. In a one high school county like Calhoun, we consider those athletic teams as galvanizing items and will treat them as such.

Those are at least some of the things we believe and want to do and with any luck we will be able to accomplish them.

One question I have been asked was since I am a conservative Republican, and the newspaper is a democratic publication how will that work out?

Simple. I am a professional journalist and know for the newspaper to be successful and trusted it must be fair and non-biased in all its coverage and that is a promise I shall make. I will try to ensure that every story will be politically neutral and ask you to hold my feet to the fire on this and if I fail let me know.

On the other hand, my columns will be my opinion and written as such.

I want to bring you a Chronicle that will evoke memories of days gone by with coverage of things like community news, chicken dinners, anniversaries, youth sports and all the things that brings families and communities together.

With your help and God's grace I think we can do that.

when the Ambulance was dispatched and in need of Fire Department Assistance in the Arnoldsburg area, they would not provide it.

Mrs. Johnson questioned why a county levy funded agency was permitted to deny anyone mutual aid or assistance in the County and requested that the commission look into the matter.

Crystal Mersh updated the commission about the continued progress that had been made toward bringing the American Medicine Company into Calhoun County to provide 500 jobs. The AMC Executive team will be traveling to Calhoun to tour the Armory located in the Annamoriah area. While here they'll be staying at the Stonewalll Jackson Resort with transportation provided by Glenville State University for the community tour. Crystal expressed her happiness that the county has money to support, sheriff, fire, etc. which will appeal to the Executive Committee. The 1982 Foundation is currently working with Dakota Laughlin on the production of a promotional video that will provide information about the county parks, Avalon and other promotional footage that can be used for other projects. She recommended to the commission that a county website be established to draw tourism and business to the community. "The more money that we bring here, the more that is spent here," she said. The team of about 10 people will be in town in mid-July.

Propst who is serving on the Committee to pitch Calhoun for the AMC site, has been in contact with the Sayer family who currently owns acreage of interest to AMC around the Amory. There is 50 acres under consideration for sale and expansion of the pharmaceutical company and the Sayers are keenly interested in helping the economics of the County.

Commissioner Arthur who also serves on the committee to bring AMC to Calhoun said that this is a great opportunity to bring our people back home that work away, "God knows the outcome" he said. But I will try every way possible to get these jobs for Calhoun County. We have a chance for a resurgence again.

WAG trapping scheduled

On Thursday, June 20, 2024, the Welfare of Animals Group (WAG) will be humanely trapping feral cats in the Grantsville area, and on Thursday, June 27 in Orma and Big Springs to have them spayed/neutered, vaccinated, and ear tipped (the universal sign that a cat has been part of a Trap-Neuter-Return program). We would appreciate if you would not put food out for them on Wednesday, June 19 in Grantsville or on Wednesday, June 26 in Orma and Big Springs as we will be trapping on Thursday morning. Once the cats have recovered from anesthesia (at least 24 to 48 hours) we will return them to their exact location. They will be healthier, happier, and not reproducing and fighting. Thank you for your cooperation. So far we have spayed and neutered 888 community cats (485 females and 403 males).

Please keep your personal cats indoors or put a collar on them on Wednesday the 19th in Grantsville or Wednesday the 26th in Orma and Big Springs. If you have any questions, please call Linda at 304-354-7506.

If you are aware of a feral cat colony in your area, please let us know. Female kittens can begin breeding at four months old, so the best time to spay/neuter a colony is when there are only 5 or 6 cats. Trap-Neuter-Return is provided to Calhoun County residents at no cost to the caretaker.

Partial funding for Trap-Neuter-Return is provided by The Oakland Foundation, The Bernard McDonough Foundation, the West Virginia Department of Agriculture, and the Calhoun County Commission.

Farming in Calhoun County and Central West Virginia is done primarily by bi-vocational farming families that try to fit farming into the hours following their day jobs and on weekends.

Those hours are often interrupted by rain showers and other obligations, but the commitment to farming is not for the faint of heart. It takes dedication and sacrifice.

According to Farmflavor.com which list farming statistics for each State, Farms in the State of West Virginia are 95 percent family owned, the highest number in the United States. Around 23,000 farms averaging 157 acres in size call West Virginia home. The Mountain State is also the third most-forested state with 12 million acres of forestland.

West Virginia's top agricultural commodity is broiler production, which makes up more than 30 percent of its agricultural receipts. Beef cattle and calves account for over 20 percent. Other important livestock products include dairy, turkeys and chicken eggs.

As for crops, hay is No. 1 in the state. Additional crops include apples, corn for grain, soybeans and tobacco. Many farmers also produce sheep and lambs, hogs, peaches, honey, farm-raised fish and wool.

The current price of a square bail of hay is $3.00-$6.00 per bail depending upon location and type of hay. The large round bails, also dependent upon hay type and bail size, can run from $25.00 to $95.00 per bail.

Whether or not it's for feeding livestock of their own, or selling to others, there is certainly a market for the commodity of hay. I'm praying on this rainy Wednesday morning that the hay is up and in the barns with the next cutting on the horizon of a sunny day.

Ginny Hawker Presented with 2024 Vandalia Award

Ginny Hawker, of Elkins, received the 2024 Vandalia Award at the Vandalia Gathering Friday evening concert on May 24, 2024. West Virginia Department of Arts, Culture and History Cabinet Secretary Randall Reid-Smith presented the award.

The Vandalia Award, West Virginia's highest folklife honor, is presented each year during the annual Vandalia Gathering. The individuals who receive this award embody the spirit of our state's folk heritage and are recognized for their lifetime contribution to West Virginia and its traditional culture.

Ginny has been a resident of West Virginia for over 30 years, residing in Gilmer County for many years, before making the move to Randolph County where she and her husband now reside. She is a talented vocalist that was brought up in the Primitive Baptist Church, mastering their unique unaccompanied vocal styling. She came to West Virginia searching out what remained of the Traditional music culture and has been here ever since. She has taught workshops and singing classes both in her home and around the state, nation, and globe, ensuring the tradition continues. The Vandalia Gathering is proud to call her one of its own, and even prouder to be able to present her with the state's highest folklife honor.

WVDNR release turkey kill numbers

According to preliminary data released by the West Virginia Division of Natural Resources, hunters harvested 11,650 bearded turkeys during the spring gobbler season.

"West Virginia is a great place to go turkey hunting and these harvest numbers are not only an indication of a strong turkey population but a testament to the hard work of hunters," said WVDNR Director Brett McMillion. "The WVDNR remains committed to maintaining sustainable wildlife management practices to ensure the long-term health and abundance of turkeys in our state."

While hunters harvested fewer birds compared to last year's total of 12,217, the 2024 harvest was above long-term indicators and came in 6 percent higher than the five-year and 10-year average of 10,937 and 10,913, respectively.

Hunters in District 1 harvested more birds during the 2024 season compared to last year, while the harvest in Districts 4 and 6 was similar to last year. The harvest in Districts 2, 3 and 5 decreased slightly from last year. Hunters in District 1 harvested the most birds (2,748), followed by those in District 6 (2,208), District 5 (1,897), District 4 (1,864), District 3 (1,585) and District 2 (1,348). The top five counties in terms of turkey harvests were Mason (501), Preston (441), Jackson (400), Marshall (337) and Harrison (336) counties.

During the 2024 season, youth hunters harvested 601 turkeys (353 on Saturday and 248 on Sunday). This was the fifth year of the youth season being two days. The youth harvest made up approximately 5 percent of the total harvest.

Capito Announces Congressionally Directed Spending Awards for Economic Development Projects

U.S. Senator Shelley Moore Capito (R-W.Va.), a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, announced three funding awards from the U.S. Department of Commerce's Small Business Administration (SBA) for the Greenbrier Valley County Economic Development Corporation (GVEDC), the Wellsburg Urban Renewal Authority, and BridgeValley Community and Technical College.

These awards, which were secured through Congressionally Directed Spending (CDS) requests made by Senator Capito in Fiscal Year 2024 (FY24), will help support business incubation, economic revitalization efforts, and education programs.

"I was proud to use my position on the Appropriations Committee to advocate for and secure these awards that will help build on the activities and growth we are seeing at BridgeValley, in Wellsburg, and in Greenbrier County," Senator Capito said. "Equipping our educators with better tools and resources has the potential to produce better workers and small business owners with a clear path to reach their full potential. I was also proud to deliver funding that will help West Virginia small businesses overcome barriers to entry to give them the opportunity to build and grow here in our state, especially in the northern panhandle and the growing area around the New River Gorge National Park and Preserve."

Individual awards:

$819,000 SBA CDS award to the Greenbrier Valley County Economic Development Corporation (Maxwelton, W.Va.) for the Greenbrier EDC Commercialization Center, a 40,000-square-foot space to be used as an incubator space to help provide small businesses, specifically manufacturing companies, with a place to grow. With the organization and its partners' expertise, on-site training and advising will be offered to complement the space in support of true incubation. GVEDC anticipates serving up to eight businesses within the first year with the goal of retaining existing and creating new jobs. The goal of this incubator is for each business to outgrow the space to continue opening incubator opportunities for new businesses in the area.

$750,000 SBA CDS award to the Wellsburg Urban Renewal Authority (Wellsburg, W.Va.) to incentivize small business enterprises to launch and grow new commercial and retail activities in revitalized downtown structures in Wellsburg. Grant funding will be used for replacement of failing roofs, management of problematic water runoff, stabilization of floors, replacement of failing electric, plumbing, and HVAC systems, as well as ADA and fire code compliance upgrades. This project will rehabilitate three connected buildings totaling 21,000 square feet on Wellsburg Town Square to enable new investment, mixed-use economic development, and job creation by small businesses. These three adjacent and connected buildings known as the "Bell Buildings" are on the National Register for Historic Places and located in the center of downtown, across from City Hall and also across from the Wellsburg Museum & Cultural Center. Wellsburg plans to reuse these structures for mixed-use retail, commercial, and tourism businesses.

$167,000 SBA CDS award to BridgeValley Community and Technical College (South Charleston, W.Va.) for Stackable Business Credentials at BridgeValley CTC. These include Certificate of Science (CAS) in Entrepreneurship, as well as Associate of Applied Science (AAS) Degrees in Accounting and Bookkeeping, Business Administration, and Healthcare Management. With the addition of two more faculty members, updating the curricula to embed industry certifications at various points throughout the student's progress, and targeted marketing for recruitment, the Division would have the capacity to produce more employable students, a better-qualified worker, and more graduates with industry credentials. Also, high school students enrolled in Dual Credit courses which are tied into industry credentials would be eligible to take the certification exams. This would make them more employable after and during high school as well as allowing them to earn college credit towards a degree.

This brochure is a snapshot of the quality of the water that we provided last year. Included are the details about where your water comes from, what it contains, and how it compares to Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and state standards. We are committed to providing you with information because informed customers are our best allies. If you would like to observe the decision-making process that affect drinking water quality or if you have any questions, comments or suggestions, please attend any regularly scheduled water board meeting held on the 1st day of each month at 4:00 p.m. in the Nobe office or call TAMBREE YOAK at 304-354-7500.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immune-compromised persons such as those with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPNCDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) included rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in sources water before we treat it include:

Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, livestock operations and wildlife.

Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming. Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as storm water run-off, agriculture, and residential users.

Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or the result of mining activity. Organic contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and also come from gas stations, urban storm water run-off, and

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulation which limits the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. We treat our water according to EPA's regulations. Food and Drug Administration regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water, which must provide the same protection for public health.

Our water system has an estimated population of 1619 and is required to test a minimum of 2 samples per month in accordance with the Total Coliform Rule for microbiological contaminants. Coliform bacteria are usually harmless, but their presence in water can be an indication of disease-causing bacteria. When coliform bacteria are found, special follow-up tests are done to determine if harmful bacteria are present in the water supply. If this limit is exceeded, the water supplier must notify the public.

Water Quality Data

The following tables list all of the drinking water contaminants which were detected during the 2020 calendar year. The presence of these contaminants does not necessarily indicate the water poses a health risk. Unless noted, the data presented in this table is from the testing done January 1- December 31, 2020. The state requires us to monitor for certain contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. Some of the data, though representative of the water quality, is more than one year old.

Terms & Abbreviations

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG): the "Goal" is the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to human health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety. Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL): the "Maximum Allowed" MCL is the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Secondary Maximum Contaminant Level (SMCL): recommended level for a contaminant that is not regulated and has no MCL

Action Level (AL): the concentration of a contaminant that, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other Treatment Technique (TT): a required process intended to reduce levels of a contaminant in drinking water.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL): the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial Non-Detects (ND): lab analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present.

Parts per Million (ppm) or milligrams per liter (mg/1) Parts per Billion (ppb) or micrograms per liter(ug/l)

Picocuries per Liter (pCi/L): a measure of the radioactivity in water. Millirems per Year (mrem/yr): measure of radiation absorbed by the body.

Monitoring Period Average (MPA): An average of sample results obtained during a defined time frame, common examples of monitoring periods are monthly, quarterly and yearly.

Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU): a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity in excess of 5 NTU is just noticeable to the average person. Turbidity is not regulated for groundwater systems. Running Annual Average (RAA): an average of sample results obtained over the most current 12 months and used to determine compliance with MCLs.

Locational Running Annual Average (LRAA): Average of sample analytical results for samples taken at a particular monitoring location during the previous four calendar quarters.

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Your water system is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead.

PLEASANT HILL PSD RT 16 DISTRICT is working towards identifying service line materials throughout the water distribution supply. The service line inventory is required to be submitted to the state by October 16, 2024. The most up to date inventory is located at 122 Nobe Rd Big Bend, WV 26136, if you have any questions about our inventory, please contact TAMBREE YOAK at 304-354-7500.
