Minnie Hamilton Receives $11 Million in Rural Hospital Grant Funding

By Gaylen Duskey

It seems advancement for programs at the Minnie Hamilton Health Systems Grantsville campus may have been rooted in repairs for what it already had.

Badly needed repairs.

“The $11.1 million dollar rural hospital grant program funding announcement from Governor Jim Justice’s office is just not another number, it is an investment in the lifeline and commitment of rural healthcare in West Virginia, MHHS CEO Stephen Whited said. “Minnie Hamilton Health System’s multiphase project, although started out with just essential replacement of a failing water and sewer lines, has developed into a renewed commitment to our community’s health and wellbeing for the future, by taking a deeper look into critical needs to assure healthcare services has a facility to meet our community needs with an overall expansion of new space of approximately 28,000 square feet that includes a new primary care clinic, dental office, specialty clinic, lab, cafeteria and office space, a new rooftop helipad, Emergency department expansion and overall reconfiguration of ancillary services space to better serve our patients.

“The funds received by this program will add to the overwhelming comment by multi agencies to our much needed, much deserved, and certainly necessity of renovations and upgrades. This funding is an extended layer of all the commitments for a healthier, stronger Minnie Hamilton Health System, as well as a stronger community as a whole. We continue our unrelenting commitment to our families, friends, and community members for continued access to exceptional quality health care services.”

Gov. Jim Justice announced the distribution of $40 million in Rural Hospital Grant funding during a ceremony held at Boone Memorial Hospital. The program, which launched in October following the appropriation of funds by the West Virginia Legislature during the most recent special session, will improve healthcare infrastructure and services at rural hospitals across West Virginia. “Our rural hospitals are truly the lifeblood of our state,” Gov. Justice said. “So many of us depend on the care, compassion, and love you all provide to our neighbors, friends, and families. You don’t just show up for work—you answer the call daily. With these funds, we’re putting a stake in the ground and saying we stand with our rural hospitals. While we’re at Boone Memorial for this ceremony, today we celebrate every rural hospital across West Virginia. We’re so thankful for the doctors, nurses, and staff who show up and care for us every day. You all are the center of everything we do. Congratulations to all of our recipients—you’ve earned every bit of it.”

Grant funding was awarded to the following:

Minnie Hamilton Health Systems – $11,132,458.00

Funding will be utilized for significant renovations, upgrades, and expansion of the facility.

Greenbrier Valley Medical Center – $7,500,000.00

Funding will be utilized for the construction of a new medical building to provide new and expanded services.

Rivers Health – $7,000,000.00

Funding will be utilized to relocate and expand the Emergency Department.

Boone Memorial Hospital – $5,894,527.00

Funding will be utilized to establish a dedicated patient observation unit, renovate the cardiac unit to create a cancer center, construct a new behavioral health clinic, and invest in advanced robotic surgery equipment.

Roane General Hospital – $3,700,000.00

Funding will be utilized to establish a conference and education center, purchase state-of-the-art diagnostic radiological technology, and infrastructure upgrades.

Pocahontas Memorial Hospital – $1,978,000.00

Funding will be utilized to modernize communications systems and infrastructure upgrades including a new roof and HVAC system.

Preston Memorial Hospital – $1,500,000.00

Funding will be utilized to expand existing facilities to provide additional patient care areas and a dedicated patient observation unit.

Summers County ARH Hospital – $725,000.00

Funding will be utilized to renovate and upgrade the radiology room.

The cumulative cost of these projects totals $39,429,985.00. The remaining balance of the funds will be distributed in the near future.

“Many thanks to Governor Jim Justice, his staff, West Virginia legislators, and countless others, in their continued support for rural healthcare, as funding sources like this enhances access in our rural communities, improves outcomes and ensures quality health care,” Whited said. “Receiving care and support close to home, as many would go without care without rural health care facilities.

“We are excited about getting phase two of our multi-phase project kicked off, which will begin in the coming weeks. Although I am sure the renovations and expansion will cause some headaches and frustration with getting in and out of the facility, (but) in the end, we will have a beautiful, modern, updated facility we all can be

What happened to Grantsville and when did it happen?

By Gaylen Duskey

I remember back while I was still in school it was the location of the home and law office of Stanley D’Orazio. After that they built a phone company office there and relocated the Ben Franklin store. They it became a Dollar General store and now it is a vacant building.

This one spot on Main Street went from an upper class residential area to a nice business area to a second generation used business area to a vacant storefront.

When exactly did this happen? How did this happen? Why did this happen?

How did Grantsville go from a destination small town to a small town struggling to survive?

Why did it happen?

And most important, is it fixable?

Recently townspeople held a meeting to address this collapse of Grantsville by seeking people to step up and run for elective office in city government to perhaps try to find a new way of doing things that may be able to do things with the resources’ available instead of putting a bigger and bigger financial burden on the aging and declining town population.

This meeting was unprecedented at least in recent town history.

Eric Lupardus a newly elected member of the Calhoun County Commission attended the citizens meeting and viewed it in a positive way.

“I truly believe the county and town are ready for progress which begins with jobs,” he said. “We do that by reaching out to our elected officials and asking how they plan to do that, then hold them to their own words.

“The county made its choice in November on the future of this county and the Town of Grantsville will have that same opportunity in 2025 (when the town elections are held).

“Meetings held by citizens are always encouraging and elected officials should always make an attempt to attend to hear first-hand accounts of issues (of the citizens).”

Right now the biggest issues townspeople have revolve around the town’s water department including deteriorating infrastructures (old and leaky water lines), skyrocketing water rates (a recently passed 60 per cent raise in water rates) and the combination of the town water department with the Mount Zion Public Service District and the Pleasant Hill Public Service District into a single entity under the direction of a newly hired director which appears to be hampered by the inability to get the financial records verified.

But those things are all fixable if townspeople are willing to step up and bridge the gap with their time and effort.

If that happens the town would be well positioned to begin a rebirth of sorts when or if the county lands a pharmaceutical production facility at the old national guard facility on Route 5 West near Annamoriah. Such a facility would employ about 500 people with another 1,000-2,000 jobs created for auxiliary and ancillary facilities needed to support the original factory.

The facility would be the first American-based pharmaceutical production plant. Currently the pharmaceutical items used in the United States are produced in India and China.

It should be a tremendous financial rebound for Calhoun County and Grantsville could be part of the rebound too.

Residents are Willing to Step Up and Out to bring Prosperity Back to the County Seat

County residents, with an interest in the direction of City Government, met at the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department to discuss concerns and potential candidates for the 2025 Town Council, Mayor and Recorder positions.

Roger Propst addressed those in attendance about the significance of the 1982 Foundation, American Medicine Company and other potential business opportunities that are making a positive impact on the Calhoun area. Also addressed was the negative impact that the current city

Rev. Kevin Gillespie filled his regular appointment at the Burning Springs M. E. Church.

The Creston Community Christmas party will be on Saturday, December 21 starting with a meal at 3:30 P. M. Please coordinate the covered dish meals with Barb at 275-0006 so there are 10 dishes of mashed potatoes and no baked beans. It is understood that a jolly fellow from the polar regions will arrive circa 5 P. M.

The local area had cold, snow and then rain. Local streams seem to have normal water levels, which is good.

It was standing room only Tuesday at the old Hope Natural Gas Company office in Grantsville for the public hearing by Mother Hope on the proposed abandonment of several local gas lines and the conversion of natural gas customers to propane. The plan is to abandon (de-commission) 1,100 miles of gathering lines taking natural gas from wells to the marketplace and having customers on those lines convert to propane or electric heat.

Jeff Nehr was the spokesperson & he did admit that electric service locally was not reliable which would explain the popularity of Generac emergency generators locally. Mr. Nehr told several stories of woe about the EQT (Equitable) gas lines that Mother Hope took over although EQT was never prominent in Calhoun & Wirt counties. In other counties Equitable (formerly called Pittsburgh & W. Va.) and Carnegie Natural Gas Company (U. S. Steel) were major players. Mr. Nehr is an old EQT man now working for Hope which is part of the old Rockefeller Standard Oil Trust. It was noted that 18 counties are involved in the proposal.

Hope had asked the PSC (Public Service Commission) to approve this move and the maps showing the lines to be abandoned were “confidential”. The PSC folks realized this was a “live one” and stated that there had been “lots of telephone calls”. A PSC employee, Robert Williams, was at the meeting and spoke. He seemed impressed that one local House of Delegates member attended the meeting. In addition to impacted gas customers, retired Hope men & local citizens there were several small oil & gas operators at the gathering.

When asked why folks didn’t know about the lines being abandoned, he said, “Well we told your industry group and were told that no one was interested.” “Who did you tell?” “We told Go W. Va. The industry group -- members could get a security clearance and look at the lines and see what we wanted to do.” Of course, the group is more or less controlled by the Marcellus & Utica folks and a big player is Hope Gas. No conflicts of interest here, now move on. George Patterson, the lawyer for the lobby group, was present but did not speak.

Several county officials were present, asked questions and made the tee vee news. Also present was Erica Moore, the delegate that represents Wirt & Roane counties and who has a background in small oil & gas companies.

People were able to look at the maps and all the Hope lines in the Creston - Annamoriah - Joker area were colored RED which means that they are to be abandoned. The question about this being economic development in reverse was not allowed. There are proposed plans for the use of the old armory, and such would require new housing in non-flood plain areas but ...

Some folks purchase natural gas from Mother Hope near Millstone, but the maps showed no lines in the area which might raise questions about the veracity of the maps generally.

Talk had been that the Biden EPA was “on them” because of leaks from steel lines and that “they had to act”. Mention of November’s election results were ignored. One local pipeliner noted that he had been working on a job where the company had a grant to replace steel lines with plastic [to comply] and the work was to be on the “rural lines”, but someone did “town work” instead. Mr. Nehr kept saying “We’ll give you these lines.” It was noted that it would take some time for good abstractors to ascertain if there was good title for the rights-of-way as one local resident recalled that one old Eureka oil line had no title at all.

There has been discussion about a big ‘data center’ in Logan County that would be powered by coal & renewables, wind, Chinese solar panels & pixie dust but there ‘are problems’. One fellow, who lived down at the Mouth of the Elk, suggested that the facility could be placed in Wirt County with the facility being powered by Marcellus & Utica natural gas from wells drilled locally. There will be an informal discussion next month.

Cap’n. & Mrs. Spock were Christmas shopping down in Wood County.

The Creston Area Neighborhood Watch had their meeting and discussed various items. It was noted that folks were robbed near Arnoldsburg and there is a good description of the vehicles involved. It would be clear that folks need to keep everything locked and have “equalizers” handy.

There were 96 Christmas hams given out at the Creston food pantry.

Antero is wanting to lease oil & gas for 15% net with no payments for liquids and binding arbitration. If the state government represented the citizens no one would dare send out such outlandish leases to take property of state citizens. The State gets 20% gross when state property is leased.

Local folks were consulting with their medical professionals.

Mike Wade was attending to business in Creston.

The price for local Pennsylvania grade slipped to $69.02/bbl. With condensate fetching just $51.02/bbl. And Marcellus & Utica light bringing $58.02/bbl. The Henry Hub price of natural gas was $3.28/MMBTU.

by Gaylen Duskey

“Why didn’t I answer my cell phone,” my wife wondered. It had not been too long before that that I heard the same question from my daughter.

I told both I didn’t hear it.

And I didn’t.

Maybe it just wasn’t ringing. That’s quite possible since my cell phone is an older cell phone. Actually, my cell phone was an old, old cell phone and more that one person told me I needed to replace it since it was about out of space.

I got the phone back when my wife updated her cell phone. I think she may have updated her cell phone a couple of times while I held onto her old cell phone rationalizing, I only used the phone for calls and checking the scores of the Dodgers, Marshall, Glenville State and Calhoun sporting events and outside of checking the election results that really was it.

Although I had in the back of my mind changing cell phones, I felt it would wait.

When my wife and daughter wondered about why I didn’t hear the cell phone I said I left it in the car.

I was wrong.

I left it ON the car.

And it rained that night. It rained a lot.

The next morning – it was still dark – I came out and looked around the inside of the car and could not find it.

So, I drove up Hog Knob to pick up my son-in-law who has helped me deliver the newspapers to the outlying post offices.

I said I could not find my cell phone or wallet and we needed to go by my house to look for them.

As I was getting out of the car, I heard him say “found them.”

Where?

“On top of the car,” he said.

On top of the car? You mean I had driven about 10 miles with my wallet and cell phone lying on top the car?

Wow.

When I picked them up, I understood how. My soaked wallet weighed about five pounds and my soaked cell phone a couple of pounds.

The cell phone was dead. Kaput. New cell phone needed. The wallet probably needed to be replaced too.

We drove our delivery route the opposite direction and ended up at Arnoldsburg where we could make a much shorter drive to Spencer to get a cell phone and wallet replacement.

We found a cell phone rather quickly but finding a wallet was not easy. As a matter of fact, it was impossible.

Why?

Because the Spencer Wal-Mart does not carry men’s wallets any more.

Why?

No one news.

One thing about leather men’s wallets – the leather will dry out.

And that’s exactly what I am doing with it and planning on putting it back to use shortly and each time I look at it I will think “make sure you don’t leave it op top of your car dummy.”

IT JUST FELT WRONG: When Calhoun’s boys basketball team opened its 2024-25 basketball season against Webster County, I was sitting in my living room watching the WVRC broadcast of the game in comfort.

But it just felt wrong.

I had been involved with Calhoun basketball for the last couple of decades mostly as the Red Devils’ scorekeeper.

Somehow not having a pencil in my hand ... just wasn’t right.

The Red Devils got beat but I have seen Webster put a lot of beatings on the Red Devils over the years so that was nothing new and freshman Baron Davis looked very good in his high school debut, but I knew he would.

Age was catching up with me as a trip and fall in front of 2,000 of my best friends up in Gassaway which ended up with a busted nose and blood all over the place or catching some kind of flu from being in a crowd every night was telling me so.

So, I gave up the pencil and score-book and the fun of being around a lot of young people.

Maybe being a newspaper editor will be a little less draining.

Best of luck Red Devils and don’t forget to send us your box scores at contact@calhounchronicle.com or fang@citlink.net.

LESSONS ARE NEEDED: I honestly think it would be a good idea if the West Virginia Secretary of State’s office came to Calhoun County and gave a seminar on things like the Sunshine Law, Roberts Rule of Order, Executive Sessions, etc.

After watching some of these governmental sessions and seeing things leading up to these sessions one can’t help but wonder if they are handled the way they are because they don’t know the law or they don’t care about the law. My feeling is it’s a little of both.

The happenings at a recent Calhoun County Commission were a perfect example.

The way changes were made to the agenda showed that nobody really looked at the law on how and when changes were allowed to be made. This, I feel, was basically people not knowing what the law was and how it worked.

And that is sad.

But sadder still was the great impression that the changes were made not so much out of lack of knowledge of the law but with the intent and purpose of naming a certain person to a certain position while one party had a 2-1 edge which should be reversed the next meeting.

And even seating the winner of the special election before Jan. 1, 2025, was questionable since the original committeeman was a Republican and the will of the people was to have a Republican serve in that position until Jan. 1, 2025.

To seat the winner of a special election prior to that violated the spirit of the law if not the law itself.

Whoever decided to violate that deadline made a mistake and whoever allowed it to go forward made a mistake too.

It needs to be corrected now, not later.

These things show the huge need for knowledge of how things are supposed to work and what the law is.

A seminar sponsored by the WVSOS seems like a really good idea for Calhoun’s governmental agencies because lack of knowledge of the law just leads to bad governing.

And we deserve better.

ALL I WANT FOR CHRISTMAS: I know we want world peace, a closer walk with God and good things for our fellow man.

I do too,

But gosh darn it I’d like something under the Christmas tree too and despite wanting to say a “Red Ryder carbine-action 200-shot range model air rifle” I won’t.

What I really want is a new green and white Marshall hooded sweatshirt. Size 3XL.

Besides, I don’t want to shoot my eye out.

Until next time stay safe but don’t live your life in a bubble.

Work continuing on Calhoun Chronicle Church Directory

EDITOR’S NOTE: We are still working toward creating a Church Directory for the Calhoun Chronicle and these are the churches we have thus far. We would like for you to look over the churches we have information about and correct anything we may have wrong in the church’s summary.

Also, if we missed any churches in the county, please let us know and tell us about your church. We look forward to hearing from you because each and every church is very important. Also we would like to get information on churches in neighboring counties where Calhoun people may attend such as churches in Smithville, Stumptown and Creston. We look forward to hearing from you.

Marshall University issues statement on bowl game

At Marshall University, we pride ourselves on a rich tradition of excellence, resilience and unwavering commitment. In 2024, our football program achieved an extraordinary milestone, claiming its first Sun Belt Conference championship. This historic victory places the Thundering Herd among an elite group of programs nationwide to win championships in three different conferences - a testament to the talent, dedication, and resilience of our athletic staff, student-athletes, coaches and community. The Herd followed this success with an invitation to the prestigious Radiance Technologies Independence Bowl, promising an exciting matchup against Army, a top 25 program.

Today we are making the difficult decision to decline our invitation to participate in the Independence Bowl. Recent changes in the status of key personnel, when combined with the implications of the shifting landscape of college athletics including NIL and the transfer portal, have significantly impacted our team’s roster. At this moment, our football program’s participation numbers create a major concern for the health and safety of our current student athletes to compete in a safe, viable manner.

Although a tough and unimaginable decision for a program with such tradition and pride, after consulting with our independent medical experts, coaches and players, we reached this decision and emphatically believe this is the best decision for our student athletes. The health and well-being of our players is our top priority.

We regret the impact this has had on those involved. We extend our deepest apologies to the U.S. Military Academy for any disruption or disappointment. Army’s football program embodies the highest values of discipline, honor and service, and competing against such a distinguished opponent is a privilege. We wish Army much continued success.

We wish to thank the Sun Belt Conference, the American Athletic Conference and the Independence Bowl for their consideration and understanding as we navigated this important decision together in support of player health and safety.

This decision does not diminish the pride we feel in this year’s Sun Belt Championship winning team. The 2024 season was a direct reflection of the character and resiliency of our student athletes and the proud tradition at Marshall University. We are optimistic about the future of Thundering Herd football and excited to welcome new Head Coach Tony Gibson, a proven leader who is already hard at work assembling a talented roster and first-class coaching staff. His philosophy of seeing opportunities in obstacles is the vision that promises a new era in Thundering Herd football.

Finally, we wish to thank our fans, alumni, and community for their understanding and unwavering support as we move forward to an exciting new chapter together. Forever, We Are ... Marshall!

Calhoun falls to Webster in season opener

MOUNT ZION -- Calhoun unfortunately couldn't capitalize on their home-court advantage in their season opener. The match between them and the Webster County Highlanders didn't end well, with the Calhoun Red Devils falling 50-31. If the Red Devils were looking for revenge after losing 83-48 to them when the teams met on Tuesday, then they'll just have to keep looking.

Calhoun's loss shouldn't obscure the performances of Baron Davis, who posted 18 points, and Micah Allen, who earned five points and seven rebounds. The dominant performance gave Allen a new career-high in points.

Both squads are looking forward to the support of their home crowds in their upcoming games. Calhoun will host Gilmer County at 7:00 p.m. on December 18th. As for Webster County, they will be defending their home court for the first time this season when they go up against Roane County at 7:30 p.m. on Friday.

Basketball Game Preview: Calhoun Red Devils vs. Gilmer County Titans

Calhoun is 2-8 against Gilmer County since February of 2020 but they'll have a chance to close the gap a little bit on Wednesday. The Calhoun Red Devils will host the Gilmer County Titans at 7:00 p.m. Given that both suffered a loss in their last games, they both have a little extra motivation heading into this matchup.

After dropping their season opener at home, Gilmer County is headed out to face a Red Devils squad ready to give their home crowd a win. Calhoun received a blow on Tuesday as they fell 50-31 to Webster County.

Despite the loss, Calhoun had strong showings from Baron Davis, who posted 18 points, and Micah Allen, who put up five points and seven rebounds. The dominant performance gave Allen a new career-high in rebounds.

Meanwhile, Gilmer County played a tough contest on Thursday in which they were outscored in every quarter. They were outmatched by Doddridge County and fell 71-43. The Titans haven't had much luck with the Bulldogs recently, as the team's come up short the last four times they've met.

Calhoun will need focus on slowing down Jacob Mick, one of several Gilmer County players who made an impact when they last played. He went 8 of 18 on his way to 21 points and five rebounds. The game was Mick's third in a row with at least ten points. The team also got some help courtesy of Zachariah Wine, who dropped a double-double on ten points and 11 boards.

Calhoun didn't have too much breathing room in their matchup against Gilmer County when the teams last played back in January, but they still walked away with a 46-42 win.

Football showcase scheduled at Glenville State University next fall

GLENVILLE – In an innovative collaboration, Gilmer County Schools and Glenville State University are teaming up to create a brand-new tradition for West Virginia High School Football. Nathan Haynes, Athletic Director for Gilmer County High School, and Jesse Skiles, Athletic Director of Glenville State University, have worked together to pioneer the Ratliff Insurance High School Football Kickoff Classic. The inaugural kickoff will take place on Friday, August 29 and Saturday, August 30, 2025. This new event – which is slated to take place every year in August – will feature two days of competitive football from high school teams from around the state and beyond. Participating schools will have the opportunity to watch a Glenville State football practice, engage in a tour of the campus and compete with some of the top schools for early-season gridiron supremacy.

The 2025 edition of the Ratliff Insurance High School Football Kickoff Classic will play host to six games games between schools that run the gamut of A to AAAA. The new event will kick off on Friday with Wahama High School matching up against East Hardy at 5:45 p.m., followed by Gilmer County High School hosting rival Calhoun County High School at 9 p.m. Saturday will begin with the opportunity for teams to watch a Glenville State University football practice from 8:00 to 10:00 a.m. At 11:00 a.m., Midland Trail High School will face off against Clay County. The action continues at 2:10 p.m. with Williamstown High School vs. James Monroe. At 5:20 p.m., Nitro High School will take on Hedgesville in the penultimate contest, and Greenbrier West High School will take on Roane County at approximately 8:30 p.m. to cap off the festivities. The final game will have a special guest to perform a ceremonial coin toss: State Superintendent of Schools Michele Blatt., as well as a special halftime performance form singer/songwriter Anthony Mossburg. Fans can purchase a ticket that is good for all four games on Saturday at a cost of $12 for an adult and $5 for a student. Parking for the event is $5. Tickets and parking will be the same price on Friday, that will be good for both contests.

The focus of the event might be the football games, but the kickoff offers a great opportunity for student-athletes to become acquainted with the myriad of possibilities that are available on GSU’s campus. Players and fans from every participating school will have the chance to tour the university’s facilities and interface with academics, admissions, and extracurricular programs seeking up-and-coming prospects for the future. The event’s organizers hope to attract 1,200 students to the tour, potentially enticing prospective students to enroll at GSU. “Really, the purpose is to showcase the town of Glenville -- this county and this community,” Skiles stated. “We have an amazing history of what Gilmer County students have accomplished not just athletically but academically throughout the years. We want to take that relationship to another level and collaborate where we are part of this together. These are some traditional power schools that are coming, and to get them here and to give them a great experience – we are really excited about that.”

GSU, GCHS and participating schools will all benefit financially from the Kick-off Classic. As the local high school, GCHS will provide logistical support and run the ticket gate, from which they will earn 20 per cent of the proceeds. In addition, each team that plays in the Kickoff Classic on Saturday will receive 10 per cent payout from Saturdays total gate ticket profit. Friday’s participants will earn 20 per cent each of the total gate ticket revenue with GSU retaining all profit from running concessions and parking during the two-day event. Additionally, both Skiles and Haynes posited that the influx of fans will provide a boost for the local economy as well.

When asked about potential growth for the future, GCHS Athletic Director Haynes was optimistic about how the Kickoff Classic could become a perennial showcase of the top schools in the state.

“I think that this could be the biggest high school event in the state of WV outside of the state championship games,” said Haynes. Not just for the best schools in West Virginia – I’ve reached out to schools in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Virginia. I think we are going to be able to attract some of the best competition in four or five states.”

The inception of the Ratliff Insurance High School Kickoff Classic marks a significant milestone for both the relationship between the two institutions and the high school football landscape in West Virginia. The collision of exciting gridiron action with the showcase of educational and extracurricular opportunities at Glenville State University will surely build community engagement and create lasting memories.

Ladies of ’69 hold meeting in Grantsville

Recently we had our annual Christmas get-together for the women in the class of 1969 from Calhoun County High School. We have done this for almost 10 years.

We try and meet every two months and have lunch.

It’s always a different group of ladies because as we get older our calendars are filled with doctor appointments, family visits, and just life in general.

This time we met at Mom’s Place Too in Grantsville to celebrate our friendship. It’s been a rough year for several classmates. We have lost some, we have had major sickness, and our classmates have lost their spouses. Our class celebrated 55 years this fall at a class reunion. I hope we can continue meeting every couple of months for as long as we can. If you know of any classmates from the class of ‘69, please invite them to join our luncheons. Merry Christmas to everyone. Just in case you don’t recognize some of us we have listed everyone’s name. I hope you enjoy the photo, and I am sure you will have memories from high school of some of these beautiful ladies.

OP-ED: Water Co. Consolidation: Somebody Better Get This Boat in the Water

By Shari Johnson
Publisher Ridgeview News

The tri-consolidation process of the water systems in Calhoun County has been a source of contention and political manipulation from the beginning. To the general public involved (water customers), so long as their water is coming out of the faucet without issue, their bill is reasonable and they have trust in those in charge of producing the water the politics of operation is of little concern.

The progress that Calhoun County residents have made in the realm of county government since 2020 has been no small accomplishment. Government meetings are moderately well attended, financial and decision making transparency has been sought and improved, businesses are now looking at Calhoun County as a potential location and now is not the time for residents to assume our boat is about to sail.

With the current crew members still on deck of Calhoun’s Boat of Business, “A rising tide lifts all boats” is a fitting quote of what could be the future of Calhoun County if we continue to monitor the port. The quote suggests that economic improvements will help all participants in the economy, regardless of their individual circumstances if all those on board work together. Such as the consolidation.

John F. Kennedy is credited with popularizing the phrase in the 1950s to describe local economic development projects in New England.

Let’s discuss a New Calhoun. Calhoun residents have long been victims of an oppressive government that much preferred the citizens to be uninvolved with their meetings. That allowed decision making to be done by a scarce few and benefits to be made by the same. The ability to broadcast meetings live on social media has changed the level of awareness and allowed citizens to vote accordingly and make their own opinions known to county officials.

Ridgeview News attended the Tri-consolidation meeting of The Town of Grantsville, Mt. Zion PSD and Pleasant Hill PSD at the Grantsville Town Office on Monday, December 9th, 2024. The reason for my attendance was to learn at what stage the consolidation effort was at.

At recent Calhoun County Commission meetings the county was given the impression that the consolidation efforts could be sped up by the County Commission paying $317,471 in bonds due by the three water entities combined.

Those bonds were a huge part of the Town of Grantsville’s 60% rate increase request, as well as 400,000 gallons of water loss due to leaks, (which has now been cut in half and is no longer an issue.) Add to that their additional 1% sales tax which has been added on to purchases in town and things look pretty good for the town even without their 60% increase.

When the WVPSC requested proof of the Town’s need for the 60% increase , issues found by those reviewing the complaint was the Town of Grantsville’s failure in not reserving cash and the PSC said that they had funds to do it, they just didn’t. They were producing 100% more water than needed to be produced because of leaks, numerous errors in accounting including a cited instance of an invoice being booked twice. While the Town has solved their financial problems by an increase of cost for their customers, the County is still considering paying off their bonds with county tax dollars. There is no evidence that they’re being responsible with what they currently have, and yet, they’re in line (unbeknownst to the WVPSC) to receive more money that they’ll not be held accountable for.

It was mentioned in Monday’s Calhoun Commission meeting that a few residents had already requested water bill assistance and were turned away because they didn’t have children in their homes. Public assistance for utilities is also only permitted to be used once a year by the agencies who offer assistance such as CRI, FRN and Neighbors Helping Neighbors. While gas and electric bills can be a seasonal issue, water is a 12 months out of the year issue for most.

As I sat and videoed the water consolidation meeting on Monday night for one hour, my frustration grew as well as those in Ridgeview News viewership. According to those participating in the meeting, each entity was supposed to bring their monthly financial obligations to the table to determine what would be put into each coffer to pay their own bills and their collective bills upon consolidation, or at least the beginning of consolidation through the O&M Agreement.

When I tell you it was a band chaos all humming a different tune I’m not kidding. While it appeared the Mayor lead the meeting, there was no agenda or plan on how to proceed. One of them joked about having forgotten to bring their share of bills, others were clueless as to what exactly was being paid for and who it was being paid to, other questions that arose were just simply unanswered.

This article is to open another window to what is happening when citizens are not involved by attending and asking questions. While Monopoly is being played and paid with county funds, there is no banker auditing the game.

That’s the issue with the WV Public Service District. They’ve allowed the Town and other agencies to be their own bankers, without questioning anything, including obvious and (noted in their reporting) inconsistencies in their finances. Those that should have lead to an in depth audit but was simply brushed aside without question.

The decision to allow the Town of Grantsville to continue with their increase was filed November 22nd by Nathan Crouch. Below are clipped images from the letter showing the inconsistencies of financial management by the Town of Grantsville.

The WVPSC hearing to finalize the 60% increase decision was held on December 3rd, 2024 without suitable notice to the parties who had filed the petition to stop the increase. The WVPSC justification for not notifying the parties was that a legal ad was ran two months prior to the meeting wherein the hearing date was announced. What should be professional expectation of notifying the public and those involved has somehow managed to become unnecessary by State, County and City government and denies the citizens the right to attend and defend their own interests. It is the Governments duty to take care of the citizens and insure that Government agencies operate legally and effectively with the best interest of the citizens in mind. This is not the case. So, for the people who are depending on this consolidation, you need to understand that the boat being built for this county to set sail in is a dingy at this point. Before the consolidation takes place, an O&M agreement has to be completed, and if Monday night’s meeting is any indication of it getting accomplished, we’re in trouble.

administration is making on the County as a whole and why a meeting such as the one being held last night was needed. Those in attendance were asked how they viewed the current city administration. Adjectives such as dominating leadership, unwelcoming and uncooperative were used when describing the Town Government with concern as to how those attitudes effected the business climate and hope for new businesses coming into the area. Concerns over financial management, lack of economic development and decisions that deterred business growth. Roger Propst provided a description of what’s being constructed inside the old high school, now known as the Avalon Campus. The multifaceted campus will be providing opportunities to improve health, education, business and tourism which can transform the entire community’s perspective on what is possible. The third floor of the building that can be remembered as the CHS Library and several class rooms, has been renovated to become a primary source of income for the business campus with six high end apartments and two bed and breakfast rooms. A large steel deck is being constructed that will be utilized by the apartment residents as well as an event venue. The second floor will house a private school, school administration offices and will begin with grades K-4, gradually increasing the grades in years to come. The basement level of the building will be a Tamarack style shopping center, known as EZ Street, that will allow artisans and vendors to set up small shops to man themselves or utilize 1982 Foundation Staff for consignment sales. In addition to the shops will be a Steak House with a menu unlike anything available locally with plenty of seating and an outdoor eating area for warmer weather and a fitness center for membership. The old gymnasium area is being restored with a stage for performing arts and the gym area available for sports and events. The large steel structure at the end of building is the Apple Seed learning center for Head start and child care with a cafeteria and two commercial kitchens on the backside of the buildings. The swimming pool will reopen this summer that will be adjacent to the recovery center and river outfitters. These exciting experiences and shopping centers will serve to make Calhoun a day trip location to attract visitors into the area as well as potential other businesses. Even the construction crews have brought a level of excitement to the area worth driving by to watch Avalon Grow. Add the City ventures and the continuing effort of bringing in the American Medicines Company’s 500 jobs and Calhoun County could be on the verge of returning to its capitol ventures of the early days of oil and gas, river boats and bustling city streets. This was the reasoning behind the meeting. Those in attendance want their community to be a welcoming county that is ready to become central West Virginia’s River city of hope, and they do not believe it can happen with current mindset of Grantsville’s leadership. Incoming Commissioner Eric Lupardus attended the meeting to encourage the voice of citizens and businesses to speak out and take part in county government. Area businesses, county commissioners and members of the FINEX InC Organization (Facilitating Investment and Economic Expansion in Calhoun) have been in contact with state and national representatives receiving encouragement to get things rolling in Calhoun County in preparation for potential funding for The American Medicine Company. A few of those in attendance and other’s that were not in attendance have expressed interest in running for the open offices in Grantsville politics, all were interested in revitalizing their community and taking ownership of what needs done. For more information on what’s happening in Grantsville contact your area city and county leaders and ask the hard questions such as “What have you personally done to encourage economic growth? How are you fighting to keep the community safe and provide adequate law enforcement and support? What’s being done to clean up dilapidated dwellings in our county and increase the value of our real estate? How are you supporting the businesses that are in our community?

Grappling, Inc. started strong, leaving “The Juggernaut” staggering. Tension rose when Jagermeister tagged himself in, frustrating Anthony. The distraction allowed the champs to strike, sending Anthony crashing to the floor. Boulder speared Jagermeister, and when Anthony tried to re-enter, he was stopped by a double dropkick. After launching Titan Troy into their opponent with a lawn dart spear, Boulder pinned Jagermeister at 11:13, sealing the win for Grappling, Inc.

Furious after his second straight loss,

Anthony attacked Jagermeister and prepared to use the same chair he injured Hero Napier with. Suddenly, Santa Claus appeared with a gift for Anthony: a baseball bat. As Anthony hurled insults, Santa revealed themselves to be Hero Napier, back for revenge. Napier swung, but Anthony escaped just in time.

Napier, addressing the crowd, thanked the fans for helping them believe in themselves. As they spoke to the Boss Lady, Jager grabbed the chair and swung at Anthony, who backed away in shock and angrily left the arena. The night ended with Jager and Napier reunited in the ring, delivering a true Christmas miracle.
