Commission and ARC Say Big Otter/Nebo/Walker Road Water Line will be open in December

By Gary Lee Stuber

The Clay County Commission held their final regular monthly meeting on Monday, September 28, 2026, and was continued until Tuesday, October November 6th this year. All three members of the Clay County Commission were present. Joyce Johnson, Commission President and Commissioner Duane Legg were physically present; Commissioner David Schoolcraft was present by phone.

The Commission opened with normal county business. They approved the minutes from the previous meeting, bills, purchase orders, budget revision, erroneous assessment as presented by the Assessor, fiduciary appointments as presented by the County Clerk, which included approving last wills and testaments, affidavits and waivers of final settlement for estates. The commission set the date for the Estate hearing for the Estate of Robin Lilly, deceased, for October 26 at 10:00 am.

The Commission adopted an Election Official Trainees Program, as established by the state, for 16 and 17-year-old students. While they cannot vote, they will take the same training as all election officials and will participate during the general election.

The Commission also set the dates for the Board of Assessments as October 13 at 1:00 pm and October 26 at 1:00 pm.

The Commission also confirmed that the Clay County Trick or Treat will run the same date and time as the City of Clay had already established for themselves: Saturday, October 31st, 2026, from 6-8:00 pm.

The best news of the meeting came from Terry Martin. He announced the re-application for the Osia Road Waterline Project. He also discussed the issues and possible solutions for the Clay County Library issues. He asked for a time for interviews from the commission for the three contractors under consideration for the new Clay County 911

Terry Martin presents to the Commission

Center, ZMM, the Mills Group and Pickering. The interviews will happen following the first October Commission Meeting on October 13 from 9:30 am to 11:30 am. But the best news was that the Big Otter/Nebo/Walker Road Waterline will officially be finalized and open in December. And that the Grassy Fork Waterline will out for bid in November and a bid would be selected in January of next year.

The meeting could not be closed, but continued to October 6. Commission President Johnson opened the floor for public comment. There were few who commented, but Clay County Assessor Teresa Davis introduced Laura Canfield as her full-time Transfer Clerk.

The commission will meet on October 6 for the public Election Voting Machine tests and the next regular meeting of the Clay County Commission will be on Monday October 13.

West Virginia in-person early voting at the Clay County Courthouse for the General Election dates: October 21-31, 2026 (weekday regular business hours; Saturday 9:00 am – 5:00 pm on October 24 and October 31).

Panthers take the Logan Wildcats to the skinnin' shed

By Allen Hamrick

This past Friday was redemption night for the Panthers. After getting whipped like scrambled eggs in their last three games, the Panthers needed time on the heavy bag to learn to punch in the gut and deliver a right hook all over again. With the taste of losing getting stuck in their crawl, the Panthers needed a win, and a win against the tough Logan Wildcats would go a long way toward saving some pride. It was one of those nights one expected something to happen, like an eerie horror film about to unfold. Who would be the scariest team? Only 48 minutes and four quarters would tell. Mother Nature decided to play her part in the game and brought the rain, damp and fog at times as only the most loyal fans graced the stands under umbrellas and canopy city set up in the stands.

Fans could see at the onset of the game that the Panthers were not about to lay down their arms and surrender. However, Logan was on the boards first as the Panthers sort of struggled to get operational on offense, but it didn't take long. The Panthers got the ball rolling but handed it off in the form of a fumble on the first set of downs and gave the Wildcats the ball. Panther defense held and forced a punt which they blocked, giving the offense good field position. Both teams went back and forth, neither gaining much ground on offense as both defenses dug in their heels. The Wildcats got seven on the boards in the first quarter after grabbing a pass nearly right out of the hands of Cooper Collins and took it to the house. The Panthers got close one time and were smelling the daisies at the TD line but couldn't get it in.

Once the second quarter got underway the Panthers still had the endzone on their bucket list as the Wildcats added another seven making the score 0-14 Wildcats. That was enough for the Panthers - having their butts handed to them again on a spit wasn't about to happen again. Then it all broke loose! With a Wildcat climbing on him ready to claw his eyes out, Cooper Collins aired out a bomb to Joel Elliott, the speedster with glue-like hands, who crossed the money line for the TD. It was a great throw and catch combo that dropped the jaws of the Wildcats as Elliott burned the Wildcat defender like Sunday's trash. T.J. Pritt added the extra point, and the Panthers were eatin' meatloaf again. The game went into half-time as the Wildcats led by seven.

At the half CCHS principal Angela Nichols, along with students from CCHS, accepted the $5K check from the T-Mobile representative for their participation in the T-

Dear Recycle Lady

Dear Recycle Lady,
I know you recycle toothbrushes, but are there any other oral items that can be recycled?

Clean Teeth

Dear Clean Teeth,
Yes. There are several other oral items that can be recycled. All brands of toothbrushes and empty tubes of toothpaste, plus their caps, can be recycled. Try to get as much of the tooth paste out as you can before recycling the tube. Not only will that make it more recyclable, it will also save you money! The small plastic floss containers can also be recycled, as well as dental flosses and picks. Don't forget to include all the packaging that the oral products come in. They are also recyclable. Deposit all these items in the small tube that is part of the aluminum can bin. Colgate pays for the postage for all boxes of oral products returned to TerraCycle and the Recycling center has returned 6 boxes weighing approximately 25 pounds over the past three years.

Dear Recycle Lady,
What are plant-based cleaners? Do they do a good job?

Cleaner-Upper

Dear Cleaner-Upper,
Good question. Plant-based cleaners are cleaners made with environmentally friendly ingredients such as vinegar, lemon juice, and baking soda; all of which have excellent antibacterial, degreasing, and stain removing properties. Vinegar is a natural disinfectant and deodorizer, lemon juice has antibacterial properties and a fresh scent, and baking soda is effective for scrubbing and neutralizing odors. Used properly, plant-based cleaners can be just as effective as chemical cleaners, however, they work more slowly so let them sit a while before removing them. There are also several commercial cleaners available that are plant-based. They are made with ingredients derived from renewable plant-based sources rather than petroleum and synthetic chemicals. Also, biodegradable plant-based cleaners are less harmful for aquatic life than commercial cleaners. Look for the EPA Safer Choice label or USDA BioPreferred certified. A significant part of these products must be plant-based. Tide PurClean ingredients are 75% plant-based and Clorox Ecoclean is made with 99% plant-based cleaning ingredients. Seventh Generation has many plant-based cleaning products, as does Mr. Clean. The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) also approves natural cleaners with ingredients like thymol (from the oil of thyme), including Seventh Generation's Disinfecting Wipes and Cleaners.

Dear Recycle Lady,
I recently replaced my lawn mower battery. Will my old lawn mower battery recycle?

Lawn Caretaker

Dear Lawn Caretaker,
The Recycling Center not only accepts lawn mower batteries, but it will pay you for them. Car batteries are also accepted as are all rechargeable batteries of any size, regardless of whether or not they will charge. Proper disposal of rechargeable batteries is crucial to prevent environmental harm and to recover valuable minerals such as lithium, cobalt, nickel, lead and aluminum. I am sorry to say no alkaline batteries of any kind are accepted at our Recycling Center. However, according to battery manufacturers it is now safe to put them in the landfill. When you take your lawn mower battery to the Recycle Center, go in the door for recycling aluminum cans, push the button and a staff member will come help you.

Kudos to Mountain Table in Renick, WV for using a compostable bag for their k-cups and saving space in the landfill. Compostable bags are made from organic materials such as sugarcane or potato starch. They break down quickly, are biodegradable and can be composted at home.

Mostly, I put the blame for it squarely on the sneaky shoulders of law students. Who else studies Latin? Who else has the need to study Latin?

I personally come from a long line of honest lawyers. Two of them. Father and grandfather. My dad used to say that the only reason to study Latin was so beginning lawyers could read their diplomas. That view has now stood the test of time, and I believe the only way to fight these show-offs is to beat them at their own game.

Hunting guides, of course, know that alces gigas is that towering pillar of bog terror, the Alaska-Yukon moose.

But even hunting guides eventually run out of Latin names, so I think it behooves us, the non-show-offy members of society, to expand our Latin into things we really need. This will, of course, run the risk of child endangerment, because kids will make the perfect Latin speakers. They know the English words already, so here are some suggestions for translation into Latin.

Housecat: sleepa snuggle litter box.

Dog: Cleana yard afta me.

Teacher: Allus getsit wrong.

Architect: Donnnnnnnnnnnnt fergita bathroom.

Evening meal: Mamafilma face up.

Grandma: Bighuga cumin.

Grandpa: Knowzital justaskem.

Will it happen? Of course not. If it happened, and all those third graders got ahead of us using Latin, they could get away with murder, confess to it at the dining table on Sunday, and before we could notify the police or a homeless shelter, they could simply say, “Taking your habeas corpuscle into account, no one sees the evidentiary truth. So ... Bluuuuuh!

Brought to you by folks who should know better. Have fun.

Home Again

Joe Mazzella

When I was a boy we lived in my Nana’s 75 year old house on a little hill above a river that was crossed by a swinging bridge. On the hill above us lived an older couple in a white house. Then when I was 11 years old a fire in the night burned down our home. Thankfully we all escaped with our lives, but our house and everything we owned was gone.

Later when I was an adult the older couple who had lived on the hill above us passed away and my older brother bought their home. I would visit him there sometimes and one time I decided to go down to where our old house used to be. The burned wreckage had been covered with dirt long ago and now there was nothing there but a tangled mass of weeds. I tried to picture our old home there but couldn’t. It was gone. That home only existed in the memories in my mind and the feelings in my heart. I smiled sadly and drove back to my own place. When I opened the door I was met with big smiles and happy hugs from my little girl and boy. I hugged them back and laughed. I was home!

I have lived in a lot of places over the years: dormitories, apartments, and houses. It took me a long time to see that none of them were really home. Home isn’t a place. Home is inside of us. Home is anywhere we can share our love, our kindness, and our joy. Home is wherever the people we love are. Every place we live can be home if we bring our heart to it. Every place we live can be home if we fill it with laughter, peace, and happiness.

The truth is our home is where our love is. We take our home with us wherever we go. Yet, I know deep in our souls all of us long to go back to our true home again. We long to return to the place we came from, a place of never-ending love, joy, and light. We long to return to our Heavenly Father’s arms and see those we loved again. And when our time here is over we will.

Not Everything in Life is Funny

Dr. James Snyder

I’m the kind of person who finds a sliver of humor in just about everything in life. If I can’t laugh, I guess I’m not awake yet.

The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage is not on board with my attitude. It takes her quite a while to find something to laugh at. If only she could see my bathroom mirror in the morning, she could find something to laugh about

Several years ago, The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage and I celebrated our birthdays which are two days apart. We went to a restaurant to celebrate. I told the waitress that we were celebrating our birthdays.

She looked at me, smiled, and said, “Tell me, sir, how does it feel to be old?” Then she laughed.

Of course, I laughed back at her, then reached across the table and began squeezing the arm of The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage. I looked back at the waitress and said, “It sure feels good.” The waitress and I were laughing, and the only one not laughing was sitting across the table from me. For some reason she didn’t think it was funny.

I worried she might bring it up on the way home, but she never did.

I always find ways to turn something around and laugh at it.

Often, The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage would start a conversation by saying, “I was thinking...”

Then, without thinking, I interrupted her and responded, “With what?” Then I would laugh hysterically. Of course, I was the only one laughing at the time. She would look at me with one of “her looks,” and I could tell she was not laughing, even on the inside.

Laughing has been one of my hobbies throughout life. If I can’t laugh, then what good is anything? So I make it a practice to find something to laugh about every day.

After 55 years of marital bliss, I have had many occasions to laugh. Even when people make fun of me, I join in the laughter, which is all right with me.

Driving across town last week, The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage was driving the Sissy Van. She was coming close to a red light, and being the knucklehead that I am, I said to her, “There’s a red light, make sure you stop.”

Looking at me, she said, “You think that is funny?”

I must’ve, because I was laughing then. She, on the other hand, was not laughing at all. Looking at me, she said, “Would you like to walk home?”

The one thing that The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage is afraid of is a cockroach. She sees one, grabs her broom, and chases it until she can get rid of it.

Once, as we were going to bed, before she turned off the light, she saw a cockroach right under her pillow. She had a screaming moment and then got her shoe and tried to kill that old cockroach.

Upon getting rid of the cockroach, she looked at me and said, “Did you plant that cockroach under my pillow?”

Of course I shook my head in the negative, but as I thought about it, that would’ve been a good plan for me to use. I had never thought of doing something like that. But it was another bullet in my arsenal.

Several weeks later, I thought about that. In the kitchen, The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage had a box of sugar-free cookies, and I was only allowed one per day.

I wanted my second sugar-free cookie, and I didn’t know how to get it without getting caught. The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage was in the kitchen, and there was no way I could sneak in and get a cookie. So when I came into the kitchen, I looked back down the hallway and said, “Oh, is that a cockroach down the hallway?”

I sounded serious, so she got up to get that cockroach while I sneaked across the kitchen and picked out one more sugar-free cookie without being caught.

Coming back into the kitchen, she said, “I guess it got away because I can’t find it.”

After she said that, she looked at me, looked at the box of sugar-free cookies, and then looked back at me. She wasn’t smiling; she was scowling and growling. She just stood there quietly for several minutes, just staring.

I tried, but I couldn’t control myself, and I started laughing.

Then she said, “What do you think is so funny?”

“Oh, nothing,” I said, trying to control myself, “I was just thinking of a joke.”

Still scowling, she stared at me and said, “I think I know what joke you were thinking of.”

At this point, I was going to ask her to explain what she meant because I was afraid she had caught me. But the laughter was worth it. And I enjoy laughter; it seems to lift my spirit.

Reflecting on this, I was reminded of one of my favorite Bible verses.

“A merry heart doeth good like a medicine: but a broken spirit drieth the bones” (Proverbs 17:22).

To me, no medicine is better than a “merry heart.” Sometimes it takes effort to have a merry heart, but it’s worth it in the long run. The real challenge is knowing what I believe is funny. Sometimes I laugh at the wrong thing and suffer for it.

ACLU-WV Launches Election Protection Campaign

CHARLESTON, W.Va. – As part of its commitment to being at the forefront of protecting every eligible voter’s ballot, the American Civil Liberties Union of West Virginia (ACLU-WV) has launched a statewide awareness campaign about its Election Protection Hotline.

“Our elections are secure – despite the big lie we’ve been told by President Trump – and the ACLU of West Virginia is here to make sure they stay that way,” ACLU-WV Executive Eli Baumwell said.

For the past decade, the hotline has helped West Virginians answer questions before, during, and after an election, and make sure their vote is counted. The hotline is staffed by attorneys and law students trained in election laws.

“The hotline itself is not new but we’re making an extra investment this year to ensure everyone is aware of this resource, should they need it,” Baumwell said.

Billboards are going up across the state from Martinsburg to Huntington and from Wheeling to Beckley. In addition, commercials will be airing on local television stations and social media will be saturated with ads as well. The commercial can viewed here.

The campaign is part of a historic $25.8 million investment by the national ACLU to protect the power to vote, the resilience of our democratic institutions, and public confidence in every stage of the electoral process; and to guarantee that every vote is counted according to the law.

Baumwell said anyone with questions about the voting process is encouraged to contact the hotline. Voters may also use the hotline to report concerns like electioneering at a polling place or voter intimidation tactics.

“We encourage voters to make sure they verify their information and polling place ahead of the election. But if something goes wrong the day of, we’re ready to help with that too.” Baumwell said.

The hotline also saw an uptick in calls during the 2020 election, which was held at the height of the COVID-19 pandemic. The protocols created all new challenges for some voters that required some out-of-the-box thinking and cooperation with state elections officials, he said.

“We had a few people who had requested absentee ballots, and then got sick and were hospitalized in an isolation ward before they could fill them out and send them back in,” he said. “In those cases, we were able to work with the Secretary of State’s Office to hand off a ballot to a medical professional, who then handed the ballot off to the voter, and then returned the ballot to the official outside of the quarantine area,” he said.

The hotline can be reached at 304-355-5123.

April 1959

Elections Held

Student Council election was held on Friday, April 24, 1959. Candidates for president were Robert Baughman, Sophomore; and Dawne Backus, Junior. These students were nominated by the student body.

Charles Barrett, Sophomore; and Lora Wilson, Junior; are candidates for vice-president.

Those who were running for members-at-large to the council are: Sharon DeMoss, freshman; Karen Donahue, junior; Marian Gibson, eighth grade; Keith Jones, seventh grade; Brenda King, seventh grade; Marilyn Lewis, freshman; Nancy McMillion, sophomore; Mary Jo Morris, eighth grade; Glen Salisbury, Junior; and Donreta Sigman, sophomore.

On Wednesday, April 22, these candidates were given a chance to explain their platforms and solicit votes, before the assembled student body.

Campaign posters and tags are on display throughout the halls and rooms. Walking advertisers (members of the various political groups) displayed pleas and promises in catchy slogans and verses.

The election campaign was climaxed at the annual campaign dance on Thursday night at the gym.

Names of new officers will be announced later.

Best Actress, Actor To Be Announced

The Footlighter's awards to be given to the best actress and actor of 1958-59 cannot be announced in this issue of the paper because there will be two candidates selected from the cast of the senior play.

Those who have already been selected as candidates are, Rosa Gibson, T. G. Griffith, and Glen Salisbury. These, and the two yet to be selected, will be judged on characterization, memorization, poise, and co-operation.

The awards will be presented to the winners in the Awards Assembly, May 6.

Seniors Sneak Away

On April 24 a noticeable hush filled the halls around room 14—The senior home room — Why? There were no seniors! Furthermore there was no senior sponsor —The whole kit and kiboodle was gone—fled—shaken the dust of Widen from it's heels.

It was senior sneak day—an innovation this year the seniors had kept silent about their plans, and so no one knew when they would be absent — or where they would go.

The group left in cars during the morning hours and did not get back until after midnight where they and what they did, only they know.

For further information — see a senior!

Juniors Plan Prom

The annual Junior-Senior Prom will be held on May 8, 1959, in the Community Building, from 8:00 to 12:00 P. M. The theme will be "Top Hat Club." As the name denotes the gym will be made to resemble a night club, using musical instruments in gold and silver on a blue background.

Tables will be arranged attractively and appropriately for night club motif.

Refreshments will be served at intermission by Nancy McMillion and Marilyn Lewis acting as hostesses.

The Sportsmen will provide music for the occasion.

Seniors Attend College

The seniors, in full dress, and in gay, holiday spirits, left early Thursday morning, April 23, for the Annual Glenville High School Senior Day Program which is held on the Glenville State College campus each spring.

The program is sponsored to provide an opportunity for high school seniors who are interested in attending college to visit the campus while classes are in session.

A full day of activities was scheduled, beginning with a general program in the auditorium of 10:00 A. M. and followed by directed campus tours, dancing, swimming, baseball games and open house by all departments. Lunch was served in the school cafeteria.

The Widen seniors took in everything and had a wonderful time.

Statewide Grant Conference Offers Virtual Training for West Virginia Professionals

Secretary of State Kris Warner to keynote Oct. 13-15 Grant Expectations Conference

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. - Grant professionals and organizations across West Virginia can participate virtually in three days of training on pursuing, managing and protecting grant funding Oct. 13-15 during the second annual Grant Expectations Conference. In-person participation also is available in Morgantown.

West Virginia Secretary of State Kris Warner will deliver the keynote, bringing a statewide perspective to the role grant-funded organizations and effective grant stewardship play in building West Virginia communities.

“Grant funding is an investment in West Virginia communities, and the professionals who secure and manage those resources are critical to making that investment count,” Warner said. “Building their knowledge and capacity helps strengthen the organizations and communities they serve.”

The conference comes as West Virginia communities continue to pursue public and private investment for infrastructure, economic development, health care, education, nonprofit services and other local needs.

In August, Gov. Patrick Morrisey announced a $145 million investment in water and wastewater infrastructure and a statewide strategy that includes grant-writing and technical assistance for small and understaffed water systems through partnerships with West Virginia University, Marshall University and the state’s Regional Planning and Development Councils.

Securing funding, however, is only part of the work. Grant Expectations focuses on the entire grant lifecycle - from preparing an organization to pursue funding through managing an award, meeting requirements, documenting the work, monitoring subrecipients and preparing for an audit.

“Organizations put tremendous effort into winning a grant, but the responsibility doesn’t end when the award arrives,” said Patricia McDade, conference organizer and president and CEO of Patricia McDade, Inc. “People need the knowledge and systems to manage those resources well from beginning to end.”

Sessions will address organizational preparation, federal registration and SAM.gov requirements, changing federal grant requirements, financial management and internal controls, subrecipient monitoring, cybersecurity and audit preparation.

Participants also will work through practical applications, including a hands-on SAM.gov registration lab and an intensive audit-preparation session examining grant administration from both the recipient and auditor perspectives. Participants will receive checklists, worksheets, compliance resources and other tools for use after the conference.

The program is designed for participants with various levels of grant experience, including professionals preparing to pursue funding, current grant managers, organizational leaders, financial staff and experienced practitioners responsible for established grant programs.

Accountants can receive 21 continuing professional education credits from the West Virginia State Board of Accountancy. Attorneys can receive 20.8 continuing legal education credits through the West Virginia State Bar Association, with 5.7 counting toward ethics.

Grant Expectations will be held Oct. 13-15, 2026, with virtual participation available statewide and concurrent in-person sessions at the Courtyard by Grant Expectations attendees take part in a networking activity in 2025. The second annual conference will be held October 13-15 virtually and in Morgantown. Registration is open now.

Marriott in Morgantown.

Participants may register for all or part of the conference. Complete program and registration information is available at patriciamcdade.com/grant-expectations.

Clay County High School’s Inaugural ProStart Team Travels to Morgantown for Culinary Boot Camp

CLAY, W.Va. — Clay County High School’s inaugural ProStart team is taking an important step toward the statewide competition known as The West Virginia Hospitality Cup as students travel to Morgantown to participate in a culinary boot camp designed to sharpen their skills and prepare them for the 2027 West Virginia Hospitality Cup.

The hands-on training experience will provide students with an opportunity to strengthen the culinary techniques, teamwork, organization, time management, and professional kitchen skills needed to compete at a high level.

The Hospitality Cup will be held at The Greenbrier in March 2027, bringing together ProStart students from across West Virginia to demonstrate their knowledge and abilities in culinary arts and hospitality. The Winner will continue on to Baltimore Maryland for the National ProStart Invitational, with just over $500,000 awarded in scholarship money to continue on to the schooling they choose.

As Clay County High School’s first ProStart competition team, the students are helping establish a new tradition for the school’s Culinary Arts and Baking & Pastry Arts programs. Their participation represents the continued growth of career and technical education opportunities available to Clay County students.

“This is an exciting opportunity for our students to take what they are learning in the classroom and apply it in a professional, competitive environment,” said Duane Legg, CEC, Culinary Arts Instructor at Clay County High School. “The boot camp gives them an opportunity to learn, practice, work together as a team, and identify the areas we need to strengthen as we prepare for the Hospitality Cup. We are extremely proud to have Clay County represented by our inaugural ProStart team.”

ProStart is a career-building program that introduces high school students to professional culinary arts, restaurant management, hospitality, food safety, and workplace skills. Through classroom instruction, hands-on laboratory experiences, industry connections, and competition, students gain practical skills that can lead to postsecondary education, industry certifications, and careers in hospitality and foodservice.

The Morgantown culinary boot camp will serve as another milestone in the team’s preparation as students continue training throughout the school year for their March 2027 competition appearance at The Greenbrier.

Clay County High School looks forward to supporting these students as they represent their school and community and become the first Panthers to compete in the West Virginia Hospitality Cup as part of the school’s ProStart program.

Lady Mustangs fall to South Harrison

By Allen Hamrick

The CCMS Lady Mustangs had one of those weeks that they wish they could have back - losing is not something this group of girls is used to. They have been playing some great volleyball, winning more and losing some with a stronger percentage of wins, but... Something happened in the game against the South Harrison Lady Hawks that would make a fan scratch their head. Win or lose the Lady Mustangs give full attention to the game all the time, but Halloween came early to the Lady Mustang court. The game started much as anticipated, and it was full on volleyball, at least for the Lady Hawks. Whatever voodoo The Lady Mustangs were hit with, they just couldn't seem to find that groove that the Lady Mustangs are noted for. It was a rough outing to say the least, these Lady Mustangs have the talent and the grit, but something was off. It was like watching a turtle climb a brick building, no matter how hard they tried they just couldn't get a grip. It was over pretty quickly; the Lady Mustangs were defeated 9-25 and 11-25. Every team has a nightmare game at times, and it was just the Lady Mustangs' number that was called for their nightmare matchup. This game is no reflection of how good the Lady Mustangs are or how well they play, it was just one of those games the Lady Mustangs would love to have a redo. They play Spencer again at home on October 5th and Braxton at home on October 7th. If you get the chance, get out and support the CCMS volleyball team. Go Lady Mustangs!!!

Mustangs have a rough start

By Allen Hamrick

The CCMS Mustangs were on the road against Braxton Middle last Thursday night. The game was a tough one to lose for the Mustangs, to say the least. The running game of Braxton Middle was the piece of the pie that kept the Mustangs guessing what flavor it was; however, the Mustang offense got the ball moving toward the goal line much quicker than the Knights. Torin Shirey broke loose from the pack and was stomping Knights in the dirt as he made his way to the end zone. He took the run to the house seemingly for the first TD for the Mustangs. However, a mistaken blow by the ref's whistle on the sideline, assuming he was going out of bounds and killed the play at the 31-yard line. Clearly, Shirey didn't go out of bounds, but the team was penalized nonetheless, and the TD was called back. It truly is the rule that when a whistle is blown whether they blow on purpose or sneeze and it blows the play is dead regardless of the TD or any outcome of the play. Some of the rules need a second look in all fairness. What's next, blowing whistles like speculators on global financial exchanges? Nevertheless, the Mustangs plowed on getting numbers on the board. At the beginning of the third quarter, they were ahead of the Knights 12-6, but by the end of the 3rd quarter the Knights went ahead of the Mustangs 12-14 getting the extra points and never looked back. The Knights iced the cake by adding one more TD to beat the Mustangs 20-12. The Mustangs hope to be back to their glory days next week as they work out the bugs and hopefully suffer no loose whistles. Next week the Mustangs will be on the road once again at Ravenswood and back home against Wahama on Oct 15th. Go Mustangs!!

PANTHERS

Mobile sweepstakes. In the third quarter the Wildcats took the ball down the field and were putting on an air show until they were shot down by Kohan Ramsey as he got his second interception of the game, stealing the ball right out of the cat's mouth in the end zone. After that it was the Brody Scarbro show.

Getting some great blocks Scarbro ran the ball down the field on the backs of the Wildcat defense like they were nothing but corn stalks. The Wildcats added another seven to the board for their last offering in the collection plate making their total effort for the game 21 and that was all the early Christmas gifts Panther defense handed out. It was then up to the Panthers offense to get the points on the board and help out the Vegas odds. With the rain falling and time running out, the Panthers ran the Cowboy 2-minute offense the rest of the game. It was fast and furious and the Wildcats were getting frustrated and the meany mouths started the flags ended it by adding yards to the Panther offense. Here is the blow by blow- Collins hits Elliott on a 21-yard TD strike adding another 6 to the boards. Nick Williams has a bully beat down moment on defense and knocks the ball loose and Panthers recover the ball. After Panthers give it up on downs, Kohan Ramsey intercepts the ball and runs it back to the 10-yard line. Scarbro adds the icing on the cake with a money line TD run. Then, it was Joel Elliott's turn at highlight reel grabbing the interception and giving the ball back to Clay. Blake Coleman grabs the honors with next TD run making the game 31-21. The final straw was Cooper Collins taking it in on a great fake and QB run from 20 yards out - this was the final cut on the Skinning of the Logan Wildcats.

The game was over as the Panthers played a whale of a second half and beat the Wildcats 38-21. It was one of those games that took a whole team to get the job done, and that they did. There isn't much else to be said about this game other than it was a complete and needed thumping at the hands of the Panthers. Blake Coleman surpassed one of the greatest tacklers ever on the Panther team. Austin Dobbins held the solo career tackle record at 203 until this season; now the undisputed king of the grid is Blake Coleman who surpassed Austin's record and is looking for more. After Friday's game, he's setting on 210 solo career tackles. The Panthers, now 3-3, will take on Tolsia, also 3-3, this Friday. This will also be also homecoming night and the crowning of the 2026 Panther Football Homecoming Queen. Go Panthers!
