Generous community helps Load the Buses with school supplies

The Load the Bus campaign to support students in need in Roanoke County, Roanoke City, Salem City, and Craig County public schools was a huge success once again in 2024.

The local school systems partnered with Walmart stores to collect school supplies at the locations in Bonsack, Clearbrook, Valley View, and Salem over the weekend of August 2-4 during Virginia's annual tax-free weekend.

A school bus was parked at each location to load school supplies donated by community. When the buses were unloaded on August 5, there were enough supplies to fill a gymnasium.

CountyRoanoke Schools Director of Community Relations Lionberger Chuck thanked Walmart for teaming up with the schools again and the community who contributed so generously to the cause.

"It reminds you there are a lot of great people in our community, and they step up," Lionberger said.

Buses were filled with backpacks, glue sticks, notebooks, three-ring binders, crayons, colored pencils, notebook paper, pens, pencils, highlighters rulers, folders, scissors, construction tissues, hand sanitizer, printer paper, dry erase markers and more. Monetary donations were also welcomed.

"Every item and every cent of donations goes to help students in need in the Roanoke Valley and Anderson graduated from William Byrd High School in 2014 and the Virginia Military Institute in 2018 with a bachelor's degree in English.

'I learned the world is a very big place and I come from a small town where everyone knows everyone, but it taught me to treat everyone kindly and stay true to yourself," said Anderson. "In the Navy, there is a lot of expectation to be a certain way by acting seriously and professionally, but staying true to myself helps me with my sailors when it comes to understanding them and what they go through."

Anderson joined the Navy four years ago. Today, she serves as the ship's training officer.

"I joined to serve my country and be part of the world's greatest Navy," said Anderson. "Being in the Navy has also given me the chance to see the world. I've been to six different countries so far. Sri Lanka was my favorite."

William Byrd Terriers join Breakfast Lions for annual Gladetown Trail clean-up

Volunteers from the William Byrd High School Terriers football team joined members of the Vinton Breakfast Lions Club on July 30 for their annual "clearing" of the Gladetown Trail. Terriers head coach Brad Lutz has always made community service a focus for his players.

Players participating included Ethan Haston, Cannin Lutz, Kam McKee, Jahdai English, Jackson McCoy, Titus Beatty, Caden McReynolds, Caleb Wrye, and Colton Edwards.

The Gladetown Trail begins just south of the Department of Elections building on Chestnut Street in Vinton. It hugs the hillside for 0.7 mile until it ends up in the upper parking lot of the Jesus the Redeemer Church on Niagara Road. The end of the trail includes a walking bridge and picturesque rocky transition all the way to the top of the hill. Those who use the trail have reported seeing 56 different species of birds and numerous species of mammals

The land was originally part of Vinyard Farm, owned by Vinton's founding fathers in the 1700s. The trail started out as a footpath and was turned into a greenway trail by the Pathfinders Submitted by John Berry, Vinton for Greenways Midweek Crew. In 2009, Breakfast Lions Club

Tommy and Karen Wood, who owned the property (then known as Woodland Place), donated a portion to the Town of Vinton to build the trail. It was completed in 2012 and is known as one of the most beautiful and peaceful trails in the greenway system.

The Town of Vinton recently completed a Streambank Restoration project at the Woodland Place end of the trail with the assistance of grant funding from the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) Stormwater Local Assistance Fund (SLAF).

The costs associated with treatment, medical bills, travel, and hotel stays quickly add up. The public can help by attending the fundraiser or donating to Cam's GoFundMe page at https://gofund.me/ f0d7164c.

All of the money collected from booth rentals from vendors, food trucks, raffles, and the cruise-in will be donated Camden's family.

Community gathers to celebrate lives of Jeanette and Bob Patterson co-workers, neighbors, former students and church members gathered Mountain View Cemetery in Vinton on August 3 to celebrate the lives of Bob and Jeanette Patterson. Bob passed away on April 23, 2020, followed by Jeanette on December 17, 2023. They were married for 58 years. Originally from North Carolina, they moved to Vinton when Bob was named principal at William Byrd High School.

He served as the principal of WBHS for 34 years, from 1965 to 1999. Jeanette worked in the office at William Byrd Middle School for many years as well, but her main focus was on being "a wonderful wife, mom and grandmommy," according to her children and grandchildren.

The Pattersons had three children- Leigh, Robert, and Carol, and four grandchildren-Sam, Xander, Owen, and James, and a wonderful life together.

They were both more than familiar faces in the community. Everyone knew them or knew of them. They touched countless lives through their careers, their family, and their involvement in the community.

The memorial service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Chris Monroe of Vinton Baptist Church where the Pattersons were members beginning in 1965. Monroe said he had never taken part in a funeral service where people were so joyful, mainly because they were celebrating "lives so well-lived with such love and compassion and dedication to the community. continue to inspire each of us."

During the service guests were invited to share anecdotes and memories of the Pattersons by their son Rob.

Barry Trent, a former student and then teacher under Bob Patterson for 21 years, described him as a "great guy with great compassion." He noted that he once came across Mr. Patterson after school hours sowing grass seed in the courtyard at William Byrd- no job was too

Many said they were unable to call Patterson, "Bob." It just seemed disrespectful. He was always "Mr. Patterson" to them, even when they were middle-aged and senior adults themselves.

Others mentioned Patterson's strength and athletic abilities and his love for sports. Apparently, he had "a handshake that could take you to your his career and athletics, he "knew the location of an ice cream shop in every

Former students and teachers shared actions which had resulted in receiving the dreaded "Please see me" notes from their principal and shaking in their boots in anticipation of what he might say.

Former student Wanda Melchers, who led the singing of hymns at the memorial service, remembered being forcibly recruited by Patterson to be in charge of the music on the nights he preached at the Rescue Mission. Each time, no matter how large the crowd, he would take time to speak individually with those in attendance and comfort them during a difficult time in their lives. "He was such a caring pastor and counselor."

WBHS Coach Paul Barnard spoke as a neighbor of the Pattersons. He mentioned that Patterson was always very supportive of the coaches; that he kept his yard in tip-top shape with a pair of clippers; and that Barnard received those infamous "See me" sticky notes several times a week. He also remembered that Patterson loved his own children and all children and would take time to play with the kids in the

commented that Patterson was also a great supporter of the arts program at William Byrd– up to a point. That limit was reached when a student built a beer can castle for an art recycling project.

Many talked about leanette Patterson's kindness to the children she worked with and her willingness to talk about her own grandchildren at every opportunity. Grandson Xander shared a family secret that he and his "grandmommy," who had a great sense of humor, liked to watch TV shows together that might be considered less than educational or even dignified.

Daughter Leigh read a poem in remembrance of her parents called "Afterglow" by Helen Lowrie Marshall that was most fitting:

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one,
I'd like to leave an

afterglow of smiles when life

Of happy memories that I leave, when life is done.

A look back at the Black Swan yearbook when Bob Patterson retired shows that the students, teachers, and staff thought so much of him that May 28,1999, was named "Patterson Day," filled with practical jokes and staff wearing, tys, "Please see me" printed Of happy times and T-shirts. The football stadium was renamed in his honor. He had this to say, "I see the success of this school as a collaboration between students, teachers, parents, and staff members. I sincerely believe it takes working together to have success. We have been more like a family at William Byrd High School."

Another summary of the Pattersons' of life philosophy was printed on their memorial program: "Life is like an ice cream; enjoy it before it melts.

Vinton Community Programs introduces new painting and Tai Chi Cane classes at Community Center; special Tai Chi event coming up on September 21

The Vinton Dept. of Community Programs and Facilities is adding several new classes at the Charles R. Hill Community Center.

A new Tai Chi class, "Eight Immortals Tai Chi Cane and Defense Cane Class," begins on Monday, August 12 at 5:30 p.m. The class will be taught by Steve Garay. There is no charge to attend.

Beginning on August 14 from 5 to 8 p.m., artist Matilda Wentzel will be teaching adult painting classes. These classes are open to all adults; Wentzel is offering a special discount to seniors. The August 14 class is a one-time class. She will also be hosting a four-week course running beginning Aug. 29. The Community Programs staff hopes to continue the classes on a monthly basis.

"I love to be in a dream state and within the flow," Wentzel says. "This is the quiet space I find as I paint.

Naturally a sense of peace and calm is infused into the canvas and translates to you in an unexplainable way, tugging on your emotions and animating that which is already within your heart. I pour my heart and soul into my paintings, knowing that I am planting seeds of love, the harvest of which will be received by all who connect with my work." Her method is to guide artists to 'wander inside of ourselves, inspiring the stories of our own imagination to come to life.' Working in acrylic paint, Wentzel uses fine line work and bright colors to create an illustrative piece. A variety of styles arise from heavily textured work to an extremely smooth canvas. The Community Programs staff has also announced a special event coming

TON HISTORY: Ball Mason Jars

Early Mason Jars canning were manufactured different colors with green being the rarest. People thought darker glass helped prevent food from spoiling as quickly as lighter colored jars. In addition to canning, jars are also used as antique décor now.

Ball is the most recognized name in home canning. In the early 1900s, there were hundreds of brands of Mason jars, but only a few stood the test of time. Ball Corporation began manufacturing glass home canning jars, the product that established Ball as a household name and licensed Mason's design.

While canning, pickling, and curing practices helped extend the lifespan of people's food, it wasn't until the airtight Mason jar that the art of food preservation was perfected.

The Vinton History Museum has several Ball Mason Jars along with thousands of other artifacts that bring back memories. You are invited to visit the Museum at 210 East Jackson Avenue

WBHS students compete in a simulated stock market competition

Each spring, William Byrd High School students enrolled in an Economics and Personal Finance course get the opportunity to practice investing in the stock market. Using a simulated investment platform, students are challenged to develop a diversified portfolio that will produce the largest return on their $100,000 investment. Over the course of 10 weeks, team members buy, sell, and closely monitor their securities with the hopes of earning a medal and bragging rights to prove that they achieved the rank of "best investor."

Nathan Hiemstra earned the top spot out of all 86 competitors with an impressive 19.91% return on investment. Nathan's hard work helped him narrowly edge past Dylan Burkett and Sean Rickman, who both favored shares of eBay. Maddux Sizemore, Madison Miller, and Nevaeh Davila each won first place in their respective classes. Their competitive spirit and thorough knowledge of business concepts paid off.

Rising-senior Nevaeh Davila held onto first place in her class thanks to savvy stock choices, including her investment in Dell. For fun, Neveah purchased a small amount of shares in Build- A-Bear and sold the shares for a $600 profit.

Ferguson from Australia. According to staff, "Ferguson will guide you through a workshop where you can immediately apply the skills you learn. Using selected exercises and techniques from the Academy's popular Qigong sets and the traditional Tai Chi form, you will be led through centuries-old release and relaxation techniques, known for their heart-calming and rejuvenating effects. The workshop will emphasize the essential principles to help you discover your perfect practice, making each aspect easy to follow and allowing you to immediately incorporate these skills into your own practice, providing you with immediate stress relief and relaxation."

According to Ferguson, this approach to Tai Chi training improves essential parameters of the quality of life, mood, and overall confidence in performing

The morning session (from 10 a.m. to noon) will focus on a simple "Opening the Golden Lotus Qigong." This Qigong primordial routine is a foundation for practicing other Qigong and Tai Chi forms. It is easily followed, making it accessible to participants of all levels. Participants will be able to follow along and benefit from this session, regardless of their experience level.

The afternoon session (from 1 to 3 p.m.) will focus on the "Warrior Monk Lohan Qigong." It will build on the morning session, emphasizing the three important principles of focus (mindfulness), connection, and activation. This dynamic energy meditation releases deep stress and trauma from the tendons while strengthening the muscles and bones.

Celebrating The Town of VINTON!

The Town of Vinton, a community nestled in the Blue Ridge Mountains, welcomes you to our community. Vinton, a town rich with history, has over the years found itself to be one of a few communities that continue to relish the past by offering an environment of a comfortable lifestyle with the feeling of being a part of a large community family. The town, with its proximity to the Blue Ridge Parkway and Smith Mountain Lake, provides many opportunities for those who wish to stop and shop at our local farmers market or one of our unique specialty shops.

If festivals are your interest, the Vinton area hosts several festivals throughout the year from the Vinton Dogwood Festival to the Vinton Fall Festival. Each festival offers its own unique atmosphere. When you are away from home it's always nice to feel as if you never left.

The Town of Vinton provides small town character with urban services and amenities located nearby. The small town atmosphere is characterized by a low crime rate; small, locally, and regionally owned businesses; and moderately priced homes. Views of the mountains and Blue Ridge Parkway abound.

Vinton represents the ideal type of community, small enough to provide a feeling of belonging, yet progressive enough to provide the facilities, services, and conveniences that are necessary to make a community feel like home to its citizens.

exercise in a series that began in 1971. The theme of RIMPAC 2024 is "Partners: Integrated and Prepared." The participating nations and forces exercise a wide range of capabilities and demonstrate the inherent flexibility of maritime forces. These capabilities range from disaster relief and maritime security operations to sea control and complex warfighting. The relevant, realistic training program includes gunnery, missile, anti-submarine and air defense exercises, as well as amphibious, counterpiracy, mine clearance operations, explosive ordnance disposal and diving and salvage operations.

Anderson plays an important role in the exercise.

"I am one of the RIMPAC coordinators on board and it is so amazing and a special opportunity to meet the sailors from other countries," said Anderson. "We are very lucky to have this opportunity." Anderson serves a Navy that operates far forward, around the world and around the clock, promoting the nation's prosperity and security. 'Serving in the Navy is an incredible honor," said Anderson. "I get to meet some incredible people and shoulder a lot of responsibility, and I consider it a Anderson is grateful to others for helping make a Navy career possible.

"I want to thank my parents, Brian and Nancy," added Anderson. "Starting in my senior year of high school they were my biggest advocates to join the Virginia Military Institute, and they never waivered in their support. I also want to thank my husband, Lt. Matthew McGee, who is stationed in San Diego. He has been so understanding of my career and the time I have to spend away from home. We support each other across time zones, and he is my sounding board for any questions I have about leadership."

Hosted by Commander, U.S. Pacific Fleet, RIMPAC 2024 will be led by Commander, U.S. 3rd Fleet, Vice Adm. John Wade, who will serve as Combined Task Force (CTF) commander. For the first time in RIMPAC history, a member of the Chilean Navy, Commodore Alberto Guerrero, will serve as deputy commander of the CTF. Rear Adm. Kazushi Yokota of the Japan Maritime Self-Defense Force will serve as vice commander. Other key leaders of the multinational force will include Commodore Kristjan Monaghan of Canada, who will command the maritime component, and Air Commodore Louise Desjardins of Australia, who will command the air component.

During RIMPAC, a network of capable, adaptive partners train and operate together in order to strengthen their collective forces and promote a free and open Indo-Pacific. RIMPAC 2024 contributes to the increased interoperability, resiliency and agility needed by the Joint and Combined Force to deter and defeat aggression by major powers across all domains and levels of conflict.

washing business and then moved into a brickand-mortar," Liles said. "Recently, the location he was renting (in Troutville) was needed for another business to expand. I knew the Pawn Shop had the back building that was almost identical to what Aaron was using. And here he is!"

Some renovations were required as the building had been used primarily for storage. A few more are planned such as moving his metal carport in front of the garage doors.

"Aaron has brought this business to heights I never knew possible for a detailing business," Liles added. "He's very driven and 'detailed' in what he does. Aaron is the perfect example dedication, determination, and hard work do pay off!"
"Doc" is a nickname clients have given him, which he has found "pretty neat" since the theme of Dr. Auto Spa involves "bringing a vehicle back to life. Everyone loves a clean car." He says many even believe that "clean cars drive better."

Taylor says that he offers a variety of services because every vehicle and client is different, and he likes to meet their needs. His customers come from all over the Roanoke Valley, Lynchburg, Bedford, and even West Virginia.

He often hears customers say, "My car didn't look this good when I bought it from the dealership."

Taylor says that his most requested service is probably ceramic coating, although many people are not familiar with the process, which has been used in Asia for many years. The coating is a liquid glass resin applied by hand which provides a barrier between the car's clear coat and the environment. The process is said to affect the cosmetic look of a vehicle by preserving paint for up to seven years and provides protection against bugs, road salt, bird droppings and more.

Many new owners choose to apply ceramic coating to make maintaining their vehicles easier. It takes a full day to apply the coating and curing overnight for the process.

He notes that many people think you don't need to do anything to maintain a new car, but that's not the case; in fact, sun exposure can have detrimental effects from which a car needs protection.

Taylor has two parttime employees and plans on hiring a third soon. He enjoys doing much of the work himself.

Dr. Auto Spa is open from 9 to 5 Tuesdays through Fridays, by appointment on Saturday, and is closed on Sundays and Mondays. He also offers a VIP mobile service program.

For more information, an estimate, or to arrange an appointment, you can email Dr. Auto Spa at detail@draspa.com, call or text 540-227-0599, and visit the website at https://www.draspa.com. Dr. Auto Spa also has a great Facebook page with videos of detailing and application of ceramic coatings.

Byrd's Thompson plays one final high school baseball game

William Byrd High School graduated senior Noah Thompson participated in the fifth annual "The Last Inning" baseball game at Salem Memorial Ballpark Saturday. The game is sponsored by the Salem-Roanoke Baseball Hall of Fame and the Salem Red Sox, and was initiated in 2020 when the COVID pandemic wiped out the high school regular season, giving the seniors from that year a chance to play one last high school game.

"The Last Inning" was so successful it was decided to play it every year, and last Saturday players were divided into two teams for a pair of five inning games. Also on Saturday the Salem-Roanoke Baseball Hall of Fame announced the winner of its annual Ray Bellamy Award for the top high school player in the area serving the Hall of Fame, as well as two special scholarships.

Franklin County's Barry Shelton coached the Red team, which swept the doubleheader with scores of 8-0 and 5-1. Thompson played on the Gray team and Randy Boone of William Byrd coached the Gray team. Rain was in the forecast Saturday but never materialized and the event went on as planned. "We dodged a huge storm about 3 o'clock that went about a mile south of us," said Hall of Fame vice president Gary Walthall. "Most people thought it was going to be rained out. Around the bottom of the fourth of the first five innings, another storm was headed right toward us and took a right turn as well and missed us." The Red team swept the doubleheader by scores of 8-0 and 5-1. Glenvar's Anderson pitched a scoreless inning for the Red, allowing no hits and striking out one, and he also tripled at bat. Meadows singled and walked and Stanley reached base twice on walks.

"All 18 players for the Gray team came and all but one from the Red team came," said Walthall. "It was the best attendance we've had in the five years of the game. The kids had a great time."

Between games the Bellamy Award was presented and Lawson Pasley of Franklin County was the winner. Other finalists included Nolan Medley of Lord Botetourt, Trace Monroe and Caleb Furmage of Salem, Brice Abbot of Blacksburg, Jesse Brown of Staunton River and Ean Amerson of Franklin County.

The Hall of Fame also awarded two annual scholarships. The Posey Oyler scholarship recipient is J.J. Tyree of Lord Botetourt and Brown of Staunton River was the recipient of the Kelvin Bowles Scholarship.

Terrier soccer boys play in international event

Four boys from William Byrd High School recently competed in the Gothia Cup soccer tournament in Denmark in July. The Gothia Cup is the world's largest youth soccer tournament in the world with 72 nations represented on 1,911 teams. There were 4,820 games played over a five day span.

The Gothia Cup has been around since 1975. The United States has the fifth largest number of teams and Sweden has the most. Virginia United, a travel organization in the southwest Virginia area, sent two boys' teams, 2008s and 2009s, and half of a girls' team, 2009s who teamed up with players from Minnesota to make a complete team. Four players from William Byrd played in the Gothia Cup; Tyson Brady, Christian Barrette, Shaun Gower and Cooper Peery. The team also consisted of players from Cave Spring, Glenvar, Patrick Henry, Staunton River, Blacksburg, and Christiansburg.

The 2008 boys played teams from Sweden, Brazil, Beirut and Iceland.

Terriers attend Wash. practice

The William Byrd football team will host their annual "Midnight Madness" practice this Friday night and the public is invited for anyone who wants to stay up late and watch football. Byrd opened preseason practice last week and will have two scrimmages prior to their August 30 opener at Liberty High in

The Terriers had a special day last Sunday as 60 staff members and players attended the Washington Commanders National Football League practice in Ashburn, VA. Byrd coach Brad Lutz and his staff were invited to attend in recognition of Brad being the recipient of the Commanders' High School Coach of the Year honor last season. Lutz was one of 10 coaches selected as the "Coach of the Week" in the greater Washington area through the 2023 high school season. One of the 10 would be the Commanders' nominee for the NFL-wide Don Shula NFL High School Coach of the Year Awards, and Lutz was chosen to represent the Commanders, which happen to be his favorite NFL team.

"The Washington Commanders gave us 60 tickets to bring our coaching staff and players," said Lutz. "With that amount of tickets we were able to take our seniors, juniors, and sophomores."

The Byrd delegation watched the practice on the sidelines and the Terriers were treated like royalty.

"The entire experience was impressive," said Lutz. "The Commanders had a section for our team that was on the sideline. Coach (Dan) Quinn and numerous players spent time visiting with us after practice. As far as the actual practice was concerned, it was impressive to see how fast the tempo is in practice. It was also interesting to see how many coaches and port staff are involved in managing an NFL pracand coaches."

This was not only an eye-opening experience for the Terriers, but a bonding event as well. There is no more team game than football, and Lutz and his staff are continually promoting that to the team.

"I strongly believe that the more you do as a team, away from the field, the stronger the team becomes," he said. "Our day started at our team roll call at 3:50 am. We left William Byrd High School at 4 am and spent most of the day together, traveling, watching practice, visiting with the Washington Commanders, tice. Russell Dishman has resigned as soccer coach at William Byrd High School to spend more time with his Dishman has been the coach of the Terriers for the past four years. He was hired to coach the team prior to the 2020 season but that never materialized due to the COVID pandemic and Russell had to wait until the spring of '21 to get a team on the pitch.

"It was a tough decision, but the fact that my sons are getting active in sports themselves and I want to be there to watch them," he said. "My oldest played middle school at Staunton River Middle School and I did not get to watch him this season, and my younger son is playing and it was tough for us as a family to bounce back and forth through the spring. My wife is a super hero for how she managed the schedule."

Dishman is coming off a 10-10-3 season that saw the Terriers play their best soccer down the stretch and earn a spot in the state Class 3 tournament. Russell had also coached the Byrd girls' team prior to his stint with the Terrier boys.

"It has been a privilege to be a part of the boys' program and to build through the last few years and have the run we did this year," he said. "Starting off with the season that never really started due to COVID, then building back from there was an awesome experience to see the kids work and build for the next groups. There is a quality group returning from this year, so the future is bright. "I am grateful for the opportunity to be a part of the girls' and boys' programs in my time here and am looking forward to supporting both programs going forward."

Byrd Golfers 10th at Metro

William Byrd was 10th as Blacksburg High won the Botetourt Metro Golf Tournament at the Botetourt Golf & Swim Club Tuesday. The Bruins won the annual event with a score of 288, easily winning the title by 27 strokes over second place Auburn at 315 and Christiansburg was third with 318.

William Byrd finished with a team score of 334 for 10th place, two strokes behind Cave Spring and three behind Glenvar. The team was led by senior Reid Ruble with a score of 80. Also scoring were junior Tyler Chambers with an 83, sophomore David Foster with an 82 and senior Brogan Dent with an 89. "It wasn't the score we were looking for, but not a bad place to start the season," said Terrier coach Paul Thompson. "We will be hoping to improve on this every week." The Terriers start district play next Tuesday with a Blue Ridge District match at Ole Monterey, hosted by William Fleming High School.
