A ceremony was held last Thursday, Nov. 10 at Roanoke College by the Student Veterans Group to commemorate both Veterans Day and Remembrance Day.

The observance focused on those who have served with honor and bravery, including those who sacrificed their lives.

“Who serves? The ones who love their country and its values. The ones who want to protect the innocents. The ones who want to pay for college. The ones who struggled through school and don’t head from high school to college. The ones escaping

Danstrom, Raines to be appointed to School Board

More than a month after candidates were interviewed, Salem City Council appointed Anastancia “Stacey” Gonzales Danstrom and reappointed Andy Raines to the Salem City School Board.

They were unanimously approved Monday night after a 15-minute closed session at the end of the regular Council meeting. Their three-year terms will begin Jan. 1.

It will be Raines’ fourth term. He is the Business Director for Fairway Anastancia “Stacy” Gonzales Danstrom School, and their grown children graduated from Salem High School.

Raines and Danstrom were among four candidates for the two seats. Danstrom retired from Southern Pacific and Norfolk Southern in engineering technology and marketing sales, working as a woman in a man’s world.

After the Nov. 14 meeting, Danstrom said now that her and husband Russ’ three children are “grown and flown,” she is ready “to put my time to be as efficient as possible.”

“I have long been passionate about supporting strong public school systems, literacy and mental health,” she said. “Supporting our educators and making schools a safe environment for learning and achieving are priorities of mine. I am humbled and excited about the appointment.”

Danstrom will replace Artice Ledbetter, who has served for 12 years. She is a former vice chair of the School Board.

When he spoke before Council in September, Raines said he wanted to be reappointed for a fourth term “Because I believe consistency is important.” He added, “I’d like to finish the work we started.”

Others who applied for and were considered for the School Board seats were attorney Rachel Thompson and fitness advocate Robyn Goodpasture.

Foley edges out Saunders by 11 votes

Randy Foley has won a fifth term to Salem City Council, edging out fellow Councilmember John Saunders by 11 votes.

Results of the Nov. 8 election were not final until Monday, when Registrar Dana Oliver released them. After polls closed, Foley was ahead by nine votes, before absentee, provisional and same-day registration ballots were counted.

The two were in a four-way race for two seats. Republican Hunter Holliday won with 3,809 votes. Foley had 3,397 votes, Saunders 3,386 and first-time candidate Anne Marie Green got 3,196 votes. All but Holliday ran without party affiliation, which is the norm in Salem Council elections.

Because of the small difference in totals between Foley and Saunders, Saunders could ask for a recount if he does so by Nov. 28, but said he hasn’t decided if he will.

A total of 12,891 people voted in the Nov. 8 election that included Council and U.S. House candidates. The number of voters was the largest casting ballots since 2000, when there were 14,658. That year, five candidates ran for three seats.

Oliver said the Salem Electoral Board completed canvassing the Nov. 8 votes just after noon on Nov. 14.

Holliday was in the audience at Monday night’s Council meeting. He and Foley will be sworn in before the first meeting in January. This is the first time Salem City Council elections have been held in November as part of the general election. Before this, they were in May, with members being sworn in before the July meeting.

Salem’s election was moved after a change in state election procedures.

With 27.42% of the vote from Election Day, Hunter Holliday secured a seat on the Salem City Council.

Holliday, the only candidate to run with a political affiliation which he did as a Republican, received, 3,809 votes.

“First and foremost, I want to thank the Citizens of Salem for allowing me the privilege to be their next Salem City Councilman. Not only did I receive the most votes in the history of a Salem City Council Election (3,809), but it was also a huge accomplishment to be the first Republican elected to Salem City Council in almost 30 years,” Holliday said. “Now the hard work starts with my citizens’ list of priorities - established through canvassing 95% of the City over the last 4 months. I am a results-driven individual. Public service is a privilege and trust. The Salem citizens have placed their trust in me to provide a positive change to the City of Salem.”

It wasn’t until the middle of the day on Monday that all 13 precincts were reported.

Two seats on the council were up for grabs, with a total of four candidates on the ballot.

Former Catawba Physician Four Years a Soldier

Thomas Neal Lewis, Father Of Salem Councilman, Served As Army Surgeon Under Lee During Civil War

FROM THE TIMES-REGISTER ARCHIVES

From the 1938 centennial edition of The Times-Register

Completing his training in medicine, Dr. Thomas Neal Lewis, former well known Catawba citizen, who was living at Huntsville, Alabama, when the War between the States started, immediately enlisted under the Confederate flag and served through four long years of civil strife between the North and South.

Joining the forces of General Robert E. Lee, Dr. Lewis became a prominent army surgeon and was first assigned to the base hospital at Old Point Comfort. Here he performed many operations on the boys in grey as they were brought to the hospital seriously wounded.

With the advance of the Union Army, Dr. Lewis was forced to leave his original post and took up his station at Stuarts Draft, Va., where he did valiant surgical work, and finally was sent to White Sulphur Springs which was made the location for a base hospital.

Here Dr. Lewis remained until the close of the war, and having visited the Catawba valley decided to locate there. He purchased land where the Catawba Sanatorium is now located and until the time of his death in 1879 was recognized as one of the outstanding physicians-surgeons in Roanoke and Craig Counties.

Dr. Lewis married Cynthia Barnette, at Catawba shortly after the close of the war, to whom four children were born, namely; Oscar G. Lewis, of Salem; Elizabeth L. Williams, deceased; James L. Lewis, Newcomerstown, Ohio, and David E. Lewis of Lynchburg.

SALEM MUSEUM SPOTLIGHT

Projectors are a common device today, found in movie theaters, classrooms and even living rooms. Their history may go back further than people realize.

Mirrosopes, like this one pictured from 1913, were an early form of projector. Families used them to look at pictures and postcards, and teachers used them for lessons by showing images of historical locations or scientific experiments.

Mirrosopes used light bulbs inside the machine to illuminate an image, which was then projected through the lens. The chimneys on top let heat from the light-bulbs escape without allowing light into the device. While mirrosopes were not very common, their technology influenced later projectors.

This mirroscope is currently on display as part of the Salem Museum’s feature exhibit “Cheers for 30 Years: the 30-Year History of the Salem Museum!”

“Cheers for 30 Years” celebrates the Salem Museum’s 30th Anniversary this year with a look back at artifacts and the stories they tell, now preserved in the Museum’s collections. Some favorite, but rarely seen, objects are on display. The Salem Museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. and located at 801 E. Main St. The Salem Museum opened in the Williams-Brown House in 1992.

Virginia Western Educational Foundation gives out record number of CCAP scholarships

14% growth in tuition-free program aided by increased financial support from localities

ROANOKE – A record-high 630 students are attending Virginia Western Community College tuition-free this fall, thanks to the private-public community partnership that funds the Community College Access Program.

Since 2008, public localities and private donors have united in support of CCAP, which is the largest “free college” program at a Virginia community college. CCAP provides up to three years of tuition for recent high school graduates who meet program requirements, as funding allows. More than 3,872 Roanoke Valley students have participated in the program as of fall 2022.

“Thanks to the community’s dedication, commitment and belief in our young people, our high school graduates continue to be able to start their academic and career journeys close to home and enter a workforce that eagerly awaits them,” said William Farrell II, chair of the Virginia Western Community College Educational Foundation, a nonprofit affiliated with Virginia Western Community College.

The prior peak of CCAP participants was in fall 2015, with 551 students funded by the Educational Foundation scholarship.

“This 14 percent increase in participation is largely driven by increased funding from our locality partners, which are eager to open doors for more students to receive CCAP support,” Amanda Mansfield, philanthropy director of the educational foundation, said. “We are heartened that they recognize the critical link between Virginia Western students achieving degrees and certificates and building a stronger workforce. Our special acknowledgements go to Roanoke and Botetourt counties for their dedicated expansion efforts.”

Roanoke Valley high school seniors may apply for CCAP support in fall 2023 by filling out an online application by Feb. 1, 2023. Those interested in learning more about CCAP are invited to attend upcoming in-person and Zoom information sessions, scheduled for midday and evening times through January. Registration is required at virginiawestern.edu/CCAP.

That part of the plan is the location of a commercial small modular nuclear reactor (SMR) in our region, the first in the United States, in the next ten years.

SMRs are a next-generation technology that brings the advantages of traditional nuclear power without some of its drawbacks. Nuclear generates clean energy, and it does so reliably, without the variability of solar and wind. However, the large scale of traditional nuclear plants makes them unsuitable to certain sites. SMRs, as their name indicates, require a smaller physical footprint, an advantage for hilly terrain such as Southwest Virginia's, and can be assembled at a factory and transported to a site.

Virginia has the assets to lead the way on SMRs. The nuclear power industry can draw its workforce from our universities with nuclear engineering programs, including Virginia Tech. One of the world's major nuclear companies, BWX Technologies, is headquartered in Lynchburg. I have visited its facilities in Lynchburg and Erwin, Tennessee.

When Governor Youngkin held his event in Wise County to talk about SMRs, an event I attended, we spoke about the project on an abandoned mine land site. As someone who has led efforts to renew and reuse such sites through bringing federal funding to Virginia via the Abandoned Mine Land Economic Revitalization (AMLER) Program, I am excited by the possibility that land with an energy heritage may be used to house energy technologies of the future.

As this project moves forward, residents of Southwest Virginia should be assured that all safety protocols will be adhered to and that the land selected for the site will be tested for its suitability. Nuclear power will be a valuable and reliable component of an all-of-the-above strategy, which will not exclude fossil fuels.

While we look to the future of nuclear power with SMRs, progress is being made on other energy fronts in Southwest Virginia as well. October also brought the announcement that Wise County would be the site of the Energy Discovery, Education, Learning & Technology Accelerator (DELTA) Lab.

The Energy DELTA Lab, a collaboration between the Virginia Department of Energy, the Southwest Virginia

Energy Research and Development Authority, and InvestSWVA, will provide a location for new energy technologies to be tested, developed, and moved toward the commercial market. It was developed through a $975,000 AMLER grant. This site could be for energy what Menlo Park was for Thomas Edison as he invented a world-changing technology like the light bulb and brought them to commercial markets.

In Tazewell County on October 25, I participated in an economic development announcement of a different sort. Blackstone Data Services will be locating in the Bluestone Business and Technology Park, bringing an investment of $18 million over ten years and creating five new high-tech jobs.

The site will host a data center for cryptocurrency mining, which is based on blockchain technology. Cryptocurrency is still a developing field and has had its ups and downs. It is likely here to stay, and projects such as this one will help make it more secure.

Economic growth requires an ability to adapt, to recognize what the future holds and prepare to meet it. I believe these projects that have been unveiled will keep us in competition with other parts of the country and the world beyond. They offer the prospect of new jobs and investment as well as diversification to give our regional economy a broader base.

Growing the economy is a team effort, with the private sector, non-governmental organizations, and government at the local, state, and federal levels each an essential part. I am committed as your Congressman to using the resources I have to usher in the economy of the coming decades.

INTERSTATE 81

INTERSTATE 81 LANE WIDENING CONSTRUCTION PROJECT EXIT 137 TO EXIT 141 – A $179 million design-build project to widen both directions of I-81 between mile markers 136.6 and 141.8 from two to three lanes is set to begin. Starting in February and continuing into the early summer, work will be performed on the inside and outside shoulders along a five-mile section of both northbound and southbound Interstate 81 in Roanoke County and the city of Salem. The shoulders will be built up before barrier wall can be installed for road crews to work behind. Barrier wall will be installed along the shoulders in the spring and summer. Two lanes of I-81 traffic in each direction will remain open during the project with periodic lane closures scheduled during nighttime hours or outside of peak travel times as needed. Drivers can expect the following lane closures and upcoming impacts on northbound and southbound I-81:

WORK ZONE SPEED: With narrow spacing in lanes due to barrier walls, lack of shoulders and lane shifts in various locations, drivers should adhere to posted 60 mph speed limits in the work zone and allow space when following a vehicle.

RAMP CLOSURES: Ramp closures are possible during nighttime hours, 12 a.m., to 5 a.m. Drivers should watch for message boards dates and times the ramp will be closed.

LANE CLOSURES: Alternating left and right lane and shoulder closures during nighttime hours between 8 p.m. and 6 a.m., Sunday through Thursday, are possible. Lane widths will be reduced to 11 feet. Northbound lane closures from I-81 mile marker 136 to 141. Southbound Lane closures from I-81 mile marker 141 to 136.

Nightly lane closures may be in place along the right lane with possible nightly ramp narrows as needed for guardrail and shoulder strengthening. Northbound I-81 lane closures from mile marker 138 to 142 Northbound I-81 exit and entrance ramp narrows possible at Route 311.

The project also includes replacing six bridges, widening two bridges, installing approximately 2.6 miles of sound barrier walls along northbound I-81, improving the southbound exit 137 off-ramp intersection at Wildwood Road and adding interchange lighting at exits 137, 140 and 141 are also included in the project. Expected completion in early 2026.

I-81 TROUTVILLE REST AREA CLOSURE - The Troutville Rest Area located on southbound Interstate 81 near mile marker 158 in Botetourt County is will remain closed until before Thanksgiving to support holiday travel. The opening scheduled for the end of September has been rescheduled due to the contractor encountering challenges with a slope on the project.

Signage indicating the closure is posted in the rest area. A temporary concrete barrier wall will remain in place in front of the facility. The rest area facility, ramps and parking lot are closed to the public. This project will extend the ramp into the rest area by 500 feet and the ramp out of the rest area by 2,100 feet. It will also include expanding the truck parking area at the facility by about 10-13 spaces. Work is expected to be completed before Thanksgiving to support holiday travel.

REST AREA OPTIONS: While the Troutville Rest Area is closed, southbound I-81 drivers can use the Fairfield Rest Area at mile marker 195 in Rockbridge County or the Radford Rest Area at mile marker 108 in Montgomery County. In addition, the Troutville Weigh Station, located on southbound I-81 at mile marker 149, will have portable toilets and parking will be temporarily available for commercial vehicles.

I-81 NORTHBOUND AT EXIT 105 NEW RIVER BRIDGE REPLACEMENT IN MONTGOMERY COUNTY – Traffic on northbound I-81 has been switched onto the newly constructed bridge over the New River at the Montgomery/Pulaski County line. The old bridge is being demolished. Lane and shoulder closures may be in place near exit 105. Lane closure may be in effect during the week from 8 p.m. to 7 a.m. Shoulder closures may be in effect at any time during the week. Slow rolls may be performed on I-81 in the north and southbound lanes from mile marker 98 to 109.

Speed limit is reduced to 60 miles per hour in the work zone. Shoulder closures will remain in place though the duration of the project. Project completion is estimated by summer 2023.

abuse, neglect, gangs and foster care. The ones with nowhere else to go. The ones who were given no choice. Why remember them?" Frances McCutcheon, a Roanoke College lecturer and advisor to the Student Veterans Group, said. "The right to vote in a free and fair election.

The ability to trust that our elections matter. The recognition of equality of women. Protections for minorities. The ability to be this privileged and this selfish because they signed contracts that included the sacrifice of their lives. Because they left spouses and offspring behind while we hug ours. Because they saw and heard and did things that follow them into the night. Because they lost their innocence to protect ours."

Organizers also remembered and prayed for the people of Ukraine amid Russia's ongoing war there.

The ceremony began at the Bell Tower in the college's Back Quad, with nine rings of the bell.

"We're trying to bring to mind those in Ukraine, those that are serving, those that are dying, those who are oppressed," MuCutcheon said.

"We rang the bell nine times because that's the number of months since Russia's invasion of Ukraine. Nine months that they have been suffering the shelling, the loss of their homes, the loss of their country. We honor them in fighting back."

Frances McCutcheon, a Roanoke College lecturer and advisor to the Student Veterans Group, addressed the gathering at an on-campus observance for Veterans Day and Remembrance Day held last Thursday.

Martha Kuchar, a Roanoke College lecturer whose parents are Ukrainian immigrants, reflected on the suffering caused by Russia's war on the Ukraine during an on-campus observance for Veterans Day and Remembrance Day held last Thursday.

a good football team last year and they're better this year. They run multiple sets and they have great size."

Salem will make the two and a half hour trip to Mineral on Friday for a 7 pm game after playing Thursday last week due to impending inclement weather. The Spartans come in at 9-2, and they didn't appear to be feeling any ill effects from their regular season ending loss to Patrick Henry. In fact, Salem got that taste out of their mouths early with a DaRon Wilson to Josiah Moyer touchdown pass just four minutes into the game. That drive included a fourth down pass out of punt formation from Chris Martin to Jaelyn Allen to keep the drive alive.

Salem's Chris Cole picked off a pass and took it 45 yards for a score with just over a minute left in the quarter to widen the lead, and the Spartans poured it on in the second period. Jayveon Jones scored on a one yard run on fourth down, then Jones scored on another run and Wilson hit Moyer for a second TD hook-up just before the half. Salem scored a final TD in the second half when Moyer picked off a pass and took it to the house for Salem's second "Pick Six" of the game. And that doesn't even count two potential touchdowns by Peyton Lewis who returned punts for apparent scores, only to be called back by illegal blocks both times.

Jones finished with 75 yards rushing on 11 carries while Lewis had a slow night with 58 yards on six attempts. Peyton has 1,246 yards rushing on the season on 107 carries, an average of 11.6 yards per carry for the season.

Wilson was five for eight passing for 77 yards with two to Moyer, both for TDs, and two to Jonathan Vernon. Allen and Cole had the other receptions.

On defense Allen had 10 tackles to lead the Spartans. Isaiah Barlow and Cole had eight each while Ryan Coe and Jay'on Green had six each. Coe had two tackles for losses, and Cole and Moyer both had the "pick sixes."

This Friday's winner will play the winner of the other semifinal game, as E.C. Glass plays host to Amherst County in Lynchburg. If Glass wins they'll host the Region 4D final next week but if Salem and Amherst can pull off wins Salem would be host for that game.

won eight of nine with the one loss coming to Floyd, and that was "redeemed" last week.

"Our kids could have bagged the season when we were 0-2," said Clifford. "But they've been resilient all year. Now, we're right where we want to be, in the second week of the playoffs and still practicing."

Glenvar is the number three seed in the region while Martinsville is second at 10-1. Bulldogs coach Bobby Martin suffered through an 0-10 rebuilding season in his first year at the helm, in 2019, but he turned that into 5-6 in '21 and this year Martinsville has had its best season since 1998, when they were 12-1 under legendary coach Taylor Edwards. They were in Class 4 that season, losing to Salem, 17-0, in the state semifinal.

In the 24 years since Martinsville High's enrollment dropped to the Class 2 level with jobs leaving town and the football team suffered. This season, however, the Bulldogs' "swag" is back.

"They're very good," said Clifford. "They have an exceptional coach, he's someone I really respect."

This will be just the third meeting between the two schools. Glenvar won 25-7 during the regular season last year, then beat the Bulldogs 38-0 in the playoffs. The winner of Friday's game will meet the winner of a game between top-seeded Radford and fourth seeded Appomattox for the Region 2C title next week. If Glenvar and Appomattox win that will be at Glenvar, and Clifford would like the opportunity for another "redemption" game.

"They've knocked us out of the playoffs five straight years," said Clifford of Appomattox. "They're like Giles used to be until we got over that hump."

Last week's game with Floyd was over early. They say revenge is best served cold, and it was rainy and chilly at Highlander Stadium as the home team sent the Buffaloes back on the range to the tune of 49-14.

This game was over at the half, as Glenvar held a 42-7 lead at that point. The Highlanders scored the first 35 points of the game and enjoyed a running clock after intermission. This came after Floyd had beaten Glenvar in three overtimes during the regular season.

"We had some injuries when we played them the first time," said Clifford. "This time we had everyone healthy and we came out and really got after them. I thought we executed really well."

Floyd was the subject of that execution. Glenvar got an early turnover when Avone Noel grabbed a ball Peyton Deel had deflected for an interception. The Highlanders took it right down to score and never stopped scoring until the game was decided.

Freshman quarterback Brody Dawyot seems to be getting better every week. Against Floyd he was 17 for 20 passing for 263 yards and six touchdowns. He also ran 10 times for 58 yards and a TD.

Dawyot has found his soul mate in receiver Gabe Ford. Gabe had five catches for 159 yards and three touchdowns against the Buffs. That gave the Dawyot to Ford combination a total of nine TD hookups in the last three games against stout opponents Radford, Giles and Floyd.

Nick Woodson also had five catches for 78 yards and two TDs, and Jackson Swanson had the other touchdown reception on a 24 yard pass from Dawyot. Elijah Carter had 69 yards rushing on half a dozen carries for an average of 11 and a half yards per pop.

On defense, Shane Gibson led the Highlanders with 12 tackles. Ben Holiday and Caleb Crowder had 10 each and Woodson and Jack Camper had nine apiece.

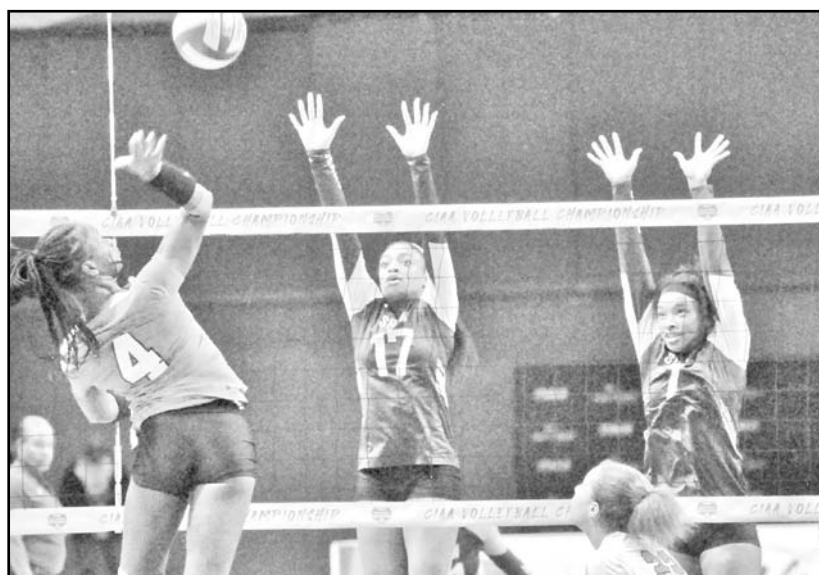

After playing on Thursday last week to avoid some bad weather the game is back to Friday this week with a 7 pm start in Martinsville.

"I think we're playing our best football right now," said Clifford. "Right now our goal is to just get better today."

FSU wins CIAA Football

With a game-winning 43-yard field goal as time expired, Elton Andrew delivered Fayetteville State a 31-28 win over Chowan University to claim the 2022 Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) Football Championship at Salem Stadium Saturday afternoon. Andrew's game-winner was set up by a Chowan kick-catch interference on a punt that had Fayetteville State start its final drive at the Hawks' 46-yard line. The Broncos advanced 21 yards to Chowan's 26. The drive featured an epic conversion, Elijah Henry gaining five yards on a screen on 4th-and-4 at Chowan's 41-yard line and a Demari Daniels completion to Cameron Harrington for 14 yards moved FSU into field goal range. Right, Chowan's J'Vin Farmer(#38) breaks up a pass.

Second seeded Elizabeth City State University bested top-ranked Shaw University, 3-1, to seize the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (CIAA) crown last Saturday evening at the Salem Civic Center. Schultz is this week's Hero

If you missed some high school games in last week's football contest, that's on you. Most of the high school games were moved from Friday to Thursday last week to avoid impending bad weather, and that made it easy to pick the winners when our deadline is listed at 5 pm Friday.

I don't think it mattered a whole lot, as last week's high school games were first round playoff games and they're usually mismatches anyway. And, with Betty Schultz on a role, no one was going to beat her.

Schultz, of Craig Avenue in Salem, missed just one game in the whole contest. In fact, she was perfect on the first 14 games of the contest before picking the Raiders to beat the Colts in the late game Sunday. No one else did as well so Betty gets the $50 gift certificate from Mac & Bob's and the Blizzard from Dairy Queen in Salem.

For last week's 19th hole question I asked you to tell me what you'd do with money if you won the two billion dollar lottery, which no one in the Salem area did by the way. I don't think some of you realize how much an NFL football team costs these days as Tyler Coe said he'd buy the Panthers and many others said they'd buy the Redskins/Commanders. Wayne Dillman said he'd even move them to Salem and change the name to Virginia Spartans.

Well, if Daniel Snyder does indeed sell the Washington football team the price the Commanders are valued at is somewhere in the neighborhood of 5.6 billion dollars, and that was before they beat the Eagles Monday. Granted I don't live in that neighborhood, but even if I won that lottery and took the one-time payout I'd still be close to five billion dollars short of being able to buy the Commanders. I haven't made that much money in my 48 years at the paper combined!!

It was tough to pick a winner because I got some good answers. Gary Sovine said he would give all the Salem High coaches raises and Robert Almond said he would pay UVA coach Tony Elliott 20 million to go back to Clemson. I decided to pick Kevin Floyd, who said he'd make some improvements to Salem Stadium so we could get a big time college bowl game here. I think that would be cool, so Kevin will get a free round of golf, with cart, at the Salem Municipal Course.

Next week is Thanksgiving, so for this week's 19th hole tell me what you have to be thankful for. It can be sports related or not, funny or not, and my favorite answer will get a free round of golf.

AND, since we have early deadlines for our Thanksgiving issue, I won't be able to announce our winner next week. We'll have another contest next week, and I'll announce winners for this week and next in the December 1 issue. —Brian Hoffman championship, but the experience they have should give them confidence."

The Highlanders have taken on all comers in their march to the final. Last Wednesday at Glenvar they hosted Appomattox, who came to town with a 22-0 record and left with a 22-1 mark. The Highlanders were clearly the better of the two unbeaten teams in taking a 25-9, 25-19 and 25-9 win.

Hannah Hylton had 14 kills against Appomattox while Audrey Conner had 37 assists. Cara Butler had five aces, Sydney Loder had 11 kills and six blocks and Ryhan Harris had a strong all-around game with six kills and four blocks.

The win put Glenvar in the state tournament with a home match against John Battle on Saturday. Again, the Highlanders dominated against one of the best teams in Class 2 with a three set win, 25-8, 25-10 and 25-7. Claire Griffith had 12 kills and 19 digs, Conner had 36 assists, Hylton had 11 kills and five aces and Loder had eight kills and five aces.

That set up Tuesday's semifinal against Gate City, and some figured this pitted the best two teams in the state. The Blue Devils gave the Highlanders a tough match but still lost in three. Gate City jumped out to a 7-1 lead in the first set, forcing Rohrback to use an early timeout.

"I hate to use one that early, but I thought I needed to stop their momentum," he said. "Our girls came battling back, like they have all season."

Griffith had 15 kills to lead Glenvar while Hylton had 10. Conner had 32 assists, Harris had 16 digs and Loder had seven blocks.

"That was a tough match," said Rohrback. "The score wasn't indicative of how close it was. We won the third set 25-17 but we had to fight for every point until it was over."

GHS cheerleaders all-region, Boardwine is "CL of the Year"

RC men will make home hoop debut at Frankie Allen Tip-Off Tournament Fri.

The Roanoke College men's basketball team will make their home debut this week as they host the first Frankie Allen Tip-Off Tournament. Four teams will compete in the tournament, named for the Maroons' all-time leading scorer and rebounder who graduated in 1971 after an All-American career at RC.

On Friday night the Maroons will open the tournament with a 6 pm game against Alfred University. Salisbury and Mary Baldwin will play in Friday's second game at 8 pm. Friday's losers will play in a consolation game at 1 pm Saturday, followed by the tournament championship at 3 pm.

The Maroons come into the tournament with a 1-1 record after splitting two games in the Mount Union Tournament in Alliance, Ohio last weekend. RC opened with a 90-81 loss to Maryville of Tennessee on Friday.

The Scots had a 45-32 lead at halftime, but Roanoke pulled within three with just over three minutes left to play. Maryville pushed it back to 11 points with 19 seconds left before Joshua McClary hit two free throws with nine seconds left to provide the final 90-81 margin. Kasey Draper had a game high 25 points to lead the Maroons.

On Saturday Roanoke bounced back with an 89-86 win over Whitworth. Roanoke trailed 41-34 at the half before rallying for the win. Four players reached double figures led by freshman Marcus Morgan's 18. Draper finished with 16 with Efos U-Edosomwan and Joshua McClary both scoring 12. Morgan's 10 rebounds was also a team-high.

RC women host Salisbury Saturday

The Jean Beamer Tip-Off Classic will feature three women's basketball teams at the Roanoke College Cregger Center this weekend. The two-day event is named for the former Maroon women's athlete and coach.

Roanoke College will play host to Salisbury in Saturday's opener, scheduled for 6 pm. On Sunday Salisbury will play Hollins University at 1 pm.

The Maroons opened their season last Friday with a 96-58 win over Mary Baldwin. Freshman Madison Nereu scored a game-high 24 points in her collegiate debut while Rose Sande started the season with a double-double of 10 points and 11 rebounds.

Roanoke was scheduled to host the University of Lynchburg on Wednesday of this week, but results were too late for publication. After Saturday's game RC is off until Wednesday, November 30, when they play at Ferrum.

SHS, GHS have basketball scrimmages

Salem and Glenvar High basketball teams will have scrimmages in the coming weeks as they prepare for regular season opens the last week of the month. The official start of the high school winter sports season is November 28.

The Glenvar girls were scheduled to scrimmage at Eastern Montgomery on Wednesday of this week and today, Thursday, the boys will host East Mont. Salem's boys' will be at Franklin County tonight and the girls will host the Eagles at SHS with the jayvees at 5:30 pm and the girls at 7 pm.

Next Tuesday, November 22, the Spartan boys will host Lord Botetourt and the girls are at William Fleming. Glenvar's girls will be at Lord Botetourt, and that will conclude the scrimmages as the teams take a break for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Regular season games begin on November 28 with the Salem boys at Staunton River and the girls' hosting Brookville.

On November 29 Salem's swim team has a home meet and on Wednesday, November 30, the Spartan boys' basketball team is at Liberty and the Glenvar girls' open at home against Staunton River in hoops.

Both wrestling teams also open their season on that day with a quad match at Pulaski County.

Middle School hoop teams play today

A full slate of middle school basketball action is on the schedule today as Andrew Lewis and Glenvar boys and girls all have games.

The Lewis girls will be at home to play host to Cave Spring today. The Wolverines remained undefeated with a 48-5 win over Northside in Salem Monday. Kat Gibson had 10 points to lead Lewis while Brinkle Hall and Jenna Wilkes had eight points each. Hall also had five assists.

Lewis beat Hidden Valley last Thursday, 38-8. Kourtney Goens led the way with 10 boys.

The Lewis boys will be at Cave

Spring today. The Wolverines lost for the first time Monday when they fell at Northside, 58-28, to drop to 4-1. Last week Kysheed Arrington had eight points and Tanner Overstreet hit two three points as Lewis beat Hidden Valley, 38-25.

Glenvar's middle school teams will take on Radford today with a doubleheader at GMS. The boys will tip things off at 4:30 pm with the girls to follow at 6 pm.

The Glenvar boys lost to Cave Spring Monday, 49-35, despite 11 points by Jax Bolling and 11 rebounds and five steals by Levi King. Last Thursday the boys beat Carroll County, 45-19. JD Williamson had 13 points, Bryd Williams had eight steals and Evan Harris pulled a half dozen boards.

The girls had a nail-biter at home with Cave Spring Monday before falling 22-20. The game was tied after three quarters and the Highlanders, down town, had three shots in the final seconds but couldn't get one to fall. Kinley Phillips and Grace Fiedler had six points each for GMS.

Last Thursday the Glenvar girls lost to Carroll, 27-13. Fiedler was the leading scorer with four oints.

"Carroll County pressed us hard the entire game and we struggled to break the press," said Highlander coach Andrew Quillan. "We are still young and not quite there in our confidence."

Lewis, GMS finish 1-2 in Wolverine Duals event

Andrew Lewis Middle School and Glenvar Middle School finished one-two in the Wolverine Duals middle school wrestling tournament in Salem last Saturday. The almost all-day event was held at the Lewis gym.

The host Wolverines went undefeated in five matches on the day. Lewis beat Pulaski, 87-12, Glenvar, 43-42, and Hidden Valley, 72-12, in pool matches to earn a spot in the final four. In the semi-finals Lewis beat Blacksburg, 48-42, and in the rematch with Glenvar in the finals the Wolverines won 51-27.

Denny Toapanta, Rocket Cowling, Jayceon Preston, Robert Herndon, and Kafur Gulfan all went undefeated on the day. With the dual championship it improved Lewis' dual record to 6-0.

Glenvar coach Jeb Wright was pleased with the runnerup finish. The Highlanders had some open weight classes, and that hurts in dual matches.

"I thought it went great," he said. "It's tough when you give up 24 points a match."

Winterer named head baseball coach at Salem High

Salem High finally has a new baseball coach. The Salem School Board concluded a search that has been going on since the summer when they named jayvee coach Jimmy Winterer to the head coaching position after their meeting last week.

"I'm very happy to be leading the future of Salem Baseball," said Winterer, a Roanoke College graduate and physics teacher at Salem High. "I'm truly blessed to have been a part of this great school and community for the last seven years and to now get an opportunity to continue the program's success."

Winterer has been involved in baseball all his life. He was a three sport athlete at Warren County High School in Front Royal, VA, but baseball was his passion.

"Baseball has been a very important part of my life, even from a young age," he said. "I hope to infect my players and the youth in the Salem community with my passion for baseball."

After high school Winterer was a member of the first recruiting class when Roanoke College re-established its baseball program in 2002. Winterer pitched for the Maroons from 2003-2007 and, despite an injury filled career, he logged 89 strikeouts in 132 innings. Jimmy had 38 appearances, 23 starts, three complete games and two shutouts.

Winterer began his teaching and coaching career at William Byrd in 2008. His career continued as a varsity assistant under Ed Culicerto at Northside from 2009-2012, helping the Vikings earn their first AA state title in 2011.

Next Winterer spent three years at Cave Spring High School from 2013-2015, and then was hired to be a physics teacher at Salem High in 2016. He's been the jayvee coach and an assistant to coach Wes McMillian for the last seven seasons. He's now looking to assemble a staff as the Spartans' head coach, and he's hoping to dip into the talent the program has produced during his time with the team and before.

"I plan to extend invites to old Spartans to help me start a new chapter at Salem High School," he said. "I hope the lessons they(current players) learn from me and the game keep them in the sport for their lifetime, and that I inspire them to return to their communities to help coach the generations below them."

Glenvar boys take third place in state Class 2 cross country meet

Green Hill Park in west Roanoke County was the site of Virginia High School League state cross country championships last Saturday. Both girls and boys in Classes 1, 2 and 3 competed on a beautiful Virginia day at the spacious park just west of Salem and the Glenvar boys finished third in the Class 2 division.

The course at Green Hill was fast and dry despite heavy rains the day prior. The Class 3 girls' race opened the day at 10:30 am and Abingdon's Makaleigh Jessee won the individual title in 18:21. Abingdon also won the girls' team title, followed by Maggie Walker and Spotswood.

In the boys' Class 3 race the individual champion was Bazil Mathes of Monticello in 15:25. Abingdon also won the boys' Class 3 team title, followed by Tabb and Monticello.

The Class 2 races followed and Glenvar freshman Everly Shanks finished 28th with a time of 22:28 in the girls' race. Alleghany won the girls' Class 2 team title, paced by freshman Kiera Lowman who won the race in 18:59. Clarke County was second as a team and Floyd County of the Three Rivers District was third.

"We are so proud of Everly and excited to see what her future has in store," said GHS coach

Amanda Spradlin.

In the Class 2 boys' race the Highlanders finished third as a team behind Central High of Wise and runnerup Union High. Central had 93 points, Union had 97 and the Highlanders had 104, four more than fourth place Floyd County.

Sophomore Mason Erchull of Floyd was the individual champion with a time of 16:33. Glenvar's best finish was a fifth by senior Heath Bowker, who earned all-state honors with a time of 17:07. Heath's brother Caeden, a junior, finished a little over a second behind Heath with a seventh place finish in 17:08 and Davis Norman was 12th at 17:43, also earning all-state accolades by finishing in the top 15. Also scoring for the Highlanders were Charlie Horrell in 33rd at 18:25 and Aldin Smith in 73rd at 20:08. Tyler Davis and Tucker Henderson also competed for Glenvar among 101 total runners.

"We are so proud of all of our runners for an amazing performance at the state meet," said Spradlin. "The boys' team ran out of their comfort zone and showed up when it mattered most."

The Class 1 races concluded the day with the George Wythe girls and Lebanon boys winning team championships.

Peterson runs 18:47 in state Class 4 meet

The Class 4 state cross country meet was held at the Oatlands Plantation course in Leesburg last Saturday and Salem senior Walker Peterson ran in the boys' meet. The Class 4, 5 and 6 championships were all held on the same day in Leesburg.

Peterson finished with a time of 18:47 for 63rd overall among 100 runners in the race. The winning time was 15:46 by Conner Rutherford of Blacksburg, who led the Bruins to the boys' team title.

"With all the rain Friday we did not get to see or jog the course ahead of time," said Salem coach Tom Roth. "Walker improved his position within the region by beating two runners that had beaten him in the regional meet. This was a goal we had hoped to accomplish."

Blacksburg also won the girls' Class 4 state championship, giving the River Ridge District a sweep. Salem was not represented in the girls' meet.

Spartans play at Louisa County in Region 4D semifinal

The Salem High football team will be off to Mineral, VA Friday night for a date with the Louisa County Lions. The Spartans are hoping to keep the roars at a minimum in this Region 4D semifinal game.

The Spartans have one common opponent with the Lions, and that would be Western Albemarle. Compared scores don't tell you much as Louisa beat Western Albemarle 56-0 on October 14 and Salem beat the Warriors 42-0 last Friday in the Region 4D first round. It could have been worse, as Salem led 35-0 at the half before taking their foot off the gas with a running clock in the second half.

Louisa is undefeated on the season at 11-0 and they've scored 45 points or more in 10 of the 11 wins, including games of 61 points against Huguenot, 62 against Fluvanna County, 63 against Charlottesville and 69 against Albemarle. They haven't lost since this point in the playoffs last year, when their season ended with a region semifinal thumping in Salem, 55-7.

"That score doesn't indicate how good they were," said Salem coach Don Holter of the Lions. "They were

Highlanders leave Buffalo carcass on the road to Martinsville

The Glenvar football team avenged one prior loss last week, and this Friday they'll try to turn it around on another. Glenvar will play at Martinsville Friday night in the Region 2C football semifinals after defeating Floyd County in the opening round, 49-14, last Thursday at Glenvar's Highlander Stadium.

With last week's win the Highlanders improved to 8-3 on the season and two of their losses were to Floyd and Martinsville. Floyd is now in the books and the Highlanders are seeking revenge on another this week, although Highlander coach Kevin Clifford doesn't like to use that word.

"It's never about revenge, it's about redemption, and redemption is a nice thing to have," said Clifford.

The first time around the Bulldogs took a 21-14 win over the Highlanders at Glenvar. That was in just the second game of the season and the Highlanders were 0-2 at the time. Since then they've

Glenvar back in state final after win over Gate City

The Glenvar volleyball team is going back to the state tournament, and they won't have to go far. The Highlanders will be looking to win their second straight Class 2 championship when they play at the Salem Civic Center Saturday at 4:30 pm.

Glenvar's opponent was yet to be determined at press time, but it will be either Poquoson or East Rockingham. Those were the semifinalists from Region A and B, respectively, and they played on Wednesday for the other spot in the final.

Glenvar, at 25-0, is the Region C champion. The Highlanders punched their ticket to the state final on Tuesday when they beat the Region D champion, Gate City, in three sets at GHS. The Highlanders won 25-22, 25-20 and 25-17 to advance to Saturday's state championship match.

The Salem Civic Center will host three Virginia High School League state championship games on Saturday, beginning with the Class 3 championship at noon. The Class 1 final is scheduled for 2:15 pm with the Class 2 match to wrap up a big day of volleyball.

Glenvar comes into the final on a 37 match winning streak. The Highlanders won their last 12 games of the 2021 season, culminating in a championship match win over Central of Woodstock. This season they've only lost one set all year, a 26-24 extra points loss to Giles in a match Glenvar otherwise dominated. Coach Mark Rohrback feels last years' experience has been a big help to this year's team, and will be a plus for his girls on Saturday.

"They've been there before so they won't be in awe of the situation," he said. "They'll still be a little nervous, because it's the state
