Volunteer opportunities for recent grads

During the months between graduating high school and beginning college, or between getting a university degree and entering the workforce, graduates may want to explore the personal growth that comes from volunteerism.

Volunteering provides various benefits. Some of these rewards include networking with an entirely different group of people. Volunteering also can help a person realize greater happiness by doing selfless acts for others, while they also can help one to realize a new passion. In the future, volunteering with an organization also may help with a student's job search.

There are many arenas where young people can focus their volunteer efforts. Here are some ideas.

- Animal shelter: Animal shelters rely on volunteers to help with their operations. They can be a good fit for anyone with a passion for animals and animal rights activism.

- Public service sectors: AmeriCorp and Peace Corps have scores of opportunities for volunteers. AmeriCorp focuses on domestic issues, while the PeaceCorp is a branch of the U.S. government that engages volunteers in international service work. Community involvement, health care, agriculture, homelessness, and combatting hunger are top priorities for these organizations.

- English as a second language: Volunteers can spend time abroad teaching English to students. Others may want to volunteer domestically by helping non-English-speaking individuals improve their language skills.

- Community government: A person may choose to sit on the board of a school, a neighborhood housing association, or even explore volunteerism with a township municipal office. This will provide valuable hands-on experience and may help one lend a voice to issues that affect his or her living situation.

- Religious groups: Churches, synagogues and mosques may have volunteer opportunities focused on community outreach or programs affiliated with local nonprofits.

- Conservation groups: Volunteers can work on conservation projects across the country. From wildlife management to trail restoration to invasive species eradication, there are a wide variety of conservation-based volunteering opportunities.

- Tutoring: Graduates can volunteer to tutor students in local schools or overseas.

Volunteerism can fill gap years or add to resumes for recent graduates.

Advanced degrees are growing in popularity

Many college grads are continuing their educations after earning bachelor's degrees. Roughly 13.1 percent of American adults have an advanced degree, which is up from 8.6 percent in 2000, according to findings from the U.S. Census Bureau's Educational Attainment in the United States: 2018. As of 2016, 28.5 percent of Canadians had a bachelor's degree or higher, says Statistics Canada. The National Student Clearinghouse Research Center says enrollment in graduate programs continues to grow. It rose 3.6 percent in fall 2020 from a year earlier, and 4.4 percent during the spring 2021 semester, perhaps spurred on by the global pandemic and schools' more flexible course offerings that cater to remote students. Despite their growing popularity, advanced degrees do not always translate into higher salaries or improved job prospects. The research site Educationdata.org says about 9 percent of Americans have master's degrees, but the degrees increased employability by less than 3 percent. Furthermore, the cost of a master's degree nearly doubles the average debt held by people with bachelor's degrees, according to the personal finance marketplace

Credible. In addition, certain business owners may even pass up on applicants with advanced degrees because the students had been in school too long or tended to assume their degrees make them worth more, according to a report by Fox Business. That report indicates less than 10 percent of employers believe colleges do a good job of preparing students for the working world, and many employers value applicants who prioritize real-world experience over schooling. This is information students need to consider when thinking about pursuing advanced degrees.

WISHES YOU THE BEST OF LUCK IN YOUR FUTURE ENDEAVORS!

Congratulations,

CLASS OF 2023!

A TOUCH OF LOVE

*You were six months old and full of fun.
 With a blink of my eye, you were suddenly one!
 There were so many things we were going to do,
 But I turned my head and you were two.
 At two you were still dependent on me,
 but independence took over when you turned three.
 Your third birthday, another year I wish to ignore.
 But as I lit the candles, there weren't three but four.
 Four was the year that you really strived.
 Why look at you now, you are already five.
 Now you are ready for books and rules.
 This is the year that you go to school.
 The big day came, you were anxious to go,
 We walked to the bus going oh, so slow.
 As the bus drove away and you waved goodbye,
 I felt a lump in my throat as a tear stung my eye.
 For when the bus brings you home and you jump to the ground
 You will be wearing your cap and graduation gown.
 Time goes by so fast, it is hard to believe.
 Why just yesterday you were home with me.
 So I treasure these moments while you're still at home,
 the next time I look around you'll be grown up and gone.*
