

BARBED WIRE (BWE TYPE)

Keep Your Territory Secure With Bwe Barbed Wire.

PRODUCT DETAIL

Features & Benefits

Brief Introduction

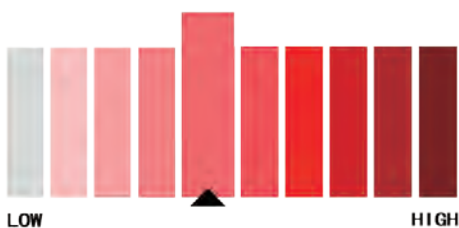

The BWE type of barbed wire from SKYHALL® Fence is produced from single strand of low carbon or high carbon steel wire. It's surrounded by four-point barbs twisted by double strands of barb wires arranged at a certain distance.

Processed by pre hot dipped galvanized treatment, the BWE barbed wires are durable. They are commonly used to secure perimeters and create fencing in some restricted areas.

Economical and durable, our BWE barbed wires are highly praised by customers all over the world.

Functionalities

WIDE APPLICATION

The BWE barbed wires are economical and easy to be installed on any surface, thus preferred by farmers and ranchers for cattle and bison use. Besides, they are adaptable for diverse fencing needs, you can combine them with various fences for different uses.

HIGH PROTECTION

There are four-point barbs surrounding the barbed wire at certain distances. These sharp points make barbed wires hard to cross through, thus preventing intruders effectively and providing high protection to the territory targeted.

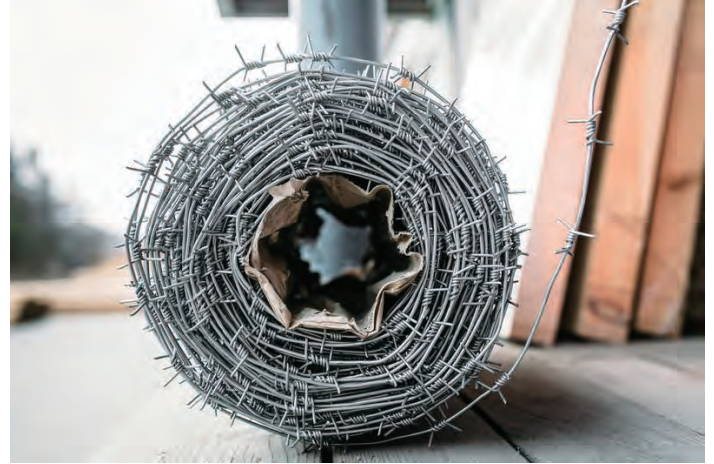

DURABLE AND LOW MAINTENANCE

Our BWE barbed wire is pre hot dipped galvanized, which means there is a layer of zinc on the wire to make it resistant to corrosion and rust. This helps your fence last longer and maintained less.

CONVENIENT FOR STOCK AND TRANSPORTATION

After production, the barbed wire will be packed in rolls with a layer of woven bags. That on one hand will protect users from being hurt by the barbs, on the other hand largely saves space either for stock or during transportation.

SURFACE TREATMENT

BWE barbed wires are pre hot dipped galvanized to fight against corrosion and provide longer service.
