INTRODUCTION TO SPIRAL CELLARS

The Wine Room is the exclusive distributor of Spiral Cellars in South Africa – a unique space-saving underground cellar capable of holding up to 1900 bottles of wine in full cellaring conditions. A Spiral Cellar can be installed under any ground floor room and doesn't require an existing cellar or basement.

Built from engineered concrete, a Spiral Cellar can either be fitted cleanly into a finished room, or form part of a new house build, extension or refurbishment project. Installation usually takes no more than between two to three weeks and as it creates surprisingly little mess, there's no need to move out.

HOW DOES THE CELLAR WORK?

All of our Spiral Cellars have a natural passive ventilation system, which, simply put, means that warm air is continuously replaced by cool air. The excellent thermal properties of the cellar's concrete shell, enables it to absorb the natural ground temperature just like in a traditional cellar and the natural insulation of the earth helps keep vibrations to an absolute minimum. All of our Spiral Cellars are installed with a custom climate control unit at 15-17 degrees / relative humidity.

HOW IS A SPIRAL CELLAR BUILT?

To create your Spiral Cellar, we start by forming a hole in the desired location. If you opt for the excavation and installation option, our expert Installation Team will do this for you, carefully lifting your existing floor finish and leaving no mess. If you opt for our installation-only option, your builder will handle the excavation and we then complete the installation by fitting the cellar itself and your chosen lighting and door options. A Spiral Cellar won't affect your foundations and doesn't require any of its own as it's surrounded by reinforced concrete and wrapped in a unique waterproof liner system.

CELLAR DOOR & FINISHING OPTIONS

Our cellars come in 2m, 2.5m and 3m depth options, with either a natural concrete finish or a sleek skim-plastered and white painted interior. Our door range includes timber trap doors; motorised concealed doors to fit timber and tiles; or motorised rectangular or round glazed doors, either hinged or retractable. All cellars are provided with LED lighting.
