BRETT FIELD

As an artist, my work is inspired by the complexity and beauty of the built environment and the people who inhabit it. From informal settlements to towering skyscrapers to container shipping vessels, I see inspiration in every corner of the urban landscape. My art represents the connection between humans and the space they occupy, how it shapes them, and how they shape it.

I express my vision through my unique style of painting, using loose, expressive lines and bold, vibrant colours. My paintings combine abstract and realistic elements, bringing a sense of energy and personality to each piece. I infuse my work with subtle narratives and details, inviting viewers to discover the stories of the people who inhabit these spaces.

My paintings are not just to be admired, but to be experienced. I use my art as a way to document, reflect and question the world we live in. My work is not just about the structures themselves, but about the people who live and work within them. I am constantly exploring new ways to express myself and my art. I am always looking for new challenges, new perspectives, and new ways to tell stories. I am dedicated to my art and my craft, and I am excited to see where my journey as an artist will take me next.
