MACAO

NATUZZI EDITIONS

Macao is called the “Eastern Las Vegas”, because the game, along with tourism, drives the economy of the place, visited every year by millions of people from all over the world. It’s precisely at the largest casino in the world - the Grand Lisboa, one of the most famous and iconic buildings of the city - that its namesake sofa is inspired, starting from the design of the armrests, so slender and extroverted.

“...Macao a true monument to hospitality and personalized comfort...”

*“... various

and armrests.”*

Along with the high back and the wide seats, they make Macao a true monument to hospitality and personalized comfort. The options are multiplied by the various positions of the headrest and armrests, which conceal an adjustable ratchet that always offers the ideal support. Macao is available in leather or fabric, with legs in both metal (black glossy chromed finishing) or wood (walnut or wengè finishing).

NEW YORK

NATUZZI EDITIONS

No other city better embodies the cosmopolitan soul of the brand, and the mix of architecture and contemporary design that this model - New York - conveys so clearly. A sofa that pays homage to the "big apple" celebrating its skyline with defined volumes as well as geometric and square shapes. An open base sofa, where even its custom feet become an architectural motif. A sofa that finds its ideal space in a SoHo loft - among elegant buildings with cast iron facades - or in Greenwich Village, with its narrow alleys, classic fire escape stairs and vintage shops. Like New York where its beauty is precisely hidden in the multiform and varied diversity of its multi faces.

Parigi is a sofa designed to make you totally comfortable, to the point that, after just one day, you feel like you have always lived with it. “All roads lead to Roma,” says an ancient Latin saying. And the sofa that pays homage to the “eternal city” is inspired by its ancient streets, with their intersections that drew perfect squares and rectangles. Those same geometries are found on the upholstery of the sofa, to enhance its majestic shape and at the same time slender. In addition, with its square cuts like a chessboard - on the leather version - also declares an inspiration to the “sampietrini”, the small stone blocks used for the flooring of the Roman historic centre.

“...the sofa that pays homage to the „eternal city” is inspired by its ancient streets...”

BALTIMORA

NATUZZI EDITIONS

Baltimora is inspired by the clean and defined forms of architecture that houses the National Aquarium, the most iconic and recognizable building of this great seaside city. The structure of the buildings makes the overall image extremely modern, treasure trove of a magical world to immerse yourself in. This linearity makes the Baltimora sofa a contemporary classic, perfectly at ease in any type of living, and the cleanliness of the back allows you to place it even in the middle of the room.

Its cozy seats hide a latest generation Dual Power motion recliner with separately adjustable headrest and footrest - operated by a push-button on the outside of the armrest, which in the armless seats is covered in leather and can be hidden between the seats. If the recliner function is activated, the headrest rises automatically to give maximum support to the head, and soon after the seat tilts and the footrest opens. In the fixed version, the headrest is manually adjustable. Available in leather or fabric, with wooden framed feet - which develop throughout the depth of the armrest - in walnut or wengè finishing.

BOSTON

NATUZZI EDITIONS

Boston pays tribute to the city famous for its colleges and prestigious universities - it's inspired in particular by the architecture of the Berklee College of Music, dedicated to the study of jazz and contemporary music. The college architecture, in fact, is conceived as a convivial and meeting space where you can live and learn music in total harmony with the city.

SINGAPORE

NATUZZI EDITIONS

Singapore is the future, a model of metropolis that recalls that imagined by Blade Runner, and not only visually but also for the extraordinary melting pot of cultures and ethnicities that is its distinctive feature. It's amazing how so many different cultures can coexist in such a fascinating balance. Balance that becomes the concept from which comes to life the namesake sofa.

“...the maxi cushions folded on themselves represent the petals, ready to open to welcome...”

A project in which the balance between functionality and aesthetics finds a perfect synthesis, through a wide range of configurations, and at the same time new and original, thanks to “details” such as the side pocket on the armrests and the integrated support surface - in one of the versions. Singapore is also the city where there is the strongest contrast between the Asian face and that of futuristic architecture like the Artscience Museum, reminiscent of a lotus flower. It has inspired the design of the armrests and back of the sofa, and the maxi cushions folded on themselves represent the petals, ready to open to welcome, relax and regenerate - physically and spiritually. Available in leather or fabric, with metal legs in matt black finishing.

NATUZZI EDITIONS

Both the sculptural splendour and sharp silhouette of Cuzco are inspired by the magnificent masonry of great Inca cities, like Machu Picchu and, precisely, Cuzco. The towering walls were not only built as an act of devotion to the gods, but also provided protection against external attack. An inspirational image that has been viewed through a fresh modern lens to create a design that combines iconically imposing shapes with a modern functional total-living concept offering a vast array of modular elements and possible combinations between them.

“...many possible combinations for a unique style.”

The architecture of the great Inca cities is re-interpreted through a modern and fresh lens, to create a sofa that combines iconic shapes and innovative features. Each seat is also finished on the sides to live independently and concealed hooks to create various modular combinations. On the back we find two buttonholes to anchor an optional shelf.

SYDNEY

NATUZZI EDITIONS

When you think of Sydney, the first image that comes to mind is the Opera House, with its white sails that stand out between the blue of the sea and the azure of the sky of Australia. A symbol, a powerful icon that inspired an armchair in which design and architecture combine to create a silhouette defined but cozy, scenic and thin but able to guarantee absolute comfort - enhanced by the Dual Power motion recliner that allows you to adjust the backrest and footrest separately. Sydney also contains the very essence of Australia, its being geographically isolated but culturally rich thanks to the “melting pot” of people who arrived here since its discovery to date.

“...the armchair,

comfort and

Likewise, the armchair, dedicated to personal comfort and pleasure, redeems its “isolation” through design, a transversal, collective and universal language that makes it dialogue with everything around it. In perfect accordance with Natuzzi Editions philosophy. Available in leather or fabric, in two different sizes: King and Queen (the latter also in a swivel version).
