

A FREE ONE-HOUR BACKYARD COMPOSTING WORKSHOP

Will be offered by the Rutherford Green Team at the Rutherford Community Garden, West Erie and Grand Avenues in Rutherford, at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday July 13.

Rain date will be Sunday, July 14 at 10:00 a.m.

Look for updates and notice of cancellation on the Rutherford Green Team Facebook page.

Rutherford resident Brian Hanson-Harding, author of Composting: Turn Food Waste into Rich Soil, will explain the do's and don't's of backyard composting, explaining how to turn kitchen scraps, yard waste, paper, cardboard, and a number of other waste items into rich brown compost that will enhance garden soil and reduce landfill waste.

He will demonstrate how the garden's own composter works and will distribute informational handouts. He will also explain how to compost indoors and will have an indoor composting system on display.

He will also discuss where and how to purchase a composter, including the discounted composters offered by the Bergen County Utilities Authority.
