Hello. The NJ State Communicable Disease Reporting and Surveillance System had technical difficulties over the weekend so unfortunately we cannot verify whether there have been any new COVID-19 cases in Rutherford.

The testing site Bergen Community College in Paramus is now open to all residents and members of New Jersey law enforcement agencies are eligible for testing, both symptomatic and asymptomatic.

We'd like to thank the community for remembering to move their cars for street cleaning this morning, as ticketing has resumed for alternate side of the street parking violations.

The Rutherford Library has launched The Library at Home. Each weekday the librarians are curating and producing fresh content. Tuesdays they'll spotlight premium digital content you can access at no cost with your Library card such as Rosetta Stone, The New York Times online and R.B. Digital, where you can find 250 of America's most popular magazines. Check out the Library's website at RutherfordLibrary.org or find them on Facebook for details.

As you may have heard, all New Jersey school buildings will remain closed until the end of the school year and will continue to be conducted virtually. The Mayor and Council is working closely with the school district to give Rutherford's graduating seniors a memorable graduation experience. We will continue to support Superintendent Hurley, Rutherford High School Administration and the Board of Education with their efforts during these unique circumstances.

We'd like to thank everyone who participated in our first Sunday Salute to Heroes yesterday. Members of the Rutherford Police Department, Volunteer Fire and Ambulance Corps and over 100 individuals participated in the caravan to honor the O'Keefe, Tarantino and Capano families.

This of course is a fluid situation and the Borough is in constant communication with County and State officials. As needed, we will be updating residents by Borough website, Twitter, and Facebook daily.

Sincerely,
Councilman Ray Guzman
