

Common pronunciation mistakes (الأخطاء العامة في وقت النطق) (Al-akhta'u al-ammah fi waqti al-nutq)

Class objective: In this post, we will figure out some mispronunciation while speaking Arabic.

Concept A: The common mispronunciations of Arabic sounds, namely [ذ and ت], [ظ and ط], [س and ض], [ح and ص], and [ع and ه]. They affect understanding; therefore, it is essential that these sounds be pronounced as accurately as possible.

س VS ص	ح VS ه	ع VS ء	ظ VS ذ
عصير سعير صعيد سعيد حرص ساحب	حامد يحمل شحم شرح هامة يهمل شهم شره	علم عن شاع يرجع ألم أن شاء يرجئ	ظل نظر حظ نظير ذل نذر حذ نذير

Concept B: Arabic has some sounds that don't exist in other languages. These sounds are difficult to articulate for new learners.

They normally pronounce them like the closest sounds of their native language. Owing to the lack of sufficient practice at the earlier stages of their learning, they continue to mispronounce them even after they have achieved considerable proficiency.

Therefore, it is vital that these sounds are practiced amply from the outset of your learning so that they become easier to articulate as you progress with your learning.

(1) Here are some examples of pronunciation and mispronunciation between ظ, ز, and ض.

Mispronunciation	Correct pronunciation
زُهر	ظُهر 'noon'
حَافِز	حَافِظ 'memorizer'
زُلم	ظُلم 'aggression'
عَزِيم	عَظِيم 'great'
