1. To show the receiver of the action, most often an indirect object in the sentence.

The word студенту (to the student) is the dative case form of the word студент (student) and indicates the receiver of the action (give).

Usually, the dative case is used after the verbs which mean addressing someone, giving something, speaking and communicating:

говорить – to tell

давать – to give

разрешать – to allow

помогать – to help

звонить – to call, to phone

приносить – to bring

Мать подарила мне мотоцикл.

Here me is in dative case.
