Class Objective: Apprendre à propos de L'économie française et le commerce entre l'union européenne

To learn about the French Economy, and trade within the Union.

CONCEPT : Evolution des relations commerciales entre l'Union européenne et les Etats de la CEI occidentale. Une tendance à l'intégration régionale ?

La régionalisation de l'économie mondiale dessine de grands ensembles dans lesquels on constate une croissance du commerce intrarégional et éventuellement, le développement de relations d'interdépendance entre Etats. Quelle est la situation de la Russie, de l'Ukraine, de la Moldavie et du Belarus au regard de la formation de la région économique européenne? L'analyse des échanges commerciaux en valeur permet de nuancer l'idée que ces pays seraient en cours d'intégration dans cet ensemble. En outre, le calcul de l'intensité réelle des échanges bilatéraux permet d'apporter davantage de nuances. Il confirme l'idée qu'il y a une dérégionalisation de l'ancien espace soviétique. Néanmoins, il montre que l'intensité des relations commerciales bilatérales reste très forte au sein de la CEI, tandis qu'elle demeure faible avec l'Europe de l'ouest. Ce tableau incite à penser que la Russie ne peut pas être considérée totalement comme une périphérie économique de l'Union européenne.
