Concept C: Sample Passage

With the advent of technology, we will soon have AI and robots entering the education sector. They will be a great advantage in managing repetitive tasks and time-consuming activities. However, if they replaced teachers totally, the dynamics of teaching would change. The teaching process would become mundane and boring. It will be only in the form of a tick in the box.

Robots will not be able to connect with students or perceive emotional behaviors. Robots cannot handle delicate kids who need extra attention, understanding, and empathy. Robots cannot make learning fun and interesting. Though robots can give feedback to students based on their marks, they cannot motivate children to excel. A
