TEXAS ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE COMMISSION

At long last Rieslinglust. Riesling is like love, at least this one is - sweet and tart; one is both braced and embraced when one locks lips with this dulcet young thing. This wine, prevenient of the 2005 vintage, was made from non-botrytised grapes from a shy-yielding, though hardly coquettish vineyard in eastern Washington state. Remarkably crisp, zinging acidity with enough sweetness (8%ish) to keep it perfectly balanced, it delivers an exquisite wallop to the senses. Beautiful mango, kiwi and grapefruit nose. Eminently gulpable in the short term, it is our expectation (though who really knows what the future will bring?) that this wine will reward a long-term commitment to cellaring.
