Bald Mountain Shine

Strange things happen on Bald Mountain. There are lights where there are suppose to be none. You may hear cries of animals no one has ever seen before. If you ever spend a night on Bald Mountain you might find out you had no business being there.
 When you have your first sip of Bald Mountain Shine you might have wished you could have been there.

Well, they say the lights could be fires under the moonshine stills on the mountain. The cries of animals? Perhaps the whooping of some real happy mountain folks when those first drops of that clean, clear shine drips off the still spout. Regardless, you can share their joy with just a sip or two of Bald Mountain Shine
