GALACTIC HAZE IPA

Captain's Log, Star Date -304660.54:

We thought all hope was lost. Our interplanetary brewers haven't been seen in some time. Now they have returned from another successful mission. While lost in the Calypso star system, a new hop producing planet was discovered, known only as H-03129. The indigenous hops were acquired and hence named Calypso. These hops are now incorporated in our Belgian white IPA, giving off supernova of flavor and aroma with banana, stone fruit, pear, and grapefruit. It is our pleasure to offer you Galactic Haze IPA.

We are continuing our mission to explore the galaxy in search of strange new hops to boldly use in our IPAs.
