RED WINE – PRODUCT OF ITALY

Poggio de' Colli is produced from select Cabernet Franc grapes grown in our vineyard with a marvelous view of Florence. Excellent exposure to the sun, dry cool clay soil and a mild climate favor optimal grapes production. Harvested in October, these grapes are vinified in small wooden vessels using their own natural yeasts. After fermentation, the wine is transferred to fine French oak barrels for malolactic fermentation and it's bottled without undergoing cold stabilization or filtration to avoid altering the wine's signature taste.
