RANGER CREEK .36 TEXAS STRAIGHT BOURBON

Whiskey has "terroir", which means it tastes like where it's from. Bourbon made authentically in Texas tastes different than bourbon made in Kentucky. Our .36 Straight Bourbon is made from grain to glass in San Antonio and has its own regionally distinct character. Is it better than Kentucky bourbon? You can judge for yourself.

.36 Straight Bourbon is also part of our fascinating barrel aging experiment. Though each .36 bourbon uses the same recipe, the individualized barrel aging techniques makes each one distinct. .36 Small Caliber Series ages in innovative small barrels, .36 Single Barrel ages in one traditional, large barrel, and this .36 Straight Bourbon ages in multiple traditional large barrels that are vatted together into very small batches. Try the .36 bourbons alongside each other to taste subtle differences and similarities.
