Dancing Bee

the winery at walker honey farm

Welcome to Walker Honey Farm's new line of meads. We invite you to share the adventure of mead-making with us at Dancing Bee Winery. Our distant Walker ancestors hailed from the famed Sherwood Forest region of England. No doubt they were well acquainted with the ancient tradition of mead craft. We don't know if our forbearer Alexander Walker brought homemade mead with him when he immigrated to Virginia around 1650. We do know that in Alexander's day mead was the drink of choice for weddings, honeymoons, and general merriment . . . as well as for everyday consumption! At Dancing Bee our passion is crafting our brilliantly floral Walker Honey Farm honeys into drinkably festive honey wines for your special occasions and everyday enjoyment. As in Alexander's day we have come to believe that offering the best and finest to one's guests defines basic hospitality. Please! Come be our guest!
