TEXAS ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE COMMISSION

(arry nam baysht)

The phonetic pronunciation of AIRIGH NAM BEIST which in the Gaelic language literally means 'shelter, or pasture of the animals'. It is also the name given to the small hill loch that forms the fulcrum between Loch Uigeadail and Charlie's Dam at Ardbeg Distillery.

RELEASE THE BEAST...

The small hill loch at AIRIGH NAM BEIST has a balancing role in delivering the peat-laden waters of Uigeadail to the distillery. This perfectly sums up the balance and complexity of our Ardbeg, where the peatiness is tamed by the sweet alchemy of the Ardbeg distillation process.

Entirely drawn from very rare whisky stocks that were distilled and laid down in 1990 and aged in oak casks, AIRIGH NAM BEIST is a wonderfully creamy, smoky malt, suffused in woodsmoke with notes of fennel and pine nuts, topped with tingling fines. This rare malt is a 'wee beastie' of a dram... waiting to be released!
