St Hallett

2013 BLACK CLAY SHIRAZ

The St Hallett Black Clay Shiraz is made from fruit which is grown in vineyards that feature the black cracking Biscay clay soils of the Barossa. These ancient Biscay soils typically produce wines with berry compote and summer pudding flavours, complemented by luscious velvety tannins.

The nose is juicy and packed with dense fruits of the forest characters. The berries carry through to the palate with a blackberry core. The tannins are big and soft and frame the wine nicely, providing structure to the ripe and generous fruits.
