TEXAS
Black Spanish

Semi-Sweet Red

2018

Black Spanish (Lenoir or Jacquez) was originally brought to Texas by Spanish missionaries to make communion wine. It is a relatively hardy and disease resistant grape, making it popular in areas of the Southeast with hot and humid growing seasons. The grape produces medium-to-large, relatively loose clusters of blackish-colored grapes. The interior flesh of the grape is also pigmented, a reddish color, which makes the wine produced deep and dark in color.

This delightful wine is 100% Texas – grown at our vineyard in Texas. This wine is deep in color and intensity with flavors of boysenberry and elderberry.
