Generations of Sonoma Winery approaches Chardonnay as a measure of winemaking prowess. Our Abandon Chardonnay is a statement of style where the fruit governs the flavor, edgy but never reckless. We harvest Abandon on the front side of ripeness ensuring higher acid and lower alcohol. Abandon leads with fruit, first and foremost, all else in supporting roles: oak, used only sparingly as needed and partial malolactic fermentation for enhancement. We finish the wine as close to the palatable threshold of acidity as possible.
