PRIMITIVO SALENTO INDICAZIONE GEOGRAFICA TIPICA 2006

Wine obtained entirely from Primitivo grapes, it is a low yield full-bodied, rich dry red wine. It is vinted in Salento (Apulia) near Lecce in southeastern Italy. The name Primitivo is derived from the apulian word that means "premature". It is harvested as early as August due to the intense heat and unique terroir. The Primitivo grape is believed to be the ancestor of the California grape variety Zinfandel.
