Yellow Rose
SMASH IPA
Yellow Rose is a Single Malt – Single Hop India Pale Ale using a caboodle of one malt and one hop. Whole cone is used for bittering, flavoring, and aroma in the kettle; it is also massively dry hopped. This brew is named after a Texas Heroine who is not to be trifled with.
Tasting Notes: Chalk-white head with a very clean malt back bone. The hops impart pleasant grapefruit, pineapple, and blueberry notes. A strong beer that is extremely quaffable.
Ingredients: Pilsner Malt, Mosaic Whole Cone Hops, and House Yeast.

INDIA PALE ALE
INDEPENDENT CRAFT
ale=good
Lone Pint Brewery is a grassroots insurrection with the true beer lover in mind. We are dedicated to creating distinctive local Texas ales that are tasty, hoppy, and quaffable. We use raw whole cone hops for bittering, flavoring, aroma, and dry hopping in our brews. However, an equally important ingredient is the renewable energy that powers our Brewery. The spent grain is fed to a local dairy farmer's cows and the spent hops live on in our beer.
Craft brewing is an American institution. Our brewhouse and tanks are from Nevada, our boiler from Pennsylvania, our kegging machine from California, our chiller from Oregon, and our mill from Canada (close enough, eh?). Point being, we kept the love at home, doing our part to ensure that craft brewing will always remain an American institution.
