MATAHIWI ESTATE PINOT NOIR 2012 WAIRARAPA

The Phoenix has long been seen as a symbol of renewal. The Matahiwi Phoenix symbolises the rebirth of winemaking in the northern Wairarapa after the period of prohibition in the early 1900's. New Zealand wine pioneers recognised the region as an ideal environment for grape growing, as did Alastair Scott when he returned from London to his homeland in 1998 to establish Matahiwi Estate. Matahiwi is a place recognised by Māori as a windy and exposed area sheltered by the high mountainous Taranui ranges to the west. These wines, produced by winemaker Jane Cooper, show just how the Wairarapa has earned a reputation for producing some of the best wines in the world. This soft and approachable Pinot Noir has fragrant cherry aromas, plum and berry fruit flavours, and a dash of spicy oak on the finish.
