TEXAS ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE COMMISSION

Magnetic North Mountain Makstok

This remarkable little vineyard lies far away from our winery, in the distant North. It's one of a small clutch of ungrafted dryland Chenin blanc vineyards still hiding in the mountain wilderness of the West Coast. It grows at 520 Meters above sea level, planted on red sand over ferric gravel and deep iron-red clay. Water is scarce and roots go deep.

It's a place that inspires foolishness and wonder. It fills us with a longing for exploration, attracting us relentlessly, causing us to drive mile after lonely mile, year after golden year.
