Primitivo

Cerro Santo Vineyards
Texas High Plains
2018

The Primitivo grape, although genetically identical to the Zinfandel varietal, demonstrates distinct growth characteristics and thrives in our hot, dry Texas High Plains climate, just as it does in the Puglia region of Italy, its principal growing region and ancestral home. This medium-bodied red is unique among our other varietals, with dark cherry and peppery flavors nuanced by aromas of black currant and leather.

A favorite of our vintner, our Primitivo pairs well with BBQ, pizza, and hard cheeses like Manchego and aged Parmesan.

At Adelphos Cellars,

We believe wine is all about family. The word "adelphos" translates to "brethren" from the ancient Greek. The certainty that sharing an inspiring bottle of great wine brings us together as brothers and sisters, mothers and daughters, fathers and sons, is what drives our passion for making this wine. We invite you to share the fruits of our labor, in the hope that enjoying this bottle with those you love will bind us all closer together as one family. Welcome to ours.
