TEXAS ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE COMMISSION

ZESTOS BLANCO

GRAPE 100% MALVAR

THE WINE Malvar, the great unknown!- Indigenous to Madrid, it's an early ripening grape, that has the acidity of Sauvignon Blanc (very fresh indeed), the fatness of Chardonnay (full bodied), and the intensity of a Verdejo or Riesling (very aromatic).

LOCATION Zone 7, southeast of Madrid, in Arganda del Rey, at 2,116 ft in altitude.

SOIL Clay and limestone. The soil is lacking in nutrient content impeding Malvar vines from overproducing, bearing concentrated fruit flavors.

CLIMATE The average temperature between May and October is 64.5° F, with yearly rainfall levels of 19.4 in. This southern Continental climate is greatly influential, particularly during the ripening period, where day and night temperature variances in August average from 93° F to 43° F. The result is a balanced wine showing true finesse.
