It is well known that great wine begins in the vineyard. The characteristics of the soil, weather conditions, vineyard management, and grape harvest methods are key factors to the quality of the wine. For that reason we salute Charlie and Connie Crawford for producing such wonderful fruit from their vineyard. They are truly magnificent growers dedicated to quality in the vineyard to ensure quality in the bottle. The Crawford's have been farming for generations, giving back to the soil what mother nature has given to them. With their hard work and dedication to the vines we have joined hands as grower and winemaker to create this wine especially for you.
