Our Dead Guy Whiskey is distilled and loaded into new Oregon Oak barrels that we build by hand in our Rolling Thunder coopers facility in The Dalles, Oregon.

The whiskey is then transferred out of these barrels and our Rolling Thunder Imperial Stout is added. After our stout is supplied from the barrels and bottled, we transfer the whiskey back into the barrels for finishing. The finished product starts with the light and fruity notes of a traditional single malt and finishes with the caramel, molasses, and vanilla notes found in our stout.
