We've got nothing against corks or bottles. They've served humanity well for hundreds of years. But the aluminum can - now that's the future. While the rest of the wine industry clings to their pomp and corkscrews, we have chosen a different path for our Monterey County Sauvignon Blanc, a path forged from light, clean, sustainable, infinitely-recyclable aluminum.

Yes, we've seen the future and it is cool, crisp, brisk and refreshing. It's elemental.
