Open this bottle carefully, with the cork (or cap) pointed away from any friends. Notice the layer of yeast sediment at the bottom. Pour slowly so as not to disturb the yeast, but with enough vigor to create a luxurious head. This will release its pleasant bouquet.

This ale is intended for immediate satisfaction, but is suitable for cellaring.

To cellar, store upright in a dark, cool place (50-54°F).

Handle with care, drink for delight!
