Alexander Murray & Co

SPEYSIDE 1970 SINGLE MALT SCOTCH WHISKY

Named for its location bordering the River Spey, Speyside is the true heart of Scotch Whisky production. Each whisky region has its own defining characteristics and Single Malts tend to be slightly sweet and a little bit peaty with floral notes. Alexander Murray's 40 year Speyside Single Malt is quite characteristic of the region. It was distilled in 1970 and aged in Oak Casks for 40 years. The result is a Scotch that is dark amber in color with aromas of dried fruits, a subtle smokiness and complex palate, with a dry and slightly floral finish. Perfect for any occasion.
