A DAY OF DARK BARLEY

AGED 26 YEARS

750ML

47.8% alc./vol.

NON CHILL FILTERED

The arrival at the distillery of a batch of dark roasted malted barley, more commonly used in the production of stout, marked the beginning of a 26 year long experiment. The result was a pleasing depth – smokiness and richness as well as the classic honey, vanilla and citrus flavours.

The story of David C Stewart using bristle barley to make a Balvenie heavy with oak and smoke.

The Balvenie Distillery is built on the stories that are told from each generation of craftsmen to the next. They're our lifelines. It is how we pass on what we know, how we process experiences, and how we create new ideas. The Balvenie Stories range documents these tales of our character.

From the distillery comes:

(R) A DAY OF DARK BARLEY
A heavier, darker Balvenie, seasoned with the richness of over-roasted malted barley, oak, honey, vanilla and citrus notes.
