REBECCA CREEK

A SPIRITED TEXAS DISTILLERY

The bourbon that started it all. In 2010, Rebecca Creek Distillery began to make their own whiskey, but initially needed to source bourbon for the Rebecca Creek Whiskey recipe. This whiskey comes from the original batch of bourbon that now ranges from 12 or more years of age. What's left is an exquisite and unique taste that combines the deep oak character, and savory spice of rye, with a nutty finish. This complexity is balanced by the pure Texas Hill Country limestone filtered water, direct from the Edward's Aquifer. Enjoy a special reserve that proves why aged bourbon is pursued by whiskey enthusiasts throughout the world.
