DESIGNATION

2003 BULLOCK HOUSE MERLOT

There are a few special places in Dry Creek Valley that grow intensely flavored Merlot. Across the street from the winery, the Bullock House Vineyard sits on an extension of the valley's iron-rich eastern benchlands, which grow opulent, well-structured Bordeaux grape varieties. This single-vineyard Merlot provides finesse and depth with loads of blackberry, currant and anise. This wine is drinking beautifully now due to its ripe flavors and lush mouth-feel, but its balanced tannins will allow extended aging.

Founded in 1972, our family winery is known for revitalizing Dry Creek Valley viticulture and for continued leadership in the area.
