HAZY IPA W/ ENIGMA, GALAXY, & VIC SECRET

We could call this one a lot of things. A reflected duplication, maybe. A beer revealed to the direction perpendicular to the surface, or an optical effect that results from the reflection of substances such as water (or beer). Here's what you have to know: when you flip the script and view the Southern Hemisphere for your hops, you can create huge, explosive flavors that express themselves as intense blasts of fruity and tropical notes with remarkable complexity. You just can't get these flavors from anywhere else. Now it's your turn—flip it one more time. Turn it up.
